

A.A.U.W. 24, 25
 Alabama History, 55
 Alabama Progress, 72
 Aldrich, W.F. 73
 Alumnae, 5, 7, 8, 13, 35, 49, 55, 56, 59, 62, 71, 89, 90, 91, 94, 95
 Andrus, Mary, 73, 93, Mother, 96
 Anna Case, 28
 Anti-Dirt Crusade, 2
 Apperson, Sara, 47, 51
 Armistice Day, 86, 92, 96
 Art Day, 86
 Art Exhibit, 60
 Artists Concert, 56, 96
 Auburn Glee Club, 65
 Bacot, Mrs. Josephine Rhett, 85, 97
 Baptists, 24, 64, 80
 Basketball, 1, 29, 32, 33, 36, 38, 39, 40, 41, 54, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 94, 95, 97
 Better Speech Week, 39
 Bible Lectures, 97
 Birthday Celebration, 39, 41, 44, 93
 Brandon, Gov. W.W. 67
 Brooke, Myrtle, 57
 Buildings, 13, 35, 41, 42, 63, 63, 64, 83
 Business Course, 84
 Cadman, Dr. S. Parkes, 57
 Calkins, Charles Rendell, 22
 Calkins Hall, 28
 Carmichael, Dr. O.C. 52, 53, 93
 Chamberlain, Mrs. Guy L. 87
 Chapman, Mrs. Katherine, 27, 87
 Christmas, 33, 34
 Clean-Up Week, 46
 Clifford Devereux, and Co. 60
 College Night, 45, 62
 Commencement, 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 19, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 66, 69, 70
 Community Service Program, 45
 Concert, 3
 Dairy, 65, 66
 Debate, 3
 Dickens Program, 1
 Dramatics, 27, 28, 29, 31, 33, 38, 43, 73
 Emory Univ. Glee Club, 1, 41
 Educators Meeting, 37
 Enlargement of Departments, 72
 Enrollment, 78, 80, 82, 83, 87, 93, 96
 Entertainment, 87
 Episcopalians, 25, 26
 Evans, Mrs. Clara B. 31
 Exchange Club, 55, 63, 80, 91
 Excursions, 73
 Faculty, 4, 14, 15, 41
 Field Day, 2
 Fire, 59
 Flag Day Program, 15, 16
 Ford, Burnell R.
 Founders Day, 86
 Fourth Of July Celebration, 19, 73, 84
 Frasier, Mrs. Scottie M. 82
 Freshman Play, 9, 10
 Girl Scouts, 57
 Glee Club, 46, 55
 Graduates, 6, 70, 86
 Greek Play (The Gift) 19
 Halloween Party, 27
 Harding, Dr. A.M. 30
 Hazelhurst, George, 14
 Health Education, 15, 18
 Health Talks, 15, 17
 Home Economics Club, 9, 10
 Home Economics Department, 16, 17, 18, 22, 23, 31, 32, 44, 57, 84, 90, 91, 93
 Honor Roll, 33, 86
 Household Bulletin, 39
 Howard College Plays, 2
 Inzer Bill, 84
 James, Dr. W.H. 91
 Jones, Mrs. Brevard, 45
 Kilby, Gov. and Mrs. 10
 Kitchney's Band, 47
 Libraries, 97, 63, 64, 13, 35, 41, 42
 Library Course, 86
 Losey, Dr. Frederick D. 62, 63
 Marsh, Frank E. Jr. 72
 Maxwell, Margery, 59
 McDavid, Mrs. Mittie Owen, 80
 Medici Prints, 18
 Montevallo College Students, 35
 Montevallo Songs, 74
 Mother's Course, 65
 Mother's Day Program, 10
 Music Dept. 28, 29, 30, 44, 52, 55, 72, 95
 Name Of College, 57, 67, 68, 74, 80
 Owen, Mrs. Ruth Bryan, 92, 95
 Palmer, Dr. and Mrs. 3, 4, 36, 50, 70
 Palmer, Major T.W. 23
 Palmer, Stella, 89
 Parsons, Mrs. O.W. 4
 Peabody Girls, 75
 Pedometer, 7
 Physical Education, 93, 94, 97
 Piano Contest, 62, 63, 65
 Pottery Exhibit, 41
 Powell, Maj. E. Alexander, 54
 Presbyterian, 56
 Public School, 22
 Queens, (county), 26
 Rabbi Morris Newfield, 93
 Recitals, 2, 27, 33, 37, 40, 43, 46
 Red Cross, 2
 Regulations of College, 85
 Rest Room, 92
 Richey, Miss Dorothy G. 38
 Robbins, Mrs. Katherine Leiser, 82
 Sale, Miss Annie E. 93
 Savage, Clara, 3
 Self-Help, 36

Dickens Program Is Given At Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 9.—Special.—In recognition of the 101st anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens, Feb. 7, members of the oral English classes taught by Miss Dorothy Richey presented a program at the Wednesday morning chapel period at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Miss Agnes Hardy, Newala, told of the purpose of the program and announced the other speakers. Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer, talked of the life of Dickens; Miss Lorene Hughes, Birmingham, "An Instance of Pathos in the Old Curiosity Shop;" Miss Louise Willingham, Kellyton, "Humor in Dickens' Works;" Miss Florence London, Greenville, "Pathos in Dickens;" Miss Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham, "Character Sketch Showing Dickens' Power in Caricature."

GLEE CLUB PLEASES

Emory University Players Respond With Encores During Program.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 16.—Special.—Hearty applause from the audience to which the Emory University Glee Club sang and played at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Tuesday night, led the club to respond with encores to all of its ensemble numbers, breaking its custom in regard to encores.

Notable features of the program, headed "Music," were the solos by J. Foster Barnes, baritone, and Byron H. Warner, tenor, the latter singing "E Luvevan Le Stelle" from "Tosca," (Puccini), and the former giving a delightful group of negro spirituals.

A quartet composed of Edra H. Lovelace, John Knox, J. Foster Barnes and David Ellis, Jr., sang "The Rosary" (Nevin), and Mr. Barnes and Mr. Warner the duet from "La Forza Del Destino" (Verdi).

A formal dinner for the guests took place in the dormitory dining room preceding the concert, at which toasts and songs of both colleges were heard. The Emory University Glee Club went to Birmingham for an engagement, having come to Montevallo from Talladega. Five other stops are included in its Winter quarter tour.

Montevallo Girls To Meet Alabama Co-Eds

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 10.—Special.—Two more games are on the intercollegiate basketball schedule of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, one with Troy Normal, Troy, Ala., on the afternoon of Feb. 22, and the other on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 11, with the team from the University of Alabama. This game was originally scheduled for a week earlier. Basketball fans are in a fever of excitement over the attainments of their team members, who, according to their coach, Miss Rebecca Funk, are, generally speaking, developing a speedy aggregation.

For the nine possible contestants from the double team always kept in trim, the enthusiasts have the following epithets and appellations: Miss Ruth DeRamus, Verbena, is a speedy and resourceful forward. Miss Lillian Stewart, Daphne, shows excellent technique as a forward. Misses Mae Williams and Effie Pearce, centers, both from Guin, give both good offense and defense. Miss Shirley Narramore, Prattville, guard, is a wizard when it comes to covering closely, while Miss Minnie Holman, Camden, makes another quick-witted guard.

Of the three substitutes on the board for Saturday, Misses Marguerite Scroggin, center; Odele Carmichael, Hollins, and Gladys Martin, Enterprise. Miss Martin gives close competition to Miss Stewart in her position as forward. A close contest is expected for Saturday.

MONTEVALLO JUNIORS BANQUET CAGE TEAM

Montevallo, February 27.—(Special.)—Members of the junior class at Alabama Technical Institute and college for women gave a banquet to the class basketball team which had won the Athletic association loving cup three years in succession at the St. George hotel Saturday night, February 25.

Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia, was toastmistress. Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, class president, gave a toast to the team. Miss Shirley Narramore, Prattville, captain of the team, answered it with a toast to the class. A toast to the faculty advisors of the class was given by Miss Virginia Williamson, Bessemer. Two of the advisors present, Mrs. Burr Nabors and W. Julian Kennerly, responded with toasts to the class. A number of other members of the class were called on.

Tiny ribbons of black and gold, the class colors, jonquils, and small loving cup place cards formed the decorations.

NEWS OF MONTEVALLO

Montevallo, February 10.—(Special) In recognition of the one hundred and first anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens, February 7, members of oral English classes taught by Miss Dorothy Richey presented a program at the Wednesday morning chapel period at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Miss Agnes Hardy, Newala, told of the purpose of the program and announced the other speakers. Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer, talked of the life of Dickens; Miss Lorene Hughes, Birmingham, "An Instance of Pathos in the Old Curiosity Shop;" Miss Louise Willingham, Kellyton, "Humor in Dickens' Works;" Miss Florence London, Greenville, "Pathos in Dickens;" Miss Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham, "Character Sketch Showing Dickens' Power in Caricature."

Perhaps the entertainment most looked forward to during the year is the one the night of February 14 by the men's glee club from Emory university, Atlanta. The Emory musical organization announces it will present an "opera burlesque," a "jazz as you like it," quartet novelities, a mandolin sextet, and surprising skits, in addition to its regular glee club singing. This club's entertainment is the only one by a men's glee club so far scheduled at the girls' college this year. The college considers itself fortunate in obtaining a glee club which has been spoken of by the Macon Telegraph as "the greatest in the south," and by the Jacksonville Metropolis as "full of pep and harmony."

Besides being entertained informally on the afternoon of their arrival at the college by members of the Montevallo Girls' Glee club, the 31 young men will be guests of honor at a reception for the entire student body and faculty to be given immediately following the program. They will also be entertained at meals in the dormitory dining room.

Montevallo to Hold Red Cross Institute

Montevallo, March 28.—(Special.)—Dr. Alexander Johnston, Atlanta, will conduct a Red Cross institute during the two weeks from June 20 to July 4 at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The institute will be open to residents of the county as well as students enrolled at the college during the summer session.

Miss Elizabeth J. McKenzie, R. N., will be sent by the state board of health to teach health courses in the home economics department during the summer, according to the president, Dr. T. W. Palmer.

The new director of music, Frank E. Marsh, Jr., will arrive about June 5 to be at the college for the summer session opening June 7.

A second term of six weeks is to be offered by the college this summer. The college has never before held more than one six-week summer term. While courses for the extension of certificates will be featured, courses for college credit will be conducted if there is sufficient demand for them, announced Dr. Palmer.

C. B. Gamble, superintendent of schools, Demopolis, has been added to the summer school faculty.

Play Presented At Montevallo College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 22.—Special.—The Howard players from Howard College, Birmingham, presented two one-act plays and some specialty numbers at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, Saturday night. The proceeds formed the contribution of the junior class to the college annual, The Technala. The players appeared in Anniston Monday night.

The players, under the direction of Miss A. Bess Clark, professor of English at Howard, gave a most interesting presentation of Lady Gregory's realistic playlet, "Spreading the News." Gladys Wallington, in her presentation of Mrs. Tarpey, the deaf woman, who leveled the fact that she was last to hear all the news, deserves special mention, as does L. N. Patterson, who played the part of Bartley Fallon, whom gossip accused of murder.

"A Woman's a Woman For a' That," by Mary McMillan, also pleased the audience greatly. In this playlet, Ruth Alexander took honors as Mrs. Stymie, the aspiring mother of Niblick Stymie (G. L. Smith). As the woman doctor and nurse, Miss Watlington and Miss Gussie Mae Brasfield, respectively, clearly demonstrated the cause for the name of the play.

Other members of the players, all of whom made creditable appearances, were: W. T. Henderson, B. R. Justice, V. M. Gardner, G. A. Neely.

RECITAL AT MONTEVALLO

Miss Ulmer Presents Seven Of Her Students In Expression.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 23.—Special.—One of the most pleasing recitals of the year by students in expression at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, occurred last night, when Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer presented seven of her pupils in a varied program. A few of the students have not appeared often before.

Miss Edith Montgomery, Warrior, opened the program with her reading of "Pink Satin Slippers," Stevens. Next was Miss Mildred Smith, Goodwater, who read "The Punishment of Robert," Nesbit, and Miss Alleen Knight gave a monologue—"The Sweet Girl Graduate," Phelps.

"A Voice from a Far Country" was the selection chosen by Miss Laurie Warren, Batesville. "Tom Sawyer and Becky," an original arrangement from "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," by Mark Twain, was read by Miss Mattie Lou Teague, Ashville; "Rebecca's Journey," arrangement from "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" (Kate Douglass Wiggin), by Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia; "The Lawsuit," arrangement from "The Day of the Dog" (McCutcheon), by Miss Willie Pridgen, Enterprise.

MONTEVALLO GOES FOR STATE PRIZE

Entire City of All Ages and Sexes and Occupations Join
Anti-Dirt Crusade

Montevallo, April 10.—(Special.)—Montevallo will receive the state prize of $25 offered by the State Federation of Women's Clubs for the cleanest town, if the expectations of its citizens are fulfilled.

Its entire citizenry—men, women and children—are at work picking up and burning rubbish, cutting weeds and piling up miscellaneous debris in orderly fashion. Mayor J. A. Brown stood sponsor for the statement of clean-up measures Montevallo would perform in entering the federation's contest.

J. T. Carter, superintendent of the public schools, was appointed general chairman of the clean-up committees. C. G. Sharp, director of agriculture at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, is general chairman of the clean-up work on the college campus, which will be done Monday morning by the students in teams of 20. The teams are divided into two sides, with captains, Misses Charlotte Leeper, Citronelle, and Evelyn Scott, Verbena.

Many local prizes of money and merchandise have been offered by merchants and other citizens for the following classes in both negro and white sections of the town: Cleanest block, vacant lot, back yard, front yard, alley, barn and outhouses, and for the most dead flies.

Montevallo men who are captains of the various clean-up teams are Calvin Wilson, Ottis Woolley, J. N. Baker, Burr Nabors, George Kroell, W. T. Jordan, Roy Tatum, C. L. Meroney, Rev. W. K. Simpson, Rev. W. D. Ogletree, Rev. P. H. Carmichael, W. A. Hooker, L. N. Nabors, W. M. Jones-Williams, J. W. F. Garner, C. E. Hoskin, C. G. Sharp, W. B. Reynolds, R. A. Reid, R. F. McKibben, Dr. Harry Bradford, Dr. Luther Latham, P. J. Kroell and Minor Hendrick.

W. H. Bowen, teacher of the negro school, is general chairman of committee among the negroes.

MONTEVALLO ANNUAL FIELD DAY ENJOYED

College Girls Spend Pleasant Day in Big Outdoor Sports
Saturday

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., April 9.—Annual field day exercises Saturday afternoon at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, formed the first big out-door fete of the spring season at the college. All the students taking gymnasium work, which includes virtually everyone attending the college, participated in some of the exercises, games, drills or dances. All students who enter any year of the college, without previous gymnasium work, are entered in the first year gymnasium classes.

Perhaps the most artistic number was the closing dance comprised of a number of flower dances by third and fourth year gymnasium students. Miss Joy Bryan, Georgiana, represented a butterfly, and gave a solo dance. She called forth flowers with whom she danced. The flowers were represented by the following girls: Roberta Bowden, Calera, morning glory; Elma Griffith, Lincoln, yellow daisy; Josephine Kilgore, Corona, chrysanthemum; Elizabeth and Evelyn Merritt, Montgomery, pink roses.

Dinner Is Given Staff Of Annual

MONTEVALLO, Ala., April 18.—Special.—Members of the staff of the college annual, the Technala, of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, were entertained by the editor, Miss Lula R. Palmer, with a dinner recently at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, on the campus.

Miss Palmer, after giving a toast to the Technala staff, called on a number of the staff members and faculty advisors for responses.

Advisory board members present were Miss Geraldine P. Dilla, head of the English department, whose continued guidance has made this year's annual possible; Miss Bernice Thrall, art, and Miss Louise Griswold, advertising. Other staff members present, including assistants of the various officers, typists and class representatives were: Misses Ethel Presley, business manager; Ora Swann, advertising manager; Helen Smith, Eloise Andrews, Evelyn Scott, Mildred Walker, Maud Stallings, Willie Grace Stewart, Frances Singleton, Lillian Sharpley, Lillian Smith, Annie Hendon, Natalie Creel, Lula Mae Parsons and Lottie Dabbs.

Other guests were: Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, dean; Miss Myrtle Brooks, head of the education department, and Mrs. H. W. Griswold, mother of Miss Griswold.

Shelby County W.M.U. Meets In Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., April 15.—Special.—The Woman's Missionary Union of the Shelby County Baptist Association met at the Baptist Church of Montevallo on yesterday. There was a large attendance of delegates, and the reports from the various unions in the county were very encouraging. The next meeting, which will be the annual meeting, will be held at Calera. Mrs. W. D. Oglet is superintendent and Mrs. M. L. Hare is secretary. Miss Northington, of Birmingham, general state worker of the Baptist Missionary Union, was in attendance and took an active part in the proceedings.

The next session of the Shelby County Medical Society will meet in the college auditorium on May 10. The wives of the physicians are invited to attend and be the luncheon guests of the college on that day. Dr. W. A. Peck, college physician, is the secretary of this society.

Mr. and Mrs. Still, of Elmore County, were interesting visitors to the community and college on yesterday. They are considering moving to Montevallo on account of the school and college facilities.

Mrs. W. M. Ross, of Albertville, is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. W. K. Simpson. Her daughter, Miss Dorothy Ross, is a member of the college sophomore class.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS STAGE GOOD DEBATE

Independence of Philippine Islands Loses in Contest Between Students

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., April 29.—The final debate in the series between two college classes in public speaking and two fourth year preparatory school classes at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, was on the subject, "Resolved, that the Philippine Islands should be given their independence within ten years."

The debate took place Friday afternoon, April 28, in the college auditorium. The judges decided in favor of the negative by a vote of two to one. Much rivalry has existed among the classes over determining which has the best debaters.

Representing the affirmative were Misses Eloise Andrews, Florala; Ruth Cunningham, Furman, and Helen Smith, Birmingham, members of the junior college class in public speaking. On the negative were Misses Theo Campbell, Pyriton; Ella Mae Wells, Ensley, and Elma O'Neill, Gainesville, of the fourth year preparatory school. Miss Lillie Burkes Wadley, of the college class, presided.

Misses Alice M. Baker and Vera Paschal, of the education department, and Louise M. Griswold, of the English department, were judges.

The Currier line steamer Acadia held the speed record in 1841.

Gold amalgam, a mineral, comes in grains about the size of a pea.

CONCERT PLEASURES AT GIRLS' COLLEGE

Interpretative Dances Given By Miss Lulu Palmer At Montevallo School.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., April 23.—Special.—Interpretative dances by Miss Lulu R. Palmer, formed an accessory to the piano recital program by Miss Elizabeth Frances Young Saturday night at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, which made it unique in the series of recitals by music department faculty members this school year.

The finished pianism of Miss Young, combined with the grace and refinement of Miss Palmer's original interpretation of three dance numbers, produced a pleasurable entertainment, hard to be equalled.

A trio composed of Miss Lula Hawkins, piano; Miss Frances Cauthen, violin, and Miss Grace M. Crocker, violoncello, accompanied Miss Palmer in her interpretation of the beautiful gliding melody of "The Swan," by Saint Saens, and also when she danced to the "Allegretto" and "Andante Sostenuto" from the Ballet Egyptian, by Luigini. An unusual rainbow lighting effect was arranged for the dance numbers by Walter Maurice Jones-Williams, college electrician.

The recital opened with the "Rondo Capriccioso," by Mendelssohn. Miss Young played the slow introduction with refined taste, and the very fast tempo in which the Rondo itself was taken in no way obscured the delicate tracery of the passages. Particularly beautiful was the pianist's interpretation of the middle section of "Fantasie-Impromptu" of Chopin. The poetry of the melody with its entrancing harmonies formed a fine contrast to the restless brilliancy of the other parts.

The two Debussy numbers, "Clair de Lune" and "Prelude," were of especial interest. Miss Young's playing of the A minor prelude was especially fine and masterly, bringing out well the strange effects of this unique piece.

All pianists enjoy playing the Rigoletto fantasia. Miss Young played a "Paraphrase: Rigoletto," Verdi-Liszt, with an energy and resonance of tone that brought out the full power of the piano, giving to the piece a vitality that was quite stimulating.

The attire worn by Miss Palmer in her interpretations was an artistic combination of lavender and yellow crepe de chine, built on Grecian lines. She carried a scarf of lavender crepe georgette. Miss Bessie McCary designed the costume.

MONTEVALLO GRADUATE MAKES GOOD IN CHICAGO

MISS CLARA SAVAGE.

Miss Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Savage, of Corona, who was graduated at Montevallo in 1916, is now making a wonderful record in the Cook County Hospital and Illinois Training School for Nurses, Chicago.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE TEAM TO MONTEVALLO

Woman's College basketball team will leave early Friday for Montevallo where they will play the Montevallo College team there in the afternoon. For the past several days the Woman's College players have been staging practice games on the court at the Woodley Country Club, and the players have been showing up well.

This is the opening game for the Woman's College team and the results will be followed closely. The game will probably develop the strength of the local team, as Montevallo has a wonderful team this season, according to reports. Woman's College forwards have shown excellent ability in caging field goals during the practice and it will take night good guarding to stop them, while their own guards have planned their defense to be used in the game.

It is expected that a number of students will accompany the players on the trip.

PALMER HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Valuable Records And Relics Destroyed In Fire At College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 7.—Special.—The president's handsome residence on the campus of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was partly insured.

Nearly all of the furniture and the clothing belonging to President Palmer and his family were burned. A large quantity of relics and souvenirs from all parts of the world, and many treasured articles that had been in the family for 75 years were destroyed. Around all of these was centered much sentiment.

President Palmer had many notes and comments upon this institution, its work and also upon the University of Alabama which he made while there. These were also lost among the records burned.

Dr. And Mrs. Palmer Honored By Pupils

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 10.—Special.—The old and new members of the student government board of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for women gave a dinner at the St. George Hotel recently when they had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer and the advisory board, Miss Mary Goods Stallworth, Miss Myrtle Brooke, and Miss Fannie Evans.

Miss Ora Swann was toastmistress and toasts were given by the following: Miss Elma Griffith, toast to Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer; Miss Lillian Sharpley, toast to the advisory board; Miss Ethel Gregg, toast to the new board; Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, toast to the Montevallo girl, to which Dr. Palmer responded with a short talk and Miss Lola Meriwether, toast to the outgoing board.

Those present were Ethel Gregg, Ora Swann, Lillian Sharpley, Belle Quarles, Mary Fuller, Lula Palmer, Christine Steele, Camille Dowell, Myrtle Spradley, Elinor Beasley, Genevieve Turbeville, Annie Laurie Robertson, Lola Meriwether, Marie Hagood, Volena Whaley, Agnes Hardy, Elma Griffith, Marguerite Scroggins, Evelyn Scott, and Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, Miss Fannie Evans and Miss Myrtle Brooke.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 14.—(Special.)—Miss Vivian Monk, a graduate of this institution of the class of 1916, visited Montevallo this week, and while here was offered a position as assistant in the department of English. Since leaving Montevallo, Miss Monk has taught for three years in the high schools of the state, attaining eminent success in her work. She will be graduated at the University of Alabama this year in the department of arts and sciences, making probably the highest record in that institution.

Miss Stella Palmer, head of the department of home economics in Arkansas, after spending a few days with her parents, left today for her home in Fayetteville, Ark. She was accompanied as far as Birmingham by her mother, Mrs. T. W. Palmer.

Miss Elsie Richardson, a graduate of Purdue university, LaFayette, Ind., has been elected an assistant in the home economics department for next session. She will teach millinery, advanced dressmaking and interior decoration.

Mrs. C. B. Evans of Mobile has accepted a position as assistant in piano at the college for the session 1921-1922, and Mrs. Luella G. Joiner of Birmingham will have charge of the voice work in the music department. Miss Martha Gusman of Mobile will teach voice during the summer session.

President Palmer and family have taken rooms in Peterson Hall since their residence was destroyed by fire. They will remain there until September.

TRUSTEES MEET AT MONTEVALLO

Montevallo, May 19.—(Special.)—The trustees of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will meet in the college library at 2 o'clock p. m. Friday. The following are the members of the board: Gov. Thomas E. Kilby, Dr. John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education; Mrs. Edgar L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; William J. Dansby, Butler; E. B. Fite, Hamilton; Shelby S. Fletcher, Huntsville; Malcolm A. Graham, Prattville; Lloyd M. Hooper, Selma; Moses V. Joseph, Birmingham; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; L. M. Moseley, Union Springs; Dr. J. C. McLeod, Bay Minette; L. Sevier, Birmingham; William H. Tayloe, Uniontown.

TEACHERS SELECTED FOR MONTEVALLO

Preparations Are Being Made For Next Session At College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 13.—Special.—Miss Vivian Monk, a graduate of this institution of the class of 1916, visited Montevallo this week, and while here was offered a position as assistant in the department of English. Since leaving Montevallo, Miss Monk has taught for three years in high schools of the state, attaining eminent success in her work, it is said. She will be graduated at the University of Alabama this year in the department of arts and sciences, making probably the highest record in that institution.

Miss Stella Palmer, head of the department of home economics in Arkansas, after spending a few days with her parents, left today for her home in Fayetteville, Ark. She was accompanied as far as Birmingham by her mother, Mrs. T. W. Palmer.

Miss Elsie Richardson, a graduate of Purdue University, LaFayette, Ind., has been elected an assistant in the home economics department for next session. She will teach millinery, advanced dressmaking and interior decoration.

Mrs. C. B. Evans, of Mobile, has accepted a position as assistant in piano at the college for the session 1921-22, and Mrs. Luella G. Joiner, of Birmingham, will have charge of the voice work in the music department. Miss Martha Gusman, of Mobile, will teach voice during the summer session.

President Palmer and family have taken rooms in Peterson Hall since their residence was destroyed by fire. They will remain there until September.

WOMAN DROWNS IN EFFORT TO SAVE HER NIECE'S LIFE

Montevallo, May 15.—While attempting to rescue Miss Estelle Penny, who was in bathing at Davis Falls, near here this afternoon, her aunt, Mrs. O. W. Parsons, lost her life and Miss Penny managed in some way to get out, and was found several hours later wandering in the woods unable to give a coherent account of the accident.

Mrs. Parsons, accompanied by her niece, who is about 16 years old, and her three small children, the oldest of which is only 6, were out in the woods for a walk, when the older girl decided to try the water, and was about to drown, when she called for help that resulted in the drowning of Mrs. Parsons. The children managed to find the way home and gave the alarm. Searching parties soon recovered the lifeless body of Mrs. Parsons and the wandering, almost demented young girl.

Mr. Parsons is an employe in the office of the coal company at Aldrich mines.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 14.—(Special.)—Miss Vivian Monk, a graduate of this institution of the class of 1916, visited Montevallo this week, and while here was offered a position as assistant in the department of English. Since leaving Montevallo, Miss Monk has taught for three years in the high schools of the state, attaining eminent success in her work. She will be graduated at the University of Alabama this year in the department of arts and sciences, making probably the highest record in that institution.

Miss Stella Palmer, head of the department of home economics in Arkansas, after spending a few days with her parents, left today for her home in Fayetteville, Ark. She was accompanied as far as Birmingham by her mother, Mrs. T. W. Palmer.

Miss Elsie Richardson, a graduate of Purdue university, LaFayette, Ind., has been elected an assistant in the home economics department for next session. She will teach millinery, advanced dressmaking and interior decoration.

Mrs. C. B. Evans of Mobile has accepted a position as assistant in piano at the college for the session 1921-1922, and Mrs. Luella G. Joiner of Birmingham will have charge of the voice work in the music department. Miss Martha Gusman of Mobile will teach voice during the summer session.

President Palmer and family have taken rooms in Peterson Hall since their residence was destroyed by fire. They will remain there until September.

RE-ELECT PALMER HEAD OF COLLEGE

Receives Unanimous Vote of Trustees of Alabama Technical Institute

Montgomery, May 21.—(Special.)—Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Alabama Girls Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo, was re-elected president for another term of one year at the annual meeting of the board of trustees at Montevallo Friday. This announcement was made by Governor Kilby on his return to Montgomery Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Palmer received the unanimous vote of the board after he had submitted a report showing the progress made by the institution during the past year. Governor Kilby also announced that it is proposed to rebuild the home for the president which was destroyed by fire two weeks ago. The state carried insurance to the amount of $9,000 on the building. Dr. Palmer and family are now living in the infirmary of the college.

Governor Kilby also attended the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Alabama School for Deaf, Dumb and Blind at Talladega. Dr. F. H. Manning, principal of the institution, also was re-elected for another term of one year.

The governor will leave Monday morning for Tuscaloosa, where he will attend the annual meeting of the board of trustees and the annual commencement exercises of the university.

DR.
P

MO
Henry preach
here
Techn liver divid press and t life.

The large girls selves their world

Sun delive studie work.
the be

The
conclu grand baccal
by Cla
tor of two diploma receiv

The
the n ever c influe of stu
for th

Rep Truste
ing th in its in a Board

achiev gratul
dent, c

Plan will c pleted ready
The bright

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, January 20.—(Special.) The song recital given at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, by Arthur P. Kraft of Chicago made a deep impression. The natural beauty of his voice and the sincerity with which he presented his programme brought out its full wealth of expression and his delicate nuances and artistic interpretations showed musicianship of the most refined order. Mr. Kraft is fortunate in having such exquisitely sympathetic and adequately finished accompaniments as Mr. Calkins contributed to the recital.

For the Montevallo audiences, two numbers were of especial interest, "Hence Care" and "The Message" sung from manuscript and written by Charles Rendell Calkins, the director of the school of music. Their real beauty and delicate purity of form would win any audience; and the hearty applause that followed these songs was a tribute not only to the sincere appreciation of Mr. Calkins as a teacher in the college, but also to the exceptional worth of the compositions themselves.

DR. H. M. EDMONDS PREACHES SERMON AT MONTEVALLO SCHOOL

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 25.—Dr. Henry M. Edmonds of Birmingham preached the Commencement sermon here today for the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute. Dr. Edmonds delivered a very strong discourse on "Individuality," urging the girls to express themselves, be honest in service and to take part in all the affairs of life.

The sermon was a presentation of a large vision of service in which the girls were urged to be true to themselves, to their city, to their county, to their state, to their nation and to the world.

Sunday evening Mrs. Ralph Barrow delivered a splendid lecture before the student body on service and patriotic work. Mrs. Barrow's talk was one of the best ever heard at the college.

The Commencement program will be concluded Monday morning with the grand formal graduating exercises. The baccalaureate address will be delivered by Clarence Poe of Raleigh, N. C., editor of the Progressive Farmer. Sixty two young ladies will receive their diplomas Monday and eleven more will receive theirs at the Summer school.

The present year has been one of the most successful the college has ever experienced, notwithstanding the influenza having prevented a number of students attending. The enrollment for the year was 473.

Reports were made to the Board of Trustees at its meeting Saturday showing the institution to have lived within its income the past year and to be in a most flourishing condition. The Board was greatly pleased with the achievements of the school and congratulated Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, on his successful management.

Plans for a summer school, which will open June 10, have been completed and a large enrollment is already assured.

The outlook for the fall term is very bright indeed, President Palmer says.

GIRLS TECHNICAL

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 19.—Sunday afternoon in the chapel the first of the series of Sunday recitals, which are to feature in school events this season, occurred, with Charles Rendell Calkins, director of the music department, as pianist.

Mr. Calkins gave a program of rare excellence, playing each number with the ease and clearness which always characterizes his playing, and showing versatility in style.

The program opened with the A major sonata by Haydn. Mr. Calkins showed himself a thorough master of this representative composition of the classic school, there being an utter absence of pretense or affectation in his interpretation of it. He later showed himself quite as much the master in his interpretation of the compositions of Schumann and Chopin, playing two "Romances" by Schumann and the A Major Polonaise and the Nocturne in G Major by Chopin. The program closed with an ensemble number for the violin, flute, cello and piano, written by Mr. Calkins, and assisted by some of the students of the school.

On Wednesday evening, on the eve of the Christmas holidays, a very beautiful program was given by the members of the senior class, under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association. The assembly hall, with its broad stairway, was overflowing with students, members of the faculty and friends, and its setting of palms, cut flowers and myriads of candles shedding a scene of beauty most impressive.

The senior class, dressed in white, marched in singing "O Come All Ye Faithful," and after a Bible reading and prayer, a program of readings, stories and hymns was given. The senior class was assisted by Miss Mary Curry and Mary Beech, violinists; Nina Lyman, flutist; Annie Jo Northern, clarinetist, and Margaret Notestine, cellist, with Mr. Calkins at the piano. Several numbers were given by this talented group of girl students of the school. All string numbers were composed by Mr. Calkins for this occasion.

FOOD CONSERVATION BULLETIN

Document Has Been Issued by Alabama Girls' Technical Institute

The home economics department of the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute has issued a food conservation bulletin on food saving and suggesting substitutes for sugar, meat and wheat.

This bulletin will no doubt be of great help to every housewife who wishes to cut down the high cost of living, and at the same time show her loyalty by conserving sugar, meat and wheat.

A copy will be sent free to anyone on request to the president, Alabama Girls' Technical Institute, Montevallo.

Am. News
Jan 10/18

Great Work Being Done.

"One of Alabama's greatest assets is the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute at Montevallo," said Dr. A. J. Farley, former resident of Jefferson County but now located at Montevallo.

"This school is doing a wonderful work for the girls of Alabama and should have the united support of the people of the State. Dr. Thomas W. Palmer, head of the school, is one of the ablest educators in the South, and has achieved much success at Montevallo."

Dr. Farley formerly lived at Leeds, but moved to Montevallo several years ago in order to take advantage of the educational facilities offered his children at the Institute.

News Jan 23/17
New Orleans Progress

HARRIS & EMMETT
 ces of a deserving veteran has been of the Washington baseball club, in
 r. Griff steps down from the office end of the club's affairs, and he has employe who has served him long and or Washington over a long stretch of fighter, and, though not a heavy hitter ck of delivering timely hits. He was ving one of the best arms in the game

MEMPHIS CHAMPION, PETER L, IS SOLD

Hartford, Conn., January 20.—
 Word has come from W. H. Coocher, secretary of the National Trotting association, that William Crozier of this city has bought Peter L., the champion 4-year-old trotting stallion of 1920, at Memphis. The price is understood to have been about $15,000. Peter L. will be brought here. Last year in 11 races won his best mark was 2:06 1/4.

UNIVERSITY GIRLS

pastors' wives of the city picture was taken at the home

Table 4
 lot of girls' and boys' shoes ne lot of kinds, sizes, up
 $2. $2.50
 ies

$1.48

Burgh Pirates, is winding up his at the steel plant at Ensley and getting ready to ship to the Spring training camp of the Corsairs. Burleigh has little more than a month to labor at the steel plant before he answers the call to arms. He announces that the work out at the plant has kept him in condition through the Winter months and says that he is as hard as nails and is ready to go. Grimes is no longer looked upon as a rookie and he will experience little difficulty in gaining a regular berth on the Pirates' pitching staff. If he will take care of his wings in the early Spring and refrain from trying to show Jimmy Callahan too much stuff at the beginning of the season, he will get along fine. Unless he experiences this misfortune we look for him to star with the Pirates the coming season. This is the trouble with many youngsters. They try to uncork July pitching in April and a kink is developed in the arm. If this comes they never really get to show the sun.

 ment are nd indusons of to-problems

'listen in'
 or contro-cts on all ives them with the orces that ne destinsion, how liers have e endured and heal-and heroievement, of circum-

 ove, and le forces

tions in in the fac Church in ling facts and purpo

NOW—DIGEST centers of markets!
 by Gover lions of to who have

Hold Patriotism week's iss complete now being the tragic Ottoman
 Denmark tories big live and v into a lar their nati

No ma of the wo richer, m

ment sermon will be delivered by Dr.
 Edgard Mullins, President of the 1922-23, the home economics course, by agreement with the federal government must be advanced to

ALABAMA TECHNICAL INSTITUTE
 EXERCISES BEGIN FRIDAY

WILL HEAR NOTADICE
 MONTI VALLO PUPILS

ALABAMA TECHNICAL INSTITUTE EXERCISES BEGIN FRIDAY, MAY 20

President Palmer's Report Very Gratifying to Board of Trustees Who Will Meet on Friday Afternoon; Governor's Reception Friday Evening

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 14.—The commencement exercises of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will begin Friday afternoon, May 20, with a meeting of the Board of Trustees in the library of the college at one o'clock. The following are the members:

Governor Thomas E. Kilby, Dr. John W. Abernethie, State Superintendent of Education; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; William J. Dansby, Butler; E. B. Fite, Hamilton; Shelby S. Fletcher, Huntsville; Judge M. A. Graham, Prattville; Lloyd M. Hooper, Selma; Moses V. Joseph, Birmingham; Alton V. Lee, Gadsden; Dr. J. C. McLeod, Bay Minette, L. M. Moseley, Union Springs; L. Sevier, Birmingham; Judge W. H. Taylor, Uniontown; E. S. Lyman, Montevallo; treasurer; C. L. Meroney, Montevallo, secretary.

The president's report shows gratifying progress for the institution during the present year. The dormitory was filled on opening day, and has been practically full ever since. There were more applicants for admission at the beginning of the year than could be taken in. The college is greatly in need of more dormitories as well as more buildings for general teaching purposes. The curriculum has been advanced to a three-year college course and beginning with 1922-23, the home economics course, by agreement with the federal government, must be advanced to a four-year college degree course.

The state department of education has recently announced the establishment of special professional certificates for the teaching of music, art and physical education. This college has always stressed these subjects, and is prepared now to meet the demands of the department of education.

Friday evening the reception to Governor and Mrs. Kilby and the graduating classes will be given in the parlors of the dormitory. The loss of the president's house by fire will in no way affect the reception or any other commencement exercise.

On Saturday morning the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association will be held, and at their open session addresses will be delivered by Lieutenant-Governor Nathan L. Miller, of Birmingham and Hon. Sol D. Bloch, of Camden.

Saturday evening the play, "Endymion," will be presented by students in expression.

ment sermon will be delivered by Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins, President of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Louisville, Kentucky.

At seven o'clock Sunday evening, Mrs. J. D. Elliott, of Birmingham, president of the Woman's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, North Alabama Conference, will deliver the address before the Young Women's Christian Association.

Dr. J. C. Pant, president of the State College for Women, Columbus, Miss.issippi, will deliver the baccalaureate address before the graduating classes on Monday morning. Fifty-six women will receive their diplomas in the various departments of the institution.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES WILL MEET FRIDAY

Commencement Season Arrives For Students At Montevallo College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 19.—Special.—The commencement season at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be ushered in Friday with fitting solemnity, when the board of trustees convenes for its annual meeting.

The climax in social events of the school year will be reached in the reception given Friday night by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, and Mrs. Palmer, in honor of Governor and Mrs. Kilby and 59 members of the graduating classes of 1921. Among the distinguished visitors will be Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Nathan L. Miller, of Birmingham.

The assembly hall and reception rooms of the college dormitory will be the scene of the reception, since the president's residence was recently destroyed by fire. Settees, davenport, rugs and other articles of furniture rescued from the fire will be used in making the assembly hall of the dormitory resemble a reception room in a large home.

Besides Dr. and Mrs. Palmer, the visiting governors and their wives, there will be in the receiving line a number of members of the board of trustees, as well as Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, dean, and Dr. Willena Peck, resident physician and head of the health department.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, as if each girl were a real bride, the graduating class members will descend the broad stairway to greet the governor and others in the line, becoming a part of the receiving line thereafter. The graduates will be led by little Miss Dorothy Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davies, Montevallo, dressed as Cupid.

Southern smilax and Dorothy Perkins roses will profusely adorn the reception rooms, while in the first room to the east of the assembly hall a salad and sherbet course will be served the guests; in the next room coffee and mints, while on the porch will be the frappe bowl. Mrs. Palmer, who graciously instigates virtually all of the social activities of the college, has cluded all of the faculty members in the various committees which will assist her in receiving and serving the guests.

A musical program has been arranged by Miss Grace M. Crocker, teacher of violin, and Miss Elizabeth Frances Young, teacher of piano. Miss Crocker will play the violoncello. Others who will complete the orchestra are: Mrs. J. H. Middleton, first violin, and Miss Frances Cauthen, second violin.

By request Miss Lulu R. Palmer will dance an interpretation of "Allegretto" and "Andante Sostenuto" from Ballet Egyptian-Luigini. Miss Carolyn Seears, Eutaw, will play a piano solo, "Polichienne," by Rachaninoff.

Among the numbers the orchestra will play during the reception will be: "March Nuptiale," Papini; "Iris," Reynard; "Valse Caprice," Deppen; "Mood Pensive," Applefield; "L'Esprit de Nil," Vargas; "Legend of a Rose," Reynard; "Spanish Serenade," Friml; "A Japanese Sunset," Deppen.

Montevallo Alumnae Elects New Officers—

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 23.—Mrs. W. E. Wofford of Cartersville, Georgia, formerly Miss Mamie Meroney of Montevallo, Ala., was elected president of the Alumnae Association at the business meeting on Saturday afternoon at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

The other officers for the coming year are Miss Vivian Monk, Cherokee, vice-president; Miss Nell Murphree, Gadsden, secretary; Miss Bessie Fleming, Brundidge, treasurer; Miss Mary McMillan, Columbiana, historian.

The retiring officers are: Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville, president; Miss Winnie Davies Noel, Birmingham, vice-president; Miss Eloise Merony, Montevallo, secretary; Miss Bessie McCary, Montevallo, treasurer; Miss Flora Belle Surles, Washington, D. C., historian.

MONTEVALLO PUPILS WILL HEAR NOTABLES

Open Meeting of Alumnae Association and Play Features of Saturday

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, May 20.—Alumnae commencement week at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be featured by an open meeting of the alumnae association and by a play given by the expression department on the college campus at night.

"A Visualization of Our Institutions' Future" will be the subject on which Lieutenant-Governor Nathan L. Miller, Birmingham, will address the alumnae and friends. "A. T. I. and C's Past" will be told of by Colonel Sol D. Block Mobile. To the address of welcome by Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, dean, a response will be made by Miss Borthie Allen, 1615-13th Street, S., Birmingham.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, will make a few remarks in closing the meeting. Rev. W. K. Simpson, Montevallo, will pronounce the opening prayer, and musical numbers will be interspersed in the program which will begin with a procession, "Marche Aux Flambeaux," Clark, by the college orchestra.

The alumnae will sing their song composed by Miss Thelma Davis '16, Fort Davis. Miss Lulu R. Palmer will play a piano solo, "Prelude, Op. 32, A Flat Major," Sinding. The Intermezzo, "A Drowsy Afternoon," Lemon, and a recessional will be other numbers by the orchestra, under the leadership of Charles R. Calkins, director of music.

Mrs. Charles N. Parnell (Lucy Le-noir '06) Maplesville, president of the alumnae association, will preside at the business meeting at 9:00 Saturday morning, preceding the open meeting. The alumnae will take luncheon together in the college dormitory dining room at noon.

Exhibits of garments made in home economics, classes and work done in art classes will be viewed by commencement visitors in Bloch Hall.

The artistic grouping of trees on the front campus will make an ideal background for the Greek setting of the play "Endymion," a comedy in three acts by Marie Josephine Warren. The successful work of the expression students in this play is due to the untiring efforts of Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer, head of the expression department, under whose direction it has been arranged. Music by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Calkins is a special addition to the artistic effect of the out-door play.

PALMER ANNOUNCES NAMES OF GRADUATES

Fifty-nine Girls Will Receive A. G. T. I. Diplomas Mon- day Morning

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 21.—
Names of fifty-nine girls who will receive diplomas at the 1921 commencement season at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women have been announced by Dr. T. W.

Palmer, President. The fifty-six who will receive diplomas Monday morning, May 23, are:

Three years college course: Janie
Elsie Bonner, Camden; Jessie Byrd
Fuller, Perryville; Ethel Gregg, Stanton; Hazel Elizabeth Kytte, Talladega Springs; Ethel Evalind Pressley, Springville; Elizabeth Reeder, Waverly; Carol McDowell, Rentz; Ella Spur-lin, Camden; Maude Adair Stalling, Boligee; Frances Word, Shawmut.

Three year vocational home economics teacher-training course: Mozelle
Boyett, Rockford; Annie Celeste
Broughton, East Tallassee; Lillian Gay
Chambers, Hillsboro; Sara Ammie Farris, Elba; Mary Elizabeth Fuller, Perryville; Marie Shaw, Carbon Hill; Blanche Williamson, James.

Three year college course with piano:
Virginia Hardy, Camden; Annie
Lida Long and Sara Elizabeth Long, Gainesville.

Two year college course with piano:
Bertha Fant, Fairfield; Lulu Rainer
Palmer, Montevallo.

Two year college course: Georgia
Brown, Cromwell.

Two year normal school course: Annie Mae Allison, Townley; Winnie Peyte Bibb, Elmore; Frances Willard
Brown, Kellyton; Joy Stallworth Bryan, Georgiana; Maggie Lea Causey, Milry; Mary Elizabeth Chancellor,
Vincent; Florence Lucile Crabtree,
Tuscaloosa; Rebecca Cross, Fayette;
Essie Loraine Crow, Alexander City;
Johnnie Stelle Cunningham, Marion
Junction; Frances Willard Davis, Mountain Creek; Sarah Gavin, Russellville; Florence McCarty Harris, Birmingham; Annie Lucile Hendon, Cordova; Laura Grace Jordan, Grove Hill;
Lelia Jewett Jordan, Eclectic; Bessie LeCroy, Rockford; Margurite Newland Lipscomb, Carbon Hill; Janie
Rogers Long, Gainesville; Etta Irene
McMillan, Columbiana; Laura Lee
Moseley, Hazel Green; Robbie Lorene
Patterson, Brundidge; Myrtis Margu-rite Sealy, Thomaston; Frances Singleton, Union Springs; Lottie Augusta
Singleton, Putnam; Helen Carol Smith, Birmingham; Stella Shull Smith, Tuscumbia; Myrtle Spradley, Florala; Evelyn Clover Spurlin, Demopolis; Ora Swann, Marion; Grace Vines, Bessemer; Annie Laurie Warren, Batesville; Vivian Clyde Young, Central.

Three who expect to receive diplomas at the end of the summer school are:

Three year vocational home economics teacher-training course: Ellen Lenora White, Hamilton.

Two year normal school course:
Dona Banks, Jackson's Gap; Mittye
Lambert, Lasca.

girls in attending the Summer conference next year, Y. W. C. A. cabinet members have made arrangements to wait on two tables in the college dormitory dining room throughout the school year. One cabinet member will take each table for a week at a time so that the burden will not be great on any one member.

The idea of serving in the dormitory dining room as a means of earning money is increasing in popularity and girls have been snatching up any vacancies in order to earn money for new dresses instead of writing home for it.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 20.—(Special.)—Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating classes at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women here Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The service will begin with a processional of graduates singing, "Come, Thou Almighty King" (Wesley). An anthem, "One Hundred and Forty-Eighth Psalm," to music composed by Charles R. Calkins, music director, will be sung by the graduates.

Miss Hannah Crook, voice teacher, will sing the aria, "Gloria" (Buzzi-Peccia).
The recessional will be "More Love to Thee, O Christ," by Prentiss.

Completing the religious services attendant upon commencement week will be the Young Woman's Christian association service in the dormitory assembly hall Sunday night. Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Birmingham, president of the Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, North Alabama conference, will speak.

The commencement exercises proper, concluding the activities, will take place
Monday morning at 9:30 in the college auditorium, when Dr. J. C. Fant, president of the Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus, will deliver the address to the graduates.

The senior class members participated in their annual picnic at "Big Spring"
Wednesday evening.

A swimming contest, ending Wednesday afternoon, brought to a close the term's activities in the physical education department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

In the tennis tournament recently played off Miss Margaret Fox, Thomaston, and Miss Ella Spurlin, Camden, were winners in the finals.

Names of the 59 girls who will receive diplomas at the 1921 commencement sesson have been announced by Dr. T. W.
Palmer, president. The 56 who will receive diplomas Monday morning, May 23,
are:

Three-year college course: Janie Elise
Bonner, Camden; Jessie Byrd Fuller,
Perryville; Ethel Gregg, Stanton; Hazel
Elizabeth Kytte, Talladega Springs; Ethel Evaline Presley, Springville; Elizabeth
Reeder, Waverly; Carol McDowell, Rentz;
Ella Spurlin, Camden; Maude Adair
Stallings, Boligee; Frances Word, Shawmut.

Three-year vocational home economics teacher-training course: Mozelle Boyett,
Rockford; Annie Celeste Broughton, East
Tallassee; Lillian Gay Chambers, Hillsboro; Sara Ammie Farris, Elba; Mary Elizabeth Fuller, Perryville; Marie Shaw, Carbon Hill; Blanche Williamson, James.

Three-year college course with piano:
Virginia Hardy, Camden; Annie Lida
Long and Sara Elizabeth Long, Gainesville.

Two-year college course with piano:
Bertha Fant, Fairfield; Lulu Rainer Palmer, Montevallo.

Two-year college course: Georgia
Brown, Cromwell.

Two-year normal college course: Annie
Mae Allison, Townley; Winnie Peyte
Bibb, Elmore; Frances Willard Brown,
Kellyton; Mary Elizabeth Chancellor,
Vincent; Florence Lucile Crabtree, Tuscaloosa; Rebecca Cross, Fayette; Essie
Loraine Crow, Alexander City; Johnnie
Stelle Cunningham, Marion Junction;
Willard Davis, Mountain Creek; Sarah
Gavin, Russellville; Florence McCarty
Harris, Birmingham; Annie Lucile Hendon, Cordova; Laura Grace Jordan, Grove hill. The brokers claim that all eleven of the alleged stolen bonds were bought by them from a Memphis man who intended to turn them over to the attorney who had bought them from the insurance company. The man who bought them from the insurance company is now being made to locate.

Funds Will Be Raised At Mon- tevallo To Send Girls To School.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 18.—Special.—Fourth year high school students conducted the Young Women's Christian Association service Sunday night at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Miss Alice Moody, of Birmingham, made a short talk on the life and work of Grace H. Dodge, for the celebration of whose memory the Y. W. C. A. has set apart May 21 of each year. Miss Dodge, who died in 1914, was noted for having established the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association and a teachers' training school, and for many efforts in behalf of working girls.

Miss Marion Grant, of Comer, led the meeting. Miss Louise Burton, of Georgiana, sang "The Day Is Past and Over," by William Reed, and a chorus composed of the following: Misses Lelah
Mae Jones, Greensboro; Elinor Beasley
Birmingham; Mary Burt, Pittsview;
Mary Pritchard, Birmingham; Margare-tate, Wetumpka; Agnes Hardy, Newala; Laura Martin, Pittsview; Lucile Williams, Linwood, and Louise Burton sang
"St. Leonard," by H. Hiles. Miss Carolyn Sears, of Eutaw, was at the piano.
The meeting was dismissed by Miss Lula B. Hawkins, of Birmingham.

To raise money to help send Y. W. C.
A. girls to the Summer camp conference at Blue Ridge, N. C., this Summer members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at the college are planning to wait on tables in the dormitory dining room, occupied by commencement visitors. Those who will look after the tables are: Evelyn Scott, Verbena, president; Charlotte Leeper, Citronelle; Virginia Edwards, Enterprise; Belle Quarles, Pitts-view, and Louise Hinton, Prattville.

The Y. W. C. A. tea room, an institution at the college, whereby the association augments its funds selling sweets, sandwiches, and other delicacies on Saturday afternoons, will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week, to help swell the Blue Ridge fund. The girls who go from Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women to Blue Ridge, this Summer are: Misses Orlean Randle, Bessemer; Lillou Burns, Bell Ellen;
Bessie Padgett, Brewton; Dorothy
Schmidt, Lincoln; Christine Steele,
Clinton; Ruth Culpepper, Selma;
Evelyn Scott, Verbena; Charlotte
Leeper, Citronelle, and Belle Quarles, Pittsview.

In order to have more money to ad-

DR. MULLINS WILL PREACH SERMON

Commencement Of Montevallo College For Women To Begin Sunday.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 20.—Special.—Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating classes at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The service will begin with a processional of graduates singing "Come, Thou Almighty King," Wesley. An anthem, "One Hundred and Forty-Eighth Psalm," to music composed by Charles R. Calkins, music director, will be sung by the graduates.

Miss Hannah Crook, voice teacher, will sing the aria, "Gloria," (Buzzi-Peccia). The recessional will be "More Love To Thee, O Christ," by Prentiss.

Completing the religious services attendant upon commencement week will be the Y. W. C. A. service in the dormitory assembly hall Sunday night. Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Birmingham, president of the Women's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, North Alabama Conference, will speak.

The senior class will be seated on the white draped stairway in the assembly hall. Some will wear colored and some white organdies, and form the letters: "A. T. I. and C." in the colors on the white ground. The class will sing the anthem "Lovely Appear," by Gounod, the solo part being taken by Miss Crook. Miss Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer, will sing "A Prayer," composed by Mr. Calkins. With her solo will be a violin obligato by two violins, Mrs. J. H. Middleton, Montevallo, and Miss Frances Cauthen, Auburn.

The commencement exercises proper, concluding the activities, will take place Monday morning at 9:30 in the college auditorium, when Dr. J. C. Fant, president of the Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus, will deliver the address to the graduates.

They will enter in processional, singing the "A. T. I. and C." song. A quintet, composed of Miss Nina Lyman, flute; Mrs. Middleton, violin; Miss Grace McG. Crocker, violincello; Miss Nell Murphree, piano; Mr. Calkins, clarinet, will play "Erotik," by Greig. Following the awarding of diplomas by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, the college song, composed by Miss Lillian Mae Kendrick, now Mrs. Murphy Vanderford McCalla, and Miss Minnie McGowan, Andalusia, both of the class of 1920, will be sung.

Different faculty and student committees will be on duty each two hours of the day from Friday through Monday to assist in receiving commencement guests and showing them about the campus. Miss Mary G. Stallworth, dean, appointed the faculty committees, and Mrs. Eugenia H. Phillips, matron, appointed the student committees.

The senior class members participated in their annual picnic at "Big Spring" Wednesday evening.

PEDOMETER IS USED

Montevallo Domestic Science Teacher
Demonstrates Footstep Saving.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 20.—Special.—Madam Housewife can you prepare a five-course dinner and only walk seven-eighths of a mile? Did you know that the majority of kitchens and pantries are arranged so that the housewife must walk from two or three miles while getting such a meal? Miss Gail A. Burfield, in charge of the practice home for home economics students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, entertained nine guests at a five-course dinner Tuesday evening, and the pedometer she wore registered just seven-eighths of a mile when her work in the practice home kitchen was completed.

"Wearing the pedometer made me think before I took a step, and devise plans by which I could save as many steps as possible," said Miss Burfield. Her guests were the eight graduates in vocational home economics and Miss Myrtle Brooke, head of the education department.

The feast was partaken of by light from pink candles grouped around a centerpiece of Dorothy Perkins roses in the midst of which stood a kewpie, adorned with a graduate's cap and gown. Place cards took the form of girl graduates in caps and gowns, with diplomas in hand.

The vocational home economics graduates are: Misses Annie C. Broughton, Mozelle Boyett, Sara Faris, Marie Shaw, Blanche Williamson, Lillian Chambers, Ellen White, Mary Fuller. The dinner was served by two home economics sophomores—Annie Slone and Wanda Harris.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS GOOD SWIMMERS

Contest In This Branch Of Physical Education Department Feature.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 20.—Special.—A swimming contest, ending Wednesday afternoon, brought to a close the term's activities in the physical education department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Miss Annie Laurie Dunn, of Mobile, finished first in the undressing contest, and Miss Elsie Mahaffey second. The entrants had to take off dresses, shoes and stockings while swimming in deep water. Speed, form of strokes, endurance and diving were other classes in the meet. Freshman class members won the largest number of points in the contest.

In the 22-yard speed test the results were: Addie Scarborough, Mt. Willing, first; Annie Laurie Dunn, Mobile, second; Elsie Mahaffey, third. Form of back stroke, Miss Dunn, first; Miss Mahaffey, second; Miss Scarborough, third. Form of side stroke, Misses Scarborough and Dunn tied for first; Miss Mahaffey, second. Overhand, side stroke, Miss Scarborough, first; Miss Mahaffey, second; Miss Dunn, third. Double overhand stroke, Miss Mahaffey, first; Miss Scarborough, second. Breast stroke, Miss Mahaffey, first; Miss Scarborough, second.

Miss Scarborough won the most points for endurance, swimming 480 yards. In the diving contest Miss Scarborough's score totaled the highest; Miss Mahaffey's second.

In the tennis tournament recently played off Miss Margaret Fox, Thomas-ton, and Miss Ella Spurlin, Camden, were winners in the finals. Much of the interest of the students in these sports is due to the painstaking and efficient training of the physical education teachers, Misses Rebecca Funk and Beulah Putnam.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR MILLER ADDRESSES MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE

Birmingham Attorney and Statesman Points Out Practical Side of Life to Educated Women Who Desire Entering Business or Professional Calling

The progress being made by the state in preparing her boys and girls for higher education was reviewed, giving special attention to high schools, compulsory attendance, and the three-mill county and district taxes.

He pointed out the wrong it would be to the ambitious boys and girls of the state not to have ample provision made whereby they might carry forward their education in the higher studies and procure full college courses.

Attention was drawn to the campaigns now being conducted for vast sums of money as endowment funds by Universities not wholly dependent upon their respective states and how the religious denominations are aroused, all showing their appreciation of the fact that present day provisions are inadequate.

He stated that each of the Alumnae is an example of the work of the college and an advertisement to the high school girl desiring to go to college of what she might acquire here.

The Alumnae was exhorted to inform the public of the work of the college and so arouse a public appreciation of what could be done with sufficient buildings, equipment, and maintenance fund to meet the ever increasing demands upon the college.

The stability and permanency of educational institutions were commented upon. "They survive revolutions, wars, and forms of government," he said.

He commended the present management and expressed the opinion that, if the state is making preparations in keeping with the growing needs, all preparations would be utilized as fast as made until a minimum of three thousand pupils shall have been prepared for.

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 21.—On Saturday morning, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Lieutenant-Governor Nathan L. Miller, Birmingham, in his usual eloquent and happy manner, addressed the Alumnae Association on the future of the institution.

He congratulated them that the present buildings and equipment are being used to full capacity, on the high rank the college has taken, and the increased appreciation of it throughout the state.

He pointed out that woman's sphere is greatly enlarging; that practically all lines of endeavor, business and professional, that are open to men are now open to women; that it is more and more true that the real successes are for those who are broadly educated and especially prepared for the particular work undertaken; that the real competition of life in the coming years will be between those liberally educated and especially trained, and that the uneducated and untrained will be so badly handicapped as not to be real competitors for the larger places in the world.

"Whatever women may do in business, or in the professions, or in public life, her crowning glory is in home-making and the training of her own children and maintaining the functions of our civilization," he said.

He made suggestions as to how her education and training might be used to advantage in making home life in the country attractive.

The great impetus given education by the war and the crowded condition of the institutions of higher education throughout the country, were commented upon, and the necessity for Alabama's making provision for her own young men and young women was pointed out.

MONTEVALLO SCHOOL GETS NEW BUILDINGS

New Library and Residence For President Authorized by Trustee Board

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 22.—Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will have a new library building and a new residence for the president, and a four-year college course with discontinuance of high school courses will be pursued, according to resolutions passed by the trustees at their annual meeting Thursday.

The building committee will have at its disposal a total appropriation of $84,000.00 of which $9,000 is insurance received on the recently burned residence of the president. The committee will meet early in June and decide when to begin building operations and what proportion of available funds can be used for the new residence for the president and what amount for the library.

Specific recommendations for the establishment of four years of college work leading to the granting of degrees will be presented at the next meeting of the trustees, October 27. The more important degrees which will probably be planned for are that of bachelor of arts and bachelor of science in home economics.

Governor Thomas E. Kilby attended the meeting of the board of trustees. The other trustees at the meeting on Thursday were John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education; L. Sevier, Birmingham; Lloyd M. Hooper, Selma; Mrs. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; William J. Dansby, Butler; M. A. Graham, of Prattville; E. S. Lyman, treasurer and C. L. Meroney, secretary, Montevallo.

Following are the resolutions:

Resolved: That authority is hereby vested in the executive committee, together with trustees, Mrs. Clarkson and Mr. Sevier, to be designated building committee, to proceed with the location and erection of a new library building and a president's home; that contracts shall be let in the discretion of the committee; that all commitments, contracts, etc., pertaining to the erection of these buildings are duly authorized by the trustees in regular annual meeting on this, May 20, 1921, and that the president and chairman of executive committee be empowered to affix their signatures to any agreement, contracts, etc., binding the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in the faithful execution of all contracts.

Resolved: First, that the President and Executive committee of the board of trustees of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women are hereby instructed to present at the next semi-annual meeting of said board of trustees specific and definite recommendations that contemplate the establishment of a full four-year college course in instruction in the liberal arts and sciences. Said recommendations to conform to the purposes for which this school was established under the Acts of the Legislature of Alabama, page 182, approved March 4, 1901.

Resolved, Second, that these recommendations contemplate the discontinuance of instruction in high school courses.

ALUMNAE DAY TO BE FEATURE EVENT

Distinguished Visitors Will Be Entertained At Montevallo
Commencement.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 19.—Special.—Alumnae day, Saturday, May 21, of the commencement week at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be featured by an open meeting of the alumnae association and by a play given by the expression department on the college campus at night.

"A Visualization of Our Institution's Future" will be the subject on which Lieutenant Governor Nathan L. Miller, Birmingham, will address the alumnae and friends. "A T. I. and C.'s Past" will be told of by Colonel Sol D. Bloch, Mobile. To the address of welcome by Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, dean, a response will be made by Miss Bertie Allen, 1615 Thirteenth Street, South, Birmingham. Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, will make a few remarks in closing the meeting. Rev. W. K. Simpson, Montevallo, will pronounce the opening prayer, and musical numbers will be interspersed in the program, which will begin with a procession, "Marche Aux Flambeaux," (Clark), by the college orchestra.

The alumnae will sing their song composed by Miss Thelma Davis, '16, Fort Davis. Miss Lulu R. Palmer will play a piano solo, "Prelude, Op. 32, A Flat Major," (Sinding). The intermezzo, "A Drowsy Afternoon" (Lemont), and a recessional will be other numbers by the orchestra, under the leadership of Charles R. Calkins, director of music.

Mrs. Charles N. Parnell (Lucy Lenoir '06), Maplesville, president of the alumnae association, will preside at the business meeting at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, preceding the open meeting. The alumnae will take luncheon together in the college dormitory dining room at noon.

Exhibits of garments made in home economics classes and work done in art classes will be viewed by commencement visitors from 2 to 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in Bloch Hall.

Greek Setting Planned.

The artistic grouping of trees on the front campus will make an ideal background for the Greek setting of the play, "Endymion," a comedy in three acts by Marie Josephine Warren, it is said. The successful work of the expression students in this play is due to the untiring efforts of Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer, head of the expression department, under whose direction it has been arranged. Music by an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Calkins is a special addition to the artistic effect of the out-door play.

Endymion, a prince, will be represented by Miss Willie Pridgen, Enterprise; Phrynia, with whom Endymion is in love, by Miss Lillian Chambers, Hillsboro; Eumenides, the bond friend of Endymion, by Miss Lucille Potts, Stevenson; Kallisthene, Eumenides' betrothed, by Miss Jessie Byrd Fuller, Perryville.

Endymion's parents, King Bolus and Queen Hermia, will be represented by Miss Myrtle Spradley, Florala, and Miss Aileen Knight, Sylacauga, respectively. Greek maidens will be played by Misses Edith Montgomery, Warrior; Laurie Warren, Batesville; Berta Martin, Enterprise; and S. E. Brown, Tuscaloosa. Greek youths, Misses Erma Whitworth, Gadsden; Laurie Warren, Mildred Smith, Goodwater; Addie Lee, Stroud, and Aileen Knight.

Other characters are: priests at the Temple of Zeus, Misses Lillian Smith, Tuscumbia; Clarice Bachus, Altoona; Lucile Green, Gilbertown; royal guards, Misses Warren and Whitworth; page, Miss Sarah Grady, Five Points; immortals, Artemus, goddess of the moon, Miss Eulalia Bostick, Hamilton; Morpheus, god of sleep, Miss Montgomery; Hermes, messenger of the gods, Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia; Pan, ruler over creatures of the forest, Miss Montgomery; dryads, Annie Lou Jones, Elise Bonner, Camden; Rebecca Cross, Fayette; Mildred Smith, Theresa Hughes, Florala; Leacy Newell, Coy; Sarah Grady and S. E. Brown.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION MEETS

Addition of 1921 Graduates Puts Association Membership Over Seven Hundred

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 22.—Owing to the short time allowed for the business session of the Alumnae Association of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Saturday morning, important matters were deferred until a special afternoon meeting, announced Mrs. C. N. Parnell, president.

A total of $1,100 in liberty bonds in the practice home fund was reported by Miss Bessie McCary, treasurer. The Alumnae hope soon to be able to see work begun on a model practice home to be used by home economics students.

The association will continue to keep up one scholarship at the college. At present there is no applicant for the scholarship next year.

With the addition of this year's fifty-nine graduates, the roll of the association totals seven hundred and nine.

Among the interesting features of the morning business session was the association's history during the past year, written by Miss Flora Bell Surles, '15, Washington, D. C. In her absence it was read by Miss Leila E. Purvis, Montevallo.

COLLEGE FOR WOMEN ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

Alabama Girls' Technical Institute Will Have Fours Days' Commencement

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO ALA. May 5.—The following program for commencement exercises at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Montevallo is announced:

Friday May 20.

1:00 p. m.—Annual meeting of Board of Trustees.

7:30 p. m.—Reception for Governor and Mrs. Kilby and graduating classes.

Saturday, May 21.

9:00 a. m.—Business meeting of Alumnae Association.

10:00 a. m.—Public meeting of Alumnae Association.

12:00 m.—Class day exercises.

12:30 p. m.—Alumnae luncheon.

2:00 to 4:00 p. m.—Exhibits in Technical Departments.

8:00 p. m.—Play by students in expression.

Sunday, May 22.

11:00 a. m.—Commencement sermon by Edgar Y. Mullins, D. D., President The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky.

7:00 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. Service. Address by Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Birmingham, President Woman's Missionary Society, M. E. Church, South, North Alabama Conference.

Monday, May 23.

9:30 a. m.—Commencement Day. Address by Doctor J. C. Fant, President Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus.

Awarding of diplomas.

SCHOOL GIRLS ARE

Home Economics Club Gives Fashion Show—

(Special to The Advertiser.)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 3.—A playlet introducing inappropriate and appropriate modes of dress for various occasions was the form of the Fashion Show given by the Home Economics Club at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Saturday night. The costumes worn were made by students of home economics.

Young housewives in whose home the other "guests" in the playlet appeared were represented by Misses Dorothy Schmidt, of Lincoln, and Lillian Chambers, of Hillsboro. Miss Annie Louise Lee, of Dothan, appeared in negligee and boudoir cap, in contrast to which costume Miss Lillian Mahone, of Luverne, entered in a simple morning dress and Miss Ruth Sanford, of Talladega, displayed a one piece gingham dress, suitable for school.

Miss Marie Shaw, of Carbon Hill, in high heels, georgette waist and other garments inappropriate for tennis made a striking contrast to Misses Frances Warner, of Fortson, Ga., and Sara Farris, of Elba, who wore plain white middy suits and low-heeled shoes.

Miss Elsie Mae Archer, of Westover, wearing a large gray and white checked suit and tiny brown hat, illustrated inappropriate dressing for large figures, while Miss Annie C. Broughton, of East Tallassee, in a dark blue satin dress, appeared to illustrate lines appropriate to a large figure.

Miss Mary Burt, of Pittsview, and Miss Alice Guice, of Gadsden, danced in elaborate evening dresses. In contrast, Misses May Perdue, of Saginaw, and Mary Olive Enslen, of Wetumpka, danced in appropriate organdy and lawn dresses.

The organdy dress over taffeta and large lace hat were exhibited by Miss Alice Guice as inappropriate for traveling, and in contrast to her costume, Mary Fuller, of Perryville, appeared appropriately attired in a nobby navy blue suit with close fitting, small dark hat, gloves and low heeled shoes.

An expression and a musical recital completed the entertainment, in which Miss Celeste Conner, of Andalusia, played a violin solo, "First Air Varie on a theme by Puccini, Op. 89, Nol" by Charles Danda. She was accompanied by Miss Grace M. Crocker, teacher of violin. Miss Willie Prigden, of Enterprise, gave a reading, "Man's Place." "Go Pretty Rose," Theo. Marzials, was the duet sung by Misses Warner and Erma Waldrop, of Bessemer, who were accompanied by Charles R. Calkins, director of music. Miss Chambers read a selection from "Madam Butterfly." Miss Alice Moody, of Birmingham, was especially graceful in the solo dance she gave, for which Miss Josephine Kilgore, of Corona, played the piano. Lighting effects were arranged by Walter Maurice Jones-Williams, college electrician.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 2.—(Special.)—A playlet introducing inappropriate and appropriate modes of dress for various occasions was the form of the fashion show given by the Home Economics club at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday night. The costumes worn were made by students of home economics.

Young housewives in whose home the other "guests" in the playlet appeared were represented by Misses Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, and Lillian Chambers, Hillsboro. Miss Annie Louise Lee, Dothan, appeared in negligee and boudoir cap, in contrast to which costume Miss Lillian Mahone, Luverne, entered in a simple morning dress, and Miss Ruth Sanford, Talladega, displayed a one-piece gingham dress suitable for school.

Miss Marie Shaw, Carbon Hill, in high heels, georgette waist and other garments inappropriate for tennis, made a striking contrast to Misses Frances Warner, Fortson, Ga., and Sara Farris, Elba, who wore plain white middy suits and low-heeled shoes.

Miss Elsie Mae Archer, Westover, wearing a large gray and white-checked skirt and tiny brown hat, illustrated inappropriate dressing for large figure, while Miss Annie C. Broughton, East Tallassee, in a dark blue satin dress, appeared to illustrate lines appropriate to a large figure.

Miss Mary Burt, Pittsview, and Miss Alice Guice, Gadsden, danced in elaborate evening dresses. In contrast, Misses Mal Pardue, Saginaw, and Mary Olive Enslen, Wetumpka, danced in appropriate organdy and lawn dresses.

The organdy dress over taffeta and large lace hat were exhibited by Miss Alice Guice as inappropriate for traveling, and in contrast to her costume Miss Mary Fuller, Perryville, appeared appropriately attired in a nobby navy blue suit with close fitting, small dark hat, gloves and low-heeled shoes.

An expression and a music recital completed the entertainment, in which Miss Celeste Conner, Andalusia, played a violin solo, "First Air Varie on a Theme by Puccini, Op. 89, Nol," by Charles Danda. She was accompanied by Miss Grace M. Crocker, teacher of violin. Miss Willie Prigden, Enterprise, gave a reading, "Man's Place." "Go, Pretty Rose" (Theo Marzials) was the duet sung by Misses Warner and Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer, who were accompanied by Charles R. Calkins, director of music. Miss Chambers read a selection from "Madam Butterfly." Miss Alice Moody, Birmingham, was especially graceful in the solo dance she gave, for which Miss Josephine Kilgore, Corona, played the piano. Lighting effects were arranged by Walter Maurice Jones-Williams, college electrician.

Rev. W. W. Lee, pastor of Calvary Baptist church in San Antonio, Tex., made an address at the Sunday evening Young Women's Christian association service. Dr. Lee was pastor of the Montevallo Baptist church for four years preceding October, 1910. He is in Montevallo to hold a week's evangelistic services. "God is more disappointed in you if you fail than your own mothers. He has higher ambitions for you than you yourselves have," Mr. Lee told the students.

STUDENTS PRESENT CHILDHOOD TALES

Mother Goose Stories Are Portrayed By Freshmen At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 10.—Special.—The man-in-the-moon walked the earth Saturday night, together with the old - woman-who-lived-in - a-shoe, her children, and many other notables of Mother Goose fame, when the freshman class at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, presented "Over the Hills and Far Away."

The heroes and heroines of earliest childhood lived again and spoke their long-to-be-remembered lines and rhymes in the short three-act play, which proved the most unusual dramatic attempt made by the students this year. Proceeds will help defray expenses of the college annual, the Technala.

The play would not have been half so effective without the elaborate and artistic scenery, the work of art students under the direction of Miss Mary E. MacMillan, head of the art department, and of W. N. Robinson, carpenter at the college. Artistic lighting effects were arranged by W. M. Jones-Williams, college electrician.

In the first act, the audience beheld a real "old shoe," in which the Old Woman (Charlotte Leeper, Citronelle), lived with her children; Boy Blue, Audrey Rivenbark, Hartford; Bo-Peep, Eulalia Bostick, Hamilton; Jack, Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, and Jill, Georgia Spurlin, Demopolis; Jack Horner, Nellie McElhannon, Lincoln; Little Johnnie Stout, Aileen Gilder, Mt. Meigs; Tommy Green, Jewel Darden, Goodwater, and Little Tommie Tucker, Julia Turbeville, Century, Florida. Others appearing in the first act were Tom, the Piper's son, Janice Puquay, Alexander City, and Man-from-the-Moon, Mabel Connor, Andalusia.

The garden of "Mary, Quite Contrary," Abbotte McKinnon, Talladega Springs, was the scene of the second act. Flowers in her garden were represented by Misses Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Josephine Kilgore, Corona; Belle Quarles, Pittsview, and Maggie Dell Tucker, Catherine.

King Cole (Mary Carpenter, Marlon, Iowa,) was on the throne when the third act opened. As merry as ever, he was counting his money in order to buy more bread and honey for his queen (Ruth Baker, Ensley) who devoured those delicacies with a zeal which did credit to her traditional appetite.

As the cat who dared look at a King, Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Florida, gave a clever dance, in which the cat tried to catch his tail. Annie Nabers, Goodwater, was an attendant on the king.

Stage managers were Jimmie Payne, Ozark, and Annie Laurie Robertson, Clayton.

SCHOOL GIRLS ARE RAISING FUND FOR BIG SWIMMING POOL

Already Have About $700 of the $3,000 That Is Needed

Mar. 17-17

(Special to The Advertiser.)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., March 17.—Realizing the need of the physical as well as the mental development of the students of the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute, the senior class of 1917 began to raise a fund to construct a swimming pool. They hope to have this in use at the beginning of the session 1917-18. At present the amount collected since February 1st is $650, of the $3,000 that must be raised. The seniors have led in the movement, but all of the classes in the institution have taken part in helping to raise this money. The aim has been for each student to contribute $3, or have that amount contributed through her. Various special means for increasing the fund have been employed. Admission was charged to the senior class play, and the money will be used for the swimming pool; the classes in succession have taken charge of the tea room on Saturday afternoon, and a picture show was given in town. At present rehearsals are going on for the junior class play; for a musical comedy to be given by the students; a play by the Tutwiler Club and a play by the local alumnae.

An appeal has been made to the alumnae all over the State, and to friends of the institution, to assist by contributing to the fund.

RECEPTION PLANNED

Governor and Mrs. Kilby To Be Honored at Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 7.—Special.—On the commencement program of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women there was to be a reception to Governor and Mrs. Kilby and the graduating classes given at the president's residence. The loss of this residence by fire a few days ago will in no way interfere with the reception. President and Mrs. Palmer have arranged to hold the reception in the college parlors. They sincerely hope that the friends of the college who can reach Montevallo on Friday evening, May 20, will attend the reception.

Miss Stella Palmer, director of home economics of the University of Arkansas, is spending the week-end with her parents.

Dr. and Mrs. Seale Harris, Seale

Harris, Jr., of Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Fern Wood, of New York, relatives of Mrs. Palmer, are spending the week-end with her.

The final examinations of the senior class begin on May 11. The undergraduate classes will begin their examinations on May 17.

MONTEVALLO PLANS UNAFFECTED BY FIRE

Governor Kilby Will Be Honor Guest of Graduating Class at College

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 8.—On the commencement program of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women there was to be a reception to Governor and Mrs. Kilby and the Graduating Classes given at the President's residence. The loss of this residence by fire a few days ago will in no way interfere with the reception. President and Mrs. Palmer have arranged to hold the reception in the college parlors. They sincerely hope that the friends of the college who can reach Montevallo at that time (Friday evening, May 20) will attend the reception.

Miss Stella Palmer, Director of Home Economics of the University of Arkansas, is spending the week-end with her parents, having come to confer with them about the loss sustained by fire.

Dr. and Mrs. Seale Harris, Seale Harris, Jr., of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Fern Wood, of New York, relatives of Mrs. Palmer, are spending the week-end with her.

The final examinations of the senior class begins on May 11th. The undergraduate classes will begin their examinations on May 17th.

Mothers Day Program Given At Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 10.—Special.—Mothers' Day was appropriately celebrated Sunday night in the Young Women's Christian Association service, conducted by the sophomores at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo.

Miss Camille Dowell, Auburn, led the meeting, while Miss Lillian Sharpley, Birmingham, talked on "Our Relations to our Mothers." She urged talking things over with mother so that both mother and daughter may understand each other's viewpoint and so that the members of the younger generation may profit by the experience of the older.

The anthem, "Thy Praise Will We Sing," by H. R. Palmer, was sung by the following chorus: Misses Dowell, Sharpley, Frances Warner, Fortson, Georgia, Lillian Mahone, Luverne; Bessie Padgett, Brewton; Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer; Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Mary Bonna Jones, Hartselle, and Marie Hagood, Evergreen.

"To My Mother," Theodore Bradsky, was the solo sung by Miss Ketcham. Miss Lola Meriwether, Flomaton, president of the Student Government Association, closed the service with a poem, "Mother's Hymn," by William Cullen Bryant.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 2.—(Special).—A playlet introducing inappropriate and appropriate modes of dress for various occasions was the form of the fashion show given by the Home Economics club at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday night. The costumes worn were made by students of home economics.

Young housewives in whose home the other "guests" in the playlet appeared were represented by Misses Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, and Lillian Chambers, Hillsboro. Miss Annie Louise Lee, Dothan, appeared in negligee and boudoir cap, in contrast to which costume Miss Lillian Mahone, Luverne, entered in a simple morning dress, and Miss Ruth Sanford, Talladega, displayed a one-piece gingham dress suitable for school.

Miss Marie Shaw, Carbon Hill, in high heels, georgette waist and other garments inappropriate for tennis, made a striking contrast to Misses Frances Warner, Fortson, Ga., and Sara Farris, Elba, who wore plain white middie suits and low-heeled shoes.

Miss Elsie Mae Archer, Westover, wearing a large gray and white-checked skirt and tiny brown hat, illustrated inappropriate dressing for large figure, while Miss Annie C. Broughton, East Tallassee, in a dark blue satin dress, appeared to illustrate lines appropriate to a large figure.

Miss Mary Burt, Pittsview, and Miss Alice Guice, Gadsden, danced in elaborate evening dresses. In contrast, Misses Mal Pardue, Saginaw, and Mary Olive Enslen, Wetumpka, danced in appropriate organdy and lawn dresses.

The organdy dress over taffeta and large lace hat were exhibited by Miss Alice Guice as inappropriate for traveling, and in contrast to her costume Miss Mary Fuller, Perryville, appeared appropriately attired in a nobby navy blue suit with close fitting, small dark hat, gloves and low-heeled shoes.

An expression and a music recital completed the entertainment, in which Miss Celeste Conner, Andalusia, played a violin solo, "First Air Varie on a Theme by Puccini, Op. 89, No. 1," by Charles Danda. She was accompanied by Miss Grace M. Crocker, teacher of violin. Miss Willie Pridgen, Enterprise, gave a reading, "Man's Place." "Go, Pretty Rose" (Theo Marzials) was the duet sung by Misses Warner and Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer, who were accompanied by Charles R. Calkins, director of music. Miss Chambers read a selection from "Madam Butterfly." Miss Alice Moody, Birmingham, was especially graceful in the solo dance she gave, for which Miss Josephine Kilgore, Corona, played the piano. Lighting effects were arranged by Walter Maurice Jones-Williams, college electrician.

Rev. W. W. Lee, pastor of Calvary Baptist church in San Antonio, Tex., made an address at the Sunday evening Young Women's Christian association service. Dr. Lee was pastor of the Montevallo Baptist church for four years preceding October, 1910. He is in Montevallo to hold a week's evangelistic services. "God is more disappointed in you if you fail than your own mothers. He has higher ambitions for you than you yourselves have," Mr. Lee told the students.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS STAGE OVER THE HILLS AND FAR AWAY

Montevallo, May 10.—(Special).—The man in the moon walked the earth Saturday night, together with the old woman who lived in a shoe, her children, and many other notables of Mother Goose fame, when the freshman class at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, presented "Over the Hills and Far Away."

The horses and heroines of earliest childhood lived again and spoke their long-to-be-remembered lines and rhymes in the short three-act play which proved the most unusual dramatic attempt made by the students this year. Proceeds will help defray expenses of the college annual, the Technala.

The play would not have been half so effective without the elaborate and artistic scenery, the work of art students under the direction of Miss Mary E. MacMillan, head of the art department and of W. N. Robinson, carpenter at the college. Artistic lighting effects were arranged by W. M. Jones-Williams, college electrician.

In the first act the audience beheld a real "old shoe," in which the old woman, Charlotte Leeper of Citronelle, lived with her children—Boy Blue, Audrey Rivenbark, Hartford; Bo-Peep, Eulalia Bostick, Hamilton; Jack, Elsie Mehaffey, Montevallo, and Jill, Georgia Spurlin, Demopolis; Jack Horner, Nellie McElhannon, Lincoln; Little Johnnie Stout, Aileen Gilder, Mt. Meigs; Tommy Green, Jewel Darden, Goodwater, and Little Tommy Tucker, Julia Turbeville, Century, Fla. Others appearing in the first act were Tom, the Piper's son, Janice Fuquay, Alexander City, and Man From the Moon, Mabel Connor, Andalusia.

The garden of "Mary, Quite Contrary," Abbotte McKinnon, Talladega Springs, was the scene of the second act. Flowers in her garden were represented by Misses Elsie Mehaffey, Montevallo, Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Josephine Kilgore, Corona; Belle Quarles, Pittsview, and Maggie Dell Tucker, Catherine.

King Cole (Mary Carpenter, Marion, Iowa) was on the throne when the third act opened. As merry as ever, he was counting his money in order to buy more bread and honey for his queen (Ruth Baker, Ensley), who devoured those delicacies with a zeal which did credit to her traditional appetite.

As the cat who dared look at a king, Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., gave a clever dance in which the cat tried to catch his tail. Annie Nabors, Goodwater, was an attendant on the king.

Stage managers were Jimmie Payne, Ozark, and Annie Laurie Robertson, Clayton.

Mothers' Day was appropriately celebrated Sunday night in the Young Women's Christian association service conducted by the sophomores at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo.

Miss Camille Dowell, Auburn, led the meeting, while Miss Lillian Sharpley, Birmingham, talked on "Our Relations to Our Mothers." She urged talking things over with mother so that both mother and daughter may understand each other's viewpoint, and so that the members of the younger generation may profit by the experience of the older.

The anthem, "Thy Praise Will We Sing," by H. R. Palmer, was sung by the following chorus: Misses Dowell, Sharpley, Frances Warner, Fortson, Ga.; Lillian Mahone, Luverne; Bessie Padgett, Brewton; Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer; Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Mary Bonna Jones Hartselle, and Marie Hagood, Evergreen.

"To My Mother," Theodor Bradsky, was the solo sung by Miss Ketcham. Miss Lola Meriwether, Flomaton, president of the Student Government association for the ensuing year, closed the service with a poem, "Mother's Hymn," by William Cullen Bryant.

The old and new members of the student government board of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women gave a dinner at the St. George hotel Saturday night. They had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer and their advisory board, Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, Miss Myrtle Brooke and Miss Fannie Evans.

Those present were Ethel Gregg, Ora Swann, Lillian Sharpley, Belle Quarles, Mary Fuller, Lulu Palmer, Christine Steele, Camille Dowell, Myrtle Spradley, Elinor Beasley, Genevieve Turbeville, Annie Laurie Robertson, Lola Meriwether, Marie Hagood, Volena Whaley, Agnes Hardy, Elma Griffith, Marguerite Scroggins, Evelyn Scott and Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, Miss Fannie Evans and Miss Myrtle Brooke.

Superintendent and Mrs. N. R. Baker of Ensley spent Sunday with their daughter, Miss Ruth Baker, who is a member of the freshman class at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCarty, Ensley, motored down to Montevallo on Sunday to visit their daughter, Miss Maxine McCarty, who is a member of the freshman class at the college.

COMMENCEMENT IN MONTEVALLO NOW FULLY UNDER WAY

BY GUS TORGERSON.
Staff Correspondent The Birmingham News.
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 21.—Special.—Montevallo must be a standard college by 1923, if the state is to show the same degree of consideration for the higher education of its young women as it is now showing towards its young men at Auburn and the university.

This determination and the spirit to do it dominates the alumnae, students and faculty of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at the twenty-fifth commencement celebration of the institution, which is now in full swing and will close Monday with the presentation of diplomas to 59 young women who have complete courses now offered by the school.

At a meeting of the Alumnae Association Saturday the slogan, "Montevallo—A Standard College by 1923," was adopted and the association pledged itself to join with the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs in petitioning the state legislature at its session in 1923 to grant the necessary appropriation for the establishment of a four-year full college course curriculum, with necessary physical improvements in the way of new buildings, in order to accommodate thousands of Alabama girls who desire a college education and will find no place to go in Alabama, because of the crowded conditions in the present colleges of the state devoted to the higher education of women.

It was brought out at the alumnae meeting Saturday that the colleges of the state devoting their curricula to the higher education of women, such as Judson and the Woman's College at Montgomery, as well as the state university, are now turning away women students because of lack of accommodation. This condition the alumnae of the Alabama Technical Institute maintain, warrants the establishment of a full college course with the granting of degrees at the Montevallo institution.

Continued on page 2, second column

Continued from page 1.

Abolish High School Work.

Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, dean of the school, in an address before the alumnae, pointed out that every county in the state now has its own high school, and there is no longer any necessity for the continuation of Montevallo as an institution of secondary education, while on the other hand, with the high schools of the state turning out thousands of pupils every year, the greatest need of the state is the enlargement of Montevallo and its scope of work. She presented to the alumnae the resolutions adopted by the recent meeting of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs in Birmingham, making this recommendation, and these resolutions were endorsed by the association.

Nathan L. Miller, lieutenant governor of the state, in a splendid address outlining a prophecy of the institution's future, predicted that if Montevallo is made a complete college for young women, there would be within a few years, more than 3,000 young women clamoring to enter its doors.

The whole spirit of the alumnae meeting was that of a "Greater Montevallo." Col. Sol. D. Bloch, of Camden, the author of the law establishing the institution 25 years ago, told the meeting that it was the vision of those who worked for its establishment, that the Alabama Technical Institute should some day become a great state college for women. Col. Bloch told of the struggle to get the law founding the college on the statute books, and how step by step the institution has increased its usefulness, until now it is ready to step into the university class and meet a still greater need of the state.

The growth of the girls' technical institute, according to Dr. T. W. Palmer, its president, has been rapid and substantial since its founding, and it is now observing its silver anniversary, knowing that it is fully prepared for the addition of a fourth year college course, which will make it a higher institution of learning for Alabama women.

In its first years the idea of women preparing themselves for business work and professions had scarcely been discussed in Alabama, and its founders established the institution only as a preparatory school for the larger field of general educational usefulness, but at the same time kept alive the original intention that it would some day enlarge its scope. This has been followed through the years, and in 1913 all elementary grades below high school courses were abolished and one year of a college course added. In 1918 a third year of college work was added to its curriculum, and now it is ready to add a fourth year and abolish all high school work. It has pledged the vocational educational department of the United States government to add a four-year college course in home economics next Fall and hopes to do so. To add such a course in all other departments an enlarged appropriation from the state is necessary, and it is now planned to ask such an appropriation from the next legislature.

Now Rejecting Students.

Its liberal arts department now includes courses equivalent to three years of college work in English, history, mathematics, modern languages, chemistry and the general sciences, while its technical department offers music, art, commercial courses, biology and home economics. While the school is very well equipped for its present capacity of 460 students, it can care for no larger number and is now turning away students from all sections of the state.

The school now has a splendid dormitory building, one of the most artistic music buildings in the South, and a fine study hall known as Bloch Hall. According to President T. W. Palmer, it is now in actual need of a public auditorium, gymnasium building, administration and academic building and enlarged dormitory space. Its present work is now being carried on with a maintenance appropriation of only $53,000 from the state and to increase its curriculum and place it in the class with the higher institutions of learning it is estimated that this must be doubled.

It now has a splendid faculty, headed by Dr. Palmer, who is now completing his fourteenth year as its executive head.

Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the college chapel by Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., and Sunday evening the Young Women's Christian Association of the school will hold a special service and hear a special address by Mrs. J. D. Elliott, of Birmingham, president of the Women's Missionary Society, M. E. Church, South, North Alabama Conference.

Commencement exercises of the institute will come to a close Monday morning with presentation of diplomas to graduates, and the annual baccalaureate address by Dr. J. C. Fant, president of the Mississippi State College for Women.

"Endymion" Is Played.

Saturday night, on the campus of the school, the students of the expression department presented "Endymion," a comedy in three acts by Marie Josephine Warren. This was the culminating event of Alumnae Day at Montevallo and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. The cast of characters follows:

Mortals—Endymion, Willie Pridgen; Phrynia, Lillian Chambers; Eumenides, Lucile Potts; Kallisthene, Jessie Fuller.

Endymion's Parents—King Bolus, Myrtle Spradley; Queen Hermia, Aileen Knight.

Greek Maidens—Brithoe, Edith Montgomery; Doris, Laurie Warren; Calyce, Berta Martin; Thaleia, S. E. Brown.

Greek Youths—Phaon, Erma Whitworth; Admetis, Laurie Warren; Tithon, Mildred Smith; Alcides, Addie Lee; Diomed, Aileen Knight.

Priests of the Temple of Zeus—Lillian Smith, Clarice Bachus, Lucile Green.

Royal Guards—Laurie Warren, Erma Whitworth.

Page—Sara Grady.

Immortals—Artemus, goddess of the moon, Eulalia Bostick; Morpheus, god of sleep, Edith Montgomery; Hermes, messenger of the gods, Annie Lou Jones; Pan, ruler over the creatures of the forest, Edith Montgomery.

Dryads—Annie Lou Jones, Elise Bonner, Rebecca Cross, Mildred Smith, Theresa Hughes, Sara Grady, S. E. Brown, Leacy Newell.

NEED OF WOMAN'S COLLEGE IS GREAT

—DR. J. C. FANT.

Mississippi State College President Delivers Commencement Address.

BY GUS TORGERSON.

Staff Correspondent The Birmingham News.
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 23.—Special—

In these days of readjustment when women have been admitted to equal citizenship with men and are participating in all lines of business, professional and civic activity, the need of a college for women supported by the state in every commonwealth, is greater than ever before. Dr. J. C. Fant, president of the Mississippi State College for Women, told a large audience here Monday morning at the final graduating exercises of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Such a college must fit into the general educational scheme of the state, he said, and must prepare young women for citizenship and all the obligations of life.

Dr. Fant delivered the annual commencement address at the Montevallo institution. A strong public school system in all departments, he urged, is the only bulwark of democracy, and the fallacious theories of radicals, he said, can only be met by a citizenship whose political action is founded upon the solid rock of accurate information and certainty of knowledge as to the relation of doctrine to experience and of cause to effect.

Dr. Fant stated:

"In these days of full equality for women and of the general practice of co-education, it may be said that it is unnecessary for the state to maintain a separate college for women. I wish to register a conviction that from several points of view it is the wise thing for a state to do. It would be well for all of our young people between the age of 14 and 20 to be in separate schools, but for evident reasons it is not practicable for most communities to maintain more than one high school. Of the several colleges maintained in a state, however, there is no reason why one should not be exclusively for young women. During the great impressionistic period of life, the time when the maturing being is developing in all directions, when educators have their best chance to mold the life into good citizenship, why should not our young people be so situated that their faculties may be engaged upon worth while things with the minimum of distraction due to the presence of the other sex. Moreover young women will have their own organizations and go through the processes of self-government and other student activities much better when these are done independently of young men. Also, the separate college for women permits of a better development of the courses in what is essentially woman's work and of what the woman heart and mind can contribute in highest measure to humanity.

A Major Institution.

"But with all the reasons that might be urged against it, it would be better for our girls to be in co-educational institutions unless they can have a college that is genuine in all its departments. The College for Women is not to be regarded as one of the lesser institutions of the state, where buildings and equipment of an inferior order with low-paid teachers are sufficient. It is rather to be regarded as the institution of the state's foremost care. Its buildings should be constructed for permanence and should be above reproach in regard to sanitation and hygienic arrangements.

"Its faculty should be made up of the most able instructors that the state can procure with high qualifications in academic degrees and special training. The equipment of the various departments should be as complete and well-adapted for the work in hand as the most thorough course in each subject can call for. The state should be ready to put into its college for women all the investment that is necessary to create a college of first-class order in all respects.

"In the new era which is upon us, when women are to take a full share in shaping our institutions and determining the political trend of the future, it cannot be gainsaid that this is tremendously worth while to a state—even all that it is worth to have high qualities of citizenship in its manhood. But we have still another claim than this for the young women, for through them we have hope to remold the homes of the future.

Should Set Standards High.

"The State College for Women should meet the needs of the new age for its daughters in all respects. It should have courses as varied as the natural interests of women and an organization that will place before the young women the full scope of education in its best sense. By all means there should be a full four-years' curriculum. The school that attempts to bound its work in other than the standard limits is under great disadvantage aside from the injustice that may be done its students. It is out of line, has no advantage of building up its work by comparison with the work of the best schools.

"The various courses and departments of the college should be susceptible of being so organized and administered that, whatever special course a student may enter upon, her work shall be in genuine higher learning with solid accomplishment. The diploma of graduation from the state college for women should represent that scholarly attainment and breadth and precision of knowledge that college graduation stands for everywhere."

Fifty-nine fair graduates received diplomas Monday morning from the Alabama Technical Institute. The diplomas were presented to the class by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the institution, and represent the completion of specified courses in all departments of the school.

Special music was rendered during the course of commencement exercises by a quintet of students and the orchestra of the school. With the pronouncement of the benediction, the twenty-fifth year of the institute was brought to its conclusion.

List Of Graduates.

The graduates receiving diplomas Monday were:

Three-year college course: Janie Elise Bonner, Jessie Byrd Fuller, Ethel Gregg, Hazel Elizabeth Kytie, Ethel Evaline Presley, Elizabeth Reeder, Carol McDowell Rentz, Ella Spurlin, Maude Adair Stallings, Frances Word.

Three-year vocational home economics teacher training course: Mozelle Boyett, Annie Celeste Broughton, Lillian Gay Chambers, Sara Ammie Farris, Mary Elizabeth Fuller, Marie Shaw, Blanche Williamson.

Three-year college course with piano: Virginia Hardy, Annie Lida Long, Sara Elizabeth Long.

Two-year college course with piano: Bertha Fant, Lulu Rainer Palmer.

Two-year college course: Georgie Brown.

Two-year normal college course: Annie Mae, Allison, Winnie Peyte Bibb, Frances Willard Brown, Joy Stallworth Bryan, Maggie Lea Causey, Mary Elizabeth Chancellor, Florence Lucile Crabtree, Rebecca Cross, Essie Loraine Crow, Johnnie Stelle Cunningham, Frances Willard Davis, Sarah Gavin, Florence McCarty Harris, Annie Lucile Hendon, Laura Grace Jordan, Leila Jewett Jordan, Bessie LeCroy, Marguerite Newland Lipscomb, Janie Rogers Long, Etta Irene McMillan, Laura Lee Moseley, Robbie Lorene Patterson, Myrtis Marguerite Sealy, Frances Singleton, Lottie Augusta Singleton, Helen Carol Smith, Stella Shull Smith, Myrtle Spradley, Evelyn Glover Spurlin, Ora Swann, Grace Vines, Annie Laurie Warren, Vivian Clyde Young.

Dr. Mullins Delivers Sermon.

The annual baccalaureate sermon delivered Sunday morning in the college chapel by Rev. Edgar Y. Mullins, of Louisville, Ky., president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, was attended by a large congregation of students and friends of the institution. A vocal solo by Miss Hannah Crook and songs by the class of 1921 preceded the sermon on the program of the service.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the institute held its annual exercises Sunday evening in the assembly room of the college dormitory and heard an interesting address by Mrs. J. D. Elliott, of Birmingham, president of the Woman's Missionary Society, M. E. Church, South, North Alabama conference. Her address, a discussion of Christian educational work, was thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard it. A special program of music by the association and members of the senior class preceded the address.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 22.—(Special.)—Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will have a new library building and a new residence for the president, and a four-year college course with discontinuance of high school courses will be pursued, according to resolutions passed by the trustees at their annual meeting the latter part of the week.

The building committee has at its disposal a total appropriation of $84,000, of which $9,000 is insurance received on the recently burned residence of the President. The committee will meet early in June and decide when to begin building operations and what proportion of available funds can be used for the new residence for the president and what amount for the library.

Specific recommendations for the establishment of four years of college work leading to the granting of degrees will be presented at the next meeting of the trustees, October 27. The more important degrees which will probably be planned for are that of bachelor of arts and bachelor of science in home economics.

Gov. Thomas E. Kilby attended the meeting of the board of trustees. The other trustees at the meeting on Thursday were John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education; L. Sevier, Birmingham; Lloyd M. Hooper, Selma; Mrs. Edgar L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; William J. Dansby, Butler; M. A. Graham, Prattville; E. S. Lyman, treasurer, and C. L. Meroney, secretary, Montevallo.

Following are the resolutions:

"Resolved, That authority is hereby vested in the executive committee, together with trustees, Mrs. Clarkson and Mr. Sevier, to be designated building committee, to proceed with the location and erection of a new library building and a president's home; that contracts shall be let in the discretion of the committee; that all commitments, contracts, etc., pertaining to the erection of these buildings are duly authorized by the trustees in regular annual meeting on this, May 20, 1921, and that the president and chairman of the executive committee be empowered to affix their signatures to any agreement, contracts, etc., binding the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in the faithful execution of all contracts.

"Resolved, first, That the president and executive committee of the board of trustees of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women are hereby instructed to present at the next semi-annual meeting of said board of trustees specific and definite recommendations that contemplate the establishment of a full four-year college course in instruction in the liberal arts and sciences. Said recommendations to conform to the purpose for which this school was established under the acts of the legislature of Alabama, page 182, approved March 4, 1901.

"Resolved, second, That these recommendations contemplate the discontinuance of instruction in high school courses."

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, May 21.—(Special.)—On Saturday morning, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Lieut. Gov. Nathan L. Miller, Birmingham, in his usual eloquent and happy manner, addressed the Alumnae association on the future of the institution.

He congratulated them that the present buildings and equipment are being used to full capacity, on the high rank the college has taken, and the increased appreciation of it throughout the state.

He pointed out that woman's sphere is greatly enlarging, that practically all lines of endeavor, business and professional, that are open to men are now open to women; that it is more and more true that the real successes are for those who are broadly educated and especially prepared for the particular work undertaken; that the real competition of life in the coming years will be between those liberally educated and especially trained, and that the uneducated and untrained will be so badly handicapped as not to be real competitors for the larger places in the world.

"Whatever women may do in business, or in the professions, or in public life, her crowning glory is in homemaking and the training of her own children and maintaining the functions of our civilization," he said.

He made suggestions as to how her education and training might be used to advantage in making home life in the country attractive.

The progress being made by the state in preparing her boys and girls for higher attention was revived giving especial attention to high schools, compulsory attendance, and the three-mill county and district taxes.

He pointed out the wrong it would be to the ambitious boys and girls of the state not to have ample provision made whereby they might carry forward their education in the higher studies and procure full college courses.

Attention was drawn to the campaigns now being conducted for vast sums of money as endowment funds by the universities not wholly dependent upon their respective states and how the religious denominations are aroused, all showing their appreciation of the fact that present day provisions are inadequate.

He stated that each of the alumnae is an example of the work of the college and an advertisement to the high school girl desiring to go to college of what she might acquire here.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, June 6.—(Special.)—Summer school students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women observed the first Sunday evening of the session, June 5, with a Y. W. C. A. service at which two of the new teachers at the summer session appeared. Miss Martha Gusman, music supervisor of the schools of Mobile, who is teaching voice in the summer school, sang a solo.

Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse, with headquarters in Atlanta, who is teaching home care of the sick in connection with the home economics work of the college, gave a reading, "The Message of the Chimes."

Miss Eloise Andrews, Florala, an assistant librarian, presided.

Believing that the prospective teachers of vocational home economics in the state who are attending a special four weeks' conference at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women should be initiated into the mysteries of the craft, girls at the conference who have already taught held a mock initiation at the practice home, Nabors Hall, Saturday night. Miss Laura Winters, who taught at Lineville last year, represented Miss Ivor B. Spafford, state supervisor of home economics. Miss Spafford is in charge of the conference of teachers of vocational home economics schools. She and Miss Gail Burfield, supervisor of the practice home, were present.

The hostess teachers and the schools where they taught last year are: Misses Rebecca Paisley and Allene Bell, Blountsville; Mary Alice Walker, Tallassee; Mary Willard Hall, Sylacauga; Rosa Walker, Dothan; Joan Ford, Hamilton; Lillian Bell, Wetumpka; Minnie Stone, Athens; Julie Lewis, Ragland. Among the initiates were four girls who have taught, but who are entering teaching of vocational home economics for the first time next year: Misses Beall George, Prattville; Inez Parker, Shawmut; Jamie Henry, Centerville; Elizabeth Heron, Jackson, and the following students who have just received their home economics diplomas: Misses Annie C. Broughton, East Tallassee; Moxelle Boyett, Rockford, and Blanche Williamson, James.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE STUDENTS ENTERTAINED

Montevallo, June 11.—(Special.)—The summer school faculty of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women entertained the entire student body with a reception in the dormitory assembly hall and parlors Saturday night.

All the faculty members were in the receiving line. Following the reception, a programme of musical numbers and reading was enjoyed, after which refreshments were served.

A number by a five-piece orchestra opened the programme. In the orchestra were Miss Nina Lyman, violoncello; Mrs. J. H. Middleton, violin; Miss Elizabeth Young, piano; Charles R. Calkins, clarinet.

Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer, teacher of expression, read the second act from "Ingomar."

Miss Martha Gusman, teacher of voice, sang a group, "The Four Leaf Clover" (Brownell), and "Mammy's Song" (Harriet Ware).

Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse and teacher of home care of the sick, gave a child impersonation, "The Moo Cow, Moo."

The orchestra played a closing selection.

MONTEVALLO IN SUMMER SESSION

Y. W. C. A. Exercises Open Special Term At College For Girls.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 7.—Special.—Summer school students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women observed the first Sunday evening of the session June 5, with a Y. W. C. A. service at which two of the new teachers at the Summer session appeared. Miss Martha Gusman, music supervisor of the schools of Mobile, who is teaching voice in the Summer School, sang a solo.

Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse, with headquarters in Atlanta, who is teaching home care of the sick in connection with the home economics work of the college, gave a reading, "The Message of the Chimes."

Miss Eloise Andrews, Florala, an assistant librarian, presided.

Student Teachers Initiated.

Believing that the prospective teachers of vocational home economics in the state who are attending a special four-weeks' conference at the college should be initiated into the mysteries of the craft, girls at the conference who have already taught, held a mock initiation at the practice home, Nabors Hall, this week. Miss Laura Winters, who taught at Lineville last year, represented Miss Ivor B. Spafford, state supervisor of home economics. Miss Spafford is in charge of the conference of teachers of vocational home economics schools. She and Miss Gail Burfield, supervisor of the practice home, were present.

The hostess teachers and the schools where they taught last year are: Misses Rebecca Paisley and Allene Bell, Blountsville; Mary Alice Walker, Tallassee; Mary Willard Hall, Sylacauga; Rosa Walker, Dothan; Jean Ford, Hamilton; Lillian Bell, Wetumpka; Minnie Stone, Athens; Julia Lewis, Ragland. Among the initiates were four girls who have taught but who are entering teaching of vocational home economics for the first time next year: Misses Beall George, Prattville; Inez Parker, Shawmut; Jamie Henry, Centerville; Elizabeth Heron, Jackson, and the following students who have just received their home economics diplomas: Misses Annie C. Broughton, East Tallassee; Moxelle Boyett, Rockford, and Blanche Williamson, James.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, June 11.—(Special.)—A series of six lectures on topics relating to sanitation and community hygiene is being given at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women by George Hazelhurst, director of the bureau of engineering of the state board of health, Montgomery, beginning with a lecture on "Insect Borne Diseases" Wednesday evening.

His lectures Thursday and Friday evenings will be on "Water Purification" and on "Sewerage Disposal." The remaining three of the series will be given next week. The lectures are primarily a part of the course on sanitation and community health, given in the education department at the summer session by Miss Marion H. Douglas of the state health department at the summer session by Miss Marion H. Douglas of the state health department. They are being given at an evening hour in order that the entire student body, especially the teachers, prospective teachers and those enrolled in other health courses and classes in physical education, may attend.

Fourteen Campfire girls from Mignon, Sylacauga, are having the time of their lives at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for five days this week. This trip is the gift of B. B. Comer, Jr., of Mignon, and the girls are being looked after by Mrs. A. W. Grover and Mrs. J. A. Limer, Campfire leaders. The 14 girls are nearly all 14 years of age, though some are as young as 11.

When asked what the girls liked best of the attractions at the college, they all voted in favor of the swimming pool. They are given an hour's instruction there each afternoon.

"At home in the Coosa river we swim on our stomachs, but here they teach us to swim on our backs," enthusiastically declared Lucile Whitely, 14.

The cylindrical "Kirk-Bender" fire escapes are a delight to the little girls, who never seem to get enough of sliding down them.

At one of the home economic laboratories each morning Mrs. Grover gives them a lesson in some fundamental principles in preparation of foods. The girls learn proper ways of preparing vegetables as well as how to combine fruits and vegetables into appetizing salads and how to make salad dressings for them. They join in the singing by the student body in the chapel.

"My, but I'd like to come up here to college," declared Ruby Cast, one of the 14-year-olds.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNI ELECT OFFICERS AND PRESENT PLAYLET

Graduating Class Gives $375 Check for Swimming Pool Work

May 22, 1917

(Special to The Advertiser.)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 21.—At the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association of the Alabama Girls Technical Institute there were present a large number of members. It was decided to give two scholarships instead of one as in former years.

These scholarships, which have already been awarded for session 1917-1918, are open only to former students who were unable, for financial reasons, to continue their course.

Officers Elected.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Miss Lettie Daffin, Montevallo, president.

Mrs. T. B. Ellis, Springville, first vice-president.

Miss Clara Savage, Corona, second vice-president.

Miss Willie Jenkins, Montevallo, secretary.

Miss Gertrude Meroney, Montevallo, treasurer.

Miss Agnes Hitt, Montevallo, reporter.

Miss Ursula Delchamps, Mobile, historian.

Following the meeting of the Alumnae the graduating class, in a body, marched to Bloch Hall and had their class day exercises. They formed an "S" and "1917" and then sang the class song. Miss Cordelia Scott presented the class "memory book" to the present junior class, and it was received by Miss Jessie Dean, president of the class. The class then built a pig pen, which was set on fire. Seventeen girls then threw in the fire textbooks of the various departments, at the same time repeating verse hits on various members of the faculty.

Check For Pool.

The class gave a check for $375 as a contribution towards building a swimming pool for the school, which was received by Judge W. H. Tayloe, of Uniontown, in behalf of the Board of Trustees. The singing of the Alumnae song concluded the exercises.

This evening the class in expression under the direction of Miss Ursula Delchamps, presented Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer."

The play was given to a crowded house and was put on in a very creditable manner, the whole cast showing the effect of expert training. Miss Lucile Harmon, of Troy, as Tony Lumpkin, was the hit of the evening.

PEABODY PROFESSOR MAKES HEALTH TALK

Summer School Pupils at Monte-vallo Hear Splendid Advice
From Tennessean

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 14—"Do you treat people decently when you are sick?" asked Dr. F. B. Dressler, professor of Education at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., Monday morning in the first of a series of talks pertaining to education.

Dr. Dressler drives home his points in short, forceful talks, believing with a noted preacher that "no souls are saved after twenty minutes." Pursuing his subject, "The Value of Good Health" he asked, "Is it worth while to treat people decently?"

In further emphasizing the social value of good health, he said, "when you go into a community to teach, if you overwork to serve them, you do wrong. You lack the buoyancy you should bring to your work."

Dr. Dressler also emphasized the fact that people are better religiously, morally, mentally and economically if in good health.

"The long faced theology of this world was made by pessimists and pessimists are sick. You don't have to be long faced to be good. Jesus did not teach that kind of religion," he declared.

By request, Dr. Dressler will repeat his lecture on "The Ethics of the Trees" Thursday night in the college auditorium. He pleased his audience greatly with his lecture on a previous trip to the college. The lecture is now in the hands of Boston publishers.

Topics of other lectures which will be given on the following mornings are Tuesday, "Mental Health"; Wednesday, "Value of a Clean Mind";
Thursday, "School Sanitation"; Friday,
"Community School Building."

MONTEVALLO HAS FLAG DAY PROGRAM

Appropriate Exercises Conducted at Alabama Technical Institute Tuesday Evening

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 14—Flag Day at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was celebrated Tuesday night, June 14, with a program of songs, tableaux and dances representative of the composite life of the American people and paying tribute to the characteristics derived from many nations. The entertainment took place on the front steps and portico of the dormitory with the audience seated in the open. The program was under the direction of Miss Martha Gusman, teacher of voice, assisted by Miss Lula
R. Palmer in arrangement of the dances.

At seven o'clock, a march with a song,
"God's Country", was participated in by a majority of the summer school students. As Scotland, England, Ireland, France and America were mentioned in the song, girls dressed to represent each stepped out from the procession. They were: Scotland, Emma Lou Simms, Talladega; England, Mary
Willard Hall, Geneva; Ireland, Celeste
Connor, Andalusia; France, Ida Bell
Lull, Wetumpka; America, Mildred
Thomas, Rembert. The entire assembly then joined in singing "America".

In a group of folk dances, an Indian dance was given by Misses Nettie Gar-bill, Tusculumbia; Ruth DeRamus, Verbena; Verna Helms, Honoraville; Jean Collins, Birmingham; Nena McDuffie,
Attalla; and Josephine Kilgroe, Corona.
A negro dance was given by Miss Pauline Howard, Prattville.

A group of summer school students sang "Andalusia" during the chorus of which a tambourine dance was given by little Elizabeth Cox and Martha Mahaffey, both of Montevallo, dressed as Spanish girls. Miss Lula Palmer gave an interpretative dance, following which the chorus joined in the "Marseilles". In a tableau representing a Red Cross nurse ministering to soldiers,
Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse on the summer school faculty, appeared.
Miss Gusman sang a solo, "The Americans Come", following which the program was closed by the assembly singing the "Star Spangled Banner".

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE STUDENTS ENTERTAINED

Montevallo, June 11.—(Special).—
The summer school faculty of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women entertained the entire student body with a reception in the dormitory assembly hall and parlors
Saturday night.

All the faculty members were in the receiving line. Following the reception a programme of musical numbers and reading was enjoyed, after which refreshments were served.

A number by a five-piece orchestra opened the programme. In the orchestra were Miss Nina Lyman, violin; Mrs. J. H. Middleton, violin; Miss Elizabeth Young, piano;
Charles R. Calkins, clarinet.

Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer, teacher of expression, read the second act from "Ingomar."

Miss Martha Gusman, teacher of voice, sang a group, "The Four Leaf Clover" (Brownell), and "Mammy's Song" (Harriet Ware).

Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse and teacher of home care of the sick, gave a child impersonation, "The Moo Cow, Moo."

The orchestra played a closing selection.

HEALTH TALK GIVEN AT MONTEVALLO

Dr. F. B. Dressler, Of Nashville, Delivers First Of Series.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 15.—Special.—"Do you treat people decently when you are sick?" asked Dr. F. B.
Dressler, professor of education at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., Monday morning in the first of a series of talks pertaining to education.

Dr. Dressler drives home his points
in short, forceful talks, believing with a noted preacher that "No souls are saved after 20 minutes." Pursuing his subject, "The Value of Good Health," he asked, "Is it worth while to treat people decently?"

In further emphasizing the social value of good health, he said, "When you go into a community to teach, if you overwork to serve them, you do wrong.
You lack buoyancy you should bring to your work."

Dr. Dressler also emphasized the fact that people are better religiously, morally, mentally and economically if in good health.

"The long faced theology of this world was made by pesimists and pessimists are sick. You don't have to be long faced to be good. Jesus did not teach that kind of religion," he declared.

By request Dr. Dressler will repeat his lecture on "The Ethics of the Trees"
Thursday night in the college auditorium. He pleased his audience greatly with this lecture on a previous trip to the college. The lecture is now in the hands of Boston publishers.

Topics of other lectures which will be given on the following mornings are Tuesday, "Mental Health"; Wednesday, "Value of a Clean Mind"; Thursday, "School Sanitation"; Friday,
"Community School Building."

HEALTH OFFICERS PAY VISIT TO MONTEVALLO

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., Feb. 28.—Two very interesting visitors to the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women yesterday were Dr. and Mrs. Gallagher, health officers of Limestone county.

Mrs. Gallagher is herself a physician having recently been graduated from Harvard Medical School in Boston. She will engage in the health service with her husband with headquarters at Athens, Ala.

The merical profession has proven to be an excellent field for women. This is the first time that a husband and wife have both engaged in health service in Alabama.

Mrs. Jocelyn, wife of the librarian of the Birmingham Public Library, delivered a most interesting address to the Y. W. C. A. at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Sunday night. She made an eloquent appeal to the students for service after leaving college, pointing out various lines in which they may be of real service to their communities, county, and state. She produced a fine impression on the student body and all are wishing for her return.

16 FLAG DAY IS HELD AT MONTEVALLO

Students Offer Program Of Songs, Tableaux And Dances.

1921
MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 15.—Special.—Flag Day at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was celebrated Tuesday night with a program of songs, tableaux and dances representative of the composite life of the American people and paying tribute to the characteristics derived from many nations. The entertainment took place on the front steps and portico of the dormitory with the audience seated in the open. The program was under the direction of Miss Martha Gusman, teacher of voice, assisted by Miss Lulu R. Palmer in arrangement of the dance. At 7 o'clock a march with a song,

"God's Country," was participated in by a majority of the Summer school students. As Scotland, England, Ireland and America were mentioned in the song, girls dressed to represent each stepped out from the procession. They were: Scotland, Emma Lou Simms, Talladega; England, Mary Willard Hall, Geneva; Ireland, Celeste Connor, Andalusia; France, Ida Bell Lull, Wetumpka; America, Mildred Thomas, Rembert. The entire assembly then joined in singing, "America."

In a group of folk dances, an Indian dance was given by Misses Mittie Gambill, Tuscumbia; Ruth DeRamus, Verbena; Verna Helms, Honoraville; Jean Collins, Birmingham; Nena McDuffie, Attalla, and Josephine Kilgore, Corona. A negro dance was given by Miss Pauline Howard, Prattville.

A group of Summer school students sang "Andalusia," during the chorus of which a tambourine dance was given by little Elizabeth Cox and Martha Mahaffey, both of Montevallo, dressed as Spanish girls. Miss Lulu Palmer gave an interpretative dance, following which the chorus joined in the "Marseilles." In a tableau representing a Red Cross nurse on the Summer school faculty appeared. Miss Gusman sang a solo, "The Americans Come," following which the program was closed by the assembly singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

Calkins Speaks.

Charles R. Calkins, director of music at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, talked on the authenticity of the four gospels at the Y. W. C. A. service Sunday night. He traced the history of written records of the words of Christ from the earliest up to late versions. Miss Allene Bell, Pigeon Creek, graduate student here attending the vocational home economics conference, led the meeting.

DEFINITE HOME PROJECT PROGRAM ADOPTED BY MONTEVALLO SCHOOL

Alabama Technical Institute and College For Women First to "Follow Up" Home Economics Teaching by Observations in Homes

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 16.—Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is one of the first colleges to put into effect a definite home project program in connection with its home economics department and Alabama is one of the first states to follow up its classroom teaching in home economics to see whether or not it is really functioning in the home, according to Miss Anna Belle Robinson, head of the colleges' home economics department. Miss Robinson is making a tour of the state at present, visiting the homes of the girls who will begin their third year of studies in vocational home economics at the college next September.

The girls chose various projects to work on this summer, among which was to prepare three meals each day for two weeks, thereby giving their mothers a complete vacation from culinary duties. In homes where Miss Robinson has observed this project she said the mothers were greatly enjoying their vacation. She spends a day and night in the home town of each girl, so that she may observe the student's work during an entire day. She gives helpful criticisms and suggestions about the girl's method of executing her problems.

Other projects the girls have chosen are keeping accounts for all purchases of food stuffs by the family for a month; making of clothes for mother or for little brothers or sisters; or doing the summer's canning for the family. They do not make clothes for themselves for their home project since they do that in class, but choose some project in which they have had little practice or experience. There is also a decided value in the student's training having her family become acquainted with a home economics expert, one who is already in the profession that the student expects to undertake, Miss Robinson believes.

"Just as teaching home economics on the meal basis correlates it with its use in the home, so the practice of home projects helps the student to live home economics immediately after she has learned it instead of merely exercising her knowledge in a laboratory," Miss Robinson said.

Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollis, freshman college student at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, made the highest scholastic record ever made in the history of the school during the third term of the 1920-21 school year which closed May 23. Miss Carmichael's rating, according to the system of average points used was six.

The next highest rating was 5.6 made by both Miss Louise Willingham, fourth year high school student, Kellyton; and Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, freshman college. The third highest rating was 5.5, made by Miss Orlean Randle, Bessemer, college sophomore; Miss Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer, college sophomore, and Miss Claudia Jones, Camden, college freshman.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

1921
Montevallo, June 16.—(Special.) Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is one of the first colleges to put into effect a definite home projects programme in connection with its home economics department and Alabama is one of the first states to follow up its classroom teaching in home economics to see whether or not it is really functioning in the home, according to Miss Anna Belle Robinson, head of the college home economics department. Miss Robinson is making a tour of the state at present, visiting the homes of the girls who will begin their third year of studies in vocational home economics at the college next September.

The girls chose various projects to work on this summer, among which was to prepare three meals each day for two weeks, thereby giving their mothers a complete vacation from culinary duties. In homes where Miss Robinson has observed this project, she said the mothers were greatly enjoying their vacation. She spends a day and night in the home town of each girl, so that she may observe the student's work during an entire day. She gives helpful criticisms and suggestions about the girl's method of executing her problems.

Other projects the girls have chosen are keeping accounts for all purchases of food stuffs by the family for a month, making of clothes for mother or for the little brothers or sisters, or doing the summer's canning for the family. They do not make clothes for themselves for their home project since they do that in class, but choose some project in which they have had little practice or experience. There is also a decided value in the student's training in having her family become acquainted with a home economics expert, one who is already in the profession that the student expects to undertake, Miss Robinson believes.

"Just as teaching home economics on the meal basis correlates it with its use in the home, so the practice of home projects helps the student to live home economics immediately after she has learned it instead of merely exercising her knowledge in a laboratory," Miss Robinson said.

Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollis, freshman college student at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, made the highest scholastic record ever made in the history of the school during the third term of the 1920-21 school year, which closed May 23. Miss Carmichael's rating, according to the system of average points used, was 6.

The next highest rating was 5.6, made by both Miss Louise Willingham, fourth year high school student, Kellyton, and Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, freshman college. The third highest rating was 5.5, made by Miss Orlean Randle, Bessemer, college sophomore; Miss Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer, college sophomore, and Miss Claudia Jones, Camden, college freshman.

HOME PROBLEMS TAUGHT AT SCHOOL

Unique Idea Of Follow-Up Is Method Used In
Montevallo-

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 17.—Special.—Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is one of the first colleges to put into effect a definite home project program in connection with its home economics department and Alabama is one of the first states to follow up its classroom teaching in home economics to see whether it is really functioning in the home, according to Miss Anna Belle Robinson, head of the college's home economics department. Miss Robinson is making a tour of the state at present, visiting the homes of the girls who will begin their third year of studies in vocational home economics at the college next September.

The girls chose various projects to work on this Summer, among which was to prepare three meals each day for two weeks, thereby giving their mothers a complete vacation from culinary duties. In homes where Miss Robinson has observed this project, she said the mothers were greatly enjoying their vacation. She spends a day and night in the home town of each girl, so that she may observe the student's work during an entire day. She gives helpful criticisms and suggestions about the girl's method of executing her problems.

Other projects the girls have chosen are keeping accounts for all purchases of foodstuffs by the family for a month; making of clothes for mother or for little brothers or sisters; or doing the Summer's canning for the family. They do not make clothes for themselves for their home project since they do that in class, but choose some project in which they have had little practice or experience. There is also a decided value in the student's training in having her family become acquainted with a home economics expert, one who is already in the profession that the student expects to undertake, Miss Robinson believes.

"Just as teaching home economics on the meal basis correlates it with its use in the home, so the practice of home projects helps the student to live home economics immediately after she has learned it instead of merely exercising her knowledge in a laboratory," Miss Robinson said.

Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollins, freshman college student at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, made the highest scholastic record ever made in the history of the school during the third term of the 1920-21 school year which closed May 23. Miss Carmichael's rating, according to the system of average points used, was six.

The next highest rating was 5.6, made by both Miss Louise Willingham, Kellyton, fourth year high school student, and Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, freshman college. The third highest rating was 5.5, made by Miss Orlean Randle, Bessemer, college sophomore; Miss Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer, college sophomore, and Miss Claudia Jones, Camden, college freshman.

DRESSLER TALKS ON "ETHICS OF TREES"

Series Of Entertaining Lectures Now Ended At Girls' College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 18.—Special.—"The Ethics of Trees," a lecture, every sentence of which was fitted with sincere thought and rich in application to human life, was delivered by Dr. F. B. Dressler before an appreciative audience in the auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women recently.

Dr. Dressler, professor of education in George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., closed a series of a week's lectures at the college Friday with his talk on "Community School Building."

Dr. Dressler's lecture, "The Ethics of Trees" is the outgrowth of more than 10 years of study and revision and communion with nature. The lecture is now being published. Some of Dr. Dressler's epigrammatic statements were:

"All trees, good or worthless, have enemies, and these are best resisted, when the trees just keep growing."

"Many trees are lop-sided because of their neighbors."

"Those which lift their heads highest must meet storms with the greatest resistance."

"Where big trees grow, there you will find very little underbrush."

Preceding the lecture the following musical numbers were given: Solo, "Joy of the Morning," (Harriet Ware); Miss Martha Gusman, teacher of voice; "A Romance," (Friml) by an orchestra composed of Mrs. J. H. Middleton and Mrs. August Rothschilds; Selma, violins; Miss Grace McG. Crocker, violin-cello; Miss Nina Lyman, flute; Charles R. Calkins, clarinet, and Miss Elizabeth F. Young, piano.

Need Of Good Schools.

More money is spent in Alabama for soft drinks than for education, said Dr. Dressler, in a talk in which he urged the establishment of consolidated rural schools. He explained that the consolidated schools will probably cost the counties more than the little scattered one-room schools, but he said, "If we want a good education in Alabama, let's pay for it and take it. We should not economize too much in the land of the spirit."

"Most people don't know that they don't know how to build school houses," he said. "It is very hard to get them to realize this fact, and a great amount of waste is caused thereby."

Dr. Dressler urged the teachers to look upon the school house as the shrine of democracy and upon the teacher as the priestess, ministering so that each may have the chance to do one's utmost.

Needs Of School Rooms.

In his talk about school houses, Dr. Dressler told teachers and prospective teachers that if they would work for two improvements in the building of school houses, St. Peter would surely admit them into the Golden Gates. The two improvements he proved necessary are to have east or west light entering the school room and to have the lower parts of windows on a line above the eye line of the pupils when seated.

He refuted the superstition that high ceilings make cool rooms, and stated that a ceiling is functionally no higher than the top of its windows.

"Nobody ever heard of that blanket of hot air coming down and jumping out of the window when there is cold air underneath it," he declared.

Class For Negro Women.

Much has been accomplished in the health class for negro women, which has been attended by as many as 36.

The class is being conducted during the Summer by Miss Gail Macdonald, Red Cross nurse from Atlanta. The class meets every afternoon, and has an enrollment of 34.

"The negro women have taken most interest in how to change the bed clothes with a patient in the bed. Every member of the class wanted to try it for herself, and was given a chance to do so. They have also been especially interested in the demonstrations of bathing a baby," said Miss Macdonald. The women all expect to take an examination at the end of the course. Each will be given a card certifying that she has completed the course.

The negro women have a different kind of enthusiasm about their work from that usually manifested by white women and girls, because such instruction is entirely new to them, according to Miss Macdonald.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS ENJOY LECTURES

Series of Lectures Closes With Talk on "The Ethics of Trees"
By Tennessean

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 18.—"The Ethics of Trees," a lecture, every sentence of which was pregnant with sincere thought and rich in application to human life, was delivered by Dr. F. B. Dressler before an appreciative audience in the auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Thursday night. Dr. Dressler, professor of education in George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, closed a series of a week's lectures at the college Friday morning with his talk on "Community School Building."

Dr. Dressler's lecture, "The Ethics of Trees," is the outgrowth of more than ten years of study and revision and communion with nature. The lecture is now being published. Some of Dr. Dressler's epigrammatic statements were:

"All trees, good or worthless, have enemies, and these are best resisted, when the trees just keep growing."

"Many trees are lop-sided because of their neighbors."

"Those which lift their heads highest must meet storms with the greatest resistance."

"Where big trees grow there you will find very little underbrush."

Preceding the lecture the following musical numbers were given: Solo, "Joy of the Morning," Harriet Ware; Miss Martha Gusman, teacher of voice; "A Romance," Friml, by an orchestra composed of Mrs. J. H. Middleton, and Mrs. August Rothschilds; Selma, violins; Miss Grace McG. Crocker, violin-cello; Miss Nina Lyman, flute; Charles R. Calkins, clarinet, and Miss Elizabeth F. Young, piano.

In his talk about school houses Friday morning, Dr. F. B. Dressler told teachers and prospective teachers of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women that, if they would work for two improvements in the building of school houses, St. Peter would surely admit them into the Golden Gates. The two improvements he proved necessary are to have east or west light entering the school room and to have the lower parts of windows on a line above the eye line of the pupils when seated.

He refuted the superstition that high ceilings make cool rooms, and stated that a ceiling is functionally no high-

GIRLS DRILLED IN HOME ECONOMICS

Vocational Teachers At Montevallo Are Taught Useful Pursuits.

June 1921
MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 25.—Special.—Refinishing old furniture with paint, enamel, or varnish, making an old dresser into an attractive looking dressing table, manicuring finger nails, shampooing hair, laundering fine garments, dyeing last Winter's coat, making iceless refrigerators, drying fruits and vegetables, making soap, caring for plants during the Winter, making amusements for sick children—do any of these sound like the popular conception of home economics—a study of cooking and sewing? Yet they are some of the things teachers of vocational home economics, in conference at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, are practicing this Summer. They are planning their work for the coming year under the supervision of Miss Ivor Spafford, state supervisor of vocational home economics, and members of the faculty.

"The teacher of vocational home economics emphasizes what is lacking in the other training of her students and adapts her work to suit the needs of her particular community. Not every one has to construct clothes, but nearly every one has to select and later to care for clothes. Therefore, special attention is paid to these items, though, of course, the construction of clothes and the preparation of foods still occupies a large part of the time," said Miss Spafford.

Standards of manners, conversation and social poise will also be upheld. Girls will learn all the things that go to make up a good hostess at some of the meals they will serve to their classmates. Some of these sewing lessons will take the form of afternoon sewing parties, at which definite lines of conversation will be under discussion.

"What the school doesn't do is our job," said Miss Spafford. "We consider our work a failure if it doesn't result in the self-improvement of the girl."

DR. CHENEY SPEAKS

Health Official Delivers Series Of Lectures At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 20.—Special.—Dr. E. W. Cheney, director of the state laboratory, state department of health, Montgomery, is in Montevallo, giving a series of lectures in the health classes at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, taught by Miss Marion H. Douglas, Red Cross nurse, working in connection with the state health department on the Summer school faculty at the college.

Dr. Cheney told the classes what use people throughout the state may make of the state laboratory, and in the ways the laboratory is trying to benefit the people.

Work Is Far Reaching.

Vocational home economics is not something to be selected by the few who stay in school longest. It is put into the upper junior high school years so that it will reach the largest number possible. Its curriculum is planned to reach the girls whose education does not go beyond the eighth and ninth grades, so that these girls may become better home makers," says Miss Spafford.

In the first year's program attention is given to four divisions—foods, clothing, health and house. Two others are added in the second year—home management and child welfare.

Among the advantages of teaching vocational home economics which Miss Spafford enumerated, is that the teacher teaches nothing else, and is, therefore, not tired out by giving attention to other subjects before she begins her home economics teaching. She has more time to get in touch with the homes of her pupils. The advantage to the high school pupil is that she can take home economics during the regular school hours instead of after she has completed her other studies in the afternoon.

Another advantage to the teacher is that she teaches by a prescribed plan. Of course, she adapts it to suit the individual and community needs. Also she has definite supervision, and thus responsibility for the success of her work does not rest on her shoulders alone.

"More principals want this work than ever before, and we are unable to supply the demand for teachers," Miss Spafford said. "We wanted 22 teachers of vocational home economics this year, but we have only 16."

Faculty Is Entertained.

Students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women entertained the faculty, classmates and friends with an evening of music, dances and a playlet Saturday night, June 25. Two weeks ago the students were entertained by the faculty with a reception and evening program of music, readings, etc., so the students decided to return the compliment.

A student orchestra, composed of the following boys and girls, played the opening number: Charles Mahaffey, Powers Taylor, Andrew Hoskin, Mary McConaughy, Montevallo; Celeste Connor, Andalusia; Jewell Hagood, Birmingham, and Josephine Kilgore, Corona. Miss Margaret Neal, Heflin sang a solo.

Little Miss Elinor Rothschild, Selma, gave an interpretative solo dance. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. August Rothschild. Misses Nena McDuffie, Attalla, and Jean Collins, Birmingham, sang a duet, a farce number. Misses Elsie Mahaffey and Lulu Palmer, Montevallo, and Miss Kilgore gave an interpretative trio dance, followed by another number by the orchestra.

The program concluded with a one-act play, "Rosalie," by Max Maurey, presented by the following members of the class in play production: "Monsieur Bol," Miss Palmer; "Madame Bol," Miss Hagood; "Rosalie," the maid, Miss Mahaffey.

TELLTALE WATCH.

NEW YORK.—When the parlor clock in the Johnson home ran down, Mrs. Mary Johnson glanced at her husband's watch to time the breakfast eggs. The result was a suit for separation, for in husband's timepiece was the picture of a pretty girl. Mrs. Johnson told Supreme Court Justice Mullan her husband abused her and supplied his stenographer with costly furs and waists.

Medici Prints To Be Shown In Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 20.—Special.—Students of the Summer School at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women and residents in and around Montevallo have the opportunity of seeing a collection of Medici prints this week and next at the art department of the college.

This collection is loaned from the headquarters of the American Art League in Washington. It contains copies from some of the earliest masters to reproductions of great modern paintings. In the collection are works of Giotto, from the thirteenth century and earlier; Leonardo da Vinci, fifteenth century; Reynolds, eighteenth century; Maddox Brown, nineteenth century, and a few of this century, including "The Maker of Dreams," which is probably attributed to Canziani.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS CELEBRATE FOURTH

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 4.—Students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women celebrated the Fourth of July as a free-for-all picnic day. Early dinner was served in the dormitory dining room, when lunches enough were put on the table to provide the entire student body with a picnic supper. The students formed picnic parties to Falling Rock, Shelby Springs, Davis Falls and many other scenic grounds nearer the college. Each party was chaperoned by a faculty member.

GIRL STUDENTS OFFER "THE GIFT"

Greek Garden Scenes With Pretty Dancers Staged At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., July 4.—Special.—A beautiful Greek garden with white pedestals here and there, ivy covered arch ways, and a playing fountain, all backed by trees and green shrubbery, formed a lovely setting for the play, "The Gift," presented on the front campus at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Saturday night. The audience paid enthusiastic tribute to the young actors, whose execution of their parts bespoke the careful training given by Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer, head of the expression department, who directed the production.

Miss Jewell Hagood, Birmingham, combined all the feminine graces into a charming ensemble in her part of "Pandora," around whose creation and endowment with mortal qualities the play centered. An admirable "Prometheus, a Titian," with a fine manly voice was enacted by Miss Kittie Gambill, Tusculumbia. The role of "Hope," by Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, was performed with distinct histrionic ability throughout, while little Miss Elizabeth Cox, Montevallo, made a cunning "Cupid."

Miss Lula R. Palmer, Montevallo, who represented "Terpsichore," the muse of dancing, gave some artistic solo dances with the grace and refinement which are characteristic of her interpretative dancing, and led a chorus of dancing muses with perfect rhythmical effect. During a soliloquy by "Hope," soft strains from the orchestra, accentuated by a violin obligato, enhanced the mysticism of "Hope's" bequest to "Pandora," and "Epimetheus." The musicians in addition to Miss Grace M. Crocker, violoncellist, who directed the orchestration, were: Mrs. J. H. Middleton, violinist, and Miss Elizabeth Young, pianist.

Creditable work was done by the additional members of the cast who appeared in the following roles: "Apollo," Lucile Green, Gilbertown; "Prometheus," Nena McDuffie, Attalla; "Calliope," muse of epic poetry, Mary Upchurch, Clanton; "Euterpe," muse of lyric poetry, Ida Belle Lull, Wetumpka; "Erato," muse of love poetry, Ruth DeRamus, Verbena; "Thalia," muse of comedy, Clara Troutman, Atmore; "Urania," muse of astronomy, Flossie Orr, Hartselle; "Clio," muse of history, Laura Thomas, Marion; "Polymnia," muse of sacred song, Julia Kimbrough, Thomasville; "Melpomene," muse of tragedy, Dona Banks, Jackson's Gap; "Imps," little Misses Martha Mahaffey and Dorothy Davies, Montevallo.

GREEK PLAY PRESENTED ON CAMPUS AT MONTEVALLO BY YOUNG ACTORS

Appreciative Audience Greeted Splendidly Rendered Greek Garden Scene, "The Gift" by Summer Students and Montevallo Girls Under Direction of Miss Irene Ulmer

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 4 A beautiful Greek garden with white pedestals here and there, ivy covered arch ways, and a playing fountain, all backed by trees and garden shrubbery, formed a lovely setting for the play "The Gift" presented on the front campus of Alabama Technical Institute and college for Women, Saturday night, July 2. The audience paid enthusiastic tribute to the young actors whose execution of their parts bespoke the careful training given by Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer, head of the expression department who directed the production.

Miss Jewell Hagood, Birmingham, combined all the feminine graces into a charming ensemble in her part of "Pandora," around whose creation and endowment with mortal qualities the play centered. An admirable "Prometheus, a Titian," with a fine manly "Hope" by Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, was performed with distinct histrionic ability throughout, while Miss Elizabeth Cox Montevallo, made a cunning "Cupid."

Miss Lula R. Palmer, Montevallo, who represented "Terpsichore," the muse of dancing, giving some artistic solo dances with the grace and refinement which are characteristic of her interpretative dancing, and led a chorus of dancing muses with perfect rhythmical effect. During a soliloquy of "Hope," soft strains from the orchestra, accentuated by a violin obligate enhanced the mysticism of "Hope" bequest to "Pandora" and "Epimetheus." The musicians, in addition to Miss Grace M. Crocker, violoncellist, who directed the orchestration, were: Mrs. J. H. Middleton, violinist, and Miss Elizabeth Young, pianist.

Creditable work was done by the additional members of the cast who appeared in the following roles: "Apollo" Lucile Green, Gilbertown; "Prometheus" Nena McDuffie, Attalla; "Calliope," muse of epic poetry, Mary Upchurch, Clanton; "Euterpe" muse of lyric poetry, Ida Belle Lull, Wetumpka; "Erato" muse of love poetry, Ruth DeRamus, Verbena; "Thalia," muse of comedy, Clara Troutman, Atmore; "Urania," muse of astronomy, Flossie Orr, Hartselle; "Clio" muse of history, Laura Thomas, Marion; "Polymnia," muse of sacred song, Julia Kimbrough, Thomasville; "Melpomene," muse of tragedy, Dona Banks, Jackson's Gap; "Imps—little Misses Martha Mahaffey and Dorothy Davies, Montevallo.

SECOND GRADUATING EXERCISES AT MONTEVALLO THIS EVENING

Diplomas Will Be Awarded to Three Graduates Who Finish
Summer Course at Girls' Training School; Splendid Program Arranged

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 7—The second graduating exercises of the twenty-fifth annual commencement at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in 1921 will take place Friday, July 8, at eight o'clock in the evening in the college auditorium. Three girls have completed their courses in the summer session. Of these, Misses Dona Banks, Jackson's Gap, and Mittie Lambert, Lasca, have completed the two year normal college course, while Miss Ellen Lenora White, Hamilton, has finished the three year vocational home economics teacher training course.

An address to the graduates and the presentation of diplomas will be made by Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, director of the summer session in the absence of Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, who is in Des Moines, Iowa, attending a meeting of the National Education Association.

An elaborate musical program completes the second graduating exercises. "Serenade", by Wilson, will be played by the following trio; Mrs. J. H. Middleton, Violin; Miss Grace M. Crocker, Violoncello; Miss Elizabeth F. Young, piano. Miss Martha Gusman, voice teacher, will sing "The Loreley" Liszt; "Fantaisie Impromptu", Op. 66. Chopin, will be played by Miss Young. Miss Gusman will give another group; "The Big Brown Bear", Manna-Zucco, and "De Bee an' de Butterfly", Ashford.

Mrs. Middleton will play "Fantaisie Ziganes", Mohr, as a violin solo. The closing number is "Scene from an Imaginary Ballet" by Coleridge-Taylor, from which Molto Vivace, Allegretto and Tempo di Minuetto movements will be played by; Miss Nine Lyman, flute; Mrs. Middleton, violin; Miss Crocker, Violoncello, and Miss Young piano.

The graduating exercises will constitute the last formal public entertainment of the summer session. Final examinations for the summer students takes place Saturday, July 9, and many students will be able to complete their work and leave by Saturday afternoon.

MONTEVALLO WOMEN GET CERTIFICATES

Nine Finish Course Under Miss McDonald in Home Care of the Sick

(Special to The Advertiser.)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 5.—Presentation of certificates showing completion of a course of fifteen lessons in home care of the sick was made to a class of nine Montevallo women in chapel at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Tuesday morning. Miss Gail MacDonald, Red Cross nurse who taught the class, presented the certificates to the following:

Mrs. Della Hayes Brown, who made the highest grade; Mrs. Willie F. Calkins, Miss Jewel Garner, Mrs. Mary Lyman Hare, Mrs. Mamie Meacham Cox, Mrs. Ellie H. Mahaffey, Mrs. Della F. Mulkey, Mrs. Lulu Rainer Palmer, Mrs. Bessie Ransom Simpson.

Girl students in the college whose course extends over the entire summer session will have their certificates mailed to them from Red Cross headquarters.

Twenty-three members of Miss MacDonald's class of negro women passed their final examination in the same course and will be awarded their certificates at the Montevallo A. M. E. church Wednesday night. They will march into the church in line, headed by Dora Nelson who made the highest grade a negro woman ever made in classes taught by Miss MacDonald. Dora Nelson will carry a Red Cross flag.

Will Present Diplomas

One of the closing activities of the summer school will be the presentation of diplomas Friday night in the college auditorium to students of the college who expect to graduate at the close of the summer session. This will be accompanied by a musical program. The session closes Saturday evening, July 9.

Will Entertain

Talent at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is slated to give a dramatic and musical program in the college auditorium Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Montevallo Public School Improvement Association, to aid the association's equipment fund. In it will be:

Mrs. J. H. Middleton, violin; Miss Alice Lyman, violin; Miss Crocker, violoncello, Miss Nina Lyman, flute; Miss Elizabeth F. Young, piano.

Miss Gail MacDonald, a Red Cross nurse on the summer school faculty will give a child impersonation and another reading, and Miss Jewel T. Hagood, will play a violin solo. The one-act play, "Rosalie" by Max Maurey which students gave at a recent party for the faculty will be repeated. In it Miss Lulu R. Harper takes the part of Monsieur Bol; Miss Hagood, of Madam Bol, and Miss Elsie Mahaffey of Rosalie, the maid. The play was a project in the play production class taught by Miss Irene Virginia Ulmer at the summer session.

MONTEVALLO WILL HOLD GRADUATION

Program Is Announced For Commencement Of Summer School.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., July 5.—Special.—The second graduating exercises of the 25th annual commencement at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in 1921 will take place Friday, July 8, at 8 o'clock in the evening in the college auditorium. Three girls have completed their courses in the Summer session. Of these Misses Dona Banks, Jackson's Gap, and Mittye Lambert, Lasca, have completed the two year normal college course, while Miss Ellen Leonora White, Hamilton, has finished the three year vocational home economics teacher training course.

An address to the graduates and the presentation of diplomas will be made by Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, director of the Summer session, in the absence of Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, who is in Des Moines, Iowa, attending a meeting of the National Education Association.

An elaborate musical program completes the second graduating exercises. "Serenade," by Wilson, will be played by the following trio: Mrs. J. H. Middleton, violin; Miss Grace M. Crocker, violoncello; Miss Elizabeth F. Young, piano. Miss Martha Gusman, voice teacher, will sing "The Loreley," Liszt; "Fantaisie Impromptu," Op. 66, Chopin, will be played by Miss Young. Miss Gusman will give another group: "The Big Brown Bear," Manna-Zucco, and "De Bee an' de Butterfly," Ashford.

Mrs. Middleton will play "Fantaisie Zigane," Mohr, as a violin solo. The closing number of "Scene from an Imaginary Ballet" by Coleridge-Taylor, from which Molto Vivace, Allegretto and Tempo di Minuetto movements will be played by: Miss Nina Lyman, flute; Mrs. Middleton, violin; Miss Crocker, violoncello, and Miss Young, piano.

The graduating exercises will constitute the last formal public entertainment of the Summer session. Final examinations for the Summer students take place Saturday, July 9, and many students will be able to complete their work and leave by Saturday afternoon.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, July 5.—(Special.)—The second graduating exercises of the twenty-fifth annual commencement at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in 1921 will take place Friday, July 8, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the college auditorium. Of these, Misses Dona Banks, Jackson's Gap, and Mittye Lambert, Lasca, have completed the two-year normal college course, while Miss Ellen Leonora White, Hamilton, has finished the three-year vocational home economics teacher training course.

An address to the graduates and the presentation of diplomas will be made by Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, director of the summer session, in the absence of Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, who is in Des Moines, Ia., attending a meeting of the National Educational association.

The graduating exercises will constitute the last formal public entertainment of the summer session. Final examinations for the summer students will take place Saturday, July 9, and many students will be able to complete their work and leave by Saturday afternoon.

CALKINS DEAD IN MASSACHUSETTS

Head of Music Department of Montevallo College Passes Away

Montevallo, August 29.—(Special.) News reached Montevallo this morning of the death of Charles Rendell Calkins at his home in Melrose Highlands, Mass. Mr. Calkins has been head of the department of Music of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women since 1913, and expected to continue his work during the coming scholastic year. His death is a great shock to the citizens of Montevallo and his coworkers in the college. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Willie Fagan of Havana, Ala., and a small son, C. R. Calkins, Jr.

Mr. Calkins was born in Massachusetts in 1887. He attended the Faelton Pianoforte school and the New England Conservatory of Music. He taught music in Canada and in Evergreen, Ala., before he came to Montevallo.

Mr. Calkins was a firm believer in the educational value of music and worked continuously and tirelessly for the standardization of music study in the state schools, and for its greater recognition as a college entrance requirement. He was chairman of the department of teachers of music of the Alabama Educational association, and did most effective work in this department.

In addition to his work in his department and with the Young Women's Christian association and other college organizations, Mr. Calkins was unusually active in the civic and religious life of this community. During the war he rendered most efficient service in the various drives and was a very effective four-minute speaker. Mr. Calkins was organist successively in the Baptist and Methodist churches. He organized, trained and directed a band and an orchestra in Montevallo, and also helped the colored people with their band.

He was universally respected and loved in Montevallo, and his death creates a void in the hearts of its citizens that will remain long unfilled. His many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family.

The position of director of music in the college will be filled before the opening of the fall term, September 13.

MONTEVALLO WILL BEGIN NEW YEAR SEPT. 12 AND 13

Many Improvements Made During Summer and Indications Point to a Large Attendance 1921

Montevallo, September 9.—(Special.)—The Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be opened for the reception of students for the new year on September 12 and 13, and recitations will begin regularly on Wednesday morning, September 14. The indications are that there will be a large attendance.

Many improvements have been made during the summer. A new laboratory has been fitted up for the chemistry department. The advanced work in this subject for vocational home economics had increased so much that it was necessary to enlarge the facilities to accommodate those students.

The dairy has been considerably enlarged. The college has developed a splendid dairy, and every effort is being put forth to make it one of the best in the country. It is used for two purposes—first, for supplying the students with pure, sanitary milk, and second, for instructional purposes. The latter feature has not been developed heretofore, but the work will begin in that line during this session.

Miss Anne Irvin, food supervisor, has spent a part of the summer in New York investigating the dining room and kitchen work in Columbia university and other large institutions. She has returned, and is engaged in getting the college dining room and kitchen in perfect order.

Mrs. E. H. Phillips, matron, enjoyed her vacation with her daughters at Wetumpka and in the mountains of North Carolina. She and Mrs. Heatfield, assistant matron, who spent the latter part of the summer in Chicago, are now getting the dormitory in readiness for the reception of teachers and pupils.

Miss Sara Apperson, assistant food supervisor, has also resumed her work, aiding Miss Irvin in getting their department in order.

Miss Mary G. Stallworth, dean of the college, and Miss Myrtle Brooke, director of the department of education, arrived today, after having enjoyed very pleasant vacations with their people.

The town of Montevallo and college people were greatly surprised a few days ago when they heard of the marriage of Miss Lula Hawkins of the music department to Mr. Burr Nabors of Montevallo. They will begin housekeeping in Montevallo at once, and Mrs. Nabors will continue her work for the present session in the college.

Other teachers will arrive tomorrow. There are several new members in the faculty, and due announcements will be made about them in a few days.

PUBLIC SCHOOL AT MONTEVALLO OPENS

Institution Is Held In Connection With State College
For Women.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 9.—The public school, which is the training school for the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, opened today with the largest attendance the school has ever had. The principal and teachers began enrolling pupils yesterday and have been busy throughout the morning, arranging the courses of study for them. On account of the large number, it will take one or two days more to get all the pupils regularly at work.

The faculty for the training school has been greatly strengthened this year. J. W. Martin, an A. B. graduate of the Texas State Normal, and an A. M. graduate of Peabody College, is the new principal. He has had one year's experience in the state normal in Texas and one year in the public schools of that state, and was also superintendent for several years at Loving, Tex. He comes to Montevallo directly from Peabody College, where he was recently graduated with a master's degree. He has made a fine impression on the citizens of Montevallo and the faculty of the college.

Miss Carolyn Weaver, primary teacher, is a graduate of the North Carolina State College for Women at Greensboro, and has taught five or six years in the Baltimore, Md., system of schools, which system is known as probably the best in the United States. She was also director of the primary work in Tennessee College, Murfreesboro, Tenn., for some years. She comes from a family of educators, being a sister of President Weaver of Mercer University, Macon, Ga., and Dean Weaver of Tennessee College, at Murfreesboro.

Mrs. Martin will be in charge of the second grade. She was a student at East Texas Normal College, and for two and a half years at Peabody College. She is a teacher of wide experience.

Miss Anna Belle Pritchard is a graduate of the East Texas State Normal College and taught for a number of years in Texas, and one year in the college training school in Texas.

Miss Anne Bradley is a graduate of the State Normal College in Texas, and comes to Montevallo well equipped for her work.

Mr. D. F. Humphrey is a graduate of the East Tennessee State Normal College and has nearly completed his course for an A. B. degree at Peabody College. He has had two years' experience in teaching manual training and science in East Tennessee.

Of the former teachers of the training school, Mrs. C. G. Sharp has just returned from Peabody College where she has been studying for three months.

Miss Vivienne Foshee, a graduate of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has spent her vacation in Alabama.

All of the teachers have entered upon their work with great enthusiasm, and the people of Montevallo are more than delighted with the prospects for the coming year. The high school department will be coordinated with the high school work of the college, so that graduates and girls, will be prepared to enter any of the training school, both boys college in the country.

Major Palmer Visits Dr. And Mrs. Palmer

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 9.—Special.—Maj. W. T. Palmer, Jr., has returned from Chile, South America, and is spending a few weeks with his parents, President and Mrs. Palmer, at the college. He is accompanied by his wife and little son, Tomasito (Spanish for little Thomas). This is Mrs. Palmer's first visit to Alabama and she is being warmly welcomed by the many friends of President and Mrs. Palmer.

Miss Lissa Wyman, of Tuscaloosa, is visiting President and Mrs. Palmer. This is her second visit to the college, having spent a few days here about ten years ago, and she is much pleased with the improvements that have been made.

Miss Olive Mayes, former librarian of the college and now librarian in the Public Health Service Hospital, of Philadelphia, is spending a few days in Montevallo to see the opening of the new college year. She is a native of Greene County, Alabama, and served this college as librarian for six years.

MONTEVALLO TO OPEN ON MONDAY

Classes Will Begin At Girls'
College Wednesday,
Sept. 14. 1921

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 9.—Special.—The Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be opened for the reception of students for the new year on Sept. 12 and 13, and recitations will begin regularly on Wednesday morning, Sept. 14. The indications are that there will be a large attendance.

Many improvements have been made during the Summer. A new laboratory has been fitted up for the chemistry department. The advanced work in this subject for vocational home economics had increased so much that it was necessary to enlarge the facilities to accommodate those students.

The dairy has been considerably enlarged. The college has developed a splendid dairy, and every effort is being put forth to make it one of the best in the country. It is used for two purposes—first, for supplying the students with pure, sanitary milk, and, second, for instructional purposes. The latter feature has not been developed heretofore, but the work will begin in that line during this session.

Miss Anne Irvin, food supervisor, has spent a part of the Summer in New York investigating the dining room and kitchen work in Columbia University and other large institutions. She has returned and is engaged in getting the college dining room and kitchen in perfect order.

Mrs. E. H. Phillips, matron, enjoyed her vacation with her daughters at Wetumpka and in the mountains of North Carolina. She and Mrs. Heatfield, assistant matron, who spent the latter part of the Summer in Chicago, are now getting the dormitory in readiness for the reception of teachers and pupils.

Miss Sarah Apperson, assistant food supervisor, has also resumed her work, aiding Miss Irvin in getting their department in order.

Miss Mary G. Stallworth, dean of the college, and Miss Myrtle Brooke, director of the department of education, arrived today after having enjoyed very pleasant vacations with their people.

The town of Montevallo and college people were greatly surprised a few days ago when they heard of the marriage of Miss Lula Hawkins, of the music department, to Mr. Burr Nabors, of Montevallo. They will begin housekeeping in Montevallo at once, and Mrs. Nabors will continue her work for the present session in the college.

Other teachers will arrive tomorrow. There are several new members in the faculty.

PUBLIC SCHOOL AT MONTEVALLO OPENS

Record Attendance Reported at Montevallo Public School; Strong Faculty

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, Sept. 10.—The public school, which is the training school for the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, opened Thursday with the largest attendance that the school has ever had. The principal and teachers began enrolling the pupils Wednesday and have been busy throughout the morning arranging the courses of study for them. On account of the large number it will take one or two days more to get all the pupils regularly at work.

The faculty for the training school has been greatly strengthened this year. Mr. J. W. Martin, an A. B. graduate of the Texas State Normal and an A. M. graduate of Peabody College, is the new principal. He has had one year's experience in the State Normal in Texas and one year in the public schools of that state, and was also superintendent for several years at Loving, Texas. He comes to Montevallo directly from Peabody College where he was recently graduated with a Master's degree. He has made a fine impression on the citizens of Montevallo and the faculty of the college.

Miss Carolyn Weaver, primary teacher, is a graduate of the North Carolina State College for Women at Greensboro, and has taught five or six years in the Baltimore, Maryland, system of schools, which system is known as probably the best in the United States. She was also director of the primary work in Tennessee College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, for some years. She comes from a family of educators, being a sister of President Weaver of Mercer University, Macon, Georgia, and Dean Weaver of Tennessee College, at Murfreesboro.

Mrs. Martin will be in charge of the second grade. She was a student at East Texas State Normal and for two and a half years at Peabody College. She is a teacher of wide experience.

Miss Anna Belle Pritchard is a graduate of the East Texas State Normal College and taught for a number of years in Texas and one year in the college training school in Texas.

Miss Anne Bradley is a graduate of the State Normal College in Texas, and comes to Montevallo well equipped for her work.

Mr. D. F. Humphrey is a graduate of the East Tennessee State Normal College and has nearly completed his course for an A. B. degree at Peabody College. He has had two years experience in teaching manual training and science in East Tennessee.

Of the former teachers of the training school, Mrs. C. G. Sharp has just returned from Peabody College where she has been studying for three months.

Miss Vivienne Foshee, a graduate of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has spent her vacation in Alabama.

All of the teachers have entered upon their work with great enthusiasm, and the people of Montevallo are more than delighted with the prospects for the coming year. The high school department will be co-ordinated with the high school work of the college, so that graduates of the training school, both boys and girls, will be prepared to enter any college in the country.

FORMER ASSOCIATES ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

Death of Former Music Director at Montevallo Mourned by Faculty

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Sept. 24.—Resolutions on the death of Charles Rendell Calkins, former director of music at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, were unanimously passed with a rising vote at the first meeting of the entire faculty September 20. Mr. Calkins died on August 28, in Boston, where he had gone to consult specialists. He was one of the most influential factors in standardizing music study in the schools of the state of Alabama, and his influence in this direction was being felt in other states where he served as an advisor. The resolutions are:

"Since God in His wisdom has called from our midst Charles Rendell Calkins, who has been for eight years director of the music department of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, be it resolved by the faculty and officers of the institution:

"That in the death of Mr. Calkins we have lost a great leader and an artist of the highest type, a man of high ideals, clear vision, and lofty purposes, and that faculty and students have lost a devoted friend, an earnest co-laborer, and an inspiring leader.

"That the state of Alabama and the town of Montevallo have lost a true citizen, active in all that made for the highest good of community and state.

"That we express our appreciation of the notable service which he rendered in the upbuilding of this college and of his loyalty and devotion to the advancement of music in the state of Alabama, and that we further express our indebtedness as individuals for all that has come to us through contact with his rare personality.

"That we extend to the members of the bereaved family our deepest sympathy and assure them that we share their grief.

"That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the faculty, and that copies be sent to his family and furnished to the press.

"(Signed) Lula Hawkins Nabors,

"Chairman.

"Myrtle Brooke,

"Geraldine P. Dilla."

One student at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, is a candidate for the degree of bachelor of science in home economics. She is Miss Willie Pridgen of Enterprise, who graduated from the three year home economics course last May. This institution hopes to take advantage at next commencement time of the privilege of granting this degree, which has been previously authorized by the legislature.

The catalog for the present session was the first issue in which a full four year course has been outlined. A number of graduates in the three year college courses last May would have returned for their respective degrees had these been authorized. In an effort to meet similar demands of three year graduates this year, other four year courses are now being outlined in the hope that the appropriate degrees will be authorized before the close of the session, according to Dr. T. W. Palmer, president.

All other graduates from the three year vocational home economics course have been placed in lucrative positions in the state, most of them teaching vocational home economics in high schools.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, September 27.—(Special.)—One of this year's broadened activities at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is the supervised teaching of home economics to be done in the high school at Columbiana by college students, under the direct supervision of Miss Ida Lou Nelson, resident vocational home economics teacher in Columbiana. Miss Nelson's work is under the direction of Miss Ivor Spafford, state supervisor of vocational home economics, and of Miss Margaret C. Jones, head of the home economics department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Two students will spend a month at a time in Columbiana. They will have practice in teaching different grades of cooking, sewing, home planning, health and other kindred home economics subjects.

Visiting vocational home economics high schools throughout the state to give them needed supervision is a part of Miss Jones' work. She went to Columbiana Monday morning with the first two students who begin their supervised teaching there. They are Miss Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, and Miss Bessie Padgett, Brewton. Other upper classmen who will have a month's experience in the Columbiana schools are Misses Mary Keller, Birmingham; Willie Grace Stewart, Daphne; Shirley Narramode, Prattville; Gladys McLeod, Camden; Willie Pridgen, Enterprise; Lillian Mahone, Luverne; Virginia Edwards, Enterprise; Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer; Mary Easterly, Hayneville, and Sara Newman, Goodwater.

Students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, as well as residents of Montevallo, will be given a treat on the evening of October 21 in the college auditorium, when Miss Martha Young of Greensboro will read some of her own dialect stories. Miss Young's reputation for telling fascinating dialect stories reaches beyond her own state.

S. A. Lynne of Decatur, speaker of the house of representatives of the Alabama legislature, will make an address on Founders' Day, October 12, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Dr. and Mrs. John Y. Graham of Tuscaloosa, motored to Montevallo, where they were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer. Dr. Graham is professor of biology at the University of Alabama. He and Mrs. Graham were accompanied by Misses Annie Mary Jones-Williams, a member of the senior class at the university, and Miss Lulu R. Palmer, a junior at the university. Miss Palmer came to pursue her music studies at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, which she expects to continue regularly in addition to her work at the university.

Rev. W. K. Simpson, pastor of the Montevallo Methodist church, led the Sunday evening Young Women's Christian association service at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. His talk was inspirational and will no doubt be most beneficial to the large number of students who heard him.

Impressive rites were held Sunday afternoon in the Montevallo Baptist church when the body of Sergt. Albert G. Hudson was given full military honors before interment on his native soil. Rev. W. D. Ogletree made a most inspiring address. Former soldiers of the community served as pallbearers, and a firing squad from Talladega attended the service. Sergeant Hudson was a brother of Mrs. M. P. Jeter of Montevallo, with whom he had resided before serving his country in France, where he lost his life in the battle of the Argonne-Meuse.

INTERESTING TALK BY MAJOR PALMER

Montevallo Girls Hear Graphic Account of South Amer- ican Customs

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Sept. 22.—Major T. W. Palmer, Jr., who has recently returned to the United States after spending three years in Chile in the employ of the Chile Exploration Company, a New York mining company, addressed the students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Thursday morning. He related some geographical, historical and commercial facts, and told interesting customs of Chile and other South American countries, on which North Americans are least versed.

Major Palmer and family expect to reside in New York, but he will continue work traveling in South America for the companies with which he is associated. Major Palmer and family are guests of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer.

Since the great war, for the first time in history, has the American dollar proved its stability in South American exchange, Major Palmer stated, though he believes that the English pound will probably regain some of its prestige. He said that in Chile three years ago the peso was worth twenty cents, though now ten pesos equal $1.00.

"Chilean women are ruining their race on account of alcoholism," he said. "Chile has sent a lawyer to study our prohibition laws and their enforcement. Since Americans who go to Chile knock prohibition in the United States, they have become confused and want to find exactly what we have.

"Woman suffrage is now a live issue in Chile. Women are already admitted to most professions there. One of the interesting customs of Bolivian women, who resemble Indians, is that they put on an addition skirt for each year until they are thirty-five. It is said they never take off the previous ones," he said.

In urging that we become better acquainted with South America, Major Palmer recommended familiarizing Peruvian, Chilean and Inca Indian history.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS TEACH ECONOMICS

Broadened Activities For Students Includes Practical Teaching in High School

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Sept. 27.—One of this year's broadened activities at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is the supervised teaching of home economics to be done in the high school at Columbiana by college students under the direct supervision of Miss Ida Lou Nelson, resident vocational home economics teacher in Columbiana. Miss Nelson's work is under the direction of Miss Ivor Spafford, state supervisor of vocational home economics, and of Miss Margaret C. Jones, head of the home economics department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Two students will spend a month at a time in Columbiana. They will have practice in teaching different grades of cooking, sewing, home planning, health, and other kindred home economics subjects.

Visiting vocational home economics high schools throughout the state to give them needed supervision is a part of Miss Jones' work. She went to Columbiana Monday morning with the first two students who began their supervised teaching there. They are Miss Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, and Miss Bessie Padgett, Brewton. Other upper classmen who will have a month's experience in the Columbiana schools are Misses Mary Keller, Birmingham; Willie Grace Stewart, Daphne; Shirley Narramore, Prattville; Gladys McLeod, Camden; Willie Pridgen, Enterprise; Lillian Mahone, Luverne; Virginia Edwards, Enterprise; Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer; Mary Easterly, Hayneville, and Sara Newman, Goodwater.

Students Promised Treat

Students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, as well as residents of Montevallo, will be given a treat on the evening of October 21 in the college auditorium when Miss Martha Young of Greensboro, will read some of her own dialect stories. Miss Young's reputation for telling fascinating dialect stories reaches beyond her own state.

WORK BROADENED AT GIRLS' COLLEGE

Montevallo Students To Di- rect Home Economics At Columbiana.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 27.—Special.—One of this year's broadened activities at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is the supervised teaching of home economics to be done in the high school at Columbiana by college students, under the supervision of Miss Ida Lou Nelson, resident vocational home economics teacher in Columbiana. Miss Nelson's work is under the direction of Miss Ivor Spafford, state supervisor of vocational home economics, and of Miss Margaret C. Jones, head of the home economics department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Two students will spend a month at a time in Columbiana. They will have practice in teaching different grades of cooking, sewing, home planning, health and other kindred home economics subjects.

Visiting vocational home economics high schools throughout the state to give them needed supervision is a part of Miss Jones' work. She went to Columbiana Monday with the first two students who begin their supervised teaching there. They are Miss Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, and Miss Bessie Padgett, Brewton. Other upper classmen who will have a month's experience in the Columbiana schools are Misses Mary Keller, Birmingham; Willie Grace Stewart, Daphne; Shirley Narramore, Prattville; Gladys McLeod, Camden; Willie Pridgen, Enterprise; Lillian Mahone, Luverne; Virginia Edwards, Enterprise; Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer; Mary Easterly, Hayneville, and Sara Newman, Goodwater.

Miss Young To Read.

Students at the college as well as residents of Montevallo will be given a treat on the evening of Oct. 21 in the college auditorium when Miss Martha Young, of Greensboro, will read some of her own dialect stories. Miss Young's reputation for telling fascinating dialect stories reaches beyond her own state.

S. A. Lynne, of Decatur, speaker of the House of Representatives of the Alabama Legislature, will make an address on Founder's Day, Oct. 12, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Dr. and Mrs. John Y. Graham, of Tuscaloosa, motored to Montevallo, where they were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, the former president of the college. Dr. Graham is professor of biology at the University of Alabama. He and Mrs. Graham were accompanied by Miss Annie Mary Jones-Williams, a member of the senior class at the university, and Miss Lulu R. Palmer, a junior at the university. Miss Palmer came to pursue her music studies at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, which she expects to continue regularly in addition to her work at the university.

Rev. W. K. Simpson, pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, led the Sunday evening Y. W. C. A. service at the college. His talk was inspirational and will no doubt be most beneficial to the large number of students who heard him.

Montevallo Club To Give Dramatic Play

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—The Studiosis Club, of Montevallo, many members of which are on the faculty at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has decided to present "Niobe," a dramatic farce, on Nov. 19, in the college auditorium. The cast will consist mostly of faculty members with the assistance of a few men of the town. The Studiosis Club is endeavoring to present dramas this year in connection with its program study of modern dramas.

At its second meeting, Oct. 3, the club discussed "The Melting Pot," by Israel Zangwill.

"The Lure of America; Its Perils and Problems for the Immigrant" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. W. M. Jones-Williams; while a round table discussion was led by Miss Vivian Monk on "Our Attitude Toward Jews."

Mrs. W. K. Simpson was appointed senior delegate to the meeting of the fourth district of federated clubs, Uniontown, Nov. 10-11. Miss Annie Kemp, fourth district secretary, will serve as junior delegate from the Studiosis.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, October 5.—(Special.)—The Studiosis club of Montevallo, many members of which are on the faculty at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has decided to present "Niobe," a dramatic farce, on November 19, in the college auditorium. The cast will consist mostly of faculty members with the assistance of a few men of the town. The Studiosis club is endeavoring to present dramas this year in connection with its programme study of modern dramas.

At its second meeting, October 3, the club discussed "The Melting Pot," by Israel Zangwill. The important facts in the author's life were told by Miss Elsie Richardson; the first two acts were reviewed by Dr. Wilena Peck, and Miss Dorothy Richey gave a reading of the third act, "The Lure of America; Its Perils and Problems for the Immigrant," was the subject of a paper by Mrs. W. M. Jones-Williams, while a round table discussion was led by Miss Vivian Monk on "Our Attitude Toward Jews."

Mrs. W. K. Simpson was appointed senior delegate to the meeting of the fourth district of federated clubs, Uniontown, November 10-11. Miss Annie Kemp, fourth district secretary, will serve as junior delegate from the Studiosis.

The list of those invited to become members of the Studiosis this year follows: Misses Lois Beem, Maude Cheek, Anna Irvin, Margaret C. Jones, Vera Paschal, Alice V. Peterson, Elsie Richardson, Dorothy Richey, Ruth G. Stanton, Bess Stillwagon, Vivian Monk, Mesdames Clara B. Evans, Luella G. Joiner, C. H. Mahaffey.

STUDENT SOCIETY AIMS EXPLAINED

First Meeting Of University Branch Is Held At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The Montevallo branch of the American Association of University Women held its first meeting of the scholastic year this week at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women when several new members were present. Readjustment contingent on the merge of the Southern Association of College Women and the Association of Collegiate Alumnae into the new national organization were discussed. The local chapter had previously been allied with the Southern group.

Miss Rose B. Wood, president, outlined aims of the consolidated organization of University women, and Miss Mary D. Ford, secretary-treasurer, distributed explanatory literature to the membership.

A social hour followed the business session at the home economics dining room in Bloch Hall, at which the hostesses were Misses Mary G. Stallworth, Fannie Evans, Annie Kemp and Mary Ford.

Visions of taking plays to Auburn, the University of Alabama, and to other colleges and interesting places are already springing up in the minds and hearts of embryo Sarah Bernhardts and Ethel Barrymores at the college. Public tryouts for membership in the new Montevallo Dramatic Club will take place Monday night, Oct. 10, in the college auditorium. Any student or group of students may try out in any selection they choose. For over two weeks the college girls have been hunting scenes from plays which will give them the best opportunity to display their particular style of histrionic ability. Three minutes is the try out time limit.

Unidentified judges in the audience will choose the best actors for club members. The membership will rename the new organization. Students are hoping to compete with the Blackfriars of the University of Alabama and with the Howard Players of Howard College, Birmingham. The club will be directed by Miss Vivian Monk, a former member of the Blackfriars, who is teaching dramatic and public speaking at the college.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, October 8.—(Special.) The Montevallo branch of the American Association of University Women held its first meeting of the scholastic year Thursday night at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women when several new members were present. Readjustments contingent on the merge of the Southern Association of College Women and the Association of Collegiate Alumnae into the new national organization were discussed. The local chapter had previously been allied with the southern group.

Miss Rose B. Wood, president, outlined aims of the consolidated organization of university women, and Miss Mary D. Ford, secretary-treasurer, distributed explanatory literature to the membership.

A social hour followed the business session at the home economics dining room in Bloch hall, at which the hostesses were Misses Mary G. Stallworth, Fannie Evans, Annie Kemp and Mary Ford.

Visions of taking plays to Auburn, the University of Alabama and to other colleges and interesting places are already springing up in the minds and hearts of embryo Sarah Bernhardts and Ethel Barrymores at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Public tryouts for membership in the new Montevallo Dramatic club will take place Monday night, October 10, in the college auditorium. Any student or group of students may try out in any selection they choose. For over two weeks the college girls have been hunting scenes from plays which will give them the best opportunity to display their particular style of histrionic ability. Three minutes is the try-out time limit.

Unidentified judges in the audience will choose the best actors for club members. The membership will rename the new organization. Students are hoping to compete with the Blackfriars of the University of Alabama, and with the Howard players of Howard college, Birmingham. The club will be directed by Miss Vivian Monk, a former member of the Blackfriars, who is teaching dramatic and public speaking at the college.

STUDENT SOCIETY AIMS EXPLAINED

First Meeting Of University Branch Is Held At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 8.—Special.—The Montevallo branch of the American Association of University Women held its first meeting of the scholastic year this week at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women when several new members were present. Readjustment contingent on the merge of the Southern Association of College Women and the Association of Collegiate Alumnae into the new national organization were discussed. The local chapter had previously been allied with the Southern group.

Miss Rose E. Wood, president, outlined aims of the consolidated organization of University women, and Miss Mary D. Ford, secretary-treasurer, distributed explanatory literature to the membership.

A social hour followed the business session at the home economics dining room in Bloch Hall, at which the hostesses were Misses Mary G. Stallworth, Fannie Evans, Annie Kemp and Mary Ford.

Visions of taking plays to Auburn, the University of Alabama, and to other colleges and interesting places are already springing up in the minds and hearts of embryo Sarah Bernhards and Ethel Barrymores at the college. Public tryouts for membership in the new Montevallo Dramatic Club will take place Monday night, Oct. 10, in the college auditorium. Any student or group of students may try out in any selection they choose. For over two weeks the college girls have been hunting scenes from plays which will give them the best opportunity to display their particular style of histrionic ability. Three minutes is the try out time limit.

Unidentified judges in the audience will chose the best actors for club members. The membership will rename the new organization. Students are hoping to compete with the Blackfriars of the University of Alabama and with the Howard Players of Howard College, Birmingham. The club will be directed by Miss Vivian Monk, a former member of the Blackfriars, who is teaching dramatic and public speaking at the college.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, October 11.—(Special.) Recognition service for the new members of the Young Women's Christian association at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was held Sunday night in the assembly hall at the dormitory, when every new girl in college became publicly affiliated with the association. Miss Annie Laurie Robertson, Clayton, led the service.

The procession of old members, all dressed in white, was led by Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena, president, followed by other members of the Young Women's Christian association cabinet bearing lighted candles. The new girls, also dressed in white, formed a procession while their candles were lighted as a symbol of the light of Y. W. C. A. activity they will carry forward. Miss Lillie Burkes, Wadley, accepted the responsibility on behalf of the new girls.

A violin solo, "Traumerel," by Schumann, was played by Miss Mary McConaughy, Montevallo.

INSTRUCTORS OF COLLEGE HONORED

Baptist Church Women Give Reception To Teachers
In Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 14.—Special.—The women of the Baptist Church gave a reception Wednesday afternoon from two to four to the faculty and officers of the college and the students who attend that church. More than 200 called during that time.

The reception was in charge of the social committee of the Ladies' Society—Mrs. M. P. Jeter, Mrs. T. W. Palmer, Mrs. C. L. Meroney, Mrs. Mary Hare, chairman of the entertainment, Mrs. J. I. Reid, chairman of the committee on decorations, Mrs. L. C. Horn, chairman of the committee on refreshments, and Miss Hattie Lyman, chairman of the music committee.

The reception was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. T. W. Cox, on Main Street. She and her little daughter graciously received the guests and assisted in entertaining.

The pastors of all the churches and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ogle-tree, of the Baptist Church, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Simpson, of the Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Carmichael, of the Presbyterian Church, also President and Mrs. Palmer, assisted in the receiving line.

The callers were greeted at the door by Miss Fanny McMath, Mrs. John T. Ellis, and others. They were then escorted to the dining room where a salad course and tea and coffee were served.

The college and town orchestra, presided over by Miss Ruth G. Stanton, of the violin department of the college, discoursed beautiful music during the afternoon. Mrs. L. G. Joiner, voice teacher at the college, sang several beautiful songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. Clara B. Evans, piano teacher in the music department.

Pupils and teachers were charmed with the reception and feel much closer drawn to the church activities than they have been before.

It is worthy of note that the pupils of the college are attending Sunday school and church services very regularly, notwithstanding the fact that church attendance this year is entirely optional. Many of the students are taking an active part in Bible study work at the college and in the Sunday schools of the town. A large number of the girls have united with the different churches.

MRS. NABORS HONORED

Recent Bride Of Birmingham Complimented In Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 14.—Special.—Mrs. Burr Nabors (nee Miss Lula Hawkins, of Birmingham), a recent bride, was complimented on Monday afternoon by a linen shower at the home of Mrs. Augusta A. Wilson. The hostesses were Misses Ella Peters and Martha Lee.

The home was beautifully decorated in yellow asters, brown-eyed susans, and goldenrod.

Little Miss Dorothy Thomas, of Aldrich, presented a huge yellow paper chrysanthemum full of useful and dainty gifts to the bride. After these were displayed, a delicious salad and ice course was served by Misses Elizabeth North and Lula B. Hawkins, of Birmingham, students at Alabama Technical Institute and College.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frank Stevens, and Mrs. Horace Shaw, sisters of Mrs. Nabors; Mrs. Wilbur North, and Miss Marie Allen, of Birmingham, and Mrs. D. A. Thomas, of Aldrich.

CHURCH WORK IS PLAN AT COLLEGE

Bishop Beckwith And Dr. Holbrook Inspect Field At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 15.—Special.—Bishop C. M. Beckwith, Montgomery, bishop of the Episcopal Church in Alabama, and Rev. P. C. Holbrook, of Farmville, Va., visited Montevallo this week to look over the field reached by the Episcopal mission church here. This field is of special interest to the churchmen because of the number of Episcopalians who attend Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Dr. Holbrook is at present rector of a church in a college community, that of the Virginia Industrial and Normal College, and has made a record as a church builder.

The laymen's church extension organization of the diocese of Alabama, of which Henry J. Whitfield, Demopolis, is president, has begun the financing of repairs on the church edifice in Montevallo. Members of the executive committee of this organization who recently visited Montevallo and authorized the repairs on this mission church, besides Mr. Whitfield, are Algenon Blair and Richard Randolph, Montgomery; Lee J. Clayton, Eufaula; George C. Oliver and Frank E. Feltus, Birmingham, and Julian Smith, Selma.

No greater outlay than is absolutely necessary will be made in repairing the church now in the hope of building a new one soon.

Bishop Beckwith, Dr. Holbrook and Judge E. S. Lyman, Montevallo layman, were luncheon guests Thursday of Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, October 11.—(Special.) Recognition service for the new members of the Young Women's Christian association at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was held Sunday night in the assembly hall at the dormitory, when every new girl in college became publicly affiliated with the association. Miss Annie Laurie Robertson, Clayton, led the service.

The procession of old members, all dressed in white, was led by Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena, president, followed by other members of the Young Women's Christian association cabinet bearing lighted candles. The new girls, also dressed in white, formed a procession while their candles were lighted as a symbol of the light of Y. W. C. A. activity they will carry forward. Miss Lillie Burkes, Wadley, accepted the responsibility on behalf of the new girls.

A violin solo, "Traumerel," by Schumann, was played by Miss Mary McConaughy, Montevallo.

CHURCH WORK IS PLAN AT COLLEGE

Bishop Beckwith And Dr. Holbrook Inspect Field At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 15.—Special.—Bishop C. M. Beckwith, Montgomery, bishop of the Episcopal Church in Alabama, and Rev. P. C. Holbrook, of Farmville, Va., visited Montevallo this week to look over the field reached by the Episcopal mission church here. This field is of special interest to the churchmen because of the number of Episcopalians who attend Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Dr. Holbrook is at present rector of a church in a college community, that of the Virginia Industrial and Normal College, and has made a record as a church builder.

The laymen's church extension organization of the diocese of Alabama, of which Henry J. Whitfield, Demopolis, is president, has begun the financing of repairs on the church edifice in Montevallo. Members of the executive committee of this organization who recently visited Montevallo and authorized the repairs on this mission church, besides Mr. Whitfield, are Algenon Blair and Richard Randolph, Montgomery; Lee J. Clayton, Eufaula; George C. Oliver and Frank E. Feltus, Birmingham, and Julian Smith, Selma.

No greater outlay than is absolutely necessary will be made in repairing the church now in the hope of building a new one soon.

Bishop Beckwith, Dr. Holbrook and Judge E. S. Lyman, Montevallo layman, were luncheon guests Thursday of Dr. T. W. Falmer, president of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Montevallo College Claims Eight Queens

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 31.—Special.—Eight former pupils of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women were among the 67 county queens in the Birmingham Semi-Centennial celebration: Miss Marie Jones, Coosa County; Miss Elizabeth Storrs, Elmore County; Miss Emma Ralls, Etowah County; Miss Eva Glenn, Houston County; Miss Marie Hinds, Marshall County; Miss Sara Owings, Pickens County; Miss Mary Alexander, Walker County.

Miss Faye Seale, Dallas County, while not a student in the college, had been a student in the training school of the college.

Probably no other college in Alabama had so many representatives among these beautiful county queens.

MISS YOUNG READS TO GIRL STUDENTS

Greensboro Author Appears Before Woman's School At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 22.—Special.—The old plantation darkies lived again before the eyes of the audience at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women to whom Miss Martha Young, of Greensboro, read a number of her original stories in dialect Friday night.

Miss Young's stories, both dialect and other types, are widely known and read, and her children's books have been used in teaching school children. Miss Young's reading of her negro dialect stories has been especially in demand in Northern states, but she could have had no more hearty a reception there than she received from the assemblage of college students and Montevallo folk Friday night.

Her first several short selections were taken from her new book, "Kodak at the Quarter," which is just off the press this week. Among her other books are "Plantation Songs," "Plantation Bird Lore," and "Behind the Dark Pines." "How An Old Man Got His Turkey for Christmas," was the first reading Miss Young gave, while one of the longer ones was "Aunt Cindy's Wedding—(the fourth one)." She kept her hearers laughing during nearly her entire program.

At Miss Young's request, three musical numbers interspersed her program. The first, reminiscent of the old plantation days, was "Old Black Joe," sung by the following quartet: Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Sibyl Painter, Birmingham; Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, and Belle Williams, Hartselle. Miss Williams sang a solo, "Juanita," preparatory to some love stories related by Miss Young, and later the quartet sang "My Old Kentucky Home."

Miss Young gave some readings at the chapel period Saturday morning. She came to Montevallo following the giving of several programs in Birmingham and went from Montevallo to Centerville, where she appeared Saturday night.

Field Work Introduced.

As a part of the program of study in the class in community welfare and playground supervision given in the education department at the college, the students are doing field work, introducing health programs into small rural schools where the work is sought. The students introduce the modern health crusade into the schools where they work, and aid the local teacher in carrying out the health program outlined in the "Manual of Physical Education" of the Alabama Department of Education. This includes calisthenics and the playing of games. Story telling is also a part of the students' work.

Friday afternoon Gladys Sturkie, Gadsden, and Kattie Gambill, Tusculum, introduced the work in the Wilton School, under the direction of Miss Rebecca Funk, teacher of play supervision at the college. Other parts of the work are under the supervision of Miss Myrtle Brooke and Miss Vera Paschal, of the education department.

RECITALS GIVEN AT MONTEVALLO

Programs Of Interest Are Offered By Student Classes At College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 31.—Special.—"Between the Soup and the Savory," by Flemming, is a one-act play given by members of the play production class, taught by Miss Vivian Monk at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, at an invitation performance for friends of the class members Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Miss Bessie Cleveland, Sugsville, coached the play and also took the part of the parlor maid. Miss Etta Vines, Bessemer, took the part of the cook, and Miss Maggie Dell Tucker, Catherine, that of the house maid.

The first of the student recitals in music took place Saturday afternoon at 4:30. Miss Louise Purefoy, Talladega, played "Mandolin Serenade, E Major," Bohm; Miss Eunice Kennedy, Birmingham, "Bouree," Handel; Miss Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen, "Autumn Landscape," Savino; Miss Sybil Painter, Birmingham, sang "A Little Pink Rose"; Carrie Jacobs-Bond. Another piano number was "Autumn Leaf," by Grutzmacher, played by Miss Lessie Allison, Gainesville. It was followed by a quartet number, "Nearer My God To Thee," Ashford, sung by Misses Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Sybil Painter, Birmingham; Lillian Crawford, Bessemer; Belle Williams, Hartselle.

The Rachmaninoff "Prelude, C Sharp minor," was next played by Miss Elizabeth Reid, Birmingham; "Midwinter," MacDowell, by Miss Ernestine Tatum, Calvert; Christmas Suite, by Turner, including "Prelude, Lullaby, March Grotesque, Impromptu, Album Leaf," by Miss Jewell Pardue, Saginaw. Miss Lillian Crawford sang the group, "Day is Gone," Margaret Lang, and "Heart of Mine," C. Leichter. The closing number was "Barcarolle," Nevin, and "March Grotesque," Sinding, played by Miss Marie Holladay, Gordonsville.

Students of the class in play production and community welfare at the college told fortunes and did other things to assist in making a success of the Halloween carnival Saturday night at the school at Ebenezer, a community six miles from Montevallo. The carnival was planned by the School Improvement Association of Ebenezer, a parent-teacher organization, in order to raise money for school needs. It was directed by Superintendent Murphee. Misses Evelyn Scott, Verbena, and Louise Hinton, Prattville, were the fortune tellers. Miss Vera Paschal, teacher of education, also assisted.

A presentation of the piano score for the opera, "Hansel and Gretel," by Humperdinck, together with the relating of the folk tale about these two children, Saturday morning formed one of the most interesting chapel programs given at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this year.

The program was presented by the music department, assisted by Miss Dorothy G. Richey, teacher of expression, who told the story of "Hansel and Gretel." Mrs. Burr Nabors (nee Hawkins) who is directing the music department, opened the program with an explanation of the work of the composer, and a demonstration of the various themes found in the opera score. Following Miss Richey's story, she and Miss Nell Murphee, another piano teacher, played the score on two pianos.

MONTEVALLO GIVES HALLOWEEN PARTY

Best Decorated Table Costing "Nothing" Wins Prize At College Event.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 7.—Special.—The graveyard which didn't cost anything got the prize. No, this isn't a typographical error. It is about a Halloween party at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, where a contest was held in decorating tables for a Halloween dinner in the dormitory Monday night. The beauty, ingenuity, and originality displayed on other tables would have delighted the heart of an "How-to-Give-Your-Party" editor.

The judges of table decorations considered originality, beauty and cost, and awarded the prize, a large basket of fruit, to the girls at Miss Dorothy Richey's table, for the most original. Most of the bare table was covered with brown paper on which was arranged a miniature graveyard with cedars, mosses, a pond, ghosts walking over the pebbles, earth and stake and ride fences, and among the tiny gravestones, made from an old white pasteboard box.

Even the black cat placecards were made from paper around kodak rolls, so that the cost of the decorations was "nothing." The students at Miss Richey's table are Carolyn Wall, Forest Home; Mary Patterson, Rogersville; Jewel Darden, Goodwater; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Kittle Gambille, Tusculum; Ellie Pearce, Guin; Elizabeth Mackey, Irondale; Louise Purefoy, Talladega, and Belle Williams, Hartselle.

Mrs. E. H. Phillips' table received the highest vote for the prettiest table, with Miss Ruth G. Stanton's second.

Following the dinner, the freshman class entertained the entire college with fairy tale and Mother Goose rhyme pantomimes. Amid a "flock" of witches and ghosts (freshmen) a procession appeared in pantomime. Miss Adele Mahler, Loxley, was the old witch who stood by her great cauldron and proclaimed each one on the scene. They were Cinderella, Polly Young, Selma; the old witch who enchanted her, Addie Scarbrough, Mt. Willing; her fairy god mother, Marion Grant, Comer; Jack and Jill, Gladys Menefee and Miriam Heiter, Mobile; Alladin, Louise Cathcart, Rehoboth; Little Bo-Peep, Annie Laurie Clay, Fulton; the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, Grace McCall, Opelika; her little boys and girls—about 25 other freshmen; Little Boy Blue, May Abercrombie, Petrey; Red Riding Hood, Ethel Williamson, Bessemer; Sleeping Beauty, Elinor Beasley, Bessemer; Jack Spratt, Mildred Nicholson, Collinsville; his wife, Jessie Hobbs, Morrison, Selma; Blue

Beard, Nancy Caldwell, Scottsboro; Little Miss Muffett, Willie Lee Reaves, Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS HEAR SELMA WRITER

Mrs. Chapman Delights Students and Faculty With Series of Lectures

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 10.—

That successful writing in the way the world today terms success, may be carried on as a domestic pastime is proved by Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, who is giving a series of three lectures on short story topics at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. She closed her series Tuesday night with her talk on "Trend of Writing in America Today." Her Monday night lecture embraced the theory and technique of the short story which she illustrated by reading some of her own stories.

Mrs. Chapman believes with some other Southern writers that the literature of this section of the country will receive more recognition from magazine publishers if they will write, not of old traditions, but of the people about them as they are living today.

Mrs. Chapman, a wife and mother, in the busy household of a practicing physician, who must contend with unreliable servants, yet finds time to write stories with the present day appeal which gets them in print.

"It's not easy to romanticize on the typewriter with your hands smelling of disinfectant," declared Mrs. Chapman. "In a doctor's household there is the constant interruption of the ringing telephone, too." One can well understand why she advocates concentration as an essential to the writer who would have his work published.

"Most of the time I give to writing is what other people would be giving to playing bridge, visiting each other, or entering into other amusements. People ask me what I have had to give up to be able to do my writing. I find that the chief thing is giving up some of the time formerly spent in reading," Mrs. Chapman explained. She quoted a modern writer who says that writing is now recognized as the most universal indoor sport, a game of chance.

It is not necessary to write lurid, bloodthirsty or sex stuff; neither does one have to go to a Boneman quarter. It is not right to have the country interpreted alone by those who live in Boneman atmosphere," she decries the idea of minimizing the value of American achievements in writing as well as in other lines, and the tendency to cater to patterns set by any other country.

"Patience, persistence, postage (some times return postage) are the three D's of writing," she said.

Mrs. Chapman's stories have been accepted by McClure's Grit, Navy Life, Southern Women's Magazine, and other publications. Her reading of "A Queer Distinction," "The Moulting Sea Gull" "Fate's Shirt Tail," and other of her productions was enthusiastically received. A number of her short stories have been reprinted in the form of gift books.

Coming to Montevallo from Judson College, Marion, Mrs. Chapman is on a tour of Southern colleges, one of which will be her alma mater, Shorter College, Rome, Georgia.

TRUSTEES TO MEET

Members Of Executive Board To Meet In Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 10.—Special.—The board of trustees of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will hold their semi-annual meeting in the library of the college on Monday, Nov. 14. The following are members of the board:

Gov. Thomas E. Kilby and State Superintendent of Education Dr. John W. Abercrombie, Montgomery; Judge W. H. Taylor, Uniontown; L. Sevier, Birmingham; W. J. Dansby, Butler; Dr. J. C. McLeod, Bay Minette; L. M. Mosely, Union Springs; L. M. Hooper, Selma; Judge M. A. Graham, Prattville; Mrs.

Edgar L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; Shelby S. Fletcher, Huntsville; Moses V. Joseph, Birmingham, and E. B. Fite, Hamilton.

Among other important matters to be discussed will be the consideration of the plans and specifications for the new library as prepared by Architect W. T. Warren, of Birmingham, and tentative four-year courses of study that will be submitted by the faculty. The college is giving a four-year degree course this year in home economics. A full four-year course in every other department is being worked out and will be acted upon by the board at this meeting.

Students To Offer Play At College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 10.—Special.—"Suppressed Desires," a one-act play by Susan Glaspell, was given as laboratory work by members of a class in expression before an audience in the auditorium at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Miss Dorothy G. Richey is expression teacher at the college. Her pupils who practiced "group work" on the Wednesday afternoon audiences were: Misses Edith Montgomery, Warrior, in the role of Stephen; Eulalia Bostick, Hamilton, as Mabel; and Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia, as Henrietta.

that is being conducted jointly by Auburn and Montevallo. Miss Tappan, head of the Extension work, left in the afternoon with Prof. Duncan for Chilton County to begin some demonstrations in that county. Chilton county is one of the first counties in this state to begin organizing for progressive movements in corn clubs, tomato canning, school improvement and other helpful enterprises that are accomplishing so much for the general good. Other counties will do well to look to Chilton.

Hon. Thomas A. Curry, of Clayton, made a short visit to his daughter, Miss Mary Annie Curry who is one of the most popular students in college.

Mrs. Bailey, Misses Born, Lee and Leeper motored to Birmingham on Monday. This is the most popular as well as cheapest way of going to the Magic City since the completion of the State highway.

The following young ladies from Blount County are now attending college: Misses Mary and Nellie Hallmark and Daisy Ingram of Oneonta and Miss Maggie Bowden of Selfville.

28 DRAMATIC CLUB TO PLAY AT BLOCTON

Sixteen Members Of Montevallo Organization To Appear Nov. 15.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 12.—Special.—A trip to Blocton Tuesday, Nov. 15, will follow the first formal appearance of the new dramatic club of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Monday night, when it will present three one-act plays. Sixteen of the 33 members of the new organization will appear on the "first night." Two Harvard Club plays and one by Zona Gale make up the evening. The work of the club this term is directed by Miss Vivian Monk.

In "The Rescue," the part of Aunt Elvira is taken by Miss Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; that of Anna Warden by Miss Annie Laura Robertson, Clayton, and Kate by Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer.

In the other Harvard play, "The Florist Shop," Maud is represented by Miss Lillou Burns, Bellen Ellen; Henry, Miss Mayme Thompson, Albertville; Mr. Slovisky, Miss Edith Montgomery, Warrior; Miss Wells, an old maid, Miss Lottie Reed, Tuscumbia; Mr. Jackson, Miss Willie Pridgen, Enterprise.

The characters in Zona Gale's "Neighbors," are taken as follows: Mis' Diantha Abel, Miss Charlotte Leeper, Chickasaw; Grandma, Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollins; Inez, Miss Mildred Martin, Bessemer; Mis' Moran, Miss Nena McDuffie, Attalla; Mis' Trot, Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham; Mis' Carry Ellsworth, Kittie Gambill, Tuscumbia; Peter, Miss Sybil Painter, Birmingham; Ezra, Miss Mabel Phillips, Florida.

The cast, reduced by three, will go to Blocton Tuesday evening to present the plays at No. 1 school of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co., the entertainment having been arranged by Daniel Harmon, principal. The club will be chaperoned by Mrs. T. W. Palmer, wife of the president of the college.

The first of the series of Sunday vespers recitals to be given by members of the faculty of the music department this year at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be given Nov. 13 at 4:30 by Mrs. Mabel Powers Taylor, piano, assisted by Miss Ruth G. Stanton, violin. Mrs. Taylor recently appeared in Selma under the auspices of the Music Study Club of that city.

ANNA CASE SINGS

Colorature Soprano To Appear Saturday In Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 18.—Special.—The coming of Anna Case, coloratura soprano artist, formerly with the Metropolitan Opera Company, to Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday night, Nov. 19, is expected to draw an audience from Columbiana, Centreville, Clanton and numerous nearby towns as well as from Montevallo and the college.

Miss Case has recently completed a second successful tour of the Pacific Coast States and far Western States.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, November 16.—(Special.)—The eclat with which 16 members of the new Montevallo dramatic club presented the three one-act plays, their first repertoire, brought out the statement that the productions were equally as good as those of other college dramatic clubs of the state. Other students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in the club will take part in other productions during the year.

The players were graciously received in Blocton Tuesday night and will probably be seen in Siluria soon. They have been invited to appear at Howard college, Birmingham, and have a number of other engagements in prospect. Compliments have been showered on Miss Vivian Monk, teacher of play production, who directs the players this term, and to whose untiring efforts Monday night's success is largely accredited.

The addition of music by the 19-piece college orchestra, directed by Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin, lent an appreciable finish to the evening's entertainment.

One of the hardest plays for amateurs attempted in many seasons is "The Rescue," by Rita Creighton Smith, widely recognized since its espousal by the Harvard Dramatic club. The characterization of Miss Elvira Warden was perhaps the most difficult role in the three plays and was thoroughly entered into by Miss Janice Fuquay, Alexander City.

The discriminating observer finds it hard to determine whether this part proves a harder piece of acting than that of "Slovisky," the Jew proprietor, in Winifred Hawridge's playlet, "The Florist Shop," another Harvard Dramatic club play, first on the programme. Slovisky was interestingly presented by Miss Edith Montgomery, Warrior.

Zona Gale's "Neighbors" presented eight characters, all of nearly the same importance and each claiming interest either for humor or pathos.

"Calkins hall" is the name bestowed upon the new music hall at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women by the trustees at their semi-annual meeting at the college Monday, November 14. The action was taken in loving and respectful memory of Charles Rendell Calkins, who served the college and the musical interests of the state untiringly for eight years prior to his death last August. A bronze tablet with suitable inscription was authorized to be placed on the building at a date to be announced later.

The trustees also approved a complete four-year course of study at the college. At present, four years of college work is offered only in the department of home economics, leading to the degree of bachelor of science in home economics. The executive committee was authorized to

MONTEVALLO MUSIC HALL IS CHRISTENED

Trustees Dedicate "Calkins Hall" to Memory of Former Music Teacher

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 16.—"Calkins Hall" is the name bestowed upon the new music hall at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women by the trustees at their semi-annual meeting at the college Monday, November 14. The action was taken in loving and respectful memory of Charles Rendell Calkins, who served the college and the musical interests of the state untiringly for eight years prior to his death last August. A bronze tablet with suitable inscription was authorized to be placed on the building at a date to be announced later.

The trustees also approved a complete four year course of study at the college. At present four years of college work is offered only in the department of home economics, leading to the degree of bachelor of science in home economics. The executive committee was authorized to prepare and announce details concerning the complete four year courses as soon as possible.

Plans and specifications for the new library building were adopted, and the president was authorized to advertise for bids for construction as early as possible. The matter of erecting a new home for the president was deferred until the meeting of the trustees at next commencement time.

The trustees offered resolutions of thanks to Victor H. Hanson, of the Birmingham News, W. S. Lovell, Birmingham, president of the Montevallo Mining Company, and Shelby S. Fletcher, of Huntsville for the scholarships they presented to the college last summer, which are all being made use of now.

Trustees present were: Judge William H. Tayloe, Uniontown; L. Sevier, Birmingham, both state-at-large; Mrs. Edgar L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, Sixth District; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden seventh district; M. V. Joseph, Birmingham, ninth district; John W. Abercrombie, Montgomery superintendent of education; C. L. Meroney, Montevallo, secretary and the land commissioner, Sol. D. Bloch, Camden.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS SING FOR PRISONERS

(Associated Press)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 22.—For the entertainment of the state prisoners at the mining camp at Aldrich, Alabama, a quartet from the music department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for women gave a song sermon Sunday afternoon, November 20.

Mrs. Luella G. Joiner, voice teacher and Miss Vivian Monk, teacher of play production, accompanied the quartet. Mrs. Joiner sang a solo "His Eye is as the Sparrow." She was accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Middleton, of Montevallo. Miss Monk gave the readings: "Pickin' up Wood" and a dialect piece, "Christmas Week in the Forties."

In the quartet were Misses Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Sybil Painter, Birmingham; Lillian Crawford, Bessemer; and Elizabeth Smith, Russellville.

MONTEVALLO SPENDS BUSY THANKSGIVING

Retiring Pastor of Methodist Church Is Presented With Good Purse

(Special to The Advertiser) 1921
MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 26.—Fuller activities than any school day was Thanksgiving at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Beginning with the Pilgrim choir of the Y. W. C. A. girls who sang hymns in processional from one end of the dormitory to the other at six o'clock, through the early morning Y. W. C. A. service, the basketball games before the big Thanksgiving dinner to the games in the gymnasium in the evening, there was a round of excitement.
Former students, relatives, and friends of the students thronged the college grounds.

Presentation of a substantial purse to Reverend W. K. Simpson, retiring pastor of the Montevallo Methodist church, and Mrs. Simpson, was one of the features of the Thanksgiving dinner in the dormitory dining room. Dr.
T. W. Palmer, president of the college, made the presentation speech. All of the ministers of Montevallo and their wives were among the guests of honor at the president's table.

Preceding the dinner, Mrs. Luella Gibson Joiner, voice teacher, gave a beautiful solo with which Miss Ruth G. Stanton, violin teacher, played a violin obligato. During the dinner, toasts and songs between the contest-ing classes in the basketball conflict were given. Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, president of the junior class, toasted the freshmen; Miss Gladys Martin, Enterprise, of the freshmen team, toasted the junior team. Miss Agnes Hardy, Newala, president of the freshman class gave a toast to the junior class.

At the Y. W. C. A. service immediately following breakfast, Reverend P. H.
Carmichael, of the Presbyterian church talked. The following members of the orchestra accompanied the hymns:
Misses Julia Turbeville, Centry, Fla.,
Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, and Miss
Stanton, violin; Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., cello; Charles Mahaffey, cornet. A quartet number was given Misses Margaret Neal, Heflin, Sybil

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, November 22.—(Special.)—The college orchestra of 19 pieces will play Saturday night, November 26, when the Montevallo Studiosis club presents "The Private Secretary" in the auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Taking part in the play will be six members of the college faculty, one officer, and four other Montevallo residents. The women members in the cast are members of the Studiosis and so are the wives of the two men from the college.

Studiosis members put tickets on sale early this week for the Saturday night performance, the proceeds of which they expect to devote to civic betterment plans.

Miss Dorothy G. Richey, teacher of expression, and a Studiosis member, is coaching the play.

"The Private Secretary" is said to be one of the funniest farces ever written. Therefore, an evening full of laughs is assured. The cast follows:

Douglas Cuttermole, Kermit Woolley; his uncle, Mr. Cuttermole, Rev.
P. H. Carmichael; Harry Marsland,
C. G. Sharpe; his uncle, Mr. Marsland, C. H. Mahaffey; the Rev. Robert Spaulding, W. J. Kennerly; Gibson, the tailor, Morris Watson; Mrs.
Steed, Douglas landlady, Miss Bernice M. Thrall; Miss Ashford, Miss Alice M. Baker; Edith Marsland, Miss Maude Cheek; Eva Williams, Miss
Mary D. Ford; Mary, the maid, Miss Vera Paschal.

Painter, Birmingham, Annie Carmichael of Hollins, Elise Foote, Kaplan, La. An evening of "feasts" and "spreads" followed an afternoon of visitors.

Among the former students at the college were Misses Jewell Hagood, Birmingham; Hazel Kytte, Morris;
Laura Martin and Mary Burt, Pitts-view; Lucia Tate and Elizabeth Storrs, Wetumpka; Annie Nabors, Goodwater;
Angela Hamilton, Warrior; Myrtis
Sealy, New Market; Edith DeShazo, Warrior; and Mrs. John E. Ward, Jr., of Verbena.

Other guests included: W. M. Smith,
Anniston; Mrs. C. W. Clay, Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilkins, children, Floy and Marie, Mrs. J. T. Wilkins, J. Morris Wilkins, Belle Ellen; D. M. Zeigler, Greenville; R. L. Ozley, R. E. Bowdon,
Caleria; D. B. Kern, Greenville; R. A.
Mitchell, Leroy Costner, Kathleen De-
Shazo, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. A.
K. Williamson, Mrs. M. W. Witter, Mrs.
J. A. Nabors, Frank White, Bessemer;
Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hardy, John Hardy,
Newala; Robert Sharpe, Hartselle; Mrs.
Woolsey Flnnell, Tuscaloosa; Mrs. G.
W. Sullivan, Orrville; G. E. Ensen, Isabel Jones, Martha Porter, Mary Makaye,
Frances and Charles Storrs, Wetumpka;
Miss Coye Cowden, Columbiana; Ford
Robinson, Jeff Bell, Roswell Owen, Lee
Head, Howard College; Percy Nicholson, R. M. Reaves, Auburn; D. R. Mc-Millan, Homer Walton, University of Alabama; Hubert Norris, Miss Bertha
Franké, Herbert Poole, Birmingham;
W. H. Lyman, Clanton; Mr. and Mrs. R.
V. Montgomery, Loretta Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hamilton, son Peyton, Rev.
H. C. Brown, Mrs. R. S. Adams, Warrior; Eary Bailey, Selma; Dr. C. Wall,
Forest Home; Dr. and Mrs. John E.
Ward, Jr., Verbena; Miss Ethel Moody,
Ashby; Miss Helen Moody, Russellville; High Hinson and Vice Tutt, Demopolis; Thomas O. Smith, Wilsonville;
Mr. and Mrs. Pelham Thomas, Ashby;
Joe Brunner, Ernest Leatherwood, Selma; John Atterbury, Tuscaloosa; Dr.
William Palmer, Coleanor; Arthur
Jones, Autaugaville; John K. Atterbury, Aliceville; Walter Eckford, James Killian, Oliver Morton, Montgomery; Misses Emma and Frances Roberts, Aurora Tilson, Eart, Oscar and Paul Huffman, Littleton.

JUNIORS WIN BASKET GAME AT MONTEVALLO

Montevallo, November 25.—(Special.)—The Juniors won the Thanksgiving basketball game at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women by two points over the freshmen. The score was 14 to 12. A harder fought game has likely never been witnessed on the college courts here. Winning this final game of the interclass tournament gave a silver loving cup, athletic association trophy, to the same class for the third year in succession. A new cup will be presented this year.

Though the freshmen fought the juniors every inch of the way, near the end of the first half several goals were made quickly, leaving the score 11 to 7 for the juniors. Only three field goals were made by the junior team, all being thrown by Miss Bessie Padgett, Brewton. Miss Ruth DeRamus, Verbena, made all of the foul goals.

The freshman score was built up by four field goals, the first of which was thrown by Miss Gladys Martin, Enterprise; the next two by Miss Odelle Carmichael, Hollins, and the last one, just before the final time was called, by Miss Elizabeth Palmer, Carson, who threw all of the foul goals for the freshmen. The agility of Sallie D. Johnson, Buhl, in her pass work, with Louise Willingham, Kellyton, and in jumping to knock the ball from much taller girls, was notable.

The junior line-up follows: Forwards, Bessie Padgett, Brewton, Ruth DeRamus, Verbena; Lula Mae Parsons, Bessemer; guards, Shirley Narramore, Prattville, Dorothy Schmidt, Linecln, Mattie Belle Stone, Oneonta; centers, Willie Pridgen, Enterprise,
Lola Meriwether, Plomaton, Louise Hinton, Prattville.

Freshman line-up: Forwards,
Gladys Martin, Enterprise, Odelle
Carmichael, Hollins, Elizabeth Palmer, Carson; guards, Luella Pierson, Montevallo, Agnes Hardy, Newala,
Mildred Moore, Selma; centers, Louise Willingham, Kellyton, Sallie D. Johnson, Buhl, Effie Pearce, Guin.

Montevallo High school boys played Wilsonville High on the college courts Thanksgiving morning, winning from Wilsonville by a score of 16 to 14.

College Orchestra To Give Program

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 23.—Special.—The college orchestra of 19
pieces will play Saturday night, Nov.
26, when the Montevallo Studiosis Club presents "The Private Secretary" in the auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Taking part in the play will be six members of the college faculty, one officer and four other Montevallo residents. The women members in the cast are members of the Studiosis and so are the wives of the two men from the college.

Studiosis members put tickets on sale early this week for the Saturday night performance, the proceeds of which they expect to devote to civic betterment plans.

Miss Dorothy G. Richey, teacher of expression and a Studiosis member, is coaching the play.

"The Private Secretary" is said to be one of the funniest farces ever written.
Therefore, an evening full of laughs is assured. The cast follows:

Douglas Cuttermole, Kermit Woolley;
his uncle, Mr. Cuttermole, Rev. P. H.
Carmichael; Harry Marsland, C. G.
Sharpe; his uncle, Mr. Marsland, C. H.
Mahaffey; the Rev. Robert Spaulding,
W. J. Kennerly; Gibson, the tailor, Morris Watson; Mrs. Steed, Douglas' landlady, Miss Bernice M. Thrall; Miss Ashford, Miss Alice M. Baker; Edith Marsland, Miss Maude Cheek; Eva Williams, Miss Mary D. Ford; Mary, the maid, Miss Vera Paschal.

HARDING SPEAKS AT MONTEVALLO

Professor Of Astronomy Gives Interesting Address At Girls' College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 24.—Special.—"None of us amounts to anything in comparison to the sun," declared Dr. A. M. Harding, professor of astronomy at the University of Arkansas, who delivered a lecture on astronomy before the students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Tuesday night. He backed up his statements by such illustrations as the following: If the earth were put in the center of the sun's shell, our moon could revolve around it and another moon twice as far away as our moon, all within the sun. Dr. Harding's lecture was doubly interesting on account of the slides shown throughout his talk. This was his fourth visit to the college.

Dr. Harding also told of a recently measured star, Betelgeuse in the constellation Orion, in the shell of which could revolve not only our little earth, but half of the solar system, if the sun were placed in the center of Betelgeuse.

He hooted at the theory of communicating by airplane with other planets because of the illimitable time required for the trips, saying it would take 125 years to reach Venus, going at the rate of 100 miles an hour, and an equally long time to return.

The first of his talk explained how the names of the planets were derived from those of Greek and Roman gods and how present theories about the solar system differed from those held by the ancients.

Play Is Presented.

"Joint Owners in Spain," a one-act play by Alice Brown, was presented by members of a class in play production at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The class is taught by Miss Vivian Monk. A small admission fee was charged which will go toward the fund for The Technala, the college annual.

In the play the characters were represented as follows: Mrs. Mitchell, keeper of the old ladies' home, Beatrice Brunson, Elba; the following inmates: Mrs. Fullerton, Lillie Burkes, Wadley; Mrs. Dyer, Addie Lee, Welsh; Mrs. Blair, Beuna Phillips, Inverness.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, November 22.—(Special.)—The college orchestra of 19 pieces will play Saturday night, November 26, when the Montevallo Studiosis club presents "The Private Secretary" in the auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Taking part in the play will be six members of the college faculty, one officer, and four other Montevallo residents. The women members in the cast are members of the Studiosis and so are the wives of the two men from the college.

Studiosis members put tickets on sale early this week for the Saturday night performance, the proceeds of which they expect to devote to civic betterment plans.

Miss Dorothy G. Richey, teacher of expression, and a Studiosis member, is coaching the play.

"The Private Secretary" is said to be one of the funniest farces ever written. Therefore, an evening full of laughs is assured. The cast follows:

Douglas Cuttermole, Kermit Woolley; his uncle, Mr. Cuttermole, Rev. P. H. Carmichael; Harry Marsland, C. G. Sharpe; his uncle, Mr. Marsland, C. H. Mahaffey; the Rev. Robert Spaulding, W. J. Kennerly; Gibson, the tailor, Morris Watson; Mrs. Steed, Douglas landlady, Miss Bernice M. Thrall; Miss Ashford, Miss Alice M. Baker; Edith Marsland, Miss Maude Cheek; Eva Williams, Miss Mary D. Ford; Mary, the maid; Miss Vera Paschal.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, November 25.—(Special.)—Fuller of activities than any school day was Thanksgiving at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Beginning with the Pilgrim choir of Y. W. C. A. girls, who sang hymns in processional from one end of the dormitory to the other at 6 o'clock, through the early morning Y. W. C. A. service, the basketball games before the big Thanksgiving dinner, to the games in the gymnasium in the evening, there was a round of excitement. Former students, relatives and friends of the students thronged the college grounds.

Presentation of a substantial purse to Rev. W. K. Simpson, retiring pastor of the Montevallo Methodist church, and Mrs. Simpson, was one of the features of the Thanksgiving dinner in the dormitory dining room. Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, made the presentation speech. All of the ministers of Montevallo and their wives were among the guests of honor at the president's table. Preceding the dinner Mrs. Luella Gibson Joiner, voice teacher, gave a beautiful solo with which Miss Ruth G. Stanton, violin teacher, played a violin obligator. During the dinner, toasts and songs between the contesting classes in the basketball conflict were given. Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, president of the junior class, toasted the freshmen; Miss Gladys Martin, Enterprise, of the freshman team, toasted the junior team. Miss Agnes Hardy, Newala, president of the freshman class, gave a toast to the junior class.

At the Y. W. C. A. service immediately following breakfast, Rev. P. H. Carmichael of the Presbyterian church talked. The following members of the orchestra accompanied the hymns: Misses Julia Turbeville, Century, Fla., Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, and Miss Stanton, violins; Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., cello; Charles Mahaffey, cornet. A quartet number was given by Misses Margaret Neal, Heflin, Sybil Painter, Birmingham, Annie Carmichael, Hollins, Elise Foote, Kaplan, La. An evening of "feasts" and "spreads" followed an afternoon of visitors.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, November 25.—(Special.)—Fuller of activities than any school day was Thanksgiving at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Beginning with the Pilgrim choir of Y. W. C. A. girls, who sang hymns in processional from one end of the dormitory to the other at 6 o'clock, through the early morning Y. W. C. A. service, the basketball games before the big Thanksgiving dinner, to the games in the gymnasium in the evening, there was a round of excitement. Former students, relatives and friends of the students thronged the college grounds.

Presentation of a substantial purse to Rev. W. K. Simpson, retiring pastor of the Montevallo Methodist church, and Mrs. Simpson, was one of the features of the Thanksgiving dinner in the dormitory dining room. Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, made the presentation speech. All of the ministers of Montevallo and their wives were among the guests of honor at the president's table. Preceding the dinner Mrs. Luella Gibson Joiner, voice teacher, gave a beautiful solo with which Miss Ruth G. Stanton, violin teacher, played a violin obligator. During the dinner, toasts and songs between the contesting classes in the basketball conflict were given. Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, president of the junior class, toasted the freshmen; Miss Gladys Martin, Enterprise, of the freshman team, toasted the junior team. Miss Agnes Hardy, Newala, president of the freshman class, gave a toast to the junior class.

At the Y. W. C. A. service immediately following breakfast, Rev. P. H. Carmichael of the Presbyterian church talked. The following members of the orchestra accompanied the hymns: Misses Julia Turbeville, Century, Fla., Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, and Miss Stanton, violins; Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., cello; Charles Mahaffey, cornet. A quartet number was given by Misses

Margaret Neal, Heflin, Sybil Painter, Birmingham, Annie Carmichael, Hollins, Elise Foote, Kaplan, La. An evening of "feasts" and "spreads" followed an afternoon of visitors.

SPEECH ON ASTRONOMY GIVEN IN MONTEVALLO

Dr. A. M. Harding Guest of Tech College; Play Is Presented

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 25.—"None of us amounts to anything in comparison to the sun" declared Dr. A. M. Harding, professor of astronomy at the University of Arkansas, who delivered a lecture on astronomy before the student body of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Tuesday night. He backed up statements by illustrations as the following: If the earth were put in the center of the sun's shell, our moon could revolve around it and another moon twice as far away as our moon, all within the sun. Dr. Harding's lecture was doubly interesting on account of the slides shown throughout his talk. This was his fourth visit to the college.

Play Is Presented

"Joint Owners in Spain," a one-act play by Alice Brown, was presented by members of a class in play production at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock. The class is taught by Miss Vivian Monk. A small admission fee was charged which will go toward the fund for the Technala, the college annual.

MRS. EVANS SINGS AT MONTEVALLO

Musicianship Characterizes Vesper Service At Col- lege For Girls.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 6—Special. Variety and sound musicianship characterized the vesper recital given by Mrs. Clara Browning Evans, member of the music faculty in the college auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this week. Mrs. Evans was assisted by Mrs. Luella Gibson Joiner, teacher of voice, and by Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin. A larger audience than usual at the vesper recitals was present.

Significant items about the composers whose work Mrs. Evans interpreted on her program were discussed and the compositions explained by her at the opening of the program. Artistic interpretation was a feature of her playing of the "Theme and Variations, Op. 34, F Major" by Beethoven. Her truly musical style was uppermost in her rendition of "Kamennoi Ostron, F. Sharp, Op. 10, No. 22" by Rubenstein, and "Andante Finale de Lucia di Lammermoor," Laschetisky, for the left hand alone, was remarkable for the singing quality of tone. Mrs. Evans graciously responded to insistent applause with an encore. Mrs. Evans' masterly technique and artistic finish distinguished the "Concerto, Op. 25, G. Minor," Mendelssohn.

The work of Miss Nell Murphree at second piano added to the artistic value of the concerto. Miss Murphree also accompanied Mrs. Joiner.

In the "Boats of Mine" by Miller, Mrs. Joiner's voice showed its unusual variety of tone quality and her interpretative ability and fine control made her entire group of four members especially pleasing.

Miss Stanton's artistry and feeling were beautifully expressed in her playing with Mrs. Evans for the opening number of the "Sonata for Violin and Piano, andante, allegro, adagio, allegro, by Handell.

Miss Elizabeth Lawson, St. Louis, Mo., field secretary for Y. W. C. A. work in Southern colleges, spoke to the students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this week concerning the needs of the student friendship fund to help students in Europe, which is being raised through the World's Student Christian Federation, with national headquarters in New York.

First term examinations at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women began Saturday morning and will end Wednesday afternoon.

MONTEVALLO SCENE OF TEACHERS' CONFERENCE

State Superintendent John W. Abercrombie Announces Home Economics Meeting

State Superintendent of Education John W. Abercrombie has announced a conference of teachers of vocational home economics, employed under the Smith Hughes Federal Act, to be held at Montevallo, December 9th and 10. This conference is in keeping with the state plan and makes effective requirements of the Smith-Hughes act which brings together the teachers of home economics education during mid-session for the purpose of planning their class work and community activities for the last semester of school.

The conference will be under the direction of Miss Ivor Spafford, State Supervisor of Home Economics, and will be held at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in order that the school's plant, as well as the services of the vocational instructor may be available.

Home economics education has received a great impetus under the administration of the state and federal vocational education acts, and the teacher-training department at Montevallo is offered a splendid opportunity for service through the program set up in the state plan. The college is taking advantage of the opportunity offered through a new course which deals with the home-making problem on the basis of actual work carried out in the home.

Dramatic Club To Play In Birmingham

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 8.—Special.—The Montevallo Dramatic Club, the three-months-old organization at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, which has made such a hit with its performances at the college and in neighboring communities and which is to appear at Howard College, Birmingham, Friday evening and at Bessemer High School Saturday evening, December 9 and 10, has been directed during its first term of work by Miss Vivian Monk. The three one-act plays to be given are "The Rescue," "The Florist Shop," and "Neighbours."

Miss Monk has had experience both as a director and as an actress, having played Admetus in the "Alcestis" of Euripides and Malvolio in "Twelfth Night." But Miss Monk is better known as the prominent player last year, in the "Black Friars."

When Professor E. Hudson Strode, of the University of Alabama, presented the "Black Friars" in Birmingham last April, Miss Monk played Mrs. Judd in "The Last Man In," and was highly praised for this role as well as for the other roles she gave in the prize play of the "Black Friars." At present Miss Monk, in addition to her classes in English, is teaching a college course in public speaking and play production, which has greatly stimulated the interest in college dramatics at Montevallo.

During the second term the dramatic club will be directed by Miss Dorothy G. Richey, head of the expression department. The two directors will unite their efforts for the club during the third term.

HOME ECONOMICS TEACHERS TO MEET

Prominent Speakers Address State Instructors At Mon- tevallo College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 9—Special. Among the speakers at the semi-annual conference of teachers of vocational home economics of the state at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 and 10, are J. B. Hobdy, state director of vocational education, Montgomery, who will talk Saturday evening on "Home Making in Alabama," and Miss Mina Willis, assistant state home demonstration agent, Auburn.

All of the members of the home economics faculty at the college have a part in the program as well as Miss Myrtle Brooke, head of the department of education, and C. G. Sharpe, agriculture.

Twenty vocational teachers will attend the conference.

Miss Ivor Spafford, state supervisor of vocational home economics, who is in charge of the conference, will outline the plans at the first session, 8 o'clock Friday morning, following which Miss Lois Beem, foods teacher, and Mr. Sharpe will discuss the care of pork in the home.

The afternoon session Friday includes outlining the course of study by Miss Spafford; "Class Room Management," Miss Margaret C. Jones, head of the home economics department; "How We Improve Our Rooms," Miss Lillian Bell, Wetumpka; "Our Dining Room," Miss Rebecca Paisley, Blountsville; "What Home Economics Departments May Mean to the School," Miss Laura Winters, Lineville; "Cooperation With the Agricultural Department," Miss Jean Ford, Hamilton; "The Community Fair," Miss Mozelle Boyette, Liberty, followed by a round table discussion.

Miss Willis, nutrition expert, will speak on "Nutrition Simplified" at the Friday evening session, after which Miss Brooke will speak on "The Home Economics Teacher in the Community." Saturday morning Miss Julia Lewis, Ragland, will discuss "How I Use Textbooks and Reference Books." Each teacher will tell of the best thing she has done in her work this year.

Miss Madge Johnson, teacher of home management, will discuss "Home Management in the High School;" Miss Elsie Richardson, teacher of textiles and millinery, will discuss "Teaching Textiles in the High School," while other topics for discussion during the morning are "Science Related to Home Economics," "Art Related to Home Economics," "The Greatest Difficulty in Making Home Economics Successful."

A demonstration lesson on teaching budgets and account keeping, by Miss Jones, will open the Saturday afternoon work. Miss Spafford will lead a discussion of lessons taught; Miss Annie Kemp, teacher of sewing, will discuss "Teaching Purchasing;" Miss Allene Bell, Blountville, "Tests and Examinations;" Miss Bess Stillwagon, teacher of dietetics, "Grading."

MRS. THOMPSON SPEAKS TO GIRLS IN MONTEVALLO

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 8.—Mrs. M. J. Thompson (nee Sadie Lenoir), Mobile, talked to the students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Wednesday night on "Applied Psychology."

Mrs. Thompson teaches a course on this subject which she presents in a series of lectures, but as she spoke for a short hour she was able to give the students only a few principles and fundamentals.

Students of applied psychology are not denying the omnipotence of God nor the divinity of Christ, but are simply using the power which he gives, she explained.

In showing the detriment of worry, she declared that, if the individual cannot provide a condition free from worry for the prospective mother, it should be provided by the state.

Mrs. Thompson said the purpose of her course is to help each one to overcome her individual short comings.

She was accompanied to Montevallo by her sister, Mrs. Charles N. Parnell (nee Lucy Lenoir, '06), Mapleville. Mrs. Thompson was one of the first students at the college.

Students Urged To Use Balanced Diet

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 12.—Special.—"If we wish our nation to be one of the greatest nations we must see that not only our boys and girls, but our men and women get milk to drink and vegetables and eggs to eat," said Miss Mina Willis, Auburn, state home demonstration agent and nutrition expert for the state department of education, in a talk before the student body at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday. Miss Willis in her comprehensive explanation of a balanced diet, said these three foods contain the vitamins necessary for proper bodily nourishment.

Miss Willis' talk came on the last day of National Education Week, the observance of which has been asked by the National Education Association and the American Legion. Aside from the routine at the college, various phases of education have been brought to the attention of the students this week, including the work done by teachers of vocational home economics in the high schools and grammar schools of the state. Miss Willis spoke at the conference Friday night.

Woman's College To Meet Montevallo Five

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 14.—Special.—The basketball team from Woman's College of Alabama, Montgomery, will play the varsity team from Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Friday afternoon on the college courts at Montevallo. Preparations have been made for the game either indoors or outdoors, according to the weather.

Since the Woman's College basketball tossers are accustomed to playing with a team of five, Montevallo girls are training down to a five-girl team. Their outdoor contest court has been made smaller for the convenience of a smaller team. In all their inter-class games Montevallo girls play with nine members to a team.

Great interest is being manifested among the basketball players, as the varsity team choices are not sure until the last minute just which five will take part in Friday's game. Miss Rebecca Funk and Miss Beulah Putnam are the coaches, who have trained the Montevallo girls in fine basketball form.

Woman's College Plays Montevallo In First Contest

BY TOM HALL. 1921

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 14.—Special.—Woman's College basketball team will open its season schedule Friday afternoon at Montevallo, in a game that promises to be one of the hardest on the local team's schedule. Interest between the two colleges is very keen, but friendly, and a real fight will probably be staged when the two teams clash.

Woman's College this season has a number of new players but Coach Earle Williams has been hard at work with the players and expects to send a strong line up against the Montevallo girls. Woman's College last year won the state championship among the college teams and expect to repeat again this season.

Three candidates are trying for the two forward positions, and one appears to have the job clinched. Mary Pugh has practically won one of the forward positions due to her ability to cage field goals at will, regardless of how close she is guarded. Ruth Self and Inna Mae Cochran are the other candidates, and both are good, and will be used in all of the games.

At the pivot position Ellen Maddox, a member of last year's team, has no competition as jumping center, while Maurine Richardson will be side center. This pair should work together as they are clever at playing the ball, and play well in blocking.

Norma Park, of Tuscaloosa, and member of last year's team, will be found again this season at one of the guard positions. Miss Park was recognized last year as being one of the best guards ever playing on a Woman's College team and already this season she has shown to advantage. She knows how to block and when it comes to passing the ball, she has no equal in this part of the state. Helen Jackson, who played such good ball in the class games last year, will have charge of the other guard position. Miss A. Walker is being used at various positions, and Coach Williams states that he will use Miss Walker in the utility role all season.

Games with Judson and Alabama will be obtained and other college teams in the South will be taken on this season, according to Coach Williams.

Sophs Entertain at Assembly.

Wearing sunbonnets of very dark blue with middy suits on backwards and comically drawn masks pinned over the backs of their heads, eight members of the sophomore class entertained the student body and faculty Wednesday morning at the assembly period at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The program for the morning was arranged by the sophomore class.

Miss Eulalia Bostock, Hamilton, read "My Rival," by Kipling, following which the backward lassies marched onto the stage, sang "Tuckey Home," made backward bows, and then skipped through a Virginia reel, ending with a "snake dance." They were encored so that they repeated a verse of the song and the backward bows. Miss Josephine Kilgore, Corona, was accompanist. The backward girls were represented by Misses Julia Turbeville, Century, Fla.; Georgia Spurlin, Demopolis; Jewell Darden, Goodwater; Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo; Cora Whaley, Opp; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Janice Fuquay, Alexander City.

Dr. Peck Honored.

Dr. Willena A. Peck, resident physician at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, is probably the first woman in Alabama to be elected president of a county medical association. Her election to the presidency of the Shelby County Medical Society took place at the meeting in Calera on Tuesday for the annual election of officers.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE TO PLAY MONTEVALLO

Friday Afternoon in Montevallo
the Two Basket Teams
Will Meet

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 14.—The basketball team from Woman's College of Alabama, Montgomery, will play the varsity team from Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Friday afternoon, on the college courts at Montevallo. Preparations have been made for the game either indoors or outdoors, according to the weather.

Since the Woman's College basketball tossers are accustomed to playing with a team of five, Montevallo girls are training down to a five-girl team. Their outdoor contest court has been made smaller for the convenience of a smaller team. In all their inter-class games, Montevallo girls play with nine members to a team.

Great interest is being manifested among the basketball players, as the varsity team choices are not sure until the last minute just which five will take part in Friday's game. Miss Rebecca Funk and Miss Beulah Putnam are the coaches who have trained the Montevallo girls in fine basketball form.

Entertainment Friday Evening.

Miss Ethel Priscilla Potter, characterized as an interpreter of literature, who is a graduate and past teacher at the School of Expression, Boston, will give an evening entertainment Friday, December 16, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. She will probably read a play by J. M. Barrie, and give other equally interesting interpretations.

Anna Bright Curry, dean of the School of Expression, Boston, says of her: "The higher pleasures of the art of poetry and drama may be assured in the living art of the spoken word, as interpreted by Miss Ethel Priscilla Potter." Appreciations of Miss Potter's Dunsany program given at Columbia University have been expressed by Milton J. Davies, of that university; Mrs. John Holley Clark, president of the New York Browning Society; Malcolm Green, member of Art, Canadian, Puddingstone, and Twentieth Century Clubs of Boston. The last named said: "In a democracy whose danger is mediocrity and an age that is too busy to appreciate beauty, Miss Potter has a real duty to perform."

Miss Potter's repertoire includes programs from Shakespeare, Drinkwater, Barrie, Dunasy, Percy Mackaye, Sutro, and a miscellaneous program of modern poetry.

Miss Potter is a graduate of Wellesley College, former teacher of expression at Wheaton College, Norton, Mass., and at Miss McClintock's School for Girls, Boston, and has served for two years on the play going committee of the Drama League of Boston.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS PRESENTED WITH CUP

Members of Class Basket Teams Given Letters, Also; Program Presented

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 16.—The silver cup won by the basketball team of the Junior class of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in the Thanksgiving game was presented to the team at a mass meeting Thursday afternoon in the college auditorium. Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, vice-president of the athletic board, made the speech of presentation on the part of the athletic board which offered the cup, and Miss Louise Hinton, Prattville, of the Junior team, made an address in acknowledgement. Since Miss Shirley Narramore, Prattville, is president of the athletic board and also captain of the Junior team, other officers took part in the presentation.

"M's", large purple-edged gold felt letters, were then presented to each member of the basketball teams from each class by Miss Mahaffey on the part of the athletic board. A rally for the Woman's College Friday game followed.

Musical Recital

Twelve piano pupils and one from the voice department will appear in the student recital at four-thirty o'clock December 17, in the music hall at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Miss Mary Ellis, Montevallo, will play a group. (a) "Little Rogue", Hoffman; (b), "Twilight", Helm; (c) "Messenger of Spring", Spindler. Miss Lucile Williams, Linwood, will play "May Morning", by Rogers. Miss Laura Carmichael, Hollins, "At Evening", Wright, and "Alle-gro in A Minor", Kolling; Miss Coralie Abernathy, Anniston "Athlone", Spross, and "Sing, Sing, Birds on the Wing", Nutting; Miss Epsie Gilchrist, Brantley, "Pastorale", Metcalfe; Miss Helen Boykin, Camden, "Etude Mognonne", Schutt; Miss Lucy May, Montevallo, "Legend of the Rose" Papini.

Two solo numbers, "In the Deep of the Daisies", Hawley, and "The Fragrance of a Rose", Brice, will be sung by Miss Margaret Neal Hefflin.

Three MacDowell compositions, "Hunting Song from 1 and 2 Etudes, Op. 39", "To a Wild Rose", and "Uncle Remus", from Woodland Sketches, will be the piano selections of Miss Martha Jane Montgomery, Birmingham, while Miss Julia Turbeville, Century, Florida, will play "Waltz" from Faust, Wichtl; Miss Nena McDuffie, Attalla, "Melody in D Flat", Huerter; Miss Elsie Foote, Kaplan, La., "Arlequine", Chaminade, and Miss Dorothy Speir, Greenville, "Second Mazurka", Godard.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE TRIMS MONTEVALLO

Local Girls Win Over Dr. Palmer's
Girls by Score of 23 to 18
Yesterday

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 16.—Woman's College basketball team won a hard fought game here this afternoon over the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, 23-18, the contest being one of the hardest fought ever staged on the local court. The close guarding of the visiting guards probably accounted for their victory, blocking the local's passes at will.

Montevallo players displayed unusual ability in passing the ball, making practically all of their passes overhead and this style of play worried the Montgomerians for a while. Miss Mary Lou Pugh carried of the honors for the visitors in scoring field goals, while the work of Miss Norma Park, at one of the guard positions was spectacular, playing close throughout and gave her opponent few trials for field goals.

The Woman's College players were entertained here tonight and will leave early Saturday for Montgomery, reaching there at noon.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE THREE PLAYS

Howard College Dramatic club will be host to the Montevallo Dramatic club December 9, in the college chapel.

The Montevallo Dramatic club has 33 members, with Miss Vivian Monk, director.

There will be three one-act plays, "Neighbors," by Zona Gale; "The Rescue," and the "Floral Shop," both Harvard plays.

This is the first time Montevallo has put on a play in Birmingham, and much interest is being manifested.

Two of the "cast" in the club are girls from Birmingham, Miss Sybel Painter, Lula B. Hawkins; Miss Mildred Martin and Miss Iva Pearl Ray are from Bessemer.

Howard hopes to make a good showing, as Montevallo did last spring when Howard players were guests in Montevallo.

The Howard players recently met and organized a dramatic club for the purpose of keeping up interest of dramatic work in the college.

The officers elected were: Miss Wilmer Wagner, president; Miss Florence Pass, secretary; B. R. Justice, treasurer; Orlando Ogle, ticket manager; Miss Gussy May Brasfield, stage manager; Miss Ruth Alexander, advertising manager, and Jones Stuart, news reporter.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

1921

Montevallo, December 22.—(Special.)—Honor rolls for the term ending December 5 at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, have been announced, with two girls tying for first place. Miss Helen Smith, Birmingham, college junior, and Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, college sophomore, both received 6 points. The next three on the honor roll were Misses Willie Pridgen, Enterprise, college senior, and Miss Rebecca Pruett, Hurtsboro, college freshman, who received 5.8 points, and Miss Eloise Andrew, Florala, college junior, with 5.7.

Two honor rolls are announced after each term by the dean, Miss Mary Goode Stallworth. The first contains the names of students whose averages are 4 points and above, and the second lists those who received between 3 and 4 points.

Christmas carols sung before day-break formed one of the most interesting of Christmas season activities at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this morning. Students of the voice department took part in a processional in every hall of the dormitory, afterwards singing before homes in the college neighborhood. This revival of an ancient Christmas custom bids fair to become established as a tradition at the college, which already has a tradition of singing hymns of thanksgiving throughout the dormitory before the rising hour on every Thanksgiving morning.

MONTEVALLO HAS WHITE CHRISTMAS

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 19.—A white Christmas was celebrated by the students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Sunday afternoon, December 18. The service was directed by the Y. W. C. A.

A large fir tree decorated in silver and tinsel ropes and glistening balls, and illuminated by frosted electric lights, was on the center of the stage in the college auditorium. Under the tree was deposited a collection of white-wrapped packages of clothing, money and other gifts for the Student Friendship Fund for the relief of poverty-stricken students in Europe.

A Christmas service in song, poetry, and prose was given. Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollins of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, read the Biblical selections of the service which portrayed the Christmas story and events in the life of Christ, while Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia, read the poetry prayer responses.

34
MONTEVALLO XMAS MARKED BY QUIET

Negroes Demonstrate the Noble Art of Catching Fowls to White Friends

(Special to The Advertiser.)

1921
MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 25.—Christmas is being spent very quietly at Montevallo by the few officers and students remaining here. The administration officers are taking advantage of this occasion to have some much needed repairs made, the most extensive of which is recovering the auditorium building. A fire proof covering is being put on, which will reduce the cost of insurance considerably.

The architect is advertising this week for bids for the erection of the new library building. This structure will be fire proof throughout and will be, when completed, the best arranged library building in the state, and will be in thorough keeping with the other splendid buildings of the college.

Several members of the faculty are visiting educational centers in various parts of the country with a view to studying questions that will be of interest to the college work next year.

The citizens of the community have relaxed from the strain of college activities and are indulging in a series of interesting village and country sports. The most attractive of these was the turkey and chicken trot given by Mrs. Mona M. Davies. From the top of her store were turned loose three turkeys and three chickens. On the legs of each was tied a trade ticket which could be used at the store. More than a thousand people were assembled on the street at the appointed hour. Robert A. Reid, Kermit Woolley and Mrs. Davies directed the freeing of the birds and with a megaphone directed the movements of the crowd. The race was a lively and exciting one for a few minutes. Olin Trussell captured one turkey and one chicken. One turkey flew directly into the residence of Mrs. L. C. Horn, and was of course "nabbed" by her. A boy from the country caught the third turkey. C. S. Day, Jr., and Bruce Rogan were the proud possessors of a chicken each.

Afterward a turkey and three chickens were turned loose for the negro population. They gave the whites a few pointers in the way of catching fowls—in less than ten seconds the turkeys and chickens were caught and spirited away.

MONTEVALLO HAS QUIET CHRISTMAS

Repairs Being Made on College Buildings — Plan
New Library 1921

Montevallo, December 25.—(Special.)—Christmas is being spent very quietly at Montevallo by the few officers and students remaining here. The administration officers are taking advantage of this occasion to have some much-needed repairs made, the most extensive of which is recovering the auditorium building. A fireproof covering is being put on, which will reduce the cost of insurance considerably.

The architect is advertising this week for bids for the erection of the new library building. This structure will be fire proof throughout and will be, when completed, the best arranged library building in the state, and will be in thorough keeping with the other splendid buildings of the college.

S. G. Sharp, director of the dairy, has made arrangements to dispose of the products of the dairy in Birmingham until school reopens on January 3. Seven thoroughbred registered Holsteins have just been added to the college herd.

Several members of the faculty are visiting educational centers in various parts of the country with a view to studying questions that will be of interest to the college work next year.

The citizens of the community have relaxed from the strain of college activities and are indulging in a series of interesting village and country sports. The most attractive of these was the turkey and chicken trot given by Mrs. Mona M. Davies. From the top of her store were turned loose three turkeys and three chickens. On the legs of each was tied a trade ticket which could be used at the store. More than 1,000 people were assembled on the street at the appointed hour. Robert A. Redd, Kermit Woolley and Mrs. Davies directed the freeing of the birds, and with a megaphone directed the movements of the crowd. The race was a lively and exciting one for a few minutes. Olin Trussell captured one turkey and one chicken. One turkey flew directly into the residence of Mrs. L. C. Horn and was of course "nabbed" by her. A boy from the country caught the third turkey. C. S. Day, Jr., and Bruce Rogan were the possessors of a chicken each.

Afterward a turkey and three chickens were turned loose for the negro population. They gave the whites a few pointers in the way of catching fowls; in less than 10 seconds the turkeys and chickens were caught and spirited away.

MONTEVALLO HAS QUIET CHRISTMAS

Repairs Being Made on College Buildings — Plan
New Library 1921

Montevallo, December 25.—(Special.)—Christmas is being spent very quietly at Montevallo by the few officers and students remaining here. The administration officers are taking advantage of this occasion to have some much-needed repairs made, the most extensive of which is recovering the auditorium building. A fireproof covering is being put on, which will reduce the cost of insurance considerably.

The architect is advertising this week for bids for the erection of the new library building. This structure will be fire proof throughout and will be, when completed, the best arranged library building in the state, and will be in thorough keeping with the other splendid buildings of the college.

S. G. Sharp, director of the dairy, has made arrangements to dispose of the products of the dairy in Birmingham until school reopens on January 3. Seven thoroughbred registered Holsteins have just been added to the college herd.

Several members of the faculty are visiting educational centers in various parts of the country with a view to studying questions that will be of interest to the college work next year.

The citizens of the community have relaxed from the strain of college activities and are indulging in a series of interesting village and country sports. The most attractive of these was the turkey and chicken trot given by Mrs. Mona M. Davies. From the top of her store were turned loose three turkeys and three chickens. On the legs of each was tied a trade ticket which could be used at the store. More than 1,000 people were assembled on the street at the appointed hour. Robert A. Redd, Kermit Woolley and Mrs. Davies directed the freeing of the birds, and with a megaphone directed the movements of the crowd. The race was a lively and exciting one for a few minutes. Olin Trussell captured one turkey and one chicken. One turkey flew directly into the residence of Mrs. L. C. Horn and was of course "nabbed" by her. A boy from the country caught the third turkey. C. S. Day, Jr., and Bruce Rogan were the possessors of a chicken each.

Afterward a turkey and three chickens were turned loose for the negro population. They gave the whites a few pointers in the way of catching fowls; in less than 10 seconds the turkeys and chickens were caught and spirited away.

MONTEVALLO HAS UNUSUAL RECORD

Sends Large Proportion of Young Inhabitants to College Who Are Doing Well

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 27.—

Montevallo probably sends more students to college than any other town of its size in Alabama. There are fourteen young men attending college this session—two at Georgia Tech, two at Alabama, three at Auburn, two at Naval Academy, Annapolis, one at Marion Institute, one at Berry School, Rome, Georgia; two at John B. Stetson University, Deland, Florida; and one at the Military Academy, Lebanon Tenn.

Paul Lyman is a junior at Tech, and is a star football player on that noted team. James Johnson is a sophomore at Tech, and is taking an electrical engineering course.

Edwin Watson and Edgar Givnan are members of the junior and freshman classes respectively at Alabama.

J. W. Bandy, Jr., and Yeager Horn are both sophomores and Raymond Reaves a junior at Auburn.

Jack DeShazo is a fourth classman at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and his brother, Tom, is a student at Marion Institute preparing to enter Annapolis in June. To this position was recently appointed by Congressman Jeffers. If Tom succeeds in entering the Naval Academy, it will be the first time in the history of the state that two brothers will have attended that institution at the same time. They are sons of George DeShazo, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Shelby county.

Joe Davies is a third classman at Annapolis. Hence, Montevallo may soon have three representatives in this academy, a record never made before by an Alabama town.

Ewell Davies, a brother of Joe Davies, is a senior at Berry School, Rome, Georgia, and is considering entering the Naval Academy or West Point in the future.

Bruce Rogan is a student at the Military Academy at Lebanon, Tennessee. Lathan and John T. Ellis, Jr., are attending John B. Stetson University at Deland, Florida.

Four young women, all graduates of Montevallo, are this year taking special advanced courses in other institutions. Miss Eloise Meroney is a candidate for the master of arts degree in English at Columbia University, New York. Miss Gladys Jones Williams is a member of the senior class in library work at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York. Miss Annie Mary Jones Williams is a senior and Miss Lula Palmer a junior in the arts and science course at the University. The reports of these students show that all of them are making high records in their respective institutions.

With the exception of the two young women who are attending college in New York, and the two boys in Florida, they are spending the holidays with their parents in Montevallo and are adding much to the social life of the community.

Miss Eloise Meroney, of Columbia University, is spending the Christmas season with classmates in Boston, and Miss Gladys Jones Williams, of Pratt Institute, is dividing her holiday time with college friends in Brooklyn and New York.

IMPROVEMENTS AT MONTEVALLO MADE

Library Under Construction and Presidential Mansion Planned; Teachers Returns

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 31.—College activities have been rather strenuous for the few who remained on duty during the holidays. Many improvements have been made in the way of repairs and the accumulation of supplies for the new term.

The ruins of the president's home that was destroyed by fire are being removed. The new residence will not be erected until after the completion of the new library building.

Officers and teachers are returning daily and many pupils will come on January 2, and all will be here by the third. Applications have been received for several new students.

Among the officers who have already returned are the two matrons, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Heatfield; Secretary to the president; Miss Florence L. Boyd, manager of the supply store; Miss Georgie Leeper; Food supervisor, Miss Anna Irvin, and her assistant, Miss Sara Apperson; the librarian, Miss Fannie Taber.

Among the teachers are C. G. Sharp, W. J. Kennerly, Miss Dilla, Mrs. Joiner, Miss Stallworth and Mrs. Nabors. Others will arrive in a day or two. Recitations will be resumed promptly at 8 o'clock on January 4th.

Miss Stella Palmer, director of Home Economics for the University and the state of Arkansas, is spending her vacation with her parents at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The bulletin on "Vitamins", recently published by her and others, has attracted wide attention throughout the United States.

Miss Louesa J. Keyes, former director of Domestic Science at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, now professor of Home Economics at Rushton, La., is visiting Misses Funk and Putnam during the vacation period. Her many friends in Montevallo are extending her a cordial welcome.

FORMER STUDENTS ADD ZEST TO SOCIAL LIFE

Alumnae of Montevallo Are Home
For the Holidays; Many Are Teaching in State

(Special to The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 31.—

The social and intellectual life of the town of Montevallo has been much enlivened during the holidays by the return of many of the young women teachers in other parts of the country to spend the vacation with the "folks at home." These young women are all former students of the college, and their presence at one time reminds one of an alumnae reunion.

Among these may be mentioned: Kathleen DeShazo, a grade teacher in one of the North Birmingham schools; Miss Mabel Hoskin, teaching at Cuba, Sumter county; Miss Grace Lyman, teacher of home economics in the Roanoke high school; Miss Louise Latham, grade teacher in one of the Anniston schools.

The Shelby county high school at Columbiana has three teachers from Montevallo—Miss Mary Peters, English; Mrs. Jatie Lawrence Middleton, Music; and Miss Mary Lyman, History and Mathematics.

Miss Overton Peterson is a member of the faculty of the Normal college at Livingston and is the head of the physical education department.

Miss Stella Palmer is the director of home economics for the University and the state of Arkansas.

Miss Vera Mauldin is a grade teacher at Boothton, and is a member of the county board of education of Shelby county. She is one of the very few women members of any county boards, and is the youngest member of any board in the state.

Miss Helia Yeager is in charge of the home economics work in one of the Jefferson county schools. Miss Louise Fullman has grade work in another school in that county. Miss Carrie Head is one of the teachers at Dora, Walker county.

Miss Annie Mary Jones-Williams was a teacher last year in the Sumter county high school at Cuba. Miss Mildred Meroney was the home economics teacher in Talladega high school last year.

Miss Maude Ellzey is engaged in high school work at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Mrs. Laura Lyman Woods, of Clanton, and Mrs. W. E. Wofford, of Cartersville, Ga., though not teaching now, were prominent members of the faculty of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for several years. They gave up the profession of teaching and entered the marital state. With their very interesting little children they are enjoying the holiday season here with their parents.

MISS SPAFFORD AT MONTEVALLO SCHOOL

First Conference For Instruction in Vocational Home Eco- nomics Is Held

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 12.—The first conference for instruction during the present school year conducted by Miss Ivol Spafford, Montgomery, state supervisor of vocational home economics, took place Friday and Saturday at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo. Fourteen school districts, both rural and city, were represented by fifteen teachers. Value of home economics as a community factor was emphasized. The teachers will spread this idea. Desirable revision in the course of study based on results of the work of the school year up to the present time was discussed and planned under Miss Spafford's direction. Experiences of the teachers with their various problems, including finance, were given. Schools employing these teachers derive part of their maintenance from the Smith-Hughes act of the United States congress. Since the appropriations are not often large enough to provide all equipment necessary for home economics laboratories, the teachers devised various means to raise money.

Miss Jenele Strickland, Abbeville, netted $33.00 for her school at a sale at a county fair of sandwiches and other edibles prepared by her pupils. Another teacher conducted a kitchen shower. She interested the townspeople in the needs of the school home economics laboratory. Mothers of the pupils and others interested in school welfare were invited to a tea at the school, to which they brought nearly every item of equipment needed.

Work in charge of the state supervisor of home economics, Miss Spafford, is three-fold-supervising, teacher training and teaching. The teacher training is conducted at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Students in the advanced classes in home economics, many of whom expect to be teaching next year, also attended the conference. Part of the instruction was given by Miss Anna Belle Robinson, head of the home economics department, and Miss Gail Burfield, supervisor of the practice home.

Those not previously mentioned, who attended the conference and the places where they teach were as follows:

Misses Lovie Martin, Jasper; Rosa Walker, Dothan; Laura Winters, Lineville; Jean Ford, Hamilton; Maude Sandlin, Albertville; Rebecca Paisley and Allene Belle, Blountsville; Mary Alice Walker, Tallassee; Mary Willard Hall, S. laauga; Lillian Bell, Wetumpka; Florence Lewis, Evergreen; Minnie Slone, Athens; Julia Lewis, Ragland; Katherine Jones, Montgomery.

DR. PALMER VISITOR AT STATE CAPITOL

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, at Montevallo, who spent some time at the capitol Thursday, is making elaborate plans for the next annual convention of the state educational association.

This convention will be held in Montgomery, for three days, beginning on the last Thursday in April, 1921. Dr. Palmer, who is chairman of the association's executive committee, states he expects to be able to secure the services of a number of speakers of national reputation, who will deliver a series of addresses during the three days the convention is in progress.

SOCIALIST ELECTED

BERNE SWITZ, Dec. 9—Gustave

MONTEVALLO

College sophomores at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women won the closely matched basket ball game from the college freshmen team Thanksgiving morning. The score was 8 to 5. Much excitement occurred when the teams tied 5 too 5 during the second half of the game. The winning team won last year when they as freshmen played the "sophs," now the college juniors, so they have won the loving cup two consecutive years. This cup is presented by the athletic board made up of representatives from each class and the student body at large.

Many parents and other relatives and friends visited the students for Thanksgiving day. A large number of them partook of the elaborate Thanksgiving dinner in the college dormitory. During the dinner, toasts were given by team members. The basket ball team of each class in the college and preparatory school were seated at a special table, decorated with the class colors and unique and appropriate mementoes of the inter-class basket ball tournament, ended by Thursday's game. Purple and white banners and streamers for the freshmen and black and gold emblems for the sophomores, the unbeaten class, were displayed everywhere possible on the campus as well as on the main street in Montevallo.

Toasts at the dinner were made by Miss Padgett, to the freshmen; Miss Quarles, to the sophomores; Miss Louise Willingham, captain of the fourth-year high school basket ball team, to the Sophomores; Lucille Crabtree, to the juniors; Sara Farriss, captain of the college junior team, to the freshmen and sophomores; Miss Palmer, to Thanksgiving, and Miss Anna Irvin, food supervisor.

Addresses were made by H. H. Jones, Centreville, superintendent of schools in Bibb county, and J. S. Lambert, Montgomery, member of the state department of education.

Among the many relatives and friends who visited students Thursday were Mrs. W. D. Spurlin, Demopolis; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lambert, Montgomery, Mrs. N. B. Arnold, and Mrs. J. Nabors, Goodwater; Mr. and Mrs. J. McCarty, Ensley; N. R. Baker, superintendent of Education in Jefferson county, and Mrs. Baker; Mrs. T. W. Aperson, Elmore; Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Ashby; Mrs. J. H. Lawrence, Gadsden; Miss Annie Lee Mason, Birmingham; Charles Dunn, Crichton; Oree W. Jones, Birmingham; Jake Marcus and Robert Tate, Camden; Mrs. J. B. Blanton, Selma; Mrs. P. C. McRee, Lowndesboro.

capitality. people
+ +
Some 800
Expression Recital Enjoyable Occasion—

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., April 6.—Miss Myrtle Spradley of Florala, Ala., a member of the Senior Class at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, Ala., who completes a course in expression this year, presented her original arrangement of "The Prince Chap," by Edward Peple, Monday evening at the college chapel. Miss Spradley was deservedly received with much enthusiasm. Her interpretation of the seven characters in the story was done with careful delineation.

She divided the story into three acts, in the first of which the child, Claudia, six years old, is given as a ward to William Peyton, an American sculptor in London. In the second act, Claudia is eight years old, and in the last, eighteen.

Other characters which Miss Spradley represented in the course of the reading were; Jockney Rodney, the Earl of Huntington; Mrs. Arrington, Claudia's mother; Alice Travers, the fiancee of Peyton; Marcus Runion, an English serving man; Phoebe Puckers, a maid in the studio building. Her use of dialect was brought in appropriately in characterizing the last two.

EDUCATORS TO MEET

President of Alabama Association Calls Session for Thanksgiving

Montevallo, November 18.—(Special).—President Palmer, chairman of the executive committee of the Alabama Educational association, has called a meeting of the county superintendents of Bibb, Chilton and Shelby counties for Thanksgiving Day at the college to consider the reorganization plans of the organization. It is expected that all the superintendents will attend.

SSPI

37

1922

LOCAL COLLEGE FIVE TO MEET MONTEVALLO

Cage Fans Assured of Real Contest at Massey Gymnasium
January 19

By Thomas Hall

Local cage fans are assured of a real treat when the Woman's College basketball team clashes with the Montevallo team at Massey gymnasium on January 19. Final arrangements for this game have been completed, according to announcement made Wednesday by Coach Earl Williams, of the Woman's College team. The two teams met recently, with the local team a winner by a few points.

Coach Williams has resumed basketball practice with varsity players, and expects to be able to give the Montevallo team a hard fight. The varsity players this week have been lined up against the scrub players.

Coach Williams has three players for the forward positions, Mary Pugh, Ruth Self and Ina Mae Cochran. They have played together for a number of years, and their team work is almost perfect. Miss Pugh last year won recognition throughout the state by her playing, creating a new record at the local college for individual scores. Miss Self and Miss Cochran cover the floor well, and when given any kind of opportunity for field goals, usually make good.

Woman's College plays their games by girl's rules, and for this style of play, Coach Williams is forced to use two players at center. Miss Ellen Maddox, member of last year's team, and Miss Maurine Richardson, a substitute of last year, have won the center positions. Both are aggressive and play a good defensive game, their work in the opening game of the season being spectacular.

Miss Norma Park and Miss Helen Jackson take care of the guard positions, the former being a member of last year's team, and picked by many scribes as being the best college girl guard in the state. Miss Jackson played brilliantly in the class games last season, and Coach Williams believes she will be one of the best at the college this year. Miss A. Walker, a substitute of last year, is being used at every position this season, and has shown up well wherever used, and is sure to play regular before the season is over.

Coach Williams has not completed the team's schedule, but it will include games with the leading college teams of the south. The basketball mentor has received a number of letters for games, but will not take on any teams this year unless of college standing. Games for the scrub team have been arranged and will be announced later. The scrub team this year is one of the best ever organized at the college, having met with only one defeat this season, this being at Selma by Central Business College, but the Selma team was defeated by the locals in the early part of December by a big score.

TECH NEXT TACKLED BY ALABAMA CAGE ARTISTS

Mid-Year Examinations Now in Progress Seriously Interfere With Basket Practice

By BILLIE FREEMAN.
(Special to The Advertiser)

UNIVERSITY, ALA., Jan. 11.—The B. A. C. game having become history, the Crimson cage artists are now priming up for the clash with Georgia Tech's quintet which will take place here Saturday night. In the B. A. C. game some of the highest type of basketball ever seen here was witnessed, proving the fact that a new era for the winter game has arrived at the University. Basketball has now established its place along with football and baseball in the interest of the fans.

The mid-year examinations which are now in progress at the University are seriously interfering with practice this week, which is more serious because of the hard game with Tech, scheduled for Saturday night. However, every minute the men can spare from their studies and exams they are spending on the gym floor preparing for the event.

In the three games played this season the Crimson have conducted themselves very admirably, and last Saturday night played one of the finest and prettiest games ever seen here. The first interstate game will be the Tech game and the interest is unusually keen. Captain Brewster and his team mates will meet a well drilled team when they encounter Hudson, McGauley and Company. Whether Duckworth or Eckford is used at center, he will meet a hard opponent in "Slim" Carter, the Crimson center who met and downed some half dozen B. A. C. centers Saturday night. Carter is good at tip off, fast on his feet, and an accurate cager. McGauley, a two-year star at forward, has a good running mate in Stabler, a new man who made all-state high school team last year. The intelligent and consistent playing of Gazzola at guard is a delight to all lovers of basketball.

The season so far has been broken into by Christmas holidays, exams, etc., but next week the road will be cleared of all interruptions and the season will begin in earnest.

Miss Richey Gives Impersonation To Montevallo Students

(Special to the Times-Journal.)

Montevallo, Jan. 14.—An impersonation of the two-act drama, "The Man who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France, was given by Miss Dorothy G. Richey, head of the expression department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Saturday night, January 14, in the college auditorium.

Miss Richey was able to give interesting distinction to each of the six masculine and three feminine characters in the drama, which is laid in mediaeval times. Impersonation of Catherine, the dumb wife who was given speech, requires unusually rapid speaking, and this difficult role was handled by Miss Richey with most finished art. Her attractive stage presence and vivacious personality added to her charm as a reader.

Miss Richey was assisted by eight students in mediaeval costume who gave three dances during the reading, which were reminiscent of the time in which the story took place. The students were Misses Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo; Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Josephine Kilgore, Corona; Mayo Pardue, Saginaw; Nena McDuffie, Attalla; Jean Collins, Birmingham; Evelyn Scott, Verbena; Louise Hinton, Prattville; Miss Elise Foote, Kaplan, Louisiana, played the piano accompaniments.

MONTEVALLO COLLEGE

Montevallo, January 14.—(Special.) An impersonation of the two-act drama, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France, was given by Miss Dorothy G. Richey, head of the expression department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Saturday night, January 14, in the college auditorium.

Miss Richey was able to give interesting distinction to each of the six masculine and three feminine characters in the drama, which is laid in mediaeval times. Impersonation of Catherine, the dumb wife who was given speech, requires unusually rapid speaking, and this difficult role was handled by Miss Richey with most finished art. Her attractive stage presence and vivacious personality added to her charm as a reader.

Miss Richey was assisted by eight students in mediaeval costumes, who gave three dances during the reading, which were reminiscent of the time in which the story took place. The students were: Misses Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo; Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Josephine Kilgore, Corona; May Pardue, Saginaw; Nena McDuffie, Attalla; Jean Collins, Birmingham; Evelyn Scott, Verbena; Louise Hinton, Prattville. Miss Elise Foote, Kaplan, La., played the piano accompaniments.

Students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be given a second chance this year to try out for membership in the Montevallo Dramatic club at the public tryout Monday evening, January 23, in the college auditorium. The majority of the 33 members have al-

Montevallo Students Celebrate Birthdays Webster, Franklin

(Spécial to the Times-Journal)

Montevallo, Jan. 14.—To commemorate the approaching birthdays of Benjamin Franklin and Daniel Webster, members of a class in spoken English at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women conducted a program at the chapel period Wednesday, January 11.

Miss Kate Patton, Gordo, told some facts about the life of Franklin, who was born January 17, 1706; Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, related some of the most interesting proverbs from Franklin's famous "Poor Richard's Almanac"; Franklin's dialogue with the Gout was read by Miss Janice Fuquay, Alexander City, taking the part of Franklin and Miss Jewel Darden, Goodwater, taking the part of the Gout.

Miss Helen Smith, Birmingham, told of the life of Daniel Webster, who was born January 18, 1782, and Miss Edith Montgomery, Warrior,

Woman's College Play Montevallo Girls Thursday

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 17.—Special.—Woman's College basketball team will usher in their local schedule Thursday night when they play the Montevallo girls. The coming game promises to be one of the hardest fought games of the season, both teams being evenly matched. The rivalry between the two institutions is keen, but friendly, and supporters of both teams predict a real scrap.

Woman's College recently defeated the Montevallo girls by a close score, the locals being forced to extend themselves in the last few minutes in order to obtain victory. Coach Williams has been putting his warriors through hard practice for the past two weeks, and with the players improving in their playing, the local mentor is confident of victory.

SIDNEY LANIER girl's triumph over the Fifth District girls here last week has caused considerable comment by local cage fans, many believing that the Lanier quintet this season is the best ever organized at the school. The players have a splendid defense, while Nell Hagedorn and Louise Strelble, forwards, have shown usual ability in caging field goals.

THE PENNANT winner for the first half of the Sunday School League will be decided this week, when the Baracas and Court Street Methodist teams clash. The league closed last week, and both of these teams were tied for the honors, each having lost two games. The second half of the schedule will start Jan. 26.

CITY LEAGUE baseball officials are expected to hold their annual meeting within the next few days, at which time officers will be elected for the year. Those interested in the league declare that this year's league operation will be the best ever, four clubs forming the league. Last year the Montgomery Light & Water Power team won the championship. Last year Judge Walter B. Jones, of the circuit court, acted as president of the league and if reports are true, he will be re-elected again.

MONTEVALLO ISSUES HOUSEHOLD BULLETIN

Menus and Cooking Included;
Course at Summer School Is Announced, Also

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Jan. 17.—Every menu served on every day in October, 1921, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is published in a recently issued bulletin, "Menus for College Women," a copy of which will be sent free to any parent or housekeeper in Alabama on request to the secretary of the college.

This unique bulletin carries a foreword by the president, Dr. T. W. Palmer, and an explanation of the difficulties of feeding a family of four hundred by Miss Anna Irvin, food supervisor. The bulletin also announces the summer school which will be held from June 7 to July 19.

Among the courses the bulletin announces for the summer school are those for extension of teachers' certificates; for high school graduates leading to provisional certificates; intensive courses for preparation for state examination for teachers' certificates; special courses for playground supervisors; special courses for teachers of home economics; courses in public school music and piano, and the regular academic courses for credit or for removal of conditions.

Girls Hear Carmichael.

Omer Carmichael, head of the public schools of Selma, Ala., who has been asked to be director of the summer school at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, talked at the Y. W. C. A. service at the college Sunday afternoon, January 15. One of the ideas that he presented was that life is fuller in later years if it is lived fully in youth. He believes that it is a wrong educational idea to feel that one is preparing during a number of years for a life that is to emerge full grown later.

Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin; Miss Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., cellist, and Miss Virginia Williamson, Bessemer, pianist, played "Face to Face", by Herbert Johnson.

Woodruff Speaks.

H. M. Woodruff, manager of the United States Cereal Corporation, a newly established industry at Montevallo, spoke to the students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday morning on the types of food products his plant puts on the market and their advantages to the housewife.

Carmer to Address Girls.

Prof. Carl L. Carmer, teacher of a course in poetry at the University of Alabama, will lecture to the students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday night, January 21. His talk comes at the close of the college's "Better Speech Week" program.

MONTEVALLO OBSERVES BETTER SPEECH WEEK

Montevallo, January 18.—(Special.)

The first public entertainment during Better Speech Week, which is being observed at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women from January 17 to 24, was the program at the chapel period Wednesday morning, January 18. Another program will take place at the chapel period Saturday morning, a lecture will be delivered by Prof. Carl L. Carmer of the university on Saturday night, and a playlet by high school students Monday night will be included in the activities of this week set aside to impress the value of good English.

Posters illustrative of common errors and of ways to improve speech have been made by the art department and posted in Montevallo, as well as about the college.

"We pledge good speaking to the land of cotton" was a song sung to the tune of Dixie as the opening number Wednesday morning. Miss Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen, read a poem urging better speech, and introduced the speakers. Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer, talked on the "Importance of Speech;" Miss Beuna Phillips, Inverness, on "Improving the Vocabulary;" Miss Helen Smith, Birmingham, on "Better English a Business Asset;" Miss Katherine Sheppard, Mt. Vernon, on "Better English a Social Asset." Common speech errors, as pointed out in a survey taken by all of the students, were placed on a blackboard which, with their corrections, were explained by Miss Burns.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS TO MEET COLLEGE TEAM

Cage Fans Are Assured of Real Struggle Here on Thursday Night

Cage fans are assured of a real basketball game Thursday night when the Woman's College sextette clashes with the Montevallo outfit. The rivalry between the two institutions is keen, and in the past the games between the two teams have been close and hard fought, and local basketball lovers expect the coming game to be close.

The local team met Montevallo recently on the latter's court, and won by a close score, being forced to extend themselves in the final period to secure victory. Coach Williams put the players through a hard practice Monday, and announced Monday night that his team was in fine condition for the coming contest. With such star players as Mary Pugh, Ruth Self, Ina Mae Cochran and Norma Park, students at the local college are confident of victory.

It is reported that a number of students are coming with the Montevallo team, and expect to see their favorite team get revenge for their defeat in the early part of the season. The visiting team is composed of several letter players of last year, and the team is one of the best ever representing the institution.

MONTEVALLO NEWS

1922

Montevallo, January 22.—(Special.) Two voice numbers and two violin numbers lent variety to the student recital at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday afternoon, January 21, when 12 piano numbers were given.

"Chasing Butterflies" (Lemont) was the opening selection, played by Miss Annie Laura Clay, Fulton; "Venetian Gondola Song, Op. 19, No. 6" (Mendelssohn) and "The Little Chatterbox" (Hollaender) by Miss Annie Lou Taylor, Bessemer, followed; "Air de Ballet, No. 2" (Chaminade) by Miss Allrae Palmer, Ackerville. Miss Frances Lewis, Montevallo, played a violin solo, "Marionette Valsette" by Oehmlen, after which Miss Mary Trammel, Five Points, played "The Awakening of Spring, Op. 53 G major" (E. Haberbier), and Miss Nancy Caldwell, Scottsboro, played "Slumber Song" (Denee) and "Bouree Antique" (Crosby-Adams).

Miss Lucile Williams, Linwood, sang, "If I Were a Rose," by Hesselberg. Following were the piano numbers: "Shepherds All and Maidens Fair" (Nevill) played by Miss Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; "Aragonaise" (Massenet), Miss Charlotte Leeper, Chickasaw; "Dryade" (Jensen), Miss Marie Hagood, Evergreen.

Miss Dorothy G. Rickey, expression teacher, sang "My Redeemer and My God," by Dudley Buck. Miss Alice Lyman, Montevallo, played "Legende in E" (Hollaender) on the violin. The remaining piano numbers were:

"Eiffel" (Phillip), Miss Beatrice Brunson, Elba; "Spring Song, Op. 15" (Henselt), Miss Paralee Hughes, Russellville; "Ase's Death", (Grieg), Miss Lessie Allison, Gainesville; "Waltz in D flat Major" (Chopin), Miss Gladys Ketcham, Ozark.

An original sketch by Misses Janice Fuquay, Alexander City, and Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo, in which a tongue lashing with bad English killed the king's English, Saturday morning, January 21, was a feature of the second chapel period program during better speech week observance at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Miss Lillie Burke, Wadley, presided. Miss Beatrice Brunson, Elba, spoke on the "History of the Better Speech Movement," and Miss Addie Lee, Welsh, on "Has America a Standard Speech?"

A sextet composed of Misses Margaret Neal, Heflin; Vivian Monk, teacher of English; Marie Perry, Birmingham; Daisy Allison, Gainesville; Ethel Thompson, Bessemer, and Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, sang a song urging the use of good speech.

Montevallo Girls Lose Cage Tilt To Woman's College

BY THOMAS HALL.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 20.—Accurate goal shooting by Miss Ruth Self, former Birmingham High School star, was responsible for Woman's College victory here Thursday night over Montevallo, the locals winning 22-13. Miss Self in the second period scored four field goals, and with her co-worker, Miss Mary Lou Pugh, was able to give her team such a lead that the visitors were unable to overcome it.

Woman's College outclassed Montevallo, the former showing superior training at all stages of the game, the team work being almost perfect, while the guards played a wonderful defensive game. Miss Mary Lou Pugh, of Grove Hill, led in scoring for the Methodist clan, but Miss Self on a number of occasions passed the ball to her giving the former an opportunity to cage the goal.

Montevallo fought hard, but was unable to cope with the play offered by the Methodist team. In the first period Montevallo scored five points, and held Woman's College to one field goal. In the second period, however, the defense weakened and Pugh and Self took advantage and scored field goals at will. While the defense cracked, the offense faded, the visitors scoring one point in this period.

In the third period Montevallo rushed in Miss Ruth DeRamus, and the little substitute was clever in her work, scoring three points, but she received little support from her team mates, and towards the close tried for almost impossible field goals.

In the early stages of the game, Montevallo found a slight weakness in Woman's College defense in the center positions, passing the ball high, and through this attack played the ball in their opponents' territory practically the entire period. Montevallo has a collection of good players, but they lack training and experience. Tonight they played a better advertised team, hence their defeat. Tonight made the second victory for coach Earl Williams' team over the Montevallo girls.

Woman's College (22)—Mary Lou Pugh (14), forward; Ruth Self (8), forward; Maurine Richardson, center; Helen Jackson, guard; Norma Park, guard.

Montevallo (13)—B. Padgett (8), forward; G. Martin (2), forward; L. Burleson, center; E. Pearce, side center; M. Holman, guard; S. Narremore, guard. C Summary: Field goals, Woman's College (9), Montevallo (4). DeRamus for Martin; Schmidt for Holman. Referee, Funk (Montevallo), Umpire, Barnes (W. C. A.). Scorer, Farrish (W. C. A.). Play period 10 minutes.

Montevallo	5	1	7
Woman's College	4	14	4

Pupils Entertain College Faculty

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 4.—Special.—One section of the sophomore foods class in the vocational home economics department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women entertained the members of the faculty and officers with a tea Thursday afternoon, Feb. 2, in the dining room at Bloch Hall. Two members of the class, Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollins and Miss Verna Helms, Honoraville, with their teacher, Miss Lois Beem, received the guests in a small room adjoining the dining room which was fitted up as a reception room for the occasion with furniture borrowed from the practice home on the campus.

Miss Lillie Burkes, Wadley, served punch and Miss Mamie Eakins, Selma, poured tea. Other members of the class, Misses Mae Williams, Guin; Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer; Elizabeth Acker, Lincoln; Leacy Newel, Coy; Minnie Rentz, Camden and Lucile Potts, Stevenson, invited the guests to the reception room and served them.

Misses Potts and Helms made the cake and icing under Miss Beem's direction and other members of the class each had their share in the work of preparing the dainty sandwiches, salted nuts, bon bons and beverages. Not the least artistic element was the pretty picture made by the ten hostesses in their white or yellow organdie dresses. Jonquils and snow drops were used in decorating.

GIRLS CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF DICKENS' BIRTH

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Feb. 8.—In recognition of the one hundred first anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens, February 7, members of oral English classes taught by Miss Dorothy Richey presented a program at the Wednesday morning chapel period at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Miss Agnes Hardy of Newala, told of the purpose of the program and announced the other speakers. Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer, talked of the life of Dickens; Miss Lorene Hughes, Birmingham "An Instance of Pathos in the Old Curiosity Shop;" Miss Louise Willingham, Kellyton, "Humor in Dickens, Works;" Miss Florence London, Greenville, "Pathos in Dickens;" Miss Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham, "Character Sketch Showing Dickens' Power in Caricature."

GLEE CLUB TO PLAY

Emory Music Organization Will Appear At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 9.—Special.—Perhaps the entertainment most looked forward to during the year at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is the appearance of the Glee Club from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 14. The Emory organization announces it will present an "opera burlesque," a "Jazz As You Like It," quartet novelties, a mandolin sextet and surprising skits in addition to its regular glee club singing.

Besides being entertained informally on the afternoon of their arrival at the college by members of the Montevallo Girls' Glee Club, the 31 young men will be guests of honor at a reception for the student body and faculty to be given immediately following the program. They will also be entertained at meals in the dormitory dining room.

Pottery Exhibit Is Held At Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 10.—Special.—Interest in the pottery exhibit at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is proven by the fact that out of the 50 pieces exhibited, 17 have been bought by students, faculty members and townspeople. The exhibit comes from the Alabama, Art League, Watts Building, Birmingham.

It contains specimens from the following potteries: Fulper, Flemington, N. J.; Paul Revere, Boston; Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, La.; Rookwood, Cincinnati, Ohio; Van Briggle, Colorado Springs, Col.; Durant Art Galleries, New York; Bowl Shop, Brighton, Mass.; Dedham, Dedham, Mass.; Southern Mountain, Jugtown, N. C.; Niloak, Benton, Ark.; and specimens of American Indian pottery found in New Mexico.

Some pieces of local interest have been shown in connection with the exhibit. They are fragments of American Indian pottery, unearthed in Florida by W. M. Jones-Williams, college electrician, and pieces made in the college art department, showing the use of Alabama clays.

Miss Mary E. MacMillan, head of the art department, showing the use of Alabama clays.

Miss Mary E. MacMillan, head of the art department, takes special interest in pointing out the possibilities for pottery making furnished by the variety of colored clays in this state.

MONTEVALLO LOSES TO ALABAMA GIRLS

Co-Eds Too Fast For Dr. Palmer's
Girls, Win by Narrow Margin

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Feb. 12.—Montevallo basketball varsity team was defeated by the girls of the University of Alabama 10 to 8 in a fast game on the outdoor court at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday afternoon.

Alabama was granted the privilege of playing the game in quarters because of having played a game the night before with Woman's College, Montgomery. Alabama took advantage of two rest periods in addition to the rests between two quarters.

Montevallo's forwards did not show up as well at throwing goals as usual, but her guards sustained their reputation of covering closely. Thirteen technical fouls and four personal fouls were the totals made by the Alabama team, while Montevallo was called only three times for technical and once for personal.

Among the Tuscaloosa fighters, Miss Mary Pugh made two out of fourteen field goals attempted, and two out of three fouls; Miss Mary Little, three out of seven field goals, one of which was an overhead throw, counting only one. During the fourth quarter, Miss Louise McCollum was substituted for Miss Little, but Miss Little was put back in the game later.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR NEW LIBRARY

Building Is Expected To Be Finished By August At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 11.—A new library building by Aug. 1, is the expectation at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Satisfactory bids were accepted Feb. 9 by the building committee meeting in Birmingham.

The Smallman-Brice Construction Co., Birmingham, has been awarded the general contract; the Michael Supply Company, Talladega, the plumbing and heating contract; the O. M. Floyd Electric Wiring Company, Birmingham, the wiring contract. The sum of the cost of these three contracts, subtracted from the $75,000 appropriation, leaves about $6,500 for furniture and equipment. Delivery of material will begin next week and actual construction is to be under way by the first of March, according to Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college.

The building committee from the board of trustees considers itself fortunate to obtain satisfactory bids at this time. Bids received by the committee at its meeting Feb. 1, were too high, but the contractors who submitted bids then revised them for the meeting Feb. 9. Bids were first advertised for when the committee met in Birmingham last December. Its members are Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; L. Sevier and M. V. Joseph, Birmingham; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, and Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college.

"The new library building will be in classic architecture to harmonize with our unified program," said Dr. Palmer. Dark red brick with stone cornices and trimmings constitute the building material for the 2-story structure which is to cover a space 90x70 feet. The building will be fireproof throughout. It will contain a large reading room, 36x90 feet; and a large stack room, both of which will be 32 feet high; a delivery room; librarian's room, children's room, work room, and three lecture rooms. The main reading room is expected to be the imposing feature of the edifice.

MONTEVALLO WILL HAVE NEW LIBRARY

New Building Expected to Be Completed by August
1, 1922

Montevallo, February 11.—(Special.)—A new library building by August 1 is the expectation at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Satisfactory bids were accepted February 9 by the building committee meeting in Birmingham.

The Smallman-Brice Construction company of Birmingham has been awarded the general contract; the Michael Supply company, Talladega, the plumbing and heating contract; the O. M. Floyd Electric Wiring company, Birmingham, the wiring contract. The sum of the cost of these three contracts, subtracted from the $75,000 appropriation, leaves about $6,500 for furniture and equipment. Delivery of material will begin next week and actual construction is to be under way by March 1, according to Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college.

The building committee from the board of trustees considers itself fortunate to secure satisfactory bids at this time. Bids received by the committee at its meeting February 1 were too high, but the contractors who submitted bids then revised them for the meeting February 9. Bids were first advertised for when the committee met in Birmingham last December. Its members are Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; L. Sevier and M. V. Joseph, Birmingham; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, and Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college.

"The new library building will be in classic architecture to harmonize with our unified building program," said Dr. Palmer. "Dark red brick with stone cornices and trimmings constitute the building material for the two-story structure, which is to cover a space 90 by 70 feet. The building will be fireproof throughout. It will contain a large reading room 36 by 90 feet and a large stack room, both of which will be 32 feet room, children's room, work room and rom, children's room, work room and three lecture rooms. The main reading room is expected to be the imposing feature of the edifice."

MONTEVALLO NEWS

Montevallo, February 11.—(Special.)—"Are you my capsule?" "I'm your pill." "I wonder who my tablet is?" Such questions form the burden of conversation at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this week where the entire college—officers, faculty and students—are entering into a "rushing" game with high spirit. The names of everyone connected with the institution were written on tiny strips of paper and placed in capsules by members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena, president, announced the rules of the game. Every person drew one capsule, and was expected to be as nice to that person named in it as possible during the entire week. To keep one's "capsule" in ignorance of who is doing the "rushing," one must "rush" a number of people equally hard.

New ways of being surprisingly nice to others are being discovered every day. On Monday, the day the girls are permitted to attend the movie matinee, many received tickets from their unknown benefactors. Orange or grapefruit baskets filled either with bouquets of violets or with salad as well as all kinds of bouquets are among the gifts. A large capsule, filled with a multitude of tiny ones containing perfumes, powders, candies and gum was one girl's gift. A corsage of yellow candy kisses, their paper covers flared out at one end, backed with ferns and tied with yellow tulle, was another's.

Every kind of candy and preserved fruit in small boxes has been found on various door knobs, while boxes and packages of fruit have vied with jumbo sticks of peppermint candy as gifts. Many good night kisses (candy) have been sent with accompanying rhymes. Indeed the game has developed a generation of rhymsters. One zealous rusher cleaned her "pill's" room while that young lady was at class and cut breakfast one morning in order to make her bed. Other gifts were a bottle dressed as a fluffy crepe paper doll with handpainted face; a string of pills; some nuts; sandwiches; hand-made handkerchiefs, and advance valentines.

On Sunday night many feasts took place for the honor of various "capsules." Some students have declared that they wished the game of being nice to anyone they wanted to would continue throughout the school year. The "capsule-week" idea, which has proved popular at other schools, is probably serving a better purpose at this time in the school year than when introduced at the beginning of a session.

NEW LIBRARY FOR MONTEVALLO SOON

Plans Complete For Erection of Modern Well-Equipped Building at College 1922

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Feb. 12.—A new building by August 1 is the expectation of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Satisfactory bids were accepted a few days ago by the building committee, meeting in Birmingham.

The Smallman-Brice Construction Company, Birmingham, has been awarded the general contract; the Michael Supply Company, Talladega, the plumbing and heating contract; the O. M. Floyd Electric Wiring Company, Birmingham, the wiring contract. The sum of the cost of these three contracts, subtracted from the $75,000 appropriation, leaves about $6,500 for furniture and equipment. Delivery of material will begin next week, and actual construction is to be under way by the first of March, according to Dr.

T. W. Palmer, president of the college.

The building committee from the board of trustees considers itself fortunate to secure satisfactory bids at this time. Bids received by the committee at its meeting February 1 were too high, but the contractors who submitted bids then revised them for the meeting February 2. Bids were first advertised for when the committee met in Birmingham last December. Its members are Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; L. Sevier and M. V. Joseph, Birmingham; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, and Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college.

"The new library building will be in classic architecture to harmonize with our unified building program," said Dr. Palmer. Dark red brick with stone cornices and trimmings constitute the building material for the two-story structure which is to cover a space of 90 by 70 feet. The building will be fireproof throughout. It will contain a large reading room, 36 by 90 feet, and a large stack room, both of which will be 32 feet high; a delivery room; librarian's room; children's room; work room, and three lecture rooms. The main reading room is expected to be the imposing feature of the edifice.

MONTEVALLO NEWS

Montevallo, February 17—(Special.) Members of the Montevallo Studiosis club have secured the co-operation of the music department at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women in recognizing music week as suggested by the general federation of women's clubs. Programs have been arranged for each day of the entire week of February 15-22.

The week's program as announced by Mrs. Burr Nabors, head of the music department, includes chapel programs for Wednesday, Friday and Saturday; a student recital in Music hall Saturday afternoon; special music in the Montevallo churches Sunday morning; a recital at the chapel Sunday afternoon by the following faculty members: Mrs. LueHa Gibson Joiner, voice; Mrs. Clara Browning Evans, piano, and Miss hold. A quartet, Misses Myrtle Sybil Painter, Birmingham; Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, and Elizabeth Smith, Russellville, sang "Abide With Me," by Ashford. This program will be presented at the public school Friday.

Friday morning Miss Elizabeth Reid, Birmingham, will play "Carnival Mignon," by Schubert. Miss Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, will sing, "He Shall Feed His Flock," and Miss Nancy Caldwell, Scottsboro, will sing

"Come Unto Me," from "The Messiah," Handel. Miss Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, will give a violin solo, "Second Marzúrka," Weinowski, and Miss Ernest Bonner plays "Tartu Ruth G. Stanton, violin. Programs will be given at the public school at the chapel periods on Friday and Saturday.

Miss Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., played a "Prestissimo and Allegro di Molto," arrangement by Bach for the first number on the program Wednesday morning. She was followed by Misses Alice Lyman and Mary McConoughy, Montevallo, in a violin duet, "Lander," Miss Ernestine Tatum, Calvert, played on two pianos by Mrs. Nabors, Mrs. Mabel Powers Taylor, Miss Nell Purphree and Miss Clara DeVane, all piano teachers. Mrs. Taylor will play a group, "Nocturne F Major," Schumann, and "Japanese Etude," Poldini. Mrs. Joiner will sing, "Spring Solo," Weil, with violin obligatto by Miss Stanton and Mrs. Evans at the piano. Miss Murphree will give "Romance," Sebellus, and "Prelude G Minor," Rachmaninoff, and Mrs. Nabors, "Scherzo E Minor," and "Spinning Song" of Mendelssohn.

"Impromptu C Sharp minor," Reinantelle, by Heller. This program will be repeated at the public school Saturday morning.

The Saturday morning program is made up of the following: "Sonatina" of Pleyal, by the violin ensemble class; "Impromptu A flat," Chopin; played by Miss Helen May, Montevallo; "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod, sung by Miss Myrtle Sybil Painter; piano duet, "Humoreske," Von Wilm, Misses Janice Puquay, Alexander City, and Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla.

At the music appreciation class hour Friday, the "Unfinished Symphony," by Schubert, will be played

DRAMATIC CLUB SELECTS PLAYS

Four One-Act "Hits" Are To Be Presented By Monte- vallo Students.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 18.—Special.—Four one-act plays form the second term offering of the Dramatic Club at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. They will be presented Monday evening, Feb. 20, at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium. The director, Miss Dorothy G. Richey, says: There is certainly a slight relation, something of unity, in the group of plays though each is strictly individual. "Lima Beans," by A. Scherzo; "Food," by William C. DeMille; "Three Pills in a Bottle," "Four Flushers," two Harvard worship plays, make up the group. "Lima Beans," in which Miss Addie Scarborough, Mt. Willing, is "He" and Miss Mildred Martin, Bessemer, is "She," is a domestic comedy, removed from the realm of the ordinary by whimsical exaggeration of trifles. "He" and "She" are possibly our own very selves, just now, recently, or not long hence, making great ado over a mere nothing—romantically, clever, over—lima beans.

In "Food" the parts are taken as follows: "Irene," Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln; "Basil," Miss Charlotte Leeper, Chickasaw; "Harold," Miss Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen. It is a burlesque, a tragedy over which you may weep, but not from pain—rather from excess of laughter.

Miss Willie Lee Reaves, Montevallo, takes the part of "Tony Simms" in "Three Pills in a Bottle;" Miss Lillie Burkes, Wadley, that of "Widow Simms;" Miss Lucile Potts, Stevenson, "Old Gentleman;" Miss Maggie Dell Tucker, Catherine, "His Soul;" Miss Dorothy Robertson, Clayton, "Scissors Grinder;" Miss Mildred Smith, Goodwater, "His Soul;" Miss Elizabeth Reid, Birmingham, "Scrub Woman;" Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia, "Her Soul." "Three Pills in a Bottle" is lyric fantasy, picturesque, kindly, a little unusual in its atmosphere, its theme, and even its technique. It's a fairy tale of our own day.

Representing "Henry Cunningham" in the "Four Flushers" is Miss Marie Perry, Birmingham, "Muriel Cunningham," his wife, Miss Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo; "Vincent Dulayer," Edith Montgomery, Marrior; "Fuller," the butler, Miss Lula Hawkins, Birmingham; "Woman," Miss Jean Collins, Birmingham.

"Four Flushers" is a satire of immeasurably clever if cleverly the wit of it reduced certain society to the ridiculous.

MONTEVALLO NEWS

Montevallo, February 14.—(Special.)—"War has ended," is the belief expressed by J. A. Van Hoose, Bangor business man and active Episcopal layman, in an address to the Y. W. C. A. at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Sunday afternoon, February 12. He attributed the victorious decisions of the Washington conference to the desires and influence of women of the conferring countries.

Two musical numbers were given: a vocal solo, "I Met My Master Face to Face," (Emilie D. Miller), by Miss Margaret Tate, Wetumpka, and a violin solo, "Romance," Joh. S. Skendsen, played by Miss Alice Lyman, Montevallo, accompanied by Miss Josephine Kilgore, Corona, at the piano.

Saturday evening Mr. Van Hoose entertained the students with a talk on "Wit and Humor." In closing his talk, which was filled with illustrative anecdotes, he urged his hearers not to let humor become irony nor wit go to invective.

Mr. Van Hoose was in Montevallo to conduct services at the Episcopal church Sunday.

Among the many forms of entertainment afforded members of the girls' basketball team from the University of Alabama on their visit to Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Saturday and Sunday, were: A tea given by the "M" club, a buffet supper given by a class in home economics in Bloch Hall, and a party by the "M" club in the Castalian and Emma Hart Willard club rooms in the club house.

At the tea in Nabors Hall, the practice home, following the game in the afternoon, tea, pimento sandwiches and jelly sandwiches, tied with red ribbons, red and white homemade bonbons were served by the following "M" club members: Misses Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham; Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Odelle Carmichael, Hollins; Orlean Randle, Bessemer; Agnes Hardy, Newala.

Two readings, "The Highwayman" and "The Owl and the Pussy Cat," were given by Miss Dorothy G. Richey, of the expression department. Misses Elma Griffith, Lincoln, and Frances Sharpley, Birmingham, gave interpretative dances to music by Misses Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, violin, and Miss Manie Gray Love, Greensboro, guitar.

Students Give Music Recital At Wilton

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 23.—Special.—Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women spread its extension work to the field of music at the close of its observance of music week when a program was given at Wilton. At the instigation of Miss Hattie Lyman, who teaches music at Wilton, a program was planned by Mrs. Burr Nabors, head of the college music department, which was given Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 21, at the Wilton Methodist Church.

The full orchestra of 23 pieces, under the direction of Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin, gave several numbers. The people of Wilton greatly appreciated the interest taken by the college.

MUSIC PROGRAM GIVEN BY MONTEVALLO SCHOOL

Montevallo, February 22.—(Special.)—Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women spread its extension work to the field of music at the close of its observation of music week when a program was given at Wilton. At the instigation of Miss Hattie Lyman, who teaches music at Wilton, a program was planned by Mrs. Burr Nabors, head of the college music department, which was given Tuesday afternoon, February 21, at the Wilton Methodist church.

The full orchestra of 23 pieces under the direction of Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin, gave several numbers. The people of Wilton greatly appreciated the interest taken by the college.

"Overture Rhinefels," Gruenwald, was the opening number by the orchestra. Miss Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, sang "By the Waters of Minnetonka," Lieurance; Miss Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, played a violin solo, "Second Mazurka," Weiniauski; Miss Myrtle Sybil Painter, Birmingham, sang "A Bowl of Roses," Clarke-Henley. The next was a group of trios: "Salut d'Amour," Edgar, and "A Perfect Day," Gaynor, by Misses Stanton, violin; Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Florida, cello, and Virginia Williamson, Bessemer, piano. A quartet composed of Miss Gladys Ketcham, Ozark; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Russellville; Misses Painter and Crawford, sang "Gloria." "The Iris" by Renaud was the orchestra's concluding number.

POET'S BIRTHDAY IS COMMEMORATED

Montevallo, February 25.—(Special.)—The birthday of the poet Longfellow was commemorated with a program at the chapel period Saturday, February 25, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, in which members of a class in American literature, taught by Miss Alice V. Peterson, took part.

Miss Lottie Dabbs, Bessemer, read lines to introduce the program and to give some of the characteristics of Longfellow. The lines were written in the meter of his well known poem, "Hiawatha." Miss Mary Taylor Jones, Gadsden, gave a brief life of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow; Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia, read "The Builder," Miss Orlean Randle, Bessemer, "The Children's Hour," Miss Marie Hagood, Evergreen, "The Day Is Done."

How Longfellow was inspired to write "Excelsior," a poem in which he depicted the life of one who resisted all temptations, was told by Miss Ruth de Ramus, Verbena, after which she read the poem. Miss Lillie Burkes, Wadley, read "Sonnet on Nature." Two interesting solos, "She Sleeps, My Lady Sleeps," and "Bear the Lily in the Hand," were sung by Miss Gladys Ketcham, Ozark. She was accompanied by Miss Volena Whaley, Opp.

MONTEVALLO ELECTION

Y. W. C. A. Officers Are Selected; Miss Lillou Burns, President. 1922

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 3.—Special.—Officers of the Y. W. C. A. at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women were elected as follows: Miss Lillou Burns, Nelle Ellen, president; Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer, vice president; Miss Minnie Holman, Camden, secretary; Miss Berta Martin, Enterprise, treasurer; Miss Annie Carmichael, Hollins, undergraduate representative.

Committee chairmen will soon be appointed by the new president with the aid of the outgoing officers. All outgoing cabinet members serve with the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet for one month, after which the new ones take full charge.

MONTEVALLO NEWS

Montevallo, March 7.—(Special.)—Learning how to shop is one of the objects of the visit to Birmingham of 12 members of the class in home planning and home management at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, who will spend Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Birmingham with their instructors, Misses Madge Johnson and Elsie Richardson. Not only will they hear talks about buying personal necessities and see what is offered in the stores, but they will also visit a home, model in its artistic furnishings.

The girls will also be taken to plumbing, heating and lighting establishments to become familiar with such necessities of home planning as these afford. They will visit a florist and be addressed by a landscape gardener. One of the important items of their instruction will be given at a bank, regarding banking in connection with financing a home. The party will stop at the Hillman. The trip is an annual occurrence in the course of the year's study.

Mrs. Scottie McKenzie Frasier of Dothan talked to the girls at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday night on what it takes to be a success. She gave the girls a fine inspirational talk, full of humorous incidents and illustrations, which came as a fitting close to the week of examinations.

"When you lose yourself in your job, you will find real happiness," Mrs. Frasier told the girls. She read a number of her poems to a group gathered in the dormitory parlors after her talk in the chapel. Both her talk and readings were enthusiastically received. A collection of her poetic writings, has been published in book form recently.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, addressed the Y. W. C. A. meeting at the college Sunday night on movements now on foot in Sunday school work, one of which is the tendency to abolish uniform Bible lessons in favor of graded lessons. It has been planned to have the uniform lessons entirely abolished within five years. Dr. Palmer mentioned observations he has made while attending the meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Education association last week in Chicago.

MONTEVALLO WILL HAVE NEW HEAD OF MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Frank Marsh Will Assume Duties at Alabama School in June—Is Now in Canada 1922

Montevallo, March 12.—A new director of the music department, Frank E. Marsh, Jr., will come to Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women with the opening of the summer quarter in June, according to an announcement by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president.

Mr. Marsh is now director of the Conservatory of Music at Acadia University, Wolfville, Nova Scotia, one of the best music conservatories in Canada. A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mr. Marsh has been an artist pupil of Ethel Newcombe and Senor Alberto Jonas. He is also a graduate in public school music of the normal department of the New England Conservatory. He expects to spend six weeks this summer in study at one of the New England conservatories.

Splendid praise of his musicianship, his managerial ability, and his adaptability to co-operate with those about him has been given by his associates at Acadia University; at Clarendon, Tex., where he was director of the fine arts department of Clarendon college, 1919-20; in Schenectady, N. Y., his home town, where he conducted the Marsh School of Music and Expression from 1916 to 1918, and from others.

Mr. Marsh served with the American expeditionary forces in France 1918-1919.

Since the death of the former director of music, Charles R. Calkins, the music work at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has been ably conducted by Mrs. Burr Nabors (nee Lula Hawkins), who has been a member of the music department for a number of years and who assumed the directorship once before while Mr. Calkins spent a year in war work.

MONTEVALLO SECURES NEW MUSIC DIRECTOR

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., March 11.—A new director of the music department, Frank E. Marsh, Jr., will come to Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women with the opening of the summer quarter in June, according to an announcement by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president.

Mr. Marsh is now director of the Conservatory of Music at Acadia University, Wolfville, Nova Scotia, one of the best music conservatories in Canada. A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mr. Marsh has been an artist pupil of Ethel Newcombe and Senor Alberto Jonas. He is also a graduate in public school music of the normal department of the New England Conservatory, and is a pipe organist. He expects to spend six weeks this summer in study at one of the great New England conservatories.

COLLEGE NIGHT IS GREAT EVENT AT MONTEVALLO

Many Side-Splitting Events Mock Basket Ball Game Is Featured

1922

Montevallo, March 15.—(Special.)—Powder puffs, rouge, lipsticks, toilet water, nail files, and buffers were restoratives applied to the "Speed Kids" and the "Lightning Flashers" by the two maids for each side during the basket ball game, one of the side-splitting stunts on "College Night" at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Monday.

Putting into the basket a beribboned pink and blue ball, the size that delights baby, was too much for Miss Georgia Spurlin, Demopolis, the famous forward, even though she climbed on a miniature ladder to do it. Her fainting form was borne away on a stretcher by her pink and blue ribboned comrades and opponents. Between halves the players reclined on cushions or in easy chairs reclined the court and were fed chocolates. Miss Olive Hightower, Brundige, persistently used a spangled fan. Miss Emma Lou Simms, Talladega, in brilliant organdy, was the referee who gave the ball to anyone who wanted it. Members of the "golds" gave this stunt.

"Mud Cake Mary's First Night" was the "stunt" by the "purples," the winners of the largest number of points for the evening. Mud Cake Mary, who recently joined the circus, was represented by Miss Charlotte Leeper, Chicasaw, who outdid her ability in comedy acting when it came to looking cross-eyed and awkward. She joined a dance with other "ponies" some 11 inches shorter than herself, who were always out of step with her, ground the music box which played hymns, while the trained "animals" performed, and fell in love with the clown ring master, represented by Miss Edith Montgomery, Warrior.

The judges of the evening were Mrs. Brevard Jones, Montgomery, president of the state federation of womens' clubs; Mrs. Val Taylor, Uniontown, president of the Fourth district of clubs in the federation, and Mrs. Seale Harris, Birmingham, president of the Council of Women's Clubs of Birmingham. They decided that in the program of songs, creeds, impersonations, stunts and toasts the "golds" had been outscored by a very small number of points.

When announcing the decision of the judges, Mrs. Jones presented a handsome two-handled pottery vase to the purples which was received by Miss Louise Willingham, Kellyton.

leader for that side. The vase is the gift of the student government association, which has charge of this entertainment each year. Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena, led the songs for the "Purples." Miss Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer, gave the creed for the Purples, and Miss Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia, the toast to mothers. Mothers of the students had been invited as honor guests.

Miss Bessie Padgett, Brewton, was the leader of the "Golds." The creed offered by the Golds was given by Miss Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham; the toast by Miss Addie Scarborough, Mount Willing; while Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, was song leader.

The "Golds" impersonated "Where Our Money Goes;" the Purples impersonated the April issue of the Ladies Home Journal, advertisements, fashions, stories, features, and all.

Singing of the Alma Mater song, the music of which was composed by the former director of music, Charles R. Calkins, was the last number on the formal program, but was followed by singing of other favorite college songs.

INCOMING AND OUT GOING HEADS OF MONTEVALLO COLLEGE Y. W. C. A.

MISS EVELYN SCOTT, left, distinguished honor student of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, Ala., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Scott, and granddaughter of F. A. Gullledge, of Verbena. She has served as president of the college Y. W. C. A. for the past 12 months, and is superintendent of a large Sunday School at Aldrich, Ala. Miss Lillou Burns, right, daughter of the late Dr. A. E. Burns, former Birmingham Baptist pastor. She has made a high record in college and was recently elected president of the college Y. W. C. A. She was inaugurated as president Sunday, March 19.

MRS. JONES ADDRESSES MONTEVALLO STUDENTS

1922

Montevallo, March 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Brevard Jones, Montgomery, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, told the advantages of federating to the students of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, at the chapel period Tuesday morning, March 14. She and Mrs. Val Taylor, Uniontown, and Mrs. Seale

Harris, Birmingham, other federation workers, made an effort to interest members of the clubs in the college in joining the state federation.

MONTEVALLO STUDENTS PRESENT PROGRAM ON COMMUNITY SERVICE

Montevallo, March 22.—(Special.)—

The contribution of the college girl to her community and how she can make this contribution were told and illustrated by members of a sociology class, taught by Miss Vera Paschal, in a program at the chapel period Wednesday morning, March 22, at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Miss Orlean Randle, Bessemer, introduced the speakers: Miss Kittie Gambill, Candler, Fla., read a paper, telling what each should know about her own community; Miss Ruth deRamus, Verbena, read a paper on "Recreation and What We Can Do to Promote Recreation in the Summer."

Then a practical demonstration of playtime and nonsense songs, suitable to use among gatherings of either young or old, was made with Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena, leading, Miss Christine Dodson, Fayette, at the piano, and the student body as the chorus.

Montevallo Y.W.C.A. Installs Officers—

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., April 11.—Installation of Y. W. C. C. officers for the coming year at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women took place Sunday evening, April 9, in the assembly hall of the college dormitory. Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena, outgoing president, conducted the installation. She first turned over the responsibilities of her office to Miss Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen. As she called out the names of each newly elected officer, the former officer in that position escorted the new one to a position before the audience, afterward taking her place with the outgoing officers on the other side of the installing officer. All in white, the girls made an attractive picture. Miss Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, sang, "Face to Face" by Herbert Johnson.

Names of the new officers followed by those holding the same position this year are: president, Lillian Burns, Belle Ellen; Evelyn Scott, Verbena; vice-president, Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer; Annie Laurie Robertson, Clayton; Undergraduate representative, Annie Carmichael, Hollins; Bessie Padgett, Brewton; secretary, Minnie Holman, Camden; Edith Averyt, Columbiana; treasurer, Berta Martin, Enterprise; Virginia Edwards, Enterprise; program committee chairman, Lula B. Hawkins, Birmingham; Lillian Burns, morning watch chairman, Winifred Castleman, Greensboro; Mary Keller, Birmingham; music chairman, Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Josephine Kilgore, Corona; publicity chairman, Helen Johnson, Bessemer; Louise Hinton, Prattville; big sister chairman, Cora Whaley, Opp; Annie Carmichael, Hollins; employment chairman, Louise Willingham, Kelleyton; Willie Grace Stewart, Dahpne; world fellowship chairman, Ernestine Tatum, Calvert; Lula Hawkins, honorary member by virtue of office as president of student government association, Edith Montgomery, Warrior; Lola Meriweather, Flomaton.

Montevallo Teacher Gives Piano Recital—

MONTEVALLO, ALA., April 11.—Miss Elizabeth Frances Young, piano teacher on the faculty at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, who gave a vespers recital in the college auditorium Sunday afternoon, April 9, was at her best in her opening number, the exquisite "Theme and Variations" by Mendelssohn, in her playing of which refinement and delicacy of feeling were especially evident.

Miss Dorothy G. Richey, head of the expression department, presented the legend of the "Ballade, A flat", by Chopin, and that represented by the "Spinning Song" from The Flying Dutchman" Wagner-Liszt, giving explanations of the pieces before Miss Young played each. For this reason the audience was able to enjoy them to the fullest extent.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS' GLEE CLUB PLAYS

Exceptional Program Is Presented In Recital At

The College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., April 4.—Special.—The presentation of "Gallia" by Gounod at the recital by the Glee Club of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this week in the college auditorium, constituted a real triumph, inasmuch as at the beginning of the school the club was made up of untrained voices. The work of the glee club under the direction of Mrs. Luella Gibson Joiner and the performance of the soloists showed the success of Mrs. Joiner as a voice teacher and director in this, her first year at college. The glee club is composed of 44 voices.

"Gallia" formed part two of the evening program. The accompanying of Miss Nell Murphree, piano teacher, and of Miss Ruth Stanton, violin teacher, and members of her violin ensemble class, enhanced the beauty of the four voice parts in the solemn "Gallia," while Miss Gladys Ketcham, Ozark, soprano, and Miss Myrtle Sybil Painter, Birmingham, mezzo soprano, were the soloists.

The two numbers in the opening group by the glee club, "The Nightingale's Song," Nevin and "One Morning, Oh, So Early," Hawley, were sung from memory. Miss Ketcham's singing of "One Fine Day" (from Madame Butterfly) by Puccini, fulfilled the expectations aroused by her singing in her senior recital, March 30. She responded to the encore with "Villanelle" by Del'Aqua. She is the only graduate in voice this year.

Miss Margaret Neal, Heflin, sang "The Rose," by Brice, with sympathetic interpretation. "When Chloris Sleeps," by Semuels was especially artistically sung by Miss Painter. Miss Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, sang the "Sapphic Ode," by Brahms, with beauty and dignity suited to this classic selection. Two trios by Mabel Daniel, "The Awakening" and "Apple Blossoms," were sung by Misses Neal, soprano; Coralie Abernathy, Anniston, second soprano; Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, contralto; with Miss Nancy Caldwell, Scottsboro, soprano soloist.

A quartet number, "Rockin' in de Wind" by Neidlinger, was sung by Misses Ketcham, Painter, Crawford, and Ethel Thompson, Bessemer. Other members of the club appearing Saturday night were:

Elma O'Neill, Gainesville; Lucile Williams, Linwood; Margaret Tate, Wetumpka; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Elizabeth Smith, Russellville; Leta Mason, Isney; Mary McKenzie, Oxford; Susalee Smith, Gainesville; Mae Sullivan, Orrville; Mildred Martin, Bessemer; Annie Laurie Clay, Fulton; Irene Jones, Clanton; Anna Mae Bell, Pigeon Creek; Katherine McClendon, Goodwater; Ivie Pearl Ray, Bessemer; Nellie Wilson, Goodwater; Mary Taylor Jones, Gadsden; Alixe Mahler, Loxley; Josephine Kilgore, Corona; Paula Howton, Adger; Charlotte Leeper, Chickasaw; Naomi Loe, Montgomery; Marie Perry, Birmingham; Minnie Rentz, Camden; and the following faculty members, Mrs. Clara Browning Evans, Misses Dorothy Richey, Louise M. Griswold, Annabel Pritchard, Ann Bradley. Violinists from the ensemble class were Misses Alice Lyman and Mary McConaughy, Montevallo; Ethel Williamson, Bessemer and Julia Turbeville, Century, Fla.

MONTEVALLO HOLDS CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

Montevallo, April 12.—(Special.)—Clean-up day at Alabama Technical Institute and college for women was Monday, April 10, the same day set for the clean-up campaign through Montevallo. Presidents of each class in the college assigned members of their classes certain sections of the campus. Promptly at 9 o'clock the chapel bell called the workers forth with rakes and brooms. The campus is now free from bits of paper and any other rubbish to detract from its appearance. Students doing practice teaching supervised groups of school children who did much of the cleaning up in various sections of the town. Mrs. C. H. Mahaffey was director of the Montevallo clean-up day.

Swimming Pool Open

Joy is in the hearts of all students at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The swimming pool is open! On the afternoon of April 10, the brave ones made their first plunge of the season, and declared the water was just right.

STUDENTS CONDUCT Y. W. C. A. SERVICES

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 3.—Much class spirit was shown by the fourth year preparatory students in making a success of the Y. W. C. A. service they conducted at Alabama Technical Institute and College for women.

Miss Frances McGee, Montgomery, read the scripture; Miss Mamie Grace Love, Greensboro, sang, "There's a Blessed Home" by Baker-Lehrman, with Miss Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Florida, at the piano, accompanying her and playing the hymns.

Three talks illustrating different benefits to be derived from an intimate knowledge of the Bible were made by Misses Leta Orr, Hartselle, Theo Campbell, Pyriton; and Leta Mason, Isney.

KITCHENY'S BAND IS SCHOOL ATTRACTION

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 7.—The famous Kitcheny's band led by Signor Macaroni was the crowning attraction at the home economics day evening entertainment Friday, May 5, in the college auditorium at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. Its performance closed a long series of demonstrations, exhibitions and entertainments participated in by every home economics student, which began early in the afternoon. No college attraction this year has brought so many interested townspeople and visitors from outside the college district.

The home economics day plan was the direct contribution of Miss Lois Beem, of the home economics department, though all other members of the faculty have helped with suggestions and the active direction of the affair was left to members of the home economics club of students, of which Miss Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, is president.

STUART TO SPEAK AT MONTEVALLO

Montgomery Woman To Deliver Commencement Address.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 12.—Special.—Commencement dates for the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College For Women here are announced by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, for May 26 to 29, inclusive.

Dr. George W. Stuart, of Birmingham, will deliver the baccalaureate address and Mrs. Brevard Jones, of Montgomery, will deliver the graduating address.

Among the distinguished guests at commencement will be Governor and Mrs. Kilby, who will be honored by the college, Dr. and Mrs. Palmer and the alumnae.

The annual meeting of the board of trustees will be held in the library at 11 o'clock Friday morning, May 26. Members of the board are: Governor Kilby, Montgomery, ex-officio; John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education, ex-officio; Judge William H. Taylor, state-at-large, Uniontown; L. Sevier, state-at-large, Birmingham; William J. Dansby, first district, Butler; Dr. J. C. McLeod, second district, Bay Minnette; L. M. Moseley, third district, Union Springs; Lloyd M. Hooper, fourth district, Selma; Judge Malcolm A. Graham, fifth district, Prattville; Mrs. Edgar L. Clarkson, sixth district, Tuscaloosa; Alto V. Lee, seventh district, Gadsden; Shelby S. Fletcher, eighth district, Huntsville; Moses V. Joseph, ninth district, Birmingham; Mrs. W. B. Peebles, tenth district, Aliceville. Many important matters pertaining to the welfare of the institution will be discussed at this meeting.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock President and Mrs. Palmer will tender a reception to Governor and Mrs. Kilby and the graduating class.

There are 72 members in this class, 69 of whom will graduate May 29 and three in July. There are 37 counties represented and one from out of the state. Jefferson County has nine; Covington and Marengo, four each; Dale, Etowah and Talladega, three each; Autauga, Baldwin, Barbour, Chilton, Clarke, Coffee, Elmore, Escambia, Franklin, Morgan, Randolph, Shelby, Tallapoosa and Wilcox, two each; Blount, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Clay, Colbert, Conecuh, Coosa, Dallas, Fayette, Geneva, Lawrence, Marshall, Montgomery, Pike and Sumter, one each and one from Florida.

On Saturday morning, May 27, the annual meeting of the Alumnae Society will be held at 11 o'clock. Mrs. W. E. Wofford (nee Mamie Meroney), of Cartersville, Ga., is president; Vivian Monk, Montevallo, vice-president; Nell Murphree, Montevallo, secretary; Bessie Fleming, Brundidge, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Robinson (nee Mary McMillan), Denver, Colorado, historian.

At 2 p. m. the Alumnae Society will give its annual banquet in the gymnasium.

Memorial exercises in honor of the late Charles R. Calkins, former director of music, will be held at 5 p. m. at the close of which a tablet, naming the building "Calkins Hall," will be unveiled by Charles R. Calkins, Jr., four-year-old son of Director Calkins.

On Saturday evening there will be several receptions by the various clubs of the college.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. George R. Stuart, pastor First Methodist Church, Birmingham.

At 6 p. m. the Y. W. C. A. services, consisting of a cantata, "The Foolish Virgins," by Marshall Kernochan, will be given by the members of the graduating class in the assembly hall of the dormitory.

The graduating exercises will be held Monday morning, May 29, at 9 o'clock. The address on this occasion will be delivered by Mrs. Brevard Jones, of Montgomery, former president of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs. This is the third time in the history of the institution that this address will have been given by a woman, a woman having given the address before the first graduating class in 1899, and Mrs. Charles Henderson spoke to the Summer School class in 1918.

After the address the diplomas will be awarded by the president.

MISS APPERSON NAMED

Montevallo Instructor Receives Position At Chautauqua.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 13.—Special.—Miss Sara Apperson, assistant food supervisor at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has received appointment to assist at the Chautauqua students' commons, Chautauqua N. Y., during the summer convention and Chautauqua season. She is the only new assistant appointed this year by the director, Mrs. Emily Perry, Brooklyn, New York.

Newly elected members of the Home Economics Club at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women are: President, Annie Stone, Hartselle; vice president, Helen Johnson, Bessemer; secretary-treasurer, Lillian Stewart, Daphne. They succeed the following: Dorothy Schmidt, Lincoln, president; Willie Pridgen, Enterprise, vice president; Mary Easterly, Hayneville, secretary-treasurer.

The annual election of officers of the Montevallo branch of the American Association of University Women, held at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Thursday night, May 11, resulted in the following choices: Miss Mary D. Ford, president; Miss Annie Kemp, secretary-treasurer. Miss Ford was treasurer during the past year and Miss Rose B. Wood was president.

It was decided by unanimous vote to add the small fund remaining in the treasury to some scholarship already in force at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

MONTEVALLO SCHOOL TO HOLD ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT DURING PRESENT WEEK

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 13.—The Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will have its commencement exercises on May 26 to 29, inclusive.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held in the library at eleven o'clock Friday morning, May 26. Members of the Board are: Governor Thomas Erby Kilby, Montgomery, ex-officio; John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of Education, ex-officio; Judge William H. Tayloe, state at large, Uniontown; L. Sevier, state at large, Birmingham; William J. Dansby, first district, Butler; Dr. J. C. McLeod, second district, Bay Minette; L. M. Moseley, third district, Union Springs; Lloyd M. Hooper, fourth district, Selma; Judge Malcolm A. Graham, fifth district, Prattville; Mrs. Edgar L. Clarkson, sixth district, Tuscaloosa; Alto V. Lee, seventh district, Gadsden; Shelby S. Fletcher, eighth district, Huntsville; Moses V. Joseph, ninth district, Birmingham; Mrs. W. B. Peebles, tenth district, Aliceville. Many important matters pertaining to the welfare of the institution will be discussed at this meeting.

Friday evening at eight o'clock President and Mrs. Palmer will tender a reception to Governor and Mrs. Thomas Erby Kilby and the graduating class.

There are seventy-two members in this class, sixty-nine of which will graduate May 29 and three in July. There are thirty-seven counties represented and one from out of the state. Jefferson county has nine; Covington and Marengo, four each; Dale, Etowah, and Talladega, three each; Autauga, Baldwin, Barbour, Chilton, Clarke, Coffee, Elmore, Escambia, Franklin, Morgan, Shelby, Tallapoosa and Wilcox, two each; Blount, Bullock, Butler, Chambers, Clay, Colbert, Conecuh, Coosa, Dallas, Fayette, Geneva, Lawrance, Marshall, Montgomery, Pike and Sumter, one each; and one from Florida.

On Saturday morning, May 27, the annual meeting of the Alumnae Society will be held at eleven o'clock. Mrs. W. E. Wofford, nee Mamie Meroney, of Cartersville, Georgia, is president; Vivian Monk, Montevallo, vice-president; Nell Murphree, Montevallo, secretary; Bessie Fleming, Brundidge, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Robinson, nee Mary McMillan, Denver, Colorado, historian.

At 2:00 p. m., the Alumnae Society will give its annual banquet in the gymnasium.

Memorial exercises in honor of the late Charles R. Calkins, former director of music, will be held at 5:00 p. m., at the close of which a tablet, naming the building "Calkins Hall", will be unveiled by Charles R. Calkins, Jr., the little four year old son of Director Calkins.

On Saturday evening there will be several receptions by the various clubs of the college.

Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. George R. Stuart, pastor First Methodist Church Birmingham.

At 6:00 p. m., the Y. W. C. A. services, consisting of a cantata, "The Foolish Virgins," by Marshall Kernochan, will be given by the members of the graduating class in the assembly hall of the dormitory.

The graduating exercises will be held Monday morning, May 29, at nine o'clock. The address on this occasion will be delivered by Mrs. Brevard Jones, of Montgomery, former president of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs. This is the third time in the history of the institution that this address will have been given by a woman, a woman having given the address before the first graduating class in 1899, and Mrs. Charles Henderson spoke the summer school class in 1918.

After the address the diplomas will be awarded by the president.

ALUMNAE MEET AT MONTEVALLO

Dr. Palmer, President, Asks For Four-Year College In All Its Departments.

1922

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 27.—Remarks by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, and by several trustees and alumnae on the advantages of making Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women a four-year college in all its departments, were made at the business session of the alumnae association Saturday morning at the opening of commencement.

Mrs. W. E. Wofford (Mamie Meroney), Cartersville, Ga., president, asked Miss Mildred Meroney, Montevallo, to welcome the class of 1922, to which Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, president of the class, responded. In addition to the routine business, a report was received from the special treasurer of the model home fund being raised by the alumnae for the erection of a new practice home on the campus for the use of home economics students. A paper prepared by Miss Beulah Putnam, of the physical educational department, on "Special Features of the College," was presented.

The public session of the alumnae association was begun at 11 o'clock. Miss Mary E. MacMillan, head of the art department, made the address of welcome to the guests, and addresses were made by some of the trustees. A musical program by the college orchestra and other music students comprised a large part of the program. Orchestra numbers included "War March of the Priests" from "Athalia," by Mendelssohn, and a selection from "William Tell." The alumnae song by Miss Thelma Davis, '16, was sung by the assembly; the following trio numbers, "By the Brook," by Boisdéffre, and "Valse Gentile," by Nevin, was played by Misses Ethel Williamson, Bessemer, violin; Genevieve Turbeville, Century, Fla., cello, and Virginia Williamson, Bessemer, piano.

An alumnae banquet followed the morning meetings.

Charles Rendell Calkins, Jr., five-year-old son of Charles Rendell Calkins, unveiled the tablet on the music hall in connection with a memorial service in honor of his father Saturday afternoon at the college.

The music hall will hereafter be known as Calkins Hall, by action of the board of trustees.

As music director, Mr. Calkins served the music interests of the state as well as those of the college from the beginning of his eight years' residence in the state up to the time of his death last Summer. All of the music on the program for the afternoon was composed by the late Director Calkins. Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, presided at the memorial service and at the unveiling ceremony.

"Love Me Little, Love Me Long" and "Lullaby" was given by the following: Miss Erma Lois Waldrop, soprano, Bessemer; Mrs. Burr Nabors (Lula Hawkins), director of music department, piano; Miss Nina Lyman, flute; Miss Alice Lyman, violin; Walter McCaughy, clarinet, all of Montevallo. A selection with prelude, minuet and romance movement will be played by the college orchestra under the direction of Miss Ruth Gardner Stanton, teacher of violin.

Mrs. Nabors spoke on "Mr. Calkins as a Musician;" E. H. Wills, head of the history department, on "Mr. Calkins as a Member of the Faculty," and Judge E. S. Lyman, on "Mr. Calkins as a Citizen." Rev. P. H. Carmichael, pastor of the Montevallo Presbyterian Church, made the prayer at the opening of the memorial service and Rev. A. H. Williams, pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, pronounced the benediction.

69 WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS MONDAY

Degrees To Be Conferred On Graduates At Exercises
At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 27.—Special.—Diplomas will be awarded to 69 graduates at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Monday morning, as follows:

Bachelor of Science Degree.
John William Pridgen, Enterprise.
Three-Year College Diploma.
Celestia Jolly Allison, Gainesville.
Eloise Andrews, Florala.
Edith Rebecca Averyt, Columbiana.
Etta Laverne Brown, Kellyton.
Lottie Dalbs, Bessemer.
Anne Ruth DeRamus, Verbena.
Mary Dixon Easterly, Hayneville.
Myra Virginia Edwards, Enterprise.
Birdie Foote, Jackson.
Kittie Alberta Gambill, Candler, Fla.
Elma Elizabeth Griffith, Lincoln.
Edna Marie Hagood, Evergreen.
Annie Paralee Hughes, Russellville.
Annie Lou Jones, Andalusia.
Mary Elizabeth Keller, Birmingham.
Gladys Alicene Ketcham, Ozark.
Nena McDuffie, Attalla.
Gladys Moore McLeod, Camden.
Lillian Mahone, Luverne.
Lola Meriwether, Flomaton.
Sara Martha Newman, Goodwater.
Mary Nelson Oliver, Dadeville.
Bessie Cushman Padgett, Brewton.
Lula Mae Parsons, Bessemer.
Addie Orlean Randle, Bessemer.
Ruth Sanford, Aaladega.
Dorothy Schmidt, Lufkin.
Evelyn Scott, Verbena.
Helen Carol Smith, Birmingham.
Mary Elizabeth Smith, Russellville.
Willie Grace Stewart, Daphne.
Mattie Belle Stone, Oneonta.
Erma Lois Waldrop, Bessemer.
Volena Whaley, Opp.
Virginia Williamson, Bessemer.
Two-Year College Diploma.
Mary Julia Apperson, Eclectic.
Lillie Burkes, Wadley.
Bessie Cleveland, Suggsville.
Martha Davis, Shelby.
Annie Lou Day, Thomaston.
Abbie Kathleen Dismukes, Prattville.
Sara Christine Dodson, Fayette.
Marie Eppes, Demopolis.
Louise Faust, Ozark.
Mary Glenn, Forest Home.
Addie Cynthia Goolsbee, Eufaula.
Agnes Johnson, Pike Road.
Addie Pearl Lee, Welsh.
Alston Lide, Berlin.
Marguerite M. McGhee, Foley.
Antoinette Jane Orr, Hartselle.
Wilma Patterson, Goodwater.
Jimmie Payne, Ozark.
Beuna Vista Phillips, Inverness.
Mabel Claire Phillips, Florala.
Lottie Virginia Reed, Tuscumbia.
Annie Laurie Robertson, Clayton.
Dorothy Oslin Ross, Albertville.
Lucile Russell, Somerville.
Mignon Kathryn Singleton, Putnam.
Georgie Glover Spurlin, Demopolis.
Gladys Henry Sturkle, Gadsden.
Edna Imogene Thompson, Wadley.
Maggie Dell Tucker, Catherine.
Sarah Effie Vines, Bessemer.
Julia Etta Vines, Bessemer.
Erma Whitworth, Gadsden.
Mel Williams, Wetumpka.

Bessemer is represented by seven members of the graduating class and nine other students of the college this year are from that city. Bessemer girls not in the graduating class are: Misses Iyle Pearl Ray, Mildred Martin, Willetta Martin, Helen Johnson, Paula Howton, Lillie Mae Vines, Ethel Williamson, Ethel Thompson and Bessie Copeland.

Visitors At College.

Among the visitors at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for commencement are the following members of the board of trustees: Gov. Thomas E. Kilby, Dr. John W. Abercrombie, Montgomery; L. Sevier, Birmingham; Judge M. A. Graham, Prattville; Judge W. H. Tayloe, Uniontown; W. J. Dansby, Butler; L. M. Hooper, Selma; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; L. M. Moseley, Union Springs; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden, and Mrs. W. B. Peebles, Aliceville, the newly elected member of the board.

On Saturday the following relatives and friends of the graduating class had arrived: Mrs. W. J. Dansby, Butler; Mrs. Charles Ketcham, Ozark; Miss Eula Reed, Tuscaloosa; Mrs. M. A. Graham, Prattville; Miss Mary Collier, Prattville; Mr. and Mrs. L. Sevier, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Tynes, Birmingham; Miss Margaret Randle, Bessemer; Miss Virginia Faust, Ozark; Miss Sara Gavin, Tuscaloosa; Miss Marjorie Narramore, Prattville; Mrs. W. D. North, Birmingham; Miss Marie Padgett, Brewton; Mrs. W. M. Rose, Albertville; Mrs. N. H. McDuffie, Gadsden.

DR. STUART SPEAKS

Sermon To Be Delivered Sunday Morning At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 27.—Special.—"Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah," a sacred song by Charles Rendell Calkins, late director of music at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, will be sung at the baccalaureate service of commencement week, at the college Sunday morning, by Miss Gladys Ketcham, Ozark, the only graduate in voice this year. It will follow the processional by the 72 graduates who will sing "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven," by Smartt. After the scripture reading, prayer, and the singing by the graduating class of "Rejoice Ye With Jerusalem," by Spinney, the sermon will be delivered by Dr. George R. Stuart, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

Singing by the audience of "Soldiers of Christ Arise," by Woodbury, will precede the benediction, after which "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," Cutler, will be sung as a recessional.

Interest in baccalaureate Sunday will not be centered alone on the sermon in the morning, but a share will be given to the cantata, "The Foolish Virgins," by Kernoochan, to be presented by the graduating class at 6:30 in the evening. The college orchestra will assist in the presentation of the cantata, and the soloists will be Misses Gladys Ketcham, Ozark, soprano, and Elizabeth Smith, Russellville, contralto. Training of the class for the cantata has been under the direction of Mrs. Burr Nabors, head of the music department.

Mrs. Jones To Speak.

In addition to the commencement address to be delivered Monday morning, May 29, at 9 o'clock by Mrs. Joseph Brevard Jones, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Montgomery, a number of songs will be a part of the commencement program. The first is a processional, "A. T. I. and C. Alumnae Song," following a prayer will be the song, "Alabama," with words by Miss Julia S. Tutwiler to music by Charles Rendell Calkins. Singing of the class song, "Happy Days Are Gliding," by Pflock, will follow Mrs. Jones' address. After the awarding of diplomas by President T. W. Palmer, "Alma Mater," the words of which were written by Miss Mary Goode Stallworth, dean, and the music by Charles Rendell Calkins, will be sung.

Music Concert Held

All branches of the music department were represented in the annual commencement week concert by student Saturday night. The opening number was a piano quartet, "Overture Semaramis," by Rossini, played by Misses Josephine Kilgore, Corona; Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Ernestine Tatum, Calvert, and Jewel Pardue, Saginaw. Miss Lillian Crawford, Bessemer, sang a group: "Thou Art So Like a Flower" by George W. Chadwick, and "Ashes of Roses," by Huntington Woodman. The Rachmininoff "Prelude in G minor, Op. 23" was played by Miss Fuquay, after which the trios: "Told at Twilight," by Hunter, and "Serenade," by Victor Herbert, were played by Misses Ethel Williamson, violin, Bessemer; Genevieve Turbeville, cello; Century, Fla.; and Virginia Williamson, piano, Bessemer.

Miss Elma Griffith, Lincoln, played the "Concert Etude, Op. 31," by MacDowell; Miss Gladys Ketcham, soprano, Ozark, sang "Villanelle," by Del Aqua; Miss Ethel Williamson played a violin solo, "Scene 1a Ballet, Op. 100," deBeriot, with Miss Virginia Williamson at the piano.

"The Awakening" and "Apple Blossoms," by Mabel Daniels, was sung by a trio composed of Misses Margaret Neal, Heflin, soprano; Coralie Abernathy, second soprano, Anniston; Lillian Crawford, alto, Bessemer, with Miss Nancy Caldwell, Scottsboro, as soprano soloist. The closing number was a duo, "Serenade Op. 43," by Low, played by Misses Virginia Williamson and Edith Averyt, Columbiana.

GOVERNOR IS HONORED

Mrs. Kilby Unable To Attend Reception At President's Home.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 27.—Special.—Perhaps the happiest event of commencement week at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was President and Mrs. Palmer's reception to Gov. and Mrs. Kilby and the 72 members of the graduating class on Friday night.

For the first time since she has been "first lady of the state," Mrs. Kilby was unable to attend commencement, and as the class of 1922 had elected her an honorary member, Miss Elma Griffith, president of the class, entrusted to Gov. Kilby a class pin to be presented to Mrs. Kilby. Gov. Kilby accepted the pin for Mrs. Kilby.

During the evening an interesting program was given. Between selections by the college orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin; Miss Dorothy G. Richey delighted everyone with a reading, "Operations." In response to insistent applause she gave "Three Little Kittens in a Box of Sawdust."

Mrs. Luella G. Joiner, voice teacher, sang "Values," by Vandepoole, and "Maytime," by Oley Speaks.

Commencement Visitors.

One of the most interesting visitors at commencement at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is N. S. Pridgen, of Enterprise, who has a daughter and a granddaughter in the graduating class. He is the father Miss Willie Pridgen, who will receive the first degree conferred by this college and the grandfather of Miss Virginia Edwards, who has completed the three-year college course in vocational home economics. He is probably the first man in Alabama to have a daughter and a granddaughter to graduate in the same class.

Miss Virginia Williamson, Bessemer, a member of the graduating class has the pleasure of having her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. William-

COMMENCEMENT AT MONTEVALLO DRAWS

Many Friends of School There; Trustees Pass Resolutions
at Meeting 1922

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 28.—Among the visitors at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for commencement were the following members of the board of trustees: Governor Thomas E. Kilby, Dr. John W. Abercrombie, Montgomery; L. Sevier, Birmingham; Judge M. A. Graham, Prattville; Judge W. H. Tayloe, Uniontown; W. J. Dansby, Butler; L. M. Hooper, Selma; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; L. M. Moseley, Union Springs; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden; and Mrs. W. B. Peebles, Aliceville, the newly elected member of the board.

On Saturday the following relatives and friends of the graduating class arrived: Mrs. W. J. Dansby, Butler; Mrs. Charles Ketcham, Ozark; Miss Eula Reed, Tuscaloosa; Mrs. M. A. Graham, Prattville; Miss Mary Collier, Prattville; Mr. and Mrs. L. Sevier, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Tynes, Birmingham; Miss Margaret Randle, Bessemer; Miss Virginia Faust, Ozark; Miss Sara Gavin, Tuscaloosa; Miss Marjorie Narramore, Prattville; Mrs. W. L. North, Birmingham; Miss Marie Padgett, Brewton; Mrs. W. M. Ross, Albertville; Mrs. N. H. McDuffie, Gadsden.

At the annual meeting of the board of trustees Friday there were present Governor Thomas E. Kilby, Dr. John W. Abercrombie, Montgomery; Judge W. H. Tayloe, Uniontown; L. Sevier, Birmingham; W. J. Dansby, Butler; L. M. Moseley, Union Springs; Lloyd M. Hooper, Selma; Judge M. A. Graham, Prattville; Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa; Alto V. Lee, Gadsden, and Mrs. W. B. Peebles, Aliceville.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the State Council of Education has recently appointed a committee, consisting of the superintendent of education, the vice-chairman of the council, and the presidents of the three state colleges, to consider the coordination of college work in Alabama and to report to the council at a future meeting, and

"Whereas, the board of trustees of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women has heretofore by solemn resolution declared that this institution be made a class A college, and that a four year course of instruction in college work be entered upon as soon as the finances of the institution will permit, and, with this in view, has ordered prepared and printed in the 1922 catalog the four year college curriculum, completion of which is necessary to obtain a degree, and

"Whereas, the fundamental principle of education of the state of Alabama is taxation from which all taxpayers are entitled to the same consideration, and

"Whereas, the state from taxation is maintaining two colleges, both of which are co-educational institutions, and does not maintain or operate a college for girls and women only:

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the board of trustees of this institution, and especially the representatives of the fathers and mothers of the girls of this state who desire their daughters to receive a degree from a state institution conducted solely for women, and acting for the best interests of higher education in this state, does hereby ratify and confirm the resolution heretofore passed and herein referred to, and do most earnestly petition the state council, through its said committee in their work of coordination of college work, to give this institution its proper place as a four year college for women in the educational system of Alabama, believing that no proper coordination of college work in this state can be had that does not recognize an institution of higher learning solely for women with a course authorizing the conferring of academic degrees; and the intelligent educational thought of the state demands at least this—certainly no less.

Other resolutions passed were:

"Be it resolved by the board of trustees that the graduating exercises of this institution be held one week prior to the closing of the scholastic year, and that the annual meeting of the board of trustees be held on the Friday preceding the graduating exercises.

"Whereas, the board of trustees recognizes the fact that the president, officers and faculty have handled the affairs of this institution with great success and efficiency during the session just closed,

"Therefore, be it resolved that this board do extend to them our sincere thanks and commendation.

"Resolved: That this board welcomes Mrs. W. B. Peebles as a member, she being particularly fitted to know the needs of the institution, since she is a graduate and former president of the alumnae association."

To this welcome Mrs. Peebles responded in a very happy manner.

WOMAN IS HONORED; ON COLLEGE BOARD

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 28.—Governor Kilby has announced the appointment of M. V. Joseph and L. Sevier, Birmingham, and Mrs. Edgar L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, as members of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for next year. Mrs. Clarkson was the first woman to serve on the board of trustees, and now her promotion to membership on the executive committee is a distinct recognition of women in the administration of this college. Mrs. W. B. Peebles, of Pickens county, a former graduate of the college and president of the alumnae association, was recently appointed a member of the board from the tenth district.

It is worthy of note that Edgar L. Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, was recently elected president of the alumnae society of the University of Alabama. It is seldom that two such high honors fall to husband and wife in one year. Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson are both honor graduates of the University of Alabama and both were students of President Palmer when he was professor of mathematics at the university.

PALMER'S RECEPTION IS DELIGHTFUL EVENT

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 28.—Perhaps the happiest event of commencement week at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women was President and Mrs. Palmer's reception to Governor Kilby and the seventy-two members of the graduating class on Friday night.

For the first time since she has been "first lady of the state," Mrs. Kilby was unable to attend commencement, and, as the class of 1922 had elected her an honorary member, Miss Eima Griffith, president of the class, entrusted to Governor Kilby a class pin to be presented to Mrs. Kilby. Governor Kilby, though completely surprised, gracefully accepted the pin for Mrs. Kilby.

During the evening an interesting program was rendered. Between selections by the college orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ruth G. Stanton, teacher of violin, Miss Dorothy G. Richey, in her inimitable style, delighted everyone with a reading, "Operations." In response to insistent applause, she gave "Three Little Kittens in a Box of Sawdust."

Mrs. Luella G. Joiner, voice teacher, sang "Values," by Vandepoole, and "May Time," by Oley Speaks.

RECEPTION HONORING GOVERNOR AND GRADUATION CLASS AT MONTEVALLO

First of Group of Entertainments For Commencement at Girls' School Will Be Given at Home of President Palmer This Evening

(Special To The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, May 25.—The first of the group of commencement festivities at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women to be held after the close of the scholastic work is the reception to be given by President and Mrs. Palmer Friday night, May 26 in honor of Governor and Mrs. Thomas Erby Kilby and the graduating class of seventy-two girls. The reception will be attended by several trustees who will attend the regular meeting of the board of trustees of the college Friday morning.

Too high praise cannot be given to the college orchestra, directed by Miss Ruth Gardner Stanton, teacher of violin, which is to play at the many different commencement activities and which has given its services wherever possible in the college community and nearby. Among its numbers for the reception Friday night will be one group: "War March of the Priests" from "Athalie," "Mendelssohn; "Iris" Reynard; "Dream of Fairyland," Voelker, and another group: "Overture, 'William Tell'" G. Rossini; "Dream of the Flowers," Cohen; "Venetian Gondolier," Voelker. Mrs. Palmer has arranged for the orchestra to be seated on the first landing of the main stairway from the college dormitory parlors, where the guests will be received. Purple and gold, the college colors, and black and gold the colors of the graduating class, will be combined in the decorations. Many committees of faculty members and some students have been asked by Mrs. Palmer to assist in receiving the guests in the different parlors.

Between the orchestra numbers, Mrs. Luella Gibson Joiner, voice teacher, has consented to sing a group from American composers: "Values" by Vrederick Vanderpool; "Day is Gone," by Margaret Ruthven Lang; O Heart of Mine, by H. Clough-Leiter.

Miss Dorothy G. Richey, teacher of expression, will add to the evening's pleasure with a reading.

Wives of trustees and other visiting ladies at the college during commencement will be turned into college girls for the time of their visit when they will be entertained in the dormitory as the hotel accommodations in Montevallo are not sufficient to care for more than the men visitors. The mothers, alumnae, and other guests who have been entertained in the dormitory in the past have especially enjoyed the experience.

Saturday's program includes the business meeting of the Alumnae association, followed by an open meeting, a luncheon, and in the afternoon a memorial service and unveiling of tablet in honor of Charles Rendell Calkins, former director of music, whose name has been bestowed upon the music hall. A concert by students in the music department will take place in the evening in the college auditorium.

On Sunday morning May 28, the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. George R. Stuart, pastor of the First Methodist Church Birmingham, Sunday evening, a cantata, "The Foolish Virgins," by Kernochan, will be presented by the graduating class, assisted by the college orchestra, and Miss Gladys Ketcham, Ozark, soprano and Miss Elizabeth Smith, Russellville, contralto, soloists, both graduates.

Mrs. Joseph Brevard Jones, Montgomery, president of the state federation of women's clubs, will make the commencement address Monday morning, May 29, after which Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, will award the diplomas.

The first degree ever to be granted at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will be that of Bachelor of Science in Vocational Home Economics to be conferred upon Miss John Willia Pridgen, Enterprise, by Dr. Palmer, president of the college, at the twenty-sixth annual commencement, Monday morning, May 29. Miss Pridgen has completed a four-year College course.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS GIVEN RECEPTION

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 11.—The Y. W. C. A. reception for the summer school of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women Saturday evening was a most enjoyable affair.

The student body, faculty and visitors entered into the spirit of the occasion with great enthusiasm. The grand march was the first on the program, then an athletic contest followed. The stunts given by each group called forth great applause. The president and his family, the director and faculty, as well as many students, were called upon to take part in the contests.

Delicious frappe was served. General conversation was then indulged in on the corridors and on the campus.

Montevallo Leader Goes in Chautauqua

(Special to The Advertiser)

MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 27.—Miss Sarah Apperson, assistant food supervisor of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, has been appointed assistant food supervisor for one of the large establishments at Chautauqua, N. Y. She leaves tomorrow morning to take up her duties there. She will remain until the opening of the session in September. She will be given an opportunity to do further study at this famous resort.

Mrs. Mabel Powers Taylor, piano teacher, will leave for Washington this week to do special work in piano in that city.

Miss Anna Irvin, food supervisor, has been spending a month at several summer resorts in North Carolina studying the latest methods of hotel and restaurant service.

She will be prepared to introduce many new features in the foods department here during the coming session.

Dr. Alexander Johnson, staff representative, American Red Cross, continues his lectures on social service during this week. He is in much demand for public addresses. Yesterday afternoon he spoke on social service before the Y. W. C. A., and again at the union service at the Presbyterian church Sunday night. He is also holding a conference with the pastors and other church officials of Montevallo as to the best methods of carrying on relief work in Montevallo and adjoining communities.

President and Mrs. Palmer and their daughter, Miss Stella Palmer, of the University of Arkansas, will leave tomorrow for the National Education Association at Boston. President Palmer will return home by the 14th of July. Miss Palmer will remain in New York for the summer session at Columbia University. Mrs. Palmer will visit friends in New York until about the middle of August.

O. C. CARMICHAEL APPOINTED DEAN AT MONTEVALLO

Former Principal Of Woodlawn High Named Assistant To Dr. Palmer.

EXPANSION UNDER WAY AT GIRLS' INSTITUTE

Frank A. Gallup, Of Ensley High, Named To Succeed Educator Here.

Appointment of O. C. Carmichael, formerly principal of Woodlawn High School, as dean of the faculty and general assistant to the president at the Montevallo College and Technical Institute for Women was announced Saturday by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the institution, in connection with plans for the enlargement of the faculty, attendant upon the elevation of the school to the rank of a standard four-year college and discontinuance of the high school department.

Broadening of the institution's sphere was authorized by the state legislature. Improvements and expansion of the faculty were agreed upon by trustees at recent commencement exercises. Within the next two years, two or three men and a corresponding number of women, as additional professors will be announced.

Mr. Carmichael has served in important educational posts, has traveled extensively, and has received several degrees. At Montevallo he will have charge of courses in education, in addition to his administrative duties. He holds the A. B. and A. M. degrees from the University of Alabama, where he was formerly an instructor in French and German, and also secretary to the faculty. Later, he was head of the modern language department at the Florence Normal School, in 1913-1914, leaving at the close of the 1914 session for Belgium, where he served four months under Herbert Hoover.

He served with the Belgian forces in India in 1915 and 1916, winning an honorary commission as captain in the English army. He was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, Eng., and received the B. S. degree, with a diploma in anthropology in 1917. In August, 1917, he entered the American army and rose to the rank of first lieutenant in the intelligence service, serving at the front in France about nine months.

Mr. Carmichael returned to Birmingham in 1919 as head of the French department of Central High School. He was principal of the Henley High School in 1919-1920, becoming principal of the Woodlawn High School in 1922. He has recently acted as head of the Central night school and the Birmingham-Southern Summer school.

Montevallo, which has been on a three-year college basis since 1915, after being opened as a two-year college in 1914 and after 18 years as a high school, will be elevated to the rank of a four-year college, with the first bachelor's degrees to be conferred in 1924. The senior year of the high school will be dropped in 1924, while the junior year will be discontinued in June, 1924.

HEADS FACULTY OF MONTEVALLO SCHOOL

O. C. CARMICHAEL.
Former principal of Woodlawn High School who has been elected dean of Montevallo.

TO SUCCEED CARMICHAEL

Frank A. Gallup Named Principal Of Woodlawn High School.

Announcement was made Saturday by Dr. C. B. Glenn, superintendent of city schools, of the appointment of Frank A. Gallup to succeed Prof. O. C. Carmichael as principal of the Woodlawn High School, simultaneously with an announcement by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Montevallo normal, of the acceptance by Professor Carmichael of the deanship of the college.

It was with deep regret that the board of education accepted Professor Carmichael's resignation, Dr. Glenn said. Mr. Carmichael has been associated with the Birmingham schools for the past several years and did most creditable work, both as principal of the Henley school and Woodlawn High School.

Professor Gallup has been connected with the Birmingham schools for some time. Last year, he was head of the language department in the Ensley High School.

He received his education at Colgate University and the University of Chicago, where he held a fellowship. During his association with this institution he edited jointly with Dr. William R. Harper, president, a series of Latin texts, which have become quite well-known to modern educators. He taught in Colgate Academy and has served as high school principal. The past Winter, he gave the University of Alabama extension work to more than 100 teachers.

In speaking of him Dr. Harper said: "Mr. Gallup has studied in the graduate schools of the University of Chicago five quarters. During one year he held a fellowship. This is the biggest honor the university can bestow on a student. He also gave instructions one quarter. This work was of the most satisfactory character. I can commend him as a vigorous worker, strong thinker and most successful teacher, and I congratulate the institution that shall be fortunate enough to secure his services."

MUSIC DEPARTMENT IS STRENGTHENED

Director Marsh, Of Montevallo, Has Conference With State Officials.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 23.—Special.—Dean O. C. Carmichael and Director of Music Frank E. Marsh, Jr., have returned from a short trip to Montgomery, where they went to confer with the state department of education concerning the preparation of teachers and supervisors for the teaching of public school music in the schools of Alabama.

They report having had a very pleasant interview, and the music department will at once prepare an outline of a course of study to be submitted to the department of education. The music department is one of the strongest in this institution and is regarded by musicians throughout the state as one of the best in the state.

Frank M. Peterson, who has been attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the past three years, is visiting his mother and family during a short vacation. He will be a member of the senior class during next session. Accompanying him is a classmate, Mr. Lauren Chapman, of Los Angeles, Cal. The two young men decided to come through from Boston on bicycles. When they reached Philadelphia they took a boat ride to Baltimore and then continued on their bicycles to Atlanta, Ga.

The night before they reached Atlanta they stopped by the wayside and pitched their tent. Mr. Chapman accidentally fell into an old well, but managed to catch hold of projecting rocks, which kept him from falling into the water. Mr. Peterson hurried to nearby houses and obtained help in pulling Mr. Chapman out. He was considerably bruised, but after spending one day in Atlanta was able to proceed on his journey, but had to take the train from there to Montevallo. They are being highly welcomed by their many friends in this community. Mrs. Peterson and little son, Frank E. Peterson, the 4th, came through by rail and arrived in Montevallo some ten days ago.

The attendance at Montevallo has so greatly increased that the entire institution cannot be seated at one time in the chapel. Hence, different days are selected for parts of the school to attend the public exercises.

Director Frank E. Marsh, Jr., has arranged a program of five noted artists for the season. The first is Pavloska, a mezzo-soprano, who will be heard Saturday night, Oct. 7.

BY O. C. CARMICHAEL.

board, chosen for their interest and knowledge of this type of work, who shall meet at the call of the governor, whose expenses shall be paid for attending such meetings and who shall serve for long periods. It is a serious, nay tragic, thing to have in one's hands the power of release from a prison—it needs to be done by those who have made some study of criminology.

Section 124 of the Constitution of 1901 should be so amended that the legislature could provide for the appointment by the governor, with the approval of the senate, a prison board or parole board consisting of three members who would have entire charge of the prison system of the state, including the power to appoint the head of the system, by whatever name he may be called, grant paroles and revoke them under such rules as it may adopt, and do all things necessary to make the department self-sustaining, always with due regard to the welfare of the inmates.

The terms of the first members of this board should be four, eight and twelve years, their successors to be appointed for terms of 12 years each. The members should be men of known business ability and should meet once each month to transact such business as may need attention, to receive reports from the prison officials and consider applications for paroles.

The members of the board should receive as compensation their necessary living and traveling expenses while in the discharge of their duties and a per diem not exceeding $25 per day for not exceeding three days each month. This would be very little cost to the state and would insure men attending.

It is not suggested that the pardoning power be placed with the board, but should remain with the governor.

The chief advantage to accrue for such an arrangement would be the removal of the prison system from political influences and would permit of the development of a system of high efficiency in the rehabilitation of the inmates as well as the development of a permanent policy of property development.

There are many other minor changes which we ought to make in our sacred document—one for example of allowing cities of the size of Birmingham to pass zoning laws—the idea of Birmingham, a city which is now becoming one of the show cities, being subject to the possibility of stores in its beautiful residence section. Such a thing is a menace for which we should be prepared—people who come here from other parts of the country are always enthusiastic over the beauty of the winding loveliness of Highland Avenue and often predict that it will be like Michigan Boulevard of Chicago—we must see to it that the city has the right to keep it a thing of beauty.

Many other changes are doubtless in the minds of others, but these which I have enumerated are so vital to our progress as a state that it is to be hoped the incoming members of the legislature all over the state will inform themselves of them and see to it that they are passed, or at least take the technical steps required by the constitution for their passage.

Just to sum up—

(1) The right of all counties to tax themselves if they wish to do so, whether for schools or other purposes;

(2) The election of the state superintendent of education by a board of well qualified persons and his tenure of office not limited by any such absurd time as now exists.

(3) Create a parole board for prisoners in accord with the very best thought of the country on this line.

These are the great outstanding amendments which will make for the material development of the state; let us help to pass them.

than that of Home Economics. More than two thirds of the larger public school systems require Home Economics in the seventh and eighth grades. More than eight thousand high schools offer courses in Home Economics to girls. The annual increase in schools offering such courses has been about six hundred. Almost all the academies and junior colleges now offer them. Three hundred and six colleges and universities employ 1,133 teachers of Home Economics.

This subject is demanding the attention of educators throughout the world. Belgium has recently established a college of Agriculture and Home Economics in Lierre, a suburb of Brussels. New Zealand has just added a $50,000 Domestic Science building to her equipment at Otago University. At Sidney, Australia, a Domestic Science School has recently been established. Sir Auckland Geddes said in discussing the reorganization of the English Public Schools, "For girls needle work, cookery, laundry work, housekeeping and household hygiene are compulsory subjects." In Poland needle work is required in all the grades from the third to the seventh and Home Economics in normal schools and colleges for girls. In Santiago, Chile, Home Economics was first established in 1907 and has since had rapid development. A year ago the American Home Economics Association established a chair of Home Economics in the Constantinople College for Girls.

The Need of Home Economics.

The census of 1910 showed that forty-four million, five hundred thousand girls and women were engaged in home-making. Twenty-five million of these were twenty years of age or more. Eighty per cent had been married. There are twenty million homes in the United States which require twenty million well trained home-makers. More persons are engaged in home-making than in any other single occupation. More than one hundred million people live in homes whose standards of efficiency depend upon the knowledge and skill of home-makers.

There are many reasons why it is necessary to train for home-making. The home has been transformed from a production center into a consumption center. The housewife now has all the problems of the consumer. With a limited knowledge of the goods she is consuming where is she to learn? From the clerk, the grocer or the retailer? The great wealth of the country is spent on the home and in the home. The home-maker is responsible for the wise expenditure of that wealth. Who should be more wisely trained?

Lack of respect for home-making as a vocation works in a vicious circle. "Women are not trained for home-making; practicing the occupation for which one is not trained is drudgery; the house-daughter should be freed from drudgery; therefore, she receives no training; but in time becomes a home-maker, practicing a vocation for which she is not trained. To break the circle and to put home-making back on the plane from which it has fallen, training is essential. When a mother respects her job and knows it for what it is—the greatest vocation in the world—she will see that her daughter is trained for it, either at home or in the schools."

Home Economics at Montevallo.

Montevallo was the first institution in the state to introduce Home Economics. This began in 1896, the first year of school. It has continued to hold first place in the state in this line of instruction. Montevallo now has one large building devoted mostly to Home Economics work. For instruction in these courses there are eight well trained and well equipped teachers. This year there are more than one hundred and fifty pupils in this department. The courses embrace instruction in foods, in nutrition, in clothing, in household furnishings, in designing, in housing, in interior decoration, in household management and in institutional management and organization. In civic and industrial relations. In short, college courses aim to give the student a knowledge of Home Economics. The student will find that the study of Home Economics is a most interesting and profitable one.

BY O. C. CARMICHAEL.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 23.—Some one has said "Give me the making of a nation's songs and I care not who makes its laws." From the remarkable developments of music as a subject of study in the schools and colleges, it would seem that America has realized the importance of music instruction. According to the United States bulletin of 1919-20, out of four hundred nineteen colleges of all classes throughout the United States, two hundred forty-seven allow credit in music towards the academic degree. Out of three hundred forty-nine high schools three hundred two gave instruction in music. In those same schools there were two hundred six Boy Glee Clubs, two hundred fifty-five Girl Glee Clubs, one hundred seventeen Mixed Clubs, besides two hundred seventy-eight orchestras and eighty-eight bands.

There is a great demand for male teachers throughout our school system. It devolves upon the colleges to train the teachers. There is a constant demand for real music instruction in the Standards are being raised al

SIXTY-SEVENTH TO FIRST AVENUE, DOWN
FIRST AVENUE TO SIXTY-FOURTH AND UP
FIRST AVENUE TO GRACE STREET, THEN ON SIXTY-FOURTH STREET AND ON SIXTY-
EIGHTH TO SISS AVENUE. Mrs. Chester
H. Holmes, chairman; Mesdames S. T.
Rash, W. A. Sawyer, Thompson Nash,
Paul Taylor, King, Hendrick, T. A.
Pitts, Misses Sarah Howell, Messrs
John W. Hall, Harper, W. A. Sawyer, Hartshfield, Master Paul Taylor, corner-ist.

WYLAH DISTRICT, FORTY-FIRST STREET TO FORTY-SIXTH STREET, AND ALL INTERVENING
AVENUES, STARTING AT 6:30 p. m. Misses Belle Canterbury, chairman; Misses Mamie Lowe Walker, Mygwyon River, Rosalyn Riviere, Evelyn Hall Park,
Alice Surtles, Mary Alice Irwin, Bulmea
Ruth Chishnall, Beatrice Crane, Edna
Van Dyke, Agnes Ruth Nelson, Ruth Wheeler, Lilly Haywood, Kathleen
Guthrie, Louise Page, Messrs. McCoy
Frank Stacey, Wallace Vandy
Dre Sterling Revere, Albert Sykes, al school. Starting from the kindergarten our labors; to songs of martial uplift and...

songs of praise to our creator that we may attain highest and the best.
...at Montevallo.

Music at Montevallo

Music at Montevallio.

Montevallio is the only state college which specializes in music. One large building is devoted exclusively to instruction in that subject. That building contains thirty-five rooms and an auditorium with a seating capacity of two hundred. It is equipped with thirty-five pianos and the other equipment necessary for efficient instruction. Mr. Marsh, a graduate of New England Conservatory and a pupil of Ethel Newcombe, Alberto Jonas and Arthur Newstead of New York City, is the new director. He is assisted by six well trained musicians, who give instruction in all branches of the art. There are more than three hundred pupils enrolled in the department this year. The instruction in this department is designed to train those who wish to carry music to the home, to be teachers of music, supervisors of public school music, or concert soloists.

Rev. Treadaway To Move To Montevallo

GOODWATER, Ala., Nov. 11.—Special.—Rev. W. M. Treadaway, pastor of the local Methodist church for the past three years, will move shortly to Montevallo with his family, where he will assume the pastorate of the Methodist church of that place.

Rev. R. L. Young will move to Goodwater to succeed Rev. Treadaway on the Goodwater-Andrews Chapel charge.

The many friends of Rev. Treadaway and family regret that he is to leave, as they have endeared themselves to the people of this section in a marked way.

OFFICER IS HONORED

Freshman Basket Squad Trims Sophs 10-6 At Montevallo

MONTVALLO, Ala., Nov. 14.—Special.—Monday was a big day at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, especially for the freshman class, as their basketball team defeated the sophomore class team by a score of 10 to 6.

This game was the second of a series of elimination contests which are played every year in order to determine the two best teams in college. These two picked teams will then meet on Thanksgiving Day to determine the champions of the school.

Last Monday the freshman team defeated the junior team by a score of 20 to 10, and it seems that they have a good chance to win the championship, however, the two winning teams will be selected from those teams having the largest score to their credit and not from those winning the most games.

On next Monday the sophomores and juniors will play and both teams will present a strong opposition. Each team is determined to win.

It is seldom that we have such an exhibition of true college spirit as was displayed at the game Monday. Each class supported its team by yells and songs, and all were in the best of spirits.

On Thanksgiving, the college will divide itself into two groups. Each "sister class" will join hands in support of her team which is to represent them on that day. The college is looking for a large crowd of visitors on Thanksgiving, as this marks one of the greatest events of the school year.

Those playing on the freshman team were: Mildred Keahey, Plantersville; Mildred Allbritton, Warrior; Olene Johnson, Brundidge; Ruth Warren, Birmingham; Madge Kirkland, Columbia, and Allene Pope, Midland City.

The sophomore team was composed of: Sue Page, Opp; Maggie Johnson, Brundidge; Edith Thomas, Ashby; Mildred Moore, Selma; Eugenia Moore, Harrell; Lucile Bell, Ashland.

Substitutes: Elizabeth Palmer, Carson, for Lucile Bell.

Montevallo Hears Near East Lecture

MONTVALLO, Ala., Nov. 15.—Special.—It is seldom the case that a lecturer holds the attention of an audience so well as did Maj. E. Alexander Powell, lecturer and writer, who appeared at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Monday evening.

Beginning with a graphic description of the Near East conditions and discussing clearly the gravity of the situation as it stands today, Major Powell carried his audience with him to the country of Arabia. He then gave a brief geographical setting of this country, about which so little is known. Major Powell remarked that "only ten white people had ever gone into the interior of Arabia, a country whose population is between 10,000,000 and 11,000,000 people."

Montevallo Club ^{B. News} Has First Meeting

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 6.—Special.—The first regular meeting of the Montevallo Exchange Club since its permanent organization was held in the basement of the Methodist Church, luncheon being served by the Ladies' Aid Society. Guests of honor were W. T. Warren, past president of the Birmingham Exchange Club, and Van Ormand, of Birmingham.

C. L. Meroney was the speaker for the occasion and he urged the reestablishment of a ginnery in Montevallo. A committee, consisting of C. L. Meroney, M. P. Jeter and E. G. Givhan was appointed to look into this matter. Past President W. T. Warren, of Birmingham, was called upon and responded in a very happy manner.

Girls Illustrate ^{B. News} Alabama History

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 16.—Special.—The pupils of the second congressional district have given two programs illustrating Alabama history, dwelling especially upon Alabama Day and displaying the Alabama flag.

Short addresses were made by different members of the district concerning Indian life, life of the early settlers, and the negro, during and after slavery.

Montgomery, the cradle of the confederacy and the largest city in that district, was the subject of an address by Miss Bessie Veach, of Montgomery.

The belles of the district were beautifully represented by Miss Sallie Mae Dalton, Opp, and Miss Alice Barganier, Montgomery. Miss Annie Crossley, Brewton, was the reader and director of these exercises.

An Indian pantomime was given by Miss Florence London, Greenville; Miss Patty Cole, Opp; Miss Cornelia Wall, Forest Home, and Miss Mary Louise Chambers, Catherine.

The early settler was presented by Miss Anna Mae Bell, Pigeon Creek, and negro life was portrayed by Misses Bill Smith, Opp; Lena Harris, Montgomery; Mary Margaret Newell, Coy; and Carolyn Wall, Forest Home.

The exercises were concluded by the singing of Dixie and a display of the Confederate flag and the Alabama state flag.

 MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE LUNCHEON SATURDAY.

Members of the Montevallo Alumnae are having their monthly luncheon at the Business and Professional Women's Club Saturday at 1 o'clock. All women who were former students of the college and others interested in it are invited to be present with the Birmingham chapter of the alumnae at this time.

ending, Dec. 15.

The college glee club presented a beautiful operetta, the Japanese Girl, in the auditorium Saturday evening, Dec. 18. The stage setting was exquisitely delicate, and suggestive of Japan. Harmonious lighting, especially in the second act added greatly to the beauty of the scene. The Glee Club has never been heard in a more successful program. Miss Abbott McKinnon, who sang the leading role, was highly praised for her artistic interpretation of the Japanese girl. Mr. Marsh who directed the music has received many congratulations for his work.

Tri-Cities Reporter
Dec. 22, 1922

Montevallo College ^{B. News} Has Musical Program

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 30.—Special.—An interesting musical program was given here on the night of Dec. 18 through the music department of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The program was presented by Clara Browning Evans, pianiste; Clara DeVane, pianiste; Luella Gibson Joiner, soprano, and Ruth Gardner Stanton, violiniste, members of the musical staff of the college.

The program was given in the college auditorium before an appreciative audience. The numbers of Mrs. Evans and Miss DeVane were especially played with musical thought and fire. The program included Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsodie No. 2, the Marche Heroique, by Saint-Saens, and other difficult selections.

Class In Sociology ^{B. News} Will Visit Prison

MONTEVALLO, Dec. 20.—Special.—The advanced class in sociology, under the direction of the teacher of this subject, Miss Myrtle Brooke, left early Thursday morning for Montgomery, and while there will inspect Kilby prison, the Masonic Orphans' Home and other interesting places in the city of Montgomery.

Warden-General Feagin kindly offered to personally conduct them through the prison and Superintendent George H. Thigpen will show them through the orphans' home.

The following are the members of the class: Miss Myrtle Brooke, teacher; Misses Shirley Narramore, Prattville; Sallie Mae Dalton, Sue Page, Cora Whaley, Opp; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Mary Morton, Midway; Berta and Gladys Martin, Enterprise; Martha Twitty, Columbia; Elizabeth Gaillard, Evergreen; Mary Crossley, Brewton; Lillian Stewart, Daphne; Carrie Lou Webb, LaFayette; Sara Grady, LaFayette; Agnes Auxford, Quinton; Mirian Helter and Gladys Menefee, Mobile; Dorothy Spier, Greenville; Addie Scarborough, Mt. Willing; Bessie Heath, Enterprise, and Ollie Tillman, Clio.

Montevallo Ala.

Miss Frances Y. Smith, former general Secretary of the Montevallo Y. W. C. A. and now one of the general secretaries of the Southern States, spent the week-end here and made two strong and inspiring talks to the students.

The Y. W. C. A. is one of the largest and most helpful organizations in this institute. On its membership roll there are 350 members, about 300 of whom are pursuing voluntary courses of Bible study. Two public meetings are held each week. Last Sunday evening a special song service was held and on Wednesday evening Miss Virginia Withers gave a very interesting account of Y. W. C. A. work in Paris, where she spent her vacation studying French.

The new souvenir postal cards pictures of the front gate to the campus are proving very popular. This gate is a gift to the college by the senior class of 1914.

Professor L. N. Duncan, of Auburn, spent last Friday here conferring with President Palmer and the Faculty about the Extension work in Home Economics

LOCAL MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE TO GIVE VALENTINE TEA.
The Birmingham Chapter of the Montevallo Alumnae Association will give a Valentine Tea Saturday, Feb. 10, from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Blue Triangle club rooms, 210 North Twenty-First Street. The public is invited. This tea is given for the purpose of increasing the "Model Home Fund."

TOLSTOY TO DELIVER LECTURE AT MONTEVALLO

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—A contract has been signed with the manager of Count Ilya Tolstoy of Russia, to deliver a lecture at the college on January 31. He is now making a general lecture tour throughout the United States, and large audiences are greeting him wherever he goes.

DISCUSS NEW CHURCH

Presbyterian Synod Committee Favors New Building in Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 11.—Special.—The committee of the Presbyterian Synod, consisting of Dr. C. M. Boyd, pastor First Presbyterian Church, Tuscaloosa; Dr. Dunbar Ogden, pastor First Presbyterian Church, Mobile; A. G. Irons, superintendent Home Missions of the Tuscaloosa Presbytery; Dr. R. W. Miles, pastor Presbyterian Church, Auburn, met here to discuss with Rev. P. H. Carmichael and other local Presbyterians the question of erecting a new church building at this place.

The present house of worship is entirely too small for the community and for the college. No decision was reached, but all agreed that a new house should be erected as early as practicable.

DIRECTORS REELECTED.

Artists' Concerts

The series of artists' concerts that were begun in the fall will be continued during the present term. The first to appear will be Maurice Dumesnil, famous French pianist, on the evening of January 13. He was educated under the finest teachers of Paris and Germany, and has won the highest praise anyone could be accorded in Europe. Interesting himself in Spanish music of the modern school, he became such a favorite in Spain that he was looked upon as one of the greatest interpreters of its music. Infact, he did much to bring forth the workh of several of its noted composers.

In the concert field of Latin America no concert pianist is better known or more popular. For several seasons he battled in that part of the world to make instrumental concerts popular and those who have followed him had practically an easy time. It was Dumesnil who paved the way.

But Dumesil did more than pave the way. He was the first big artist to recognize the merits of the Latin American composers and placed their work h on his programs, and when he comes to Montevallo he will present several of these works which will be very interesting and novel.

Montevallo Will Stage Basketball Tourney For Girls

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 13.—The Montevallo College for Women has invited the girls' basketball teams of the state to a tournament to be held at Montevallo, Feb. 22, 23 and 24.

The college is located in the center of the state and hence is in a most fitting place for such a meet. The college will entertain the visitors.

The plan is to have two teams from each congressional district. The district team will play to determine the championship of the districts and then the state championship will be decided by a tournament involving the winning team. Spauldings girls' rules will be used for the tournament.

The college promises an interesting program for the teams that come. A splendid patriotic program is planned for the morning of Feb. 22. The Dramatic Club is preparing to present a play that night. While the music department with its orchestra and glee club promises a real treat for the night of Feb. 22, other forms of entertainment are being planned.

A list of the subdivisions of the congressional districts together with the managers of each will be published soon. All high schools are asked to form a girls' basketball team with a view to making the tournament a success.

More...

Woman's College Meets Montevallo Quint January 20

BY LUCIA MAY GIDDENS

THE great basketball classic of the year at Woman's College is the annual game with Montevallo, which will be staged Jan. 20 in the college gymnasium. For some weeks Coach L. E. Williams has been rounding his squad into perfect condition. Every night the varsity and scrubs are given a thorough workout, in preparation for the first intercollegiate game of the year.

Although Coach Williams has not definitely announced his varsity lineup Maurine Richardson (Ariton) and Ellen Maddox (Birmingham) have practically clinched the center positions; Mary Lou Pugh (Grove Hill), the flashy forward who has played varsity basketball for the past three years, is again running true to form, by her accurate and timely goal-shooting; Ruth Self (Oneonta) of last year's varsity is starring again at forward, and Valerie Colvin (Mobile) is being given a varsity tryout for substitute forward.

Norma Park (Ralph) is playing her fourth year as varsity guard, and is maintaining her record for aggressiveness and accuracy. Helen Jackson (Jasper) and Helen Watson (Lincoln) are alternating at the other guard position.

While the team is preparing for the coming contest, the students have been holding daily pep-meetings, led by the newly elected cheer leaders, Boonie McCann and Julia Talley. The entire college is planning to give Montevallo a warm and rousing reception.

ENDORSED.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE TO BEGIN BASKETBALL SEASON WITH TECHS

The Woman's College basketball team will open its schedule tonight at Massey gymnasium with the team from Montevallo representing the Alabama Technical Institute for Woman. The two teams meet twice each season, last season the locals winning both games.

Coach Earl Williams announced Friday night that his team would probably enter the game minue the services of Norma Park, a guard. Miss Park sustained a slight injury at practice Thursday night and may not be able to play tonight. Miss Watson and Miss Garrett, two promising varsity players, have been showing unusual work while playing with the scrubs and may be used at one of the guard positions tonight.

The local coach may start the game tonight with Mary Lou Pugh and Ruth Self, forwards; Ellen Maddox and Maurine Richardson, centers; Helen Jackson Eva Garrett and Helen Watson, guards.

The Montevallo team this season is reported to be one of the best ever representing the institution, and the team is coming confident of giving the locals a hard fight.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE IS WINNER AFTER HARD CONTEST WITH TECH

With defeat almost at hand and a few minutes to play, Woman's College basketball team opened a whirlwind attack and defeated Montevallo Saturday night at the local gymnasium, 23-16, in one of the most bitterly contested games ever played at the local gymnasium. In the last five minutes of play Montevallo was leading, but brilliant floor work and accurate goal shooting by Miss Mary Lou Pugh (Grove Hill) turned defeat into victory, the flashy forward caging field goals at will and through her work the locals obtained victory.

Montevallo (16)	Woman's College (23)
Martin (14)Pugh (17)
Forward
Stewart (2) Self (6)
Forward
Albritton Richardson
Center
Burleson Mattox
Side Center
Narramore Park
Guard
Holman Jackson
Guard

Summary: Field goals: Montevallo, 6; Woman's College, 9. Referee, Miss Sellers (Montevallo). Umpire, Miss Johnston (Sargent.) Scorer, Miss G. Bourne (W. C.) Play periods, 15 minutes.

Scoring periods:
Montevallo 11 5
Woman's College 7 16

Woman's College Beats Montevallo In Exciting Game

News BY TOM HALL 1923

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 20.—Special.—With defeat almost in sight and only a few minutes left to play. Woman's basketball team started a whirlwind attack and defeated Montevallo here Saturday night, 23-16, in one of the hardest fought games ever played at the local gymnasium. The victory was obtained through the brilliant floor work of Miss Mary Lou Pugh (Grove Hill), who was able to smash through the Montevallo guards and scored field goals in rapid succession. Her work was the most spectacular play of its kind ever seen here.

Montevallo fought hard and clean. The Technical Institute girls gave the Methodist players their hardest fight of the team's career. Woman's College forwards more than doubled the visitors' chances for field goals in the first period, but their shooting was wide and was tried from difficult positions on the floor. In the final period the Montevallo guarding was weakened by the attack and the locals toward the close gained a lead.

The Montevallo team through accurate goal shooting by Miss Gladys Martin closed the first period with a four-point lead. In the second period Montevallo started with a lead, but with almost perfect team work in the last five minutes of play Miss Self and Miss Pugh for Woman's College started their work and Miss Pugh covered herself with glory by making almost impossible field goals. Guarding by Miss Melen Jackson (Jasper) and Miss Norma Park (Ralph) played an important part in the locals' victory, and the pair played their best game of their career. For Montevallo Miss Martin was a luminary and was guarded so closely in the final period that she was held to two field goals, but was always found in the mix-up. Miss Martin passed the ball well and shared honors of the game with Miss Pugh. Miss Ellen Maddox blocked the Montevallo offense in the closing minutes and throughout the game repulsed the visitors in their attempt to smash through the Woman's College defense. The two teams were entertained following the game.

Box score.

Montevallo (16)—Martin (14), forward; Stewart (2), forward; Albritton, center; Burleson, side center; Narramore, guard; Holman, guard.

Woman's College (23)—Pugh (17), forward; Self (6), forward; Richardson, center; Mattox, side center; Park, guard; Jackson, guard.

Summary—Field goals Montevallo 6; Woman's College 9; referee, Miss Sellers (Montevallo); umpire, Miss Johnston (Sargent); scorer, Miss G. Bourne (Woman's College); periods, 15 minutes.

Montevallo Visited By Economics Chief

MONTVALLO, Ala., Jan. 22.—Special.—Miss Adelaide S. Baylor, chief of Home Economics Division of Vocational Education, Washington, D. C., spent Friday at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. She was accompanied by Miss Ivor Spafford, state director of vocational home economics.

Early in the morning, Miss Baylor had a conference with all of the home economics students, and at the regular chapel hour she addressed the entire student body.

At noon the home economics department served a buffet luncheon in honor of Miss Baylor and Miss Spafford, to which the following were invited: President and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, Dean O. C. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Sharpe, Misses Edna Irvin and Myrtle Brooke.

Miss Myrtle Brooke, head of the department of education in the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, and Mr. Geo. F. Peter, president of the Southern Coal and Coke Company, Boothton, have been appointed members of the committee of fifty named by J. Alex Moore, president of the Alabama Educational Association to work out and present to the legislature a unified program for the development of education in Alabama.

Montevallo Students Hear Ilya Tolstoy

MONTVALLO, Ala., Feb. 2.—Special.—Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the late Count Leo Tolstoy, gave an inspiring lecture to the students at Montevallo Thursday night.

He discussed at length the situation in Russia today. He was there in the early days of the revolution and during the rise and spread of bolshevism throughout that country. He gave a vivid description of the aims, ideals and methods of the Bolsheviks, pointing out that it was fast losing its hold on the people. It has ceased to exist already in villages because it is not strong enough to reach out and hold them.

In speaking of his father he said that his novels would some day be forgotten, but that his philosophy would live forever and would be accepted more and more as time goes on. He said that his father's greatness lay, not in his powers as a writer, but as a thinker.

Count Tolstoy was greeted by a large body of the students, town people and people from surrounding communities and he made a profound impression upon all.

New York Pastor Heard At Montevallo

MONTVALLO, Ala., Feb. 3.—Special.—Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., was the lecturer at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women on Thursday evening.

He captured his audience in the first sentence and held them spellbound until the close. His address was one hour and 15 minutes long, and at the conclusion was roundly applauded by the students for two or three minutes.

He is regarded as the most fascinating lecturer that has ever visited this institution. His subject was "Lights and Shadows in the World." He discussed this question from a world-wide standpoint, referring rapidly to the peculiarities of the great nations of the world. No nation has ever become great that would not have a great religion, he said. He therefore appealed to the pupils to take an active part in religious activities, to develop his ideals of character and womanhood.

Japan consumes about a billion feet of lumber annually.

SCHOOL ASKS FOR CHANGE OF NAME

Montevallo School Would Be Known In Future As Alabama College.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 2.—Special.—If a recommendation by a committee of the board of trustees of the Alabama Technical Institute and College For Women, adopted at a meeting of the board Thursday, is carried out by the legislature, the name of the Montevallo institution of learning in future will be simply Alabama College. The recommendation will be referred to the legislature for action in due time.

The board met in special session in the office of Gov. William W. Brandon at the capitol on the call of the chief executive to consider an agreement reached by the presidents of the University of Alabama, Auburn and the Montevallo school in regard to the allocation of courses of study among these institutions.

It is understood this agreement provided for an expansion of the work of the technical institute and college for women at Montevallo to cover four-year degree courses, which includes B. S. degrees in a number of courses and an A. B. degree in education, which is to be the only A. B. degree to be awarded there. At a meeting of the state council of education held a short time later the report by the presidents of the institutions named was approved.

Those attending Thursday's session of the board were: Gov. William W. Brandon, Dr. John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education; Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Alabama Technical Institute and College For Women;

L. Sevier, L. M. Hooper, M. A. Graham, W. H. Tayloe, W. J. Dansby, A. V. Lee, W. T. Sheehan, L. M. Moseley and Virgil Bouldin.

Girl Scouts Head Visits Montevallo

MONTVALLO, Ala., Feb. 6.—Special.—Miss Doris S. Hough, the regional director of the Southeastern division of the Girl Scouts, was the week-end guest of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

On Sunday evening Miss Hough made an interesting and inspiring talk before the Y. W. C. A. on scouting. She spoke not only of the origin and history of the organization but of its methods, aims and ideals. She described the courses in scouting which have been introduced in many of our leading Southern colleges and discussed the possibility of organizing such a course in this institution.

Montevallo Girls Win From Shelby County

MONTVALLO, Ala., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—The Shelby county high school girls played the second game with the Montevallo high school basketball team at Montevallo yesterday afternoon. The score was 53 to 2 in favor of Montevallo.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE QUINTETTE

Montgomery Advertiser Feb 4 1923

The above picture shows the members of the Woman's College basketball team. Standing: Reading left to right—Ellen Maddox (Birmingham, Maurine Richardson (Ariton), Ruth Self (Oneonta), Coach Earl Williams (Montgomery), Helen Watson (Lincoln), Sara C. Garrett (Centre), Antoinette Walker (Birmingham. Sitting, left to right—Valera Colvin (Mobile), Helen Jackson (Jasper), Mary Lou Pugh (Grove Hill), and Norma Park (Ralph). —Photo by Sexton Studio

Montevallo Wins Over Woman's College Girls

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 10.—(Special.)—Montevallo girls are jubilant tonight over the victory in basketball over the Woman's college team of Montgomery. The game was played here this afternoon, and resulted in a victory for Montevallo by the score of 22 to 17.

It has almost become a tradition for Women's college to defeat Montevallo, as the Montgomery girls won twice in 1922, and had won a previous game this year, played at Montgomery. This afternoon's victory for Montevallo was something of an upset.

The game this afternoon was hard fought throughout, and was featured by the determined manner in which the Montevallo girls guarded their opponents. Following are the girls who played in this afternoon's game: Montevallo—Martin, Burleson, Albritton, Carmichael, Narramore and Holman.

Woman's college — Pou, Collins, Branscomb, Richardson, Walker, Maddox, Park, Jackson, Watson.

Montevallo Hands W. C. First Defeat Of Basket Season

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 10.—Special.—Woman's College suffered her first defeat of the season Saturday when the Montevallo girl triumphed over the lassies from Montgomery, 22-17.

The game was furiously contested throughout and the final result was in doubt up until the closing seconds. The two teams' scores were close together during the entire contest. The personnel of the two squads are as follows:

Woman's College—Pugh, Colvin, Branscomb, Richardson, Walker Maddox, Park, Jackson and Watson.

Montevallo—Gladys Martin, Lily Burneson, Mildred Albritton, Odell Carmichael, Shirley Narramore and Minnie Holman.

Brandon Grants

Montevallo Girls Cop Close Tilt From Troy

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 7.—Special.—The basketball team of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women won from Troy in a close game played at Troy Saturday afternoon. The score at the end of the first half stood 5-4 in favor of Montevallo. The final score was 18-16.

Montevallo has played four games this season with a total score of 92, while her opponents have scored 56.

This team will play its next game here Friday, Feb. 9, with the team from Woman's College. This is expected to be an interesting contest. The two teams played a fast, hotly contested game at Woman's College Jan. 19. The game resulted in a victory for Woman's College. With the advantage of playing on the home court, Montevallo stands a good chance to win in the next encounter.

be forthcoming.

College Girls Aid In Montevallo Fire

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 11.—Special.—The two-story frame residence of Mrs. J. H. Davies was totally destroyed by fire. It is generally believed that it caught by a spark which fell upon the shingle roof.

The house was valued at $4,500. Insurance carried was $3,200. It was occupied by the Wilson brothers, D. P., Walker and Maxcanter. Practically all their furniture was saved, although damaged some by hurried movement from the building.

The Presbyterian Church, just across the street, caught several times on the roof. It is estimated that the damage to the church was about $400 with no insurance. The adjoining residence, occupied by Mr. Foust and family, caught several times, but the damage is probably not more than $50. This building belonged to Dr. E. G. Givhan and was fully covered by insurance.

Montevallo has no fire department, but the citizens worked heroically with a bucket brigade. Large numbers of the college girls with the citizens from the town formed a regular bucket procession and brought water very rapidly to save other buildings.

Opera Singer Is Heard At Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 13.—Special.—On Sunday afternoon, Miss Margery Maxwell, prima donna soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, gave the fourth concert of the artists' series at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Miss Maxwell has one of the most wonderful voices that the music lovers of Montevallo have had the opportunity of hearing in several years. She was obliged to give six encores before the audience would allow her to go.

Miss Maxwell was assisted by Miss Kathryn Foster at the piano. Miss Foster not only proved herself to be a splendid accompanist but a splendid soloist. She had to respond with two encores after her solo group.

Woman's College Wants Third Game With Montevallo

BY TOM HALL.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 14.—Woman's College and Montevallo College basketball teams may stage a championship game at Cramton Bowl within the next few weeks, if satisfactory arrangements can be made. Coach Earl Williams of the Woman's College sextette stated that his players were ready and willing to play Montevallo a return game, to decide the college honors of the state for teams playing girls' rules.

The two teams have played twice this season, each having won a game. Woman's College won the first game 23-16, while Montevallo won last Saturday 22-17.

"If Montevallo wants to play off the tie, my team is ready," said Coach Williams. The local mentor said that he would play the game on an open court if Montevallo accepted and that Cramton Bowl officers had already asked for the game to be played here.

"It is up to Montevallo to say yes or no. It was my team's first defeat in several years, but we believe we can give Montevallo a good game, although they have a wonderful team."

Montevallo Girls Nose Out Victory Over Selma High

MONTEVALLO, Feb. 5.—Special.—In one of the most hotly contested games ever witnessed on the local court, the Selma high school girls went down in defeat at the hands of the Montevallo high school girls by a close score of 20-19.

At the beginning of the game, the Selma girls, by a series of quick plays, showed their ability to shoot goals, and ran the score to nine points in their favor before the Montevallo girls had scored a point. At the end of the first half however, the Montevallo girls led the Selma girls by a score of 11 to 10. The Selma girls began the third quarter by shooting several goals which gave them a lead of 15 to 14. But during the last quarter the Montevallo girls came back strong, and when the whistle sounded the score stood 20 to 19 in Montevallo's favor.

Both teams played well. The stars were Erin Beardin and Minnabel Baskin for Selma; while for Montevallo Fay Turner, Vinegar Bend, Mabel McElroy, Woodstock, and Sara Head played stellar ball.

Selma
Players—	T. F.	P. F.	F. G.	Fl. G.
Erin Beardin	0	0	6	4
Minnabel Baskin	0	0	1	1
Kathleen Weaver	0	0	0	0
Bertha Tepper	0	0	0	0
Bessie Boggs	1	1	0	0
Minnie Bogg	2	2	0	0
Polly Pepper	3	0	0	0
Evelyn Powell	1	0	0	0
Bessie Tash	1	0	0	0
	7	3	7	5
Montevallo
Players—	T. F.	P. F.	F. G.	Fl. G.
Fay Turner	3	0	4	6
Mabel McElroy	1	0	3	0
Elizabeth Ward	3	0	0	0
Melba Griffin	0	0	0	0
Sara Head	1	1	0	0
Annie Hayes	4	1	0	0
	12	2	7	6

Great interest is being manifested in the state tournament to be held on the college campus here Feb. 22, 23, 24. Every congressional district in the state will be represented by two or more girls' high school teams.

Former Owner Of Colonels

Montevallo Again Trims Shelby Team

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 8.—The Shelby County High School girls played the second game with the Montevallo High School basketball team at Montevallo, the score ending 58-2 in favor of Montevallo.

The Montevallo team has played five games, and lost only one. It stands a good chance of becoming one of the contenders in the tournament Feb. 21, 22 and 23.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE'S VALENTINE TEA.

The Valentine Tea to be given at the Blue Triangle Rooms on North Twenty-First Street by the Birmingham Chapter Montevallo Alumnae is scheduled for Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. A large attendance is expected. All having tickets for sale are requested to make report at once to Mrs. Ralph Quinn, secretary.

Montevallo Girls Are Winners in Troy Game

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 13. (Special.)—The Montevallo basketball team added a second victory to its record of intercollegiate games by defeating the Troy State Normal school Friday.

Those playing the best game for Troy were Misses Lucile Radney, Louise Paisley and Elizabeth McMillan. For Montevallo Gladys Martin, Shirley Naramore and Lillie Burleson. The teams were composed of the following young ladies: Troy—Louise Paisley, Elizabeth McMillan, Madlyn Miller, Jewel Smiles, Mittie Hyman, Sadie Lyde, Ruby Dent, Lucile Radney, Montevallo—Gladys Martin, Lillian Stewart, Mildred Keahey, Mildred Albritton, Lillie Burleson, Odelle Carmichael, Minnie Holman, Shirley Naramore and Mildred Moore.

At Montevallo to Play

mar soils.

Y. W. C. A. LEADER IS GUEST AT MONTEVALLO

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 18. (Special.)—Miss Katharine L. Aller, personal secretary of the national Y. W. C. A., with headquarters in New York city, was a visitor to the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for two days this week.

While here, she made an interesting talk to the association on "Opportunities for General Y. W. C. A. Work," informing the students that many girls throughout the country are seeking employment in this line.

She held personal conferences with many of the students and several girls here will consider taking up association work after leaving college.

MRS. HENRY AT COLLEGE

Mrs. Eugene B. Henry of Birmingham, president of the Alumnae society, spent the week-end at the college and was busily engaged while here in conferring with the college authorities and other alumnae members concerning the program for alumnae day, Saturday, May 12. She states that many alumnae are arranging to be present on that occasion.

Montevallo Wins Its Game With Troy, 18-16

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 6. (Special.)—The basketball team of Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women won from Troy in a close game played at Troy Saturday afternoon. The final score was 18 to 16.

Montevallo has played four games this season with a total score of 92, while her opponents have scored 56 points.

This team will play its next game at Montevallo Friday, February 9, with the team from Woman's College. This is expected to be an interesting game. The two teams played a fast, hotly contested game at Woman's College January 19. The game resulted in a victory for Woman's college in the last few minutes of play.

INDUSTRIAL PASTELS SEEN AT MONTEVALLO

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 31. (Special.)—For the past 10 days there has been on exhibit in the art department of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women a collection of pastels by Roderick D. McKenzie. The pastels contain 43 pictures painted in the Ensley steel plant and there is also a model by Mr. McKenzie of an open hearth furnace with the workmen shoveling ore.

These pastels will be taken from Montevallo to one or two other points in Alabama, and will then be exhibited at the steel institution in New York.

Woman's College Wants Third Game With Montevallo

BY TOM HALL.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 14. (Special.)—Woman's College and Montevallo College basketball teams may stage a championship game at Cramton Bowl within the next few weeks, if satisfactory arrangements can be made. Coach Earl Williams of the Woman's College sextette stated that his players were ready and willing to play Montevallo a return game, to decide the college honors of the state for teams playing girl's rules.

The two teams have played twice this season, each having won a game. Woman's College won the first game 23-16, while Montevallo won last Saturday 22-17.

"If Montevallo wants to play off the tie, my team is ready," said Coach Williams. The local mentor said that he would play the game on an open court if Montevallo accepted and that Cramton Bowl officers had already asked for the game to be played here.

"It is up to Montevallo to say yes or no. It was my team's first defeat in several years, but we believe we can give Montevallo a good game, although they have a wonderful team."

BARRIE PLAY GIVEN BY MONTEVALLO STUDENTS

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 22. (Special.)—At 8 o'clock Thursday evening the Dramatic club of Montevallo presented Barrie's, "What Every Woman Knows," to a packed house. This was given complimentary to the visiting athletic teams under the direction of Miss Dorothy Richey of the expression department.

MONTEVALLO HAS HAD SUCCESSFUL BASKET SEASON

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 18. (Special.)—Having fulfilled all engagements for the season, the varsity basketball squad of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is now closing its present season.

The season is considered a successful one, the team having been victorious in four out of the five games played. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three marked Montevallo's second season in intercollegiate basketball, it is stated by Miss Rebecca Funk, coach and head of the physical education department.

In the defeat of the Woman's college team, with a score of 22 to 17, at Montevallo recently, the locals, with only two seasons' play behind them, broke for the Montgomery team a record of six years of victory with not a defeat.

Mention of the players includes Miss Gladys Martin of Enterprise, forward, who has served on the team both of her years in college.

Miss Lillie Burleson of Guin, junior, has devoted much of her time to playing center, but has recently shown forward playing ability by becoming the running mate with Miss Martin.

Miss Mildred Albritton of Warrior, freshman, has taken the position of jumping center this season, although she has not been used regularly at this position.

Miss Odelle Carmichael of Hollins, sophomore, utility player of last year, has shown skill in her position as side center, and is considered one of the most valued players of the team.

Miss Minnie Holman of Camden, junior, has played guard on the varsity for two seasons, being the running mate of Miss Shirley Naramore of Prattville, senior, and captain of the team.

The five other members of the squad who have rendered valuable service, according to the coach, are Miss Lillian Stewart of Daphn, junior; Miss Mildred Keahey, captain of the present freshmen team; Miss Mildred Moore of Selma, senior; Miss Lillie Smith of Opp and Miss Helen Townsend of Russellville.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY TO BE SEEN AT MONTEVALLO

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 24. (Special.)—March 1 will mark the appearance of Clifford Devereux and company, dramatists, in Montevallo, the company appearing before the student body of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women here. The Devereux company is touring the entire country now presenting Shakespearean plays before the student bodies of colleges and has appeared at several of the Alabama institutions already, it is said.

Montevallo Basketball Players Hostesses to Contestants Now Playing In Alabama Tournament

This college began intercollegiate cage work during 1921-22. In this second year's experience it has defeated Athens College and Troy Normal, and won one out of two games with Woman's College. Standing from left to right: Mildred Keahey, freshman, Plantersville, forward; Lillian Stewart, junior, Daphne, forward; Miss Rebecca Funk, coach; Mildred Moore, sophomore, Selma, guard; Gladys Martin, sophomore, Enterprise, forward; Shirley Narramore, senior, Prattville, captain and guard. Seated: Odelle Carmichael, sophomore, Hollins, center; Lillie Burleson, junior, Guin, forward; Mildred Allbritton, freshman, Warrior, jumping center; Minnie Holman, junior, Camden, guard.

Woman's College Cage Team Loses Its Star

MONTGOMERY, Ala., February 15. Woman's college basketball enthusiasts are not grieving so much over the loss of the first game in the past seven years, which came last Saturday in Montgomery by the score of 22 to 17, as they are over the loss of their star little forward, Miss Ruth Self, who is out of the game for the remainder of the season, and thus will be seen no more on a "W. C." team, for she finishes this year.

Miss Self, who was taken suddenly ill a few minutes before the game started at Montevallo, is still in a serious condition, it is said.

The Montevallo victory over the locals tied the series, and the deciding game will be played off on a neutral court some time soon, according to officials.

Montevallo Girls Win From Selma, 20 to 19

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 6.—(Special.)—In one of the most hotly contested games ever witnessed on the local court, the Selma High school girls went down in defeat at the hands of the Montevallo High school girls by a close score of 20 to 19.

At the beginning of the game, the Selma girls, by a series of quick plays, showed their ability to shoot goals, and ran the score of nine points in their favor before the Montevallo girls had scored a point. At the end of the first half, however, the Montevallo girls led the Selma girls by a score of 11 to 10.

Both teams played well. The stars were Miss Erin Beardin and Miss Minnabel Baskin for Selma, while for Montevallo Miss Fay Turner of Vinegar Bend, Miss Mabel McElroy of Woodstock and Miss Sara Head of Montevallo played stellar ball.

Line-up:

Selma (19)—Erin Beardin (16), Minnabel Baskin (3), Kathleen Weaver, Berta Tepper, Minnie Boggs, Polly Pepper, Evelyn Powell, Bessie Tash.

Montevallo (20)—Fay Turner (14), Mabel McElroy (6), Elizabeth Ward, Melba Griffin, Sara Head, Annie Hayes.

Great interest is being manifested in the state-wide tournament to be held on the college campus here February 22, 23, 24. Every congressional district in the state will be represented by two or more girls' high school teams.

PIANO STUDENTS ENTER CONTEST AT MONTEVALLO

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 3.—(Special.)—A $100 Victrola will be given by the C. C. Holcombe Music company, Birmingham, as a prize for the successful piano pupil at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo, who will represent that college at the annual music contest of the Alabama Federation of Music clubs to be held in Montgomery in March. The following Montevallo pupils will compete with each other on Monday, March 12: Miss Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Miss Ernestine Bonner, Camden; Miss Dorothy Spier, Greenville; Miss Ernestine Tatum, Calvert; Miss Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Miss Cora Whaley, Opp; and Miss Josephine Kilgore, Corona.

MONTEVALLO FIVE TO PLAY IN SELMA

(Special To The Advertiser)

SELMA, ALA., March 8.—The basketball team of the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute, at Montevallo, will reach Selma Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and will be met by the Selma high school team now champion basketball team of the state. The players will be entertained in the homes of the hostess team for the big game to be played Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the high school gymnasium. Considerable interest is felt in the coming of the Montevallo girls to Selma and they will be given a royal welcome, in appreciation of their splendid hospitality extended the Selma team during the tournament. Each visiting girl will be the week end guest of a member of the winning team and some pleasant affairs are being planned for them while here.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE VALENTINE TEA

The Valentine Tea given recently by the Birmingham chapter of the Montevallo Alumnae in the Blue Triangle club rooms was a very interesting event. The club rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the Valentine idea was effectively carried out. A large basket of red roses adorned the various tables. The president, Mrs. D. F. Rucks, presided. Among the interesting numbers were songs by little Mary Knox and Helen Holcombs Rucks. Attractive solo dances were given by Rosalie Swigart dressed to represent a Valentine, and Leonard Hartley, dressed in pale green chiffon. The readings by Mrs. Bessie Strother Curtis, and Mrs. Thrasher were enjoyed very much. A Spanish song was sung by Mrs. Louis Gholston Jackson, who was dressed in gypsy costume, and was immensely enjoyed.

Mrs. Eugene Henry and Mrs. John Prosser poured tea from an attractive table covered with red hearts. Assisting were Mrs. Spidle, Mrs. Ralph Quinn, Mrs. H. H. King, Miss Posey, Miss Bertie Allen, and Miss Beatrice Norris.

PLAYS MACBETH

DR. FREDERICK D. LOSEY

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 1. (Special.)—A crowded house greeted the presentation here Wednesday of "Macbeth" by Dr. F. D. Losey of New York, formerly professor at the University of Alabama. In the morning he gave a lecture explaining his reading for the evening. Dr. Losey was here several times while he resided in Alabama. He was given prolonged applause at the conclusion of his reading and requested to return next year.

Alabama product. It was designed and built by local people with Alabama money out of materials that, as far as possible, were obtained in Alabama. It has just been finished and opened for use.

The structure, on account of its beauty and completeness, is attracting wide attention from all who have visited it.

It is located according to the general group plan that was adopted about 12 years ago. This provision means that no new structure is placed on the campus with reference merely to present needs and ideas; but is staked out on a site that has been carefully prepared for it in a comprehensive group plan taking care of the growth of the college far into the future.

The library is in the same style of architecture as the other buildings, a very refined colonial of rich red brick and carved limestone trimmings. The delicate details give a feminine atmosphere and stamp the group definitely as a college for girls.

In the stone work, the carved capitals have a fruit and acanthus leaf design. The shields with open books and torches of learning in soft relief, the ancient lamp of knowledge over the graceful stone doorway all press the purpose for which the building is used.

Large Reading Room.

The main feature of the design is the large reading room with five large arched windows on the side and a charming triple Palladian arched window at each end.

In the stone frieze under the cornice are inscriptions in classic letters. At the ends is "Knowledge Is Power." On the front are the words, "Education, Economics, Music, Science, Literature." On the first floor there is a spacious lobby with tile floor and caen stone walls; arched openings lead into the stair hall and the delivery room.

The delivery room with its modern library desks and counters opens all of one side into the large reading room. The reading room is 90 feet long, 35 feet wide and 32 feet high. There are five large arched windows on one side and a triple arch Palladian window at each end. Seven-foot oak bookshelves form a rich wainscoting on all four sides. The ceiling is beamed and paneled in dark brown oak. The undersides of the beams are beautifully decorated in graceful arabesques of gold, brown and old blue and a few touches of deep red. The walls are laid off in creamy caen stone blocks, with caen stone brackets under the ends of the large beams. On the side opposite the five windows is a door to the lobby at one end and a door to the stack room at the other. Between these doors is the delivery room above, and above this alcove is a lovely Florentine triple arch balcony with a delicate wrought iron railing in front. This balcony opens from the second floor corridor into the upper part of the reading room and gives a fine view of the stately interior.

Behind the delivery room are the librarian's office, children's room and a catalog room. Next to these rooms and behind the reading room is the large stack room to take care of four tiers of steel stacks. This stack room is large enough to take care of the increase in books for many years to come.

"College Night" Is Montevallo Event

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 7.—(Special.)—"College Night," one of the leading annual events of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, was held here Monday night. The event was considered the most brilliant since the inauguration of the events in 1919.

The entire student body was divided into two divisions, the "Gold" and the "Purple," these being the college colors. Competitive songs, impersonations, toasts and "stunts" were given. The "Gold" side was finally given the prize by the judges, who were President Walter B. Agnew, of Women's College of Montgomery; Dr. Roy E. Hoke, of Birmingham-Southern College of Birmingham, and George F. Peter, of Boothton.

Dr. Agnew presented the prize, a handsome floor lamp. In his remarks he voiced the cordial relationship of the two colleges.

During his visit here, Dr. Agnew spoke at the Exchange Club meeting and was a special guest of the Students' Club at their reciprocity meeting, where 20 clubs were represented. He was accompanied by his wife. They were guests of President and Mrs. Palmer while here.

Local Architects Design Structure And Local Contractors Erect It.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 17.—(Special.)—The new library building erected for the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo, is almost strictly an Alabama product. It was designed and built by local people with Alabama money out of materials that, as far as possible, were obtained in Alabama. It has just been finished and opened for use.

The structure, on account of its beauty and completeness, is attracting wide attention from all who have visited it.

It is located according to the general group plan that was adopted about 12 years ago. This provision means that no new structure is placed on the campus with reference merely to present needs and ideas; but is staked out on a site that has been carefully prepared for it in a comprehensive group plan taking care of the growth of the college far into the future.

The library is in the same style of architecture as the other buildings, a very refined colonial of rich red brick and carved limestone trimmings. The delicate details give a feminine atmosphere and stamp the group definitely as a college for girls.

In the stone work, the carved capitals have a fruit and acanthus leaf design. The shields with open books and torches of learning in soft relief, the ancient lamp of knowledge over the graceful stone doorway all press the purpose for which the building is used.

Large Reading Room.

The main feature of the design is the large reading room with five large arched windows on the side and a charming triple Palladian arched window at each end.

In the stone frieze under the cornice are inscriptions in classic letters. At the ends is "Knowledge Is Power." On the front are the words, "Education, Economics, Music, Science, Literature." On the first floor there is a spacious lobby with tile floor and caen stone walls; arched openings lead into the stair hall and the delivery room.

The delivery room with its modern library desks and counters opens all of one side into the large reading room.

The reading room is 90 feet long, 35 feet wide and 32 feet high. There are five large arched windows on one side and a triple arch Palladian window at each end. Seven-foot oak bookshelves form a rich wainscoting on all four sides. The ceiling is beamed and paneled in dark brown oak. The undersides of the beams are beautifully decorated in graceful arabesques of gold, brown and old blue and a few touches of deep red. The walls are laid off in creamy caen stone blocks, with caen stone brackets under the ends of the large beams. On the side opposite the five windows is a door to the lobby at one end and a door to the stack room at the other. Between these doors is the delivery room above, and above this alcove is a lovely Florentine triple arch balcony with a delicate wrought iron railing in front. This balcony opens from the second floor corridor into the upper part of the reading room and gives a fine view of the stately interior.

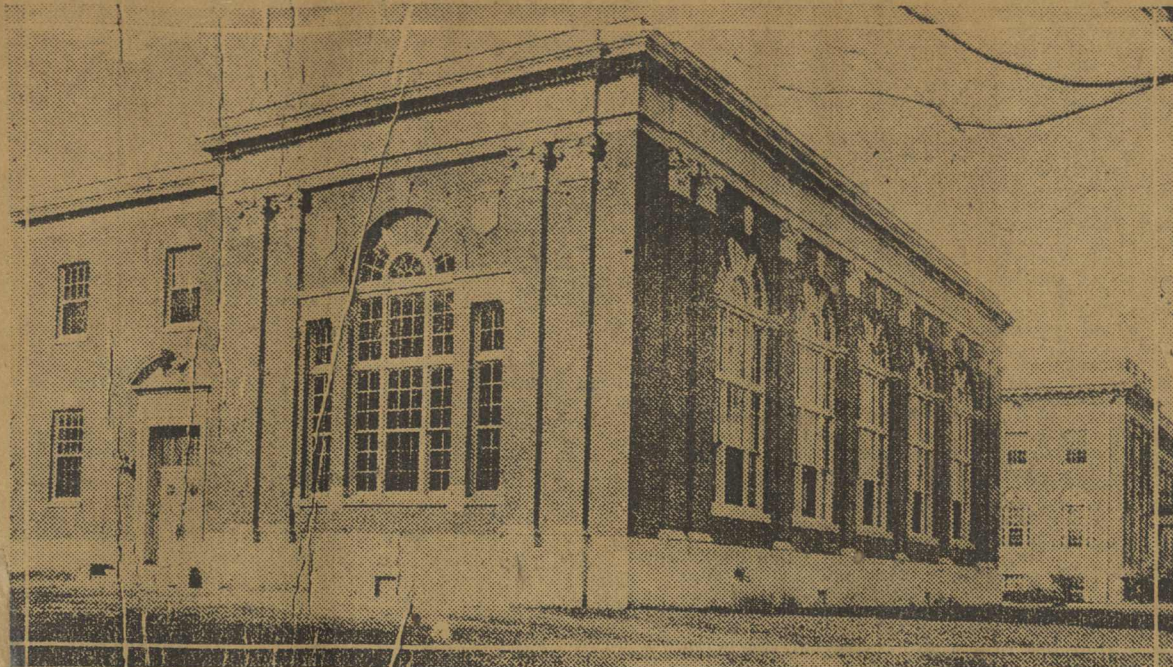

Behind the delivery room are the librarian's office, children's room and a catalog room. Next to these rooms and behind the reading room is the large stack room to take care of four tiers of steel stacks. This stack room is large enough to take care of the increase in books for many years to come.

The second floor contains three large research or study rooms for special work. The main reading room and the stack room have extra high ceilings and take up the full height of both stories.

The furniture and light fixtures have been carefully selected to harmonize with the architecture of the building, making the total result thoroughly satisfying in every respect.

The architects were Warren, Knight and Davis, and the contractors were Smallman & Bryce, of Birmingham.

NEW LIBRARY BUILDING AT MONTEVALLO IS ALMOST ENTIRELY MADE OF STATE PRODUCTS

Above is a picture of the library at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo. The building has just been finished at a cost of approximately $75,000. It is only one of a series of new college buildings which the trustees are planning and expect to build shortly.

The untifully deco-ues of gold,
a few touches are laid off in the blocks, with caen
under the ends of the
the side opposite the
a door to the lobby at door to the stack room Between these doors is room above, and above this lovely Florentine triple arch with a delicate wrought iron in front. This balcony opens the second floor corridor into the er part of the reading room and ves a fine view of the stately interior.
Behind the delivery room are the librarian's office, children's room and a catalog room. Next to these rooms and behind the reading room is the large stack room to take care of four tiers of steel stacks. This stack room is large enough to take care of the increase in books for many years to come.
The second floor contains three large research or study rooms for special work. The main reading room and the stack room have extra high ceilings and take up the full height of both stories.
The furniture and light fixtures have been carefully selected to harmonize with the architecture of the building, making the total result thoroughly satisfying in every respect.

The architects were Warren, Knight and Davis, and the contractors were Smallman & Bryce, of Birmingham.

Local Architects Design Struc- ture And Local Contrac- tors Erect It.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 17.—
Special.—The new library building erected for the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo, is almost strictly an

Montevallo Students Dine Exchange Club

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 21.—
Special.—The Montevallo Exchange Club met for luncheon at its regular meeting on Monday with the high school class in home economics. The pupils of this class who prepared and served the meal were: Mary Kate Derby, Jessie Mae Reaves, Pearl Wood, Hazel Jackson, Altie Mooring. They were directed by the practice teachers, Misses Lillian Stewart, Daphne, and Lillie Burleson, Guin, members of the senior class in vocational home economics teacher training at the college. Miss Louesa Keys, teacher of home economics in the training school, was highly complimented upon the excellent luncheon.

Mrs. L. M. Reid, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, worked untiringly in collecting donations from members. This association began several weeks ago serving a luncheon every day to pupils in the public schools for 5 cents. A marked improvement has already been noted in the studies and deportment of the pupils. The work of preparing and serving these daily luncheons is performed by two members of the senior home economics class.

MURDER CASES

PLAN SUMMER SCHOOL

Everything In Readiness For Summer Training At Montevallo
MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 25.—
The summer school of Montevallo with Dean O. C. Carmichael as director, as shown by a bulletin just issued, will present many attractive features to teachers, high school and college students, social workers, mothers and to housewives.

The new dormitory, said to be one of the best in the state, has been newly screened and is fitted up in a modern manner. The dining room will be in charge of Miss Anna Irvin, a trained dietitian who has served the college for the past three years, it is stated in the bulletin.

LOSEY GIVES RECITAL AT MONTEVALLO SCHOOL—

(Special To The Advertiser) 1923
MONTEVALLO, March 1.—Dr. Frederick D. Losey, New York, appeared twice before a crowded house yesterday at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

At the evening exercise he presented the play of Macbeth in a most effective manner. In the morning he gave a lecture explaining his reading for the evening.

Dr. Losey was here several times some years ago when he resided in Alabama, but this is his first appearance since leaving the state.

At the close of each address he was given prolonged applause to which he graciously responded. The faculty and students have requested him to return during next session.

MONTEVALLO TO ENTER STATE MUSIC CONTEST—

(Special To The Advertiser)
MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 1.—The music department of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is training several students to enter the contest for the privilege of representing this institution at the state contest that is to be held in Montgomery during the month of March under the auspices of the Alabama Federation of Music clubs.

The C. C. Holcombe Music company of Birmingham, has offered a $100 victrola as a prize to the successful piano student that may represent Montevallo. The following piano pupils have entered the contest: Misses Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Ernestine Bonner, Camden; Dorothy Spier, Greenville; Ernestine Tatum, Calvert;
Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Cora Whaley
Opp; and Josephine Kilgore, Cordova.

MUSIC PUPILS WILL COMPETE FOR PRIZE

Montevallo Students Enter Con- test To Be Held At Montgomery

MONTEVALLO, March 24.—(Special.—The greatest interest is prevailing among the piano students at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women for the honor of representing the college at the contest before the State Federation of Music clubs in Montgomery April 4-6.

The C. C. Holcombe Music company of Birmingham offered a $100 Victrola as a prize to the Montevallo piano pupil winning in the preliminary contest. Five have definitely decided to enter and will be heard on Monday evening, March 26, by the judges, Guy C. Allen, director of music of Judson college, and Miss Lilly Byron Gill, dean of fine arts, Woman's college.

Each contestant must be a member of the junior class in music at Montevallo.

The contestants are: Miss Jewell
Pardue, Saginaw, Ala.; Miss Ernestine
Tatum, Calvert, Ala.; Miss Cora
Whaley, Opp, Ala.; Miss Ernestine
Banner, Camden, Ala.; Miss Janice Fuquay, Alexander City, Ala.

Musical Contest Is Held At Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., March 28.—Special.—The musical contest to decide who is to represent the Alabama Technical Institute and College For Women at the state contest to be held by the Alabama Federation of Music Clubs in Montgomery, April 4, 5 and 6, was held Monday night in the college auditorium. The following were contestants: Misses Ernestine Bonner, Camden; Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Jewel Pardue, Saginaw; Ernestine Tatum, Calvert; Cora Whaley, Opp.

The judges were Miss Lily Byron Gill, dean of fine arts, Woman's College, and Guy C. Allen, director of music, Judson College.

The prize awarded was a $100 victrola, presented by C. C. Holcombe Music Company, of Birmingham. The two judges had great difficulty in deciding who should be the winner, and rendered a tie verdict. The third judge selected could not be present. The decision was made in favor of Miss Cora Whaley, Opp. and Miss Janie Fuquay, Alexander City. The college expected to send two to the meeting in Montgomery, and both of these young ladies will represent the institution. As to who shall be the owner of the victrola will be decided by some future plan yet to be agreed upon.

After the contest the music faculty and music club held a reception in Calkins Hall in honor of the judges and contestants.

70,000 FLEE EARTHQUAKES.

TOKIO.—Seventy thousand inhabitants of Shimabara Promontory have fled from their homes in fear of the earthquakes, which have taken many lives.

Montevallo Host To Auburn Glee Club

MONTEVALLO, Ala., April 7.—Special.—The visit of the Auburn Glee Club is always looked forward to by the girls of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, and a large and enthusiastic audience extended a hearty welcome to the club on Friday night.

The program was varied and interesting, consisting of solos and quartets and attractive numbers by the mandolin club.

All responded to repeated encores, but the most appreciated feature of the evening was the singing of M. H. Melvin.

The boys were entertained by the local glee club in the college parlors from 5 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and at night they were the guests of the college at dinner.

After the concert a general reception was held for the visitors.

DAIRY AT MONTEVALLO MAKES FINE REPORT

24,400 Gallons Of Milk Produced In Year

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 8.—(Special.)—The annual report of the dairy of the Alabama College for Women from May 1, 1922, to April 30, 1923, shows that 24,400 gallons of milk was produced at the rate of 21.5 cents per gallon. This cost includes feed, labor, repairs, purchase of new equipment and feeding of heifers; in fact, every item of expense in maintaining the dairy.

Each Holstein cow produced an average of two and a half gallons per day for 365 days, and each Jersey cow two gallons for 200 days.

While the cost of feeding during this year has been much higher than during the preceding year, the cost per gallon of milk has been one and one-fourth cents less.

Much attention has been given to developing good pastures and to the wing of oats. During the month of March one pure-bred cow produced an average of ten and one-half gallons per day. Her highest for two days was 11 gallons, two quarts and one-half pint each day.

At frequent intervals all cattle are tested by government experts, and any cow found to be "suspicious" in health is promptly destroyed.

The main object of this dairy is a commercial one for supplying milk to the boarding department, but this excellent management makes it the very best laboratory for giving dairy courses of instruction.

FIVE BODIES DESTROYED

Montevallo To Give Course For Mothers

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 5.—Special.—For the first time in the history of Alabama an institution of higher learning is offering courses free to the mothers of the state.

This Summer the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women offers such a course. It will include chemistry of the household, practical dairying, practical poultrying, household management, and clothing.

A number of inquiries have already come in regarding this course and it is expected that a large number will enroll. It will be given between June 15 and 25.

MONTEVALLO OFFERS COURSE FOR MOTHERS

Practical Household Subjects Will Be Taught—Special Lectures

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 6.—(Special.)—For the first time in the history of Alabama an institution of higher learning is offering courses free to the mothers of the state. Various courses have been offered to men in industrial, professional and agricultural pursuits, but never before have the mothers been recognized in special courses offered at our state institutions.

This summer the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women offers such a course. Chemistry of the household, practical dairying, practical poultrying, household management, and clothing will be among the general topics of discussion and demonstration in the laboratories.

A number of inquiries have already come in regarding this course, and it is expected that a large number will be in attendance at that time. It will be given between June 15 and 25.

At the same time the college offers a feature of unusual attraction that those in attendance will be able to take advantage of. There will be a series of lectures and conferences on the general subject of public welfare. Special lecturers for that occasion will include Dr. Howard W. Odum, University of North Carolina; Dr. John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education; Judge S. D. Murphy, juvenile court judge; Jefferson county; Rabbi Morris Newfield, Birmingham; Mrs. L. B. Bush, chairman of child welfare; Dr. S. W. Welch, head of the state department of public health, and Dr. W. D. Bartlow, superintendent of Bryce hospital.

You Walk In Comfort

MONTEVALLO DAIRY MAKES GOOD RECORD

Production Cost of Milk Reduced by Experts at School For Girls

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 9.—Special to The Advertiser.—The annual report of the dairy of the Alabama College for Women, from May 1, 1922, to April 30, 1923, shows that 24,400 gallons of milk were produced at the rate of twenty-one and one-fifth cents per gallon. This cost includes feed, labor, repairs, purchase of new equipment, and feeding of heifers; in fact, every item of expense in maintaining the dairy.

Each Holstein cow produced an average of two and a half gallons per day, for three hundred and sixty-five days and each Jersey cow two gallons per day.

Unprofitable Cows Slaughtered.

While the cost of feeding during this year has been much higher than during the preceding year, the cost per gallon of milk has been one and one-fourth cents less. This is accounted for in several ways. Three years ago the plan was adopted, and it is still pursued, of making a very careful selection of cows. If one is shown to be an unprofitable producer, she is promptly slaughtered for beef. During the last two years, some pure bred cows have been purchased, and very careful supervision has been exercised in breeding.

Good Pasture Developed.

Much attention has been given to developing good pastures and to the sowing of oats. During the winter and spring months when the lands are not too wet, the cows are permitted to graze on the oats. It is more economical to let the cows gather their own feed than to harvest and distribute to them later.

During the month of March one pure bred cow produced an average of ten and one-half gallons per day. Her highest for two days was eleven gallons, two quarts and one-half pint each day.

Undergo Government Test.

At frequent intervals all cattle are tested by government experts, and any cow found to be "suspicious" in health is promptly destroyed. Once during the three years three cows were found suspicious, and, on post mortem examination, two had undoubtedly, but very recent, development of tuberculosis; one was uncertain.

Every effort is put forth to furnish the college with the purest sanitary milk. There is so much tuberculosis among cattle all over the country that a tremendous risk is assumed by anyone who uses milk from untested cows.

Recommend Pure Bred Cows.

The director of this dairy recommends that as far as possible the best pure bred cattle be used, and among grades only well selected ones be kept. It does not pay to have an unprofitable cow. Develop good pastures and sow plenty of oats for grazing purposes in winter and spring. With the oats milk can be produced cheaper in winter and spring than in summer and fall. Have cows tested regularly by a government expert, and destroy at once every cow showing any sign of tuberculosis.

This dairy will purchase other pure bred cattle, and confidently expects to still further lower the cost of production.

The main object of this dairy is a commercial one for supplying milk to the boarding department, but this excellent management makes it the very best laboratory for giving dairy courses of instruction. The theoretical work is substantiated by seeing a practical and economically managed institution. This is a very attractive feature of the summer school.

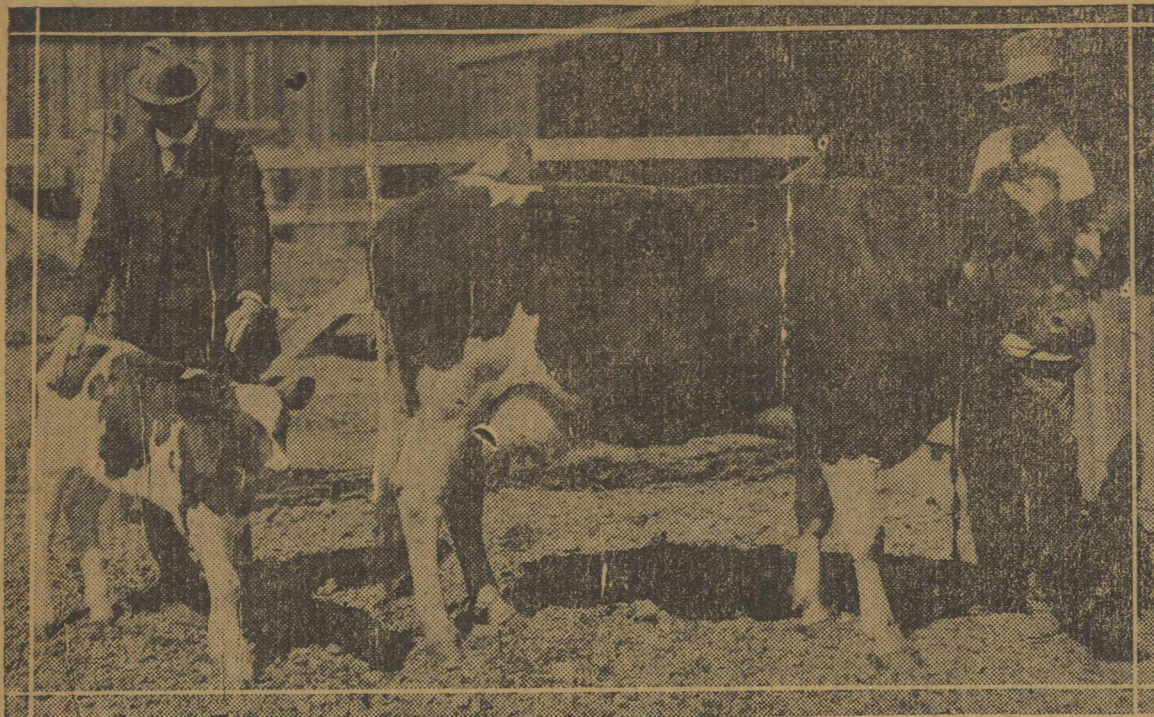

66

31, 1923

Saw for M. Jacobs

★ THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS

COW OWNED BY MONTEVALLO GIRLS' SCHOOL MAKES FINE RECORD IN MILK PRODUCTION

KNAPP HANGERVELD JOHANNA DeKOL No. 484238, CALVED MAY 7, 1918. CALF—MONTEVALLO KING 6
PONTIAC DeKOL, CALVED FEB. 11, 1923.

This cow produced last year in 10 months 11,631.5 pounds of milk. She received no special feeding and was milked twice daily.

Beginning March 15, 1923, and continuing for seven consecutive days, she produced 669 pounds milk and 22.7 pounds butter, an average of 95.57 pounds of milk daily and 3.25 pounds butter. On two out of the seven days she produced 100 pounds of milk.

The Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women has a herd of 20 Holstein cows, five of them registered. During the past 12 months five registered heifer calves have been added to the herd.

Negotiations are in progress for the purchase of some registered Jerseys. The college has developed an excellent dairy to supply the students with the purest milk. At present each girl is furnished one quart of milk per day besides what is used in cooked foods. Each pupil is also given three times per week as much pure ice cream as she can eat.

The dairy is also used for giving as an elective study a course in dairying. During the Summer school this is a popular and attractive study with many women and girls.

The college would urge farmers to keep only the best cows, as it costs no more to feed a good cow than a scrub.

GOVERNOR W. W. BRANDON REVIVES MEMORY OF HOBSON BY KISSING MONTEVALLO GIRL AT LUNCHEON

Chief Executive Has "Hand Called" During Festivities by Beautiful Senior; Board of Trustees to Seek
Change in Name of Institution

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 11.—Special to The Advertiser.—Special memories of the escapades of Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson were revived here Friday when Governor Brandon, attending the commencement exercises of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, kissed Miss Addie Scarbrough, pretty senior from Lowndes county, before a whole dining room full of people.

The hero of the Merrimac of course, run up a higher score. For he was what the girls called young and handsome and being just back from war when times were more or less exciting, and all that, had a wider field and was a better target.

The governor, however, fared very well for when he offered to kiss Miss Scarbrough, who had just made a speech by way of introduction, at a luncheon in the governor's honor, Miss Scarbrough surprised him by accepting.

Miss Scarbrough, who is editor in chief of Technical college publication, had just concluded a short talk asking the governor to address the assembly and the governor had just declared his love for all the girls, when his excellency branched out.

Expresses Love for Girls

"I love you all," the governor said, in that inimitable way of his. "I haven't asked Dr. Palmer for permission, but I love you anyhow, and if the young lady will come forward I'll—" and the governor momentarily wavered—"I'll kiss her. (Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, turned to say in an aside that Mrs. Brandon had been unable to attend and that she was at the Brandon home in Tuscaloosa.)

It was Miss Scarbrough's time to waver. But only for an instant. Straight to the governor's table she marched. There, with a quizzical look, the governor faced her. Miss Scarbrough's eyes met his, the challenge passed between them, and well, a screen censor couldn't have objected. (Miss Scarbrough studies expression and it was quickly and coyly over as the guests laughed and applauded.)

Governor Also Loves Boys

Seriously, though, the governor meant what he said. He loves the girls. He loves the boys. He loves the whole state, and he is for education first, last and all the time.

"These days are days of days," the governor began in his address in which he reviewed his educational program which will come before the legislature this summer when he will press a three mill tax for education. With the money that will be available from this tax, if voted, the governor then pictured the future and declared the education would grow by leaps and bounds.

Wants School Tax

"I want each one of you young women to go home and work for the three mill tax," the governor urged. And then "How many of you will do it," the dining room with one acclaim, agreed.

At this juncture the governor turned towards Miss Scarbrough, paying her a glowing compliment and winding up in an eloquent proposal to demonstrate

(Continued On Page Five)

and Commissioner, Camden, Mr. Tayloe, Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were not present at the morning session through Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were expected later in the day. Mr. Tayloe it was announced will not be able to attend.

Mr. Sheehan, Judge Evins and Mr. Ellis are serving for the first time. Mr. Sheehan having succeeded Dr. J. C. McLeod of Bay Minette; Mr. Ellis the late Lloyd M. Hooper of Selma, and Judge Evins, Mrs. E. L. Clarkson of Tuscaloosa, who resigned because of illness in her family.

Approves Recommendation

Recommendations of President Palmer which covered a wide field and concerned chiefly the course of study, were approved. Following this the board voted to ask the legislature for funds to rebuild Dr. Palmer's residence, which was destroyed by fire on May 3, 1921. The proposal to change the name of the college then came up and was disposed of quickly.

Other action at the session included the granting of a nine months leave of absence to O. C. Carmichael, dean of the college, to continue additional studies at Harvard and Princeton, which will enable him to obtain a Ph. degree, adoption of resolutions of sympathy and regret over the death of Mr. Hooper, which were drawn up and presented by a committee composed of Mr. Sevier, Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Ellis, and the appointment of Mr. Sevier to succeed Mr. Hooper on the state council of education, and discussion of the budget.

Reception Features Evening

A reception to the members of the board and college officials featured the evening, with the governor the center of attraction.

The program for Saturday includes a meeting of the alumnae association at 10 o'clock, senior class day exercises at 11:30, an exhibit by the art department in the afternoon and an alumnae banquet in the evening.

(Continued from Page One)

his love for all the girls. Miss Scarbrough then tripped forward.

"In the name of two and a half million people of the state, I kiss you," the governor said, and it was done.

Thought Governor Joking

Later Miss Scarbrough, who explained that she first thought the governor was joking, declared she wished to "see if he was game." "He's game all right," she laughed, as she shook her bobbed head. "Really though, I thought it was the governor's order, and I shouldn't disobey his orders, should I?"

Ask Change Its Name

The luncheon followed the morning session of the first meeting of the board of trustees, which was featured, by the adoption of a resolution asking the legislature to change the name of the institution to Alabama College and a discussion of the budget for the next four years.

Despite a plea of the governor that the trustees not raise the budget, considerable difference of opinion arose over this point and Friday night it had not been fully settled.

Earlier in the day the governor stressed the point that now is not the time to increase budgets. "Rather," he explained, "let us all get behind the tax proposal and put that over. Then the state will be in a position to care for all its institutions. The treasury will not stand increases in budgets at the present, but if you help me pass the mill tax program the election will follow in ninety days and the money will be available in October, 1924."

Outlines Tax Plan

The governor roughly sketched the mill plan at the luncheon, explaining that one and one half mills will go to public schools and the remainder to Auburn, the University of Alabama and Montevallo.

Montevallo's annual budget now stands at $45,000, which was set four years ago and which has been increased $5,000 annually, bringing the present annual total to $60,000. This the governor pointed out is in addition to a $75,000 building appropriation a good portion of which has been spent for a library building which, however, has not been fully completed.

Previously the trustees had urged more money for completion of the library.

The governor called on all the trustees present to make short talks and all responded.

Bloch Reports On Lands

Sol. D. Bloch, state land commissioner reported on his work and stated that no transfers or sales of college property had been made during the year, but urged the granting of rights of way for the completion of the Patton Ferry Road, which is to be a permanent highway, provided the college is paid for the timber.

Goes On Four Year Course

Aside from the luncheon and the trustees meeting the announcement of Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, that next year the college enters on its class "A" work, which will permit AB and BS degrees proved another feature.

The course will be similar to the university's, Dr. Palmer said, all major subjects being the same except mathematics will be taught. Degrees will be given in home economics, physical education (the only degree of its kind in the state and obtainable only at Montevallo), art and industrial science. Half of the graduation class this year will return next year to obtain degrees, Dr. Palmer said.

In voting to change the name of the college, the trustees struck out in the interest of efficiency and newspaper workers at the same time. Alabama Technical Training School and College for Women, always has been hard to say and harder to remember, the trustees admitted and is harder still on headline writers, newspapermen declare.

The benefit to newspapers of course is only incidental it was explained, but publications throughout the state are expected to receive the news with even greater joy than the students who always have wanted something snappy to "rap rap" about.

Must Submit To Legislature

Action of the trustees must be submitted to the legislature in a bill changing the name, but this is described as merely a matter of formality as the legislators are expected to endorse the change without question.

The board convened at 11 o'clock with Governor Brandon, Dr. Palmer, president, and Dr. John W. Abercrombie state superintendent of education attending. Only three members were absent and two of them expected later.

Personnel Of Board

Besides the governor and the state superintendent of education who are ex-officio members and Dr. Palmer, the board is composed of 14 members as follows: William H. Tayloe, state at large, Uniontown; L. Sevier, state-at-large, Birmingham; W. J. Dansby, first district, Butler; William T. Sheehan, second district, Montgomery; L. M. Moseley, third district, Union Springs; James B. Ellis, fourth district Selma; Malcom A. Graham fifth district, Prattville; Judge Robert B. Evins, sixth district, Greensboro; Alta V. Lee, seventh district, Gadsden; Virgil Bouldin, eighth district, Scottsboro; Moses V. Joseph, ninth district, Birmingham; Mrs. W. B. Peebles, tenth district, Aliceville; C. L. Meroney, secretary, Montevallo; E. S. Lyman, treasurer, Montevallo; and Sol D. Bloch

Dr. Frank Crane Says:
Copyright, 1923, by Frank Crane for The Birmingham News.

SMILING AND THINKING.
A NEWSPAPER paragraph recently told of a remark which a Chinese official once made to Andre Gide: "You Europeans, everywhere, have on your faces an expression of sadness and care. You know every science except the science of happiness."

COAT BIN
by HENRY VANCE

Yep, But It's Welcome.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR MONTEVALLO SCHOOL; EXERCISES BEGIN ON MAY 11

Change Is Made in Grouping of Board of Trustees From Old System

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 6.—The commencement exercises of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo will begin for the college on May 11 and close Monday, May 14. For the training school exercises will be held on May 18 and 19.

The following is an outline of the complete program:

I.—FOR THE COLLEGE.

Friday, May 11.

11:00 a. m.—Annual meeting of board of trustees.

8:00 p. m.—President's reception to Governor and Mrs. Brandon and the graduating class.

Saturday, May 12.

10:00 a. m.—meeting of the Alumnae Association.

11:30 a. m.—Class day exercises.

3:30 p. m.—exhibit by art department.

4:30 p. m.—Indoor pageant by home economics department.

7:00 p. m.—Alumnae banquet and final meeting of the Alumnae Association.

8:30 p. m.—Play, "Charley's Aunt," Dramatic Club.

Sunday, May 13.

11:00 a. m.—Commencement sermon by Reverend Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor Government Street Presbyterian Church, Mobile, Alabama.

6:30 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. service; conducted by the graduating class.

Monday, May 14.

(Commencement Day.)

10:30 a. m.—Baccalaureate address by Honorable William Bacon Oliver, member of congress from the Sixth Alabama District, Tuscaloosa.

Awarding of diplomas by the president.

II.—FOR THE TRAINING SCHOOL.

Friday, May 18.

8:00 p. m.—Literary society contest.

Saturday, May 19.

10:30 a. m.—Graduating exercises.

Address by Honorable John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education, Montgomery, Alabama.

Awarding of certificates.

Board of Trustees.

The members of the board of trustees are:

Governor W. W. Brandon, ex-officio, president.

John W. Abercrombie, superintendent of education, ex-officio.

From the state at large, William H. Tayloe, Uniontown.

From the state at large, L. Sevier, Birmingham.

First district, William J. Dansby, Butler.

Second District, Dr. J. C. McLeod, Bay Minette.

Third District, L. M. Moseley, Union Springs.

Fourth District, Jas. B. Ellis, Selma.

Fifth District, Judge M. A. Graham, Prattville.

Sixth District, Judge R. D. Evins, Greensboro.

Seventh District, Alto V. Lee, Gadsden.

Eight District, Virgil Bouldin, Scottsboro.

Ninth District, M. V. Joseph, Birmingham.

Tenth District, Mrs. W. B. Peebles, Aliceville.

Heretofore the trustees have been divided into two groups. The term of those from the odd districts expiring at one time and those from the even districts and the state at large expiring four years later.

Beginning in January, 1923, the board was divided into three groups. The first group is composed of those from the first, fourth, seventh and tenth districts. The second group is composed of those from the second, fifth and eighth districts and one from the state at large. The third group is composed of those from the third, sixth, and ninth districts and the state at large. As the term of each trustee expires his successor is appointed for a term expiring as follows: Those of the first group will expire in 1931; those of the second group will expire in 1935 and those of the third group will expire in 1939.

The meeting this year is one of unusual interest. The trustees will consider the adoption of the full four-year college course that has been prepared by the faculty.

At the February meeting in the governor's office a resolution was adopted asking the legislature to change the name of the college from the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women to Alabama College.

BISHOP M'DOWELL IN MONTEVALLO ON OFFICIAL BUSINESS

Talk Revived of Locating Presbyterian Minister at Girls' College

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 6.—Rt. Rev. W. G. McDowell, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Alabama, is making this week-end his first visitation to Montevallo.

On Saturday evening an informal reception was tendered him at the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Burr Nabors. All of the members of the Episcopal church, the ministers of the other churches and their wives, the president and deans of the college and their wives were among the callers at the reception.

The bishop is highly appreciated by the citizens of Montevallo and the college people. He has preached three times today. At the 11 o'clock service at the Episcopal church he delivered an able, eloquent and deeply spiritual sermon to a crowded house, on the subject of "Witnessing for Christ the Christian's Primary Duty."

At 6 p. m. a short address was made before the student body in the assembly hall on the subject, "Religion and Womanhood."

At 7:30 p. m. at the union service held at the Presbyterian church he conducted his third service for the day. The topic for discussion was "Self Expression, or How Shall We Train our Instincts?"

Bishop McDowell is a pleasing and eloquent speaker and charmed the three audiences before which he appeared. His coming to Montevallo has revived considerable talk about the locating of a permanent minister at this place and the building of a new church.

The Presbyterians have under way already the consideration of extensive plans for the enlargement of their plant.

The Methodists are also discussing the needs of a larger and more commodious house for their congregations.

GOVERNOR W. W. BRANDON REVIVES MEMORY OF HOBSON BY KISSING MONTEVALLO GIRL AT LUNCHEON

Chief Executive Has "Hand Called" During Festivities by Beautiful Senior; Board of Trustees to Seek
Change in Name of Institution

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 11.—Special to The Advertiser.—Special memories of the escapades of Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson were revived here Friday when Governor Brandon, attending the commencement exercises of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, kissed Miss Addie Scarbrough, pretty senior from Lowndes county, before a whole dining room full of people.

The hero of the Merrimac of course, run up a higher score. For he was what the girls called young and handsome and being just back from war when times were more or less exciting, and all that, had a wider field and was a better target.

The governor, however, fared very well for when he offered to kiss Miss Scarbrough, who had just made a speech by way of introduction, at a luncheon in the governor's honor, Miss Scarbrough surprised him by accepting.

Miss Scarbrough, who is editor in chief of Technal, college publication, had just concluded a short talk asking the governor to address the assembly and the governor had just declared his love for all the girls, when his excellency branched out.

Expresses Love for Girls

"I love you all," the governor said, in that inimitable way of his. "I haven't asked Dr. Palmer for permission, but I love you anyhow, and if the young lady will come forward I'll—" and the governor momentarily wavered—"I'll kiss her. (Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, turned to say in an aside that Mrs. Brandon had been unable to attend and that she was at the Brandon home in Tuscaloosa.)

It was Miss Scarbrough's time to waver. But only for an instant. Straight to the governor's table she marched. There, with a quizzical look, the governor faced her. Miss Scarbrough's eyes met his, the challenge passed between them, and well, a screen censor couldn't have objected. (Miss Scarbrough studies expression and it was quickly and coyly over as the guests laughed and applauded.)

Governor Also Loves Boys

Seriously, though, the governor meant what he said. He loves the girls. He loves the boys. He loves the whole state, and he is for education first, last and all the time.

"These days are days of days," the governor began in his address in which he reviewed his educational program which will come before the legislature this summer when he will press a three mill tax for education. With the money that will be available from this tax, if voted, the governor then pictured the future and declared the education would grow by leaps and bounds.

Wants School Tax

"I want each one of you young women to go home and work for the three mill tax," the governor urged. And then "How many of you will do it," the dining room with one acclaim, agreed.

At this juncture the governor turned towards Miss Scarbrough, paying her a glowing compliment and winding up in an eloquent proposal to demonstrate

(Continued On Page Five)

and Commissioner, Camden, Mr. Tayloe, Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were not present at the morning session through Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were expected later in the day. Mr. Tayloe it was announced will not be able to attend.

Mr. Sheehan, Judge Evins and Mr. Ellis are serving for the first time. Mr. Sheehan having succeeded Dr. J. C. McLeod of Bay Minette; Mr. Ellis the late Lloyd M. Hooper of Selma, and Judge Evins, Mrs. E. L. Clarkson of Tuscaloosa, who resigned because of illness in her family.

Approves Recommendation

Recommendations of President Palmer which covered a wide field and concerned chiefly the course of study, were approved. Following this the board voted to ask the legislature for funds to rebuild Dr. Palmer's residence, which was destroyed by fire on May 3, 1921. The proposal to change the name of the college then came up and was disposed of quickly.

Other action at the session included the granting of a nine months leave of absence to O. C. Carmichael, dean of the college, to continue additional studies at Harvard and Princeton, which will enable him to obtain a Ph. D. degree, adoption of resolutions of sympathy and regret over the death of Mr. Hooper, which were drawn up and presented by a committee composed of Mr. Sevier, Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Ellis, and the appointment of Mr. Sevier to succeed Mr. Hooper on the state council of education, and discussion of the budget.

Reception Features Evening

A reception to the members of the board and college officials featured the evening, with the governor the center of attraction.

The program for Saturday includes a meeting of the alumnae association at 10 o'clock, senior class day exercises at 11:30, an exhibit by the art department in the afternoon and an alumnae banquet in the evening.

(Continued from Page One)
his love for all the girls. Miss Scarbrough then tripped forward.

"In the name of two and a half million people of the state, I kiss you," the governor said, and it was done.

Thought Governor Joking

Later Miss Scarbrough, who explained that she first thought the governor was joking, declared she wished to "see if he was game." "He's game all right," she laughed, as she shook her bobbed head. "Really though, I thought it was the governor's order, and I shouldn't disobey his orders, should I?"

Ask Change Its Name

The luncheon followed the morning session of the first meeting of the board of trustees, which was featured by the adoption of a resolution asking the legislature to change the name of the institution to Alabama College and a discussion of the budget for the next four years.

Despite a plea of the governor that the trustees not raise the budget, considerable difference of opinion arose over this point and Friday night it had not been fully settled.

Earlier in the day the governor stressed the point that now is not the time to increase budgets. "Rather," he explained, "let us all get behind the tax proposal and put that over. Then the state will be in a position to care for all its institutions. The treasury will not stand increases in budgets at the present, but if you help me pass the mill tax program the election will follow in ninety days and the money will be available in October, 1924."

Outlines Tax Plan

The governor roughly sketched the mill plan at the luncheon, explaining that one and one half mills will go to public schools and the remainder to Auburn, the University of Alabama and Montevallo.

Montevallo's annual budget now stands at $45,000, which was set four years ago and which has been increased $5,000 annually, bringing the present annual total to $60,000. This the governor pointed out is in addition to a $75,000 building appropriation a good portion of which has been spent for a library building which, however, has not been fully completed.

Previously the trustees had urged more money for completion of the library.

The governor called on all the trustees present to make short talks and all responded.

Bloch Reports On Lands

Sol. D. Bloch, state land commissioner reported on his work and stated that no transfers or sales of college property had been made during the year, but urged the granting of rights of way for the completion of the Patton Ferry Road, which is to be a permanent highway, provided the college is paid for the timber.

Goes On Four Year Course

Aside from the luncheon and the trustees meeting the announcement of Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, that next year the college enters on its class "A" work, which will permit AB and BS degrees proved another feature.

The course will be similar to the university's, Dr. Palmer said, all major subjects being the same except mathematics will be taught. Degrees will be given in home economics, physical education (the only degree of its kind in the state and obtainable only at Montevallo), art and industrial science. Half of the graduation class this year will return next year to obtain degrees, Dr. Palmer said.

In voting to change the name of the college, the trustees struck out in the interest of efficiency and newspaper workers at the same time. Alabama Technical Training School and College for Women, always has been hard to say and harder to remember, the trustees admitted and is harder still on headline writers, newspapermen declare.

The benefit to newspapers of course is only incidental it was explained, but publications throughout the state are expected to receive the news with even greater joy than the students who always have wanted something snappy to "rap rap" about.

Must Submit To Legislature

Action of the trustees must be submitted to the legislature in a bill changing the name, but this is described as merely a matter of formality as the legislators are expected to endorse the change without question.

The board convened at 11 o'clock with Governor Brandon, Dr. Palmer, president, and Dr. John W. Abercrombie state superintendent of education attending. Only three members were absent and two of them expected later.

Personnel Of Board

Besides the governor and the state superintendent of education who are ex-officio members and Dr. Palmer, the board is composed of 14 members as follows: William H. Tayloe, state at large, Uniontown; L. Sevier, state-at-large, Birmingham; W. J. Dansby, first district, Butler; William T. Sheehan, second district, Montgomery; L. M. Moseley, third district, Union Springs; James B. Ellis, fourth district, Selma; Malcolm A. Graham fifth district, Prattville; Judge Robert B. Evins, sixth district, Greensboro; Alta V. Lee, seventh district, Gadsden; Virgil Bouldin, eighth district, Scottsboro; Moses V. Joseph, ninth district, Birmingham; Mrs. W. B. Peebles, tenth district, Aliceville; C. L. Meroney, secretary, Montevallo; E. S. Lyma, treasurer, Montevallo; and Sol D. Bloch.

MONTEVALLO ASKS CHANGE IN NAME

Trustees Of Girls' Training School, In Annual Meeting, Take Action.

BY JESSICA INGRAM
Staff Correspondent The Birmingham News.
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 11.—Special.—The trustees of the Alabama Technical Training School and College for Women, in session here in connection with the annual commencement, which began Friday, voted unanimously to change the name of the institution to Alabama College, striking out in the interest of efficiency and newspaper workers at the same time. Alabama Technical Training School and College for Women always has been hard to say and harder to remember, the trustees admitted, and is harder still on headline writers, newspapers declare.

The benefit to newspapers, of course, is only incidental, it was explained, but publications throughout the state are expected to receive the news with even greater joy than the students, who always have wanted something snappy to "rah rah" about.

Action of the trustees must be submitted to the legislature in a bill changing the name, but this is described as merely a matter of formality, as the legislators are expected to endorse the change without question.

The board convened at 11 o'clock, with Governor Brandon, Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, and Dr. John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education, attending. Only three members were absent and two of them were expected later in the day.

Considerable time was taken up over changing the course of study as a result of action last year in making the college an "A" grade institution—which is the inclusion of a four-year course instead of three and the provision for an A. B. degree.

Personnel Of Board.

Besides the governor and the state superintendent of education, who are ex-officio members and Dr. Palmer, the board is composed of 14 members, as follows: William H. Tayloe, state-at-large, Uniontown; L. Sevier, state-at-large, Birmingham; W. J. Dansby, first district, Butler; William T. Sheehan, second district, Montgomery; L. M. Moseley, third district, Union Springs; James B. Ellis, fourth district, Selma; Malcolm A. Graham, fifth district, Prattville; Judge Robert B. Evins, sixth district, Greensboro; Alto V. Lee, seventh district, Gadsden; Virgil Bouldin, eighth district, Scotsboro; Moses V. Joseph, ninth district, Birmingham; Mrs. W. B. Peebles, tenth district, Aliceville; C. L. Meroney, secretary, Montevallo; E. S. Lyman, treasurer, Montevallo, and Sol D. Bloch, land commissioner, Camden.

Mr. Tayloe, Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were not present at the morning session, though Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were expected later in the day. Mr. Tayloe, it was announced, will not be able to attend.

Mr. Sheehan, Judge Evins and Mr. Ellis are serving for the first time, Dr. Sheehan having succeeded Dr. J. C. McLeod, of Bay Minette; Mr. Ellis, the late Lloyd M. Hooper, of Selma, and Judge Evins, Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, of Tuscaloosa, who resigned because of illness in her family.

Mr. Bouldin, recently appointed by Governor Brandon, was a member of the first board of this institution in 1894 and served continuously until 1915. He comes back to the college now for another term of 12 years.

At commencement next year, it was announced, those who are graduated this year and who return will be given A. B. degrees.

Recommendations Approved.

Recommendations of President Palmer, which covered a wide field and concerned, chiefly, the course of study, were approved. Following this, the board voted to ask the legislature for funds to rebuild Dr. Palmer's residence, which was destroyed by fire May 5, 1921. The proposal to change the name of the college then came up and was disposed of quickly.

Other action at the morning session included the granting of a nine-months' leave of absence to O. C. Carmichael, dean of the college, to continue additional studies at Harvard and Princeton, which will enable him to receive a Ph.D. degree; adoption of resolutions of sympathy and regret over the death of Mr. Hooper, which were drawn up and presented by a committee composed of Mr. Sevier, Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Ellis, and the appointment of Mr. Sevier to succeed Mr. Hooper on the state council of education and discussion of the budget.

A reception to the members of the board and college officials was to be the feature of the evening, with the governor being the center of attraction. Mrs. Brandon was unable to attend.

The program for Saturday includes meeting of the alumnae association at 10 o'clock; Senior Class Day exercises at 11:30; an exhibit by the art department in the afternoon and alumnae banquet in the evening.

ALABAMA WOMAN PRAISED BY OLIVER

Congressman, At Montevallo,
Urges Julia Tutwiler For
Hall Of Fame.

BY JESSICA INGRAM.
Staff Correspondent The Birmingham News.
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 14.—Special.—William Bacon Oliver, Congressman from the Sixth Alabama District, set out the stand he has taken in the fight against the convict lease system of state prisoners to be brought before the state legislature this Summer in the baccalaureate address here Monday before the 1923 graduating class of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, when he urged the woman of Alabama to start a movement to give to Julia Sturdivant Tutwiler one of the two places allotted to this state in the hall of fame in Washington.

One of the places should belong to a woman, Mr. Oliver declared. And Miss Tutwiler's work of improving educational opportunities for the young women of Alabama and her efforts for the improvement of prison reform cannot be paralleled by any other person in the history of the state, he assisted.

"Miss Tutwiler was responsible for the founding of this splendid technical college," Congressman Oliver said. "Through her the University of Alabama had its doors opened to women. Through her grew the first organized prohibition movement. Under her grew one of the state's great normal colleges. To her belongs the praise for the establishment of the first juvenile reformatories. And to her can be traced every humane step in prison reform since 1885.

"In this connection the women of the state now rightly interested in having the legislature revoke the recent action extending the right of the convict lease system, will read with profit the strong paper on the convict lease system prepared by this noble woman more than 30 years ago. Some one has truly said of her, 'Her working days were given to education of the girls of Alabama and her rest days to labor in the amelioration of suffering humanity. She lived simply and wisely all her savings amounting to more than some $12,000 to the education of worthy young women of the state.'"

"In regard to her prison work, it continued for more than a quarter of a century. During this time she spent her Saturdays and Sundays in going from jail to jail and from prison camp to prison camp. She said in regard to this 'Places where is spent the happiest days of my life. Yes, the very happiest, for no joy can equal that joy that comes from the seeing of human misery diminished.'"

"The loftiest conceptions of the orator, the poet and the historian all combined would fail to pay just tribute to the active, helpful, uplifting, eventful life of Julia Tutwiler. The legislature would honor itself, the state and the nation, by giving her one of the two places allotted to each state in the Hall of Fame. Where there, as well as here, she would

"Be forever an influence,
A memory, a goal, a high example,
A thought, an honor in some noble heart,

Part of her country's treasure and renown,
Oft giving courage unto soul striving."

Mr. Oliver was district attorney of the sixth district when Miss Tutwiler did most of her reform work.

Praises Influence.

Mr. Oliver paid a glowing tribute to the influence of womanhood, as home makers and also in careers, which might be chosen, "out of 600 occupations in which there are only 30 women have not entered," he said.

Congressman Oliver declared that 40 per cent of the bank depositors are women and 75 per cent of the savings bank depositors are women. "If money be power, woman is not weak," he declared.

He spoke of the new fields women have recently entered, showing how varied and glowing the opportunities are. Warning against the pitfalls these young women would meet, he urged them to meet them in such a way as to leave the world better for having lived.

Mr. Oliver stressed the importance of the study of past history, biographies of great people and above all the Bible, which he declared contained the most literature. He also urged the study of legislative problems. "The most important thing in shaping character," he said, "is history. The same problems of yesterday are the problems of today. And what we were in the past we are today and will be in the future."

He referred to the catalogue of worthwhile achievements of Alabama, and concluded his message with the reference to Miss Tutwiler.

Dean O. C. Carmichael presented the 42 members of the graduating class and Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, presented the diplomas. Eight members of the class will receive diplomas after the Summer school, it was announced.

List of Graduates:

The names of the graduates follow:
The following students have completed the prescribed academic course and technical work required for graduation:
Bachelor of Science in Vocational Home Economics: Shirley Mason Naramore, Prattville; Annie Laura Stone, Hartselle, and Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer.

Three Year College Course: Mary Elizabeth, Lincoln; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Carrie Ola Burtram, Springville; Celeste Conner, Andalusia; Bessie Heath, Enterprise; Marion Wesley Hinton, Autaugaaville; Mary Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Willie Lee McCann, Winfield; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Edith Moss Montgomery, Warrior; Mary Virginia Morton, Midway; Virginia Sue Moseley, Hazel Green; Florence Anzoinetta Orr, Hartselle; Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Mary Addison Scarborough, Mt. Willing; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Irdine Shiry,

STRESSES OPPORTUNITY

Mobile Pastor, In Commencement Sermon, Urges Finding of Truths.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 12.—Special.—Taking his text from the thirteenth chapter of Matthew, Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian Church, of Mobile, delivered a simple but eloquent message to the graduating class Sunday morning at the annual commencement exercises of the Alabama Industrial Institute and College for Women, in which he declared "that God's greatest gift to mankind is opportunity, and happy is he and she who receive the gift."

Reading his text, "Blessed are your eyes for they see," Dr. Ogden said the occasion for the fifty young women being graduated was an hour of memory and of hope.

"You have been searching for the truth that night may be day," he said, "and some still remain in the darkness. Opportunity is a priceless privilege, and blessed are your eyes, because of the opportunity that is yours."

Youth, he declared, is the time of opportunity, pointing out that most of the great achievements have been accomplished or inspired during youth.

"One of the fatal faults of many is that of inattention," he said. "Eyes that see are eyes that know and can interpret humanity and God in His universe in the spiritual sense."

"There are three things you should see as you look out on the world. First of all you should see its great need and have a heart of sympathy for those that suffer. Second, you should see and value human life in constructive terms, especially those of you who will become teachers. Third, you should have a conception of spiritual values, without which everything is as an empty shell."

Dr. Ogden declared that there is such a thing as self inflicted blindness and urged the young women to see life clearly and rightly and not to be so intent upon the "merry go round" of life that they miss the worthwhile things. One may stand in the sunshine and yet not see light. He concluded his remarks by declaring that to see and to live one must have a great deal of love, for it is life with love that is the victory.

Dr. Ogden also delivered an address Sunday evening when the graduating class had charge of the Y. M. C. A. services.

A beautiful cantata, "Gallia" by Gounod, was sung by the graduating class assisted by Miss Abbotte McKinnon, soprano soloist and the college orchestra.

At the annual banquet of the Alumni Association, Saturday night, plans were perfected for organizing a local alumni association in each congressional district in the state. Mrs. Eugene B. Henry, Birmingham, president of the Association presided. The following officers were elected for the next year; Miss Minnie Sellers of Ramer, president; Mrs. Garrett, Decatur, first vice-president; Miss Ethel York, Bessemer, second vice-president; Miss Callie Poole, Birmingham, secretary; Miss Gladys Jones-Williams, Montevallo, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Parnell, Mapleville, historian.

TRUSTEES APPROVE SIMPLIFIED NAME FOR MONTEVALLO

Reception To Governor Brandon And Trustees Meeting Feature First Day

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 11.—(Special.)—Changing of the name of the institution to Alabama college, meeting of the board of trustees and the reception tonight to Governor and Mrs. Brandon featured the first day of commencement exercises at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

The reception tonight in honor of the chief executive and first lady of the state was in the college parlors. In the receiving line were Governor and Mrs. Brandon, President and Mrs. Palmer, Dean and Mrs. O. C. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Davis, of Fort Davis, member of the board of trustees; Mrs. E. B. Henry, Birmingham, president of the alumnae association and the 50 members of the graduating class.

The change of name of the institution was approved by the board of trustees in line with the prediction sometime ago of The Age-Herald's Montevallo correspondent. Action of the trustees must be submitted to the legislature but this is considered only a matter of formality.

FOUR YEAR COURSE APPROVED

The board of trustees convened at 11 o'clock with Governor Brandon, Dr. T. F. Abercombie, state superintendent of education, and Dr. Palmer attending. Considerable time was taken up over changing the course of study as a result of action last year in making the college an "A" grade institution, which means a four-year course instead of a three-year one. A. B. degrees will be conferred henceforth.

President Palmer in his annual report to the trustees made a number of recommendations which were approved. The board unanimously adopted a resolution asking the legislature to appropriate funds to rebuild the residence of Dr. Palmer which was destroyed by fire in 1921.

Dean O. C. Carmichael, who was formerly principal of the Woodlawn High school, Birmingham, was granted a nine months leave of absence to continue his studies at Harvard and Princeton. This will enable him to receive a Ph. D. degree. Resolutions expressing regret at the death of Lloyd Hooper of Selma were adopted. He was a member of the board of trustees before his death recently.

The reception given in honor of Governor Brandon and the graduating class was held in the college parlors Friday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. In the receiving line were Governor Brandon, President and Mrs. Palmer, Dean and Mrs. O. C. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Davis, of Fort Davis, members of the board of trustees, and their wives. Mrs. E. B. Henry, Birmingham, president of the Alumnae association, and the 50 members of the graduating class.

Three members of this class will this year receive a degree of bachelor of science. The others will receive three-year and two-year college diplomas. There are already enrolled for next session about 50 candidates for the bachelor degree.

The members of the faculty assisted in welcoming guests and serving refreshments at the reception tonight. Fully 100 people called during the evening to pay their respects to Governor Brandon and the members of the graduating class.

ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION MEETS

The meeting of the Alumnae association will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The question of admitting others than graduates to membership will be discussed.

At 10:30 Saturday morning the home economics students of the training school will parade the town and college campus, advertising the indoor pageant given by the home economics department in the afternoon.

Class day exercises will be held at 11:30 a. m.

In the afternoon the exhibit by the art department will be shown to hundreds of callers, and a little later the indoor pageant by the home economics department.

Tennessee Valley Believed To Stand Chance Of Obtaining Industry

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 12.—(Special.)—A report has reached here that the Ford Motor company has decided to establish a cotton mill for the manufacture of all the cotton fabrics that are produced in the state.

MONTEVALLO WILL CLOSE FOR TERM MONDAY MORNING

Parade of Student Body and Address By Oliver Will Be Features

MONTEVALLO, ALA., May 13.—Special to The Advertiser.—With the delivery of diplomas to a large class of graduates, following a parade of the student body and an address by Congressman W. B. Oliver, the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will close its 1923 session Monday morning.

Members of the graduating class will wear the conventional cap and black robe. Marching to the auditorium, the class will form parallel lines at the entrance and through these the other students will march into the public hall. The class will then enter and take their assigned places to await the delivery of diplomas which will close the program.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered Sunday morning by Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian church, Mobile. Dr. Ogden also delivered a touching sermon in the evening.

Sunday's Program.

Following is the complete program of the Sunday services:

Processional, "Faithful Lord Jesus." "The Lord is My Shepherd"—Smart, Glee Club.

Scripture Reading.

Prayer.

Vocal Quartette, "Babylon"—Watson, Misses Abbotte McKinnon, Talladega Springs; Miss Dorothy Richey, Satsuma, Florida; Miss Lillian Crawford, Bessemer; Miss Ethel Thompson, Bessemer.

Sermon by Reverend Dunbar H. Ogden, D. D. Pastor Government Street Presbyterian church, Mobile.

Hymn: "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"—Holden.

Benediction.

Recessional, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War"—Cutler.

Sunday Evening Program.

E. W. C. A. service conducted by the Graduating Class.

Hymn, "Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty"—Dykes.

Prayer.

Hymn, "Day is Dying in the West"—Sherwin.

Sermon by Reverend Dunbar H. Ogden, D. D. Pastor Government Street Presbyterian Church, Mobile.

"Galia"—Gounod, Graduating Class, assisted by Miss Abbotte McKinnon, Soprano, and the College Orchestra. Benediction.

To Deliver Diplomas Monday.

Following the address of Congressman Oliver and short talks by others Monday morning, Dr. Palmer will explain to the audience and student body the new status of the college, which is now a full four year institution, ranking with the highest, diplomas will be delivered to the following:

Bachelor of Science in Vocational Home Economics: Shirley Mason Narmore, Prattville; Annie Laura Stone, Hartselle; Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer.

Three Year Course.

Mary Elizabeth Acker, Lincoln; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Carrie Oo Burtram, Springville; Celeste Conner, Andalusia; Bessie Heath, Enterprise; Marion Wesley Hinton, Autaugaville; Mary Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Willie Lee McCarn, Winfield; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Edith Moss Montgomery, Warrior; Mary Virginia Morton, Midway; Virginia Sue Moseley, Hazel Green; Florence Anzoinetta Orr, Hartselle; Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Mary Addison Scarborough, Mt. Willing; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Irdine Shirey, Winfield; Dorothy Rosalind Speir, Greenville; Christine Steele, Clinton; Cora Whaley, Opp.

Two Year Course.

Lida Allen, Cromwell; Agnes Axford, Quinton; Olga Mae Bernard, Union Grove; Emma Jean Collins, Birmingham; Sallie Mae Dalton, Opp; Sara Ekwurzel, Pell City; Sara Louise Grady, LaFayette; Miriam Heiter, Mobile; Orlena Liddell, Bankhead; Marie Louise Moody, Russellville; Eugenia Moore; Harrell; Mildred Moore, Selma; Annie Ena Nabors, Goodwater; Lucy Carolyn Ozley, Siluria; Sue Jeanette Page, Opp; Elizabeth Palmer, Carson; Emmie Lucile Sealey, Thomaston; Carrie Lou Webb, LaFayette.

MONTEVALLO HAS GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Barnard College Instructor Will be in Charge of all Exercises

MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 23.—Special to The Advertiser.—The Girl Scout course at the Montevallo summer school, as previously announced, will begin Thursday June 28, and continue until July 14.

Miss Elsa G. Becker, a graduate of Barnard College, and a member of the national staff of the Girl Scout instructors, will be in charge.

Miss Becker will give a course in Girl Scout work for those interested in becoming scout leaders and to all other civic and social workers who are looking forward to volunteer work with girls of the "teen age."

The nature of the course will be as follows:

Each meeting is divided into three approximately equal parts corresponding to the allotment of time in a Girl Scout troop meeting: (1) presentation and discussion of the aims, ideals, subject matter, and methods of the Girl Scout program; (2) demonstration and practice of Scout procedures and activities; (3) organized group recreation, including active and quiet games, singing, story-telling, simple dramatization, etc. At least one "hike," preferably with a troop of girl scouts, is planned and carried out. Each phase is considered from the point of view of the psychology of girls of Scout age, the nature of play and recreation, and the possibilities of civic education through recreational program which unifies and socializes a girl's activities and interests in school, at home, in the church, and in the neighborhood through relating them to the group and the community.

MONTEVALLO ASKS CHANGE IN NAME

Trustees Of Girls' Training School, In Annual Meeting, Take Action.

BY JESSICA INGRAM
Staff Correspondent The Birmingham News.
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 11.—Special.—The trustees of the Alabama Technical Training School and College for Women, in session here in connection with the annual commencement, which began Friday, voted unanimously to change the name of the institution to Alabama College, striking out in the interest of efficiency and newspaper workers at the same time. Alabama Technical Training School and College for Women always has been hard to say and harder to remember, the trustees admitted, and is harder still on headline writers, newspapers declare.

The benefit to newspapers, of course, is only incidental, it was explained, but publications throughout the state are expected to receive the news with even greater joy than the students, who always have wanted something snappy to "rah-rah" about.

Action of the trustees must be submitted to the legislature in a bill changing the name, but this is described as merely a matter of formality, as the legislators are expected to endorse the change without question.

The board convened at 11 o'clock, with Governor Brandon, Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, and Dr. John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education, attending. Only three members were absent and two of them were expected later in the day.

Considerable time was taken up over changing the course of study as a result of action last year in making the college an "A" grade institution—which is the inclusion of a four-year course instead of three and the provision for an A. B. degree.

Personnel Of Board.

Besides the governor and the state superintendent of education, who are ex-officio members and Dr. Palmer, the board is composed of 14 members, as follows: William H. Tayloe, state-at-large, Uniontown; L. Sevier, state-at-large, Birmingham; W. J. Dansby, first district, Butler; William T. Sheehan, second district, Montgomery; L. M. Moseley, third district, Union Springs; James B. Ellis, fourth district, Selma; Malcolm A. Graham, fifth district, Prattville; Judge Robert B. Evins, sixth district, Greensboro; Alto V. Lee, seventh district, Gadsden; Virgil Bouldin, eighth district, Scottsboro; Moses V. Joseph, ninth district, Birmingham; Mrs. W. B. Peebles, tenth district, Aliceville; C. L. Meroney, secretary, Montevallo; E. S. Lyman, treasurer, Montevallo, and Sol D. Bloch, land commissioner, Camden.

Mr. Tayloe, Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were not present at the morning session, though Mr. Joseph and Mr. Moseley were expected later in the day. Mr. Tayloe, it was announced, will not be able to attend.

Mr. Sheehan, Judge Evins and Mr. Ellis are serving for the first time. Dr. Sheehan having succeeded Dr. J. C. McLeod, of Bay Minette; Mr. Ellis the late Lloyd M. Hooper, of Selma, and Judge Evins Mrs. E. L. Clarkson, of Tuscaloosa, who resigned because of illness in her family.

Mr. Bouldin, recently appointed by Governor Brandon, was a member of the first board of this institution in 1894 and served continuously until 1915. He comes back to the college now for another term of 12 years.

At commencement next year, it was announced, those who are graduated this year and who return will be given A. B. degrees.

Recommendations Approved.

Recommendations of President Palmer, which covered a wide field and concerned, chiefly, the course of study, were approved. Following this, the board voted to ask the legislature for funds to rebuild Dr. Palmer's residence, which was destroyed by fire May 5, 1921. The proposal to change the name of the college then came up and was disposed of quickly.

Other action at the morning session included the granting of a nine-months' leave of absence to O. C. Carmichael, dean of the college, to continue additional studies at Harvard and Princeton, which will enable him to receive a Ph.D. degree; adoption of resolutions of sympathy and regret over the death of Mr. Hooper, which were drawn up and presented by a committee composed of Mr. Sevier, Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Ellis, and the appointment of Mr. Sevier to succeed Mr. Hooper on the state council of education and discussion of the budget.

A reception to the members of the board and college officials was to be the feature of the evening, with the governor being the center of attraction. Mrs. Brandon was unable to attend.

The program for Saturday includes meeting of the alumnae association at 10 o'clock; Senior Class Day exercises at 11:30; an exhibit by the art department in the afternoon and alumnae banquet in the evening.

ALABAMA WOMAN PRAISED BY OLIVER

Congressman, At Montevallo,
Urges Julia Tutwiler For
Hall Of Fame.

BY JESSICA INGRAM.
Staff Correspondent The Birmingham News.
MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 14.—Special.—William Bacon Oliver, Congressman from the Sixth Alabama District, set out the stand he has taken in the fight against the convict lease system of state prisoners to be brought before the state legislature this Summer in the baccalaureate address here Monday before the 1923 graduating class of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, when he urged the woman of Alabama to start a movement to give to Julia Sturdivick Tutwiler one of the two places allotted to this state in the hall of fame in Washington.

One of the places should belong to a woman, Mr. Oliver declared. And Miss Tutwiler's work of improving educational opportunities for the young women of Alabama and her efforts for the improvement of prison reform cannot be paralleled by any other person in the history of the state, he assisted.

"Miss Tutwiler was responsible for the founding of this splendid technical college," Congressman Oliver said. "Through her the University of Alabama had its doors opened to women. Through her grew the first organized prohibition movement. Under her grew one of the state's great normal colleges. To her belongs the praise for the establishment of the first juvenile reformatories. And to her can be traced every humane step in prison reform since 1885.

"In this connection the women of the state now rightly interested in having the legislature revoke the recent action extending the right of the convict lease system, will read with profit the strong paper on the convict lease system prepared by this noble woman more than 30 years ago. Some one has truly said of her, 'Her working days were given to education of the girls of Alabama and her rest days to labor in the amelioration of suffering humanity. She lived simply and wiled all her savings amounting to more than some $12,000 to the education of worthy young women of the state.'

"In regard to her prison work, it continued for more than a quarter of a century. During this time she spent her Saturdays and Sundays in going from jail to jail and from prison camp to prison camp. She said in regard to this 'Places where is spent the happiest days of my life. Yes, the very happiest, for no joy can equal that joy that comes from the seeing of human misery diminished.'

"The loftiest conceptions of the orator, the poet and the historian all combined would fail to pay just tribute to the active, helpful, uplifting, eventful life of Julia Tutwiler. The legislature would honor itself, the state and the nation, by giving her one of the two places allotted to each state in the Hall of Fame. Where there, as well as here, she would

"Be forever an influence,
A memory, a goal, a high example,
A thought, an honor in some noble heart,
Part of her country's treasure and renown,
Of giving courage unto soul striving."

Mr. Oliver was district attorney of the sixth district when Miss Tutwiler did most of her reform work.

Praises Influence.

Mr. Oliver paid a glowing tribute to the influence of womanhood, as home makers and also in careers, which might be chosen "out of 600 occupations in which there are only 30 women have not entered," he said.

Congressman Oliver declared that 40 per cent of the bank depositors are women and 75 per cent of the savings bank depositors are women. "If money be power, woman is not weak," he declared.

He spoke of the new fields women have recently entered, showing how varied and glowing the opportunities are. Warning against the pitfalls these young women would meet, he urged them to meet them in such a way as to leave the world better for having lived.

Mr. Oliver stressed the importance of the study of past history, biographies of great people and above all the Bible, which he declared contained the most literature. He also urged the study of legislative problems. "The most important thing in shaping character," he said, "is history. The same problems of yesterday are the problems of today. And what we were in the past we are today and will be in the future."

He referred to the catalogue of worthwhile achievements of Alabama, and concluded his message with the reference to Miss Tutwiler.

Dean O. C. Carmichael presented the 42 members of the graduating class and Dr. T. W. Palmer, president, presented the diplomas. Eight members of the class will receive diplomas after the Summer school, it was announced.

List of Graduates:

The names of the graduates follow:
The following students have completed the prescribed academic course and technical work required for graduation: Bachelor of Science in Vocational Home Economics; Shirley Mason Naramore, Prattville; Annie Laura Stone, Hartselle, and Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer.

Three Year College Course: Mary Elizabeth, Lincoln; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Carrie Ola Burtram, Springville; Celeste Conner, Andalusia; Bessie Heath, Enterprise; Marion Wesley Hinton, Autaugaaville; Mary Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Willie Lee McCann, Winfield; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Edith Moss Montgomery, Warrior; Mary Virginia Morton, Midway; Virginia Sue Moseley, Hazel Green; Florence Anzoinetta Orr, Hartselle; Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Mary Addison Scarborough, Mt. Willing; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Irdine Shiry,

STRESSES OPPORTUNITY

Mobile Pastor, In Commencement Sermon, Urges Finding of Truths.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 12.—Special.—Taking his text from the thirteenth chapter of Matthew, Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian Church, of Mobile, delivered a simple but eloquent message to the graduating class Sunday morning at the annual commencement exercises of the Alabama Industrial Institute and College for Women, in which he declared "that God's greatest gift to mankind is opportunity, and happy is he and she who receive the gift."

Reading his text, "Blessed are your eyes for they see," Dr. Ogden said the occasion for the fifty young women being graduated was an hour of memory and of hope.

"You have been searching for the truth that night may be day," he said, "and some still remain in the darkness. Opportunity is a priceless privilege, and blessed are your eyes, because of the opportunity that is yours."

Youth, he declared, is the time of opportunity, pointing out that most of the great achievements have been accomplished or inspired during youth.

"One of the fatal faults of many is that of inattention," he said. "Eyes that see are eyes that know and can interpret humanity and God in His universe in the spiritual sense."

"There are three things you should see as you look out on the world. First of all you should see its great need and have a heart of sympathy for those that suffer. Second, you should see and value human life in constructive terms, especially those of you who will become teachers. Third, you should have a conception of spiritual values, without which everything is as an empty shell."

Dr. Ogden declared that there is such a thing as self inflicted blindness and urged the young women to see life clearly and rightly and not to be so intent upon the "merry go round" of life that they miss the worthwhile things. One may stand in the sunshine and yet not see light. He concluded his remarks by declaring that to see and to live one must have a great deal of love, for it is life with love that is the victory.

Dr. Ogden also delivered an address Sunday evening when the graduating class had charge of the Y. M. C. A. services.

A beautiful cantata, "Gallia" by Gounod, was sung by the graduating class assisted by Miss Abbotte McKinnon, soprano soloist and the college orchestra.

At the annual banquet of the Alumni Association, Saturday night, plans were perfected for organizing a local alumni association in each congressional district in the state. Mrs. Eugene B. Henry, Birmingham, president of the Association presided. The following officers were elected for the next year: Miss Minnie Sellers of Ramer, president; Mrs. Garrett, Decatur, first vice-president; Miss Ethel York, Bessemer, second vice-president; Miss Callie Poole, Birmingham, secretary; Miss Gladys Jones-Williams, Montevallo, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Parnell, Mapleville, historian.

TRUSTEES APPROVE SIMPLIFIED NAME FOR MONTEVALLO

Reception To Governor Brandon And Trustees Meeting Feature First Day

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 11.—(Special.)—Changing of the name of the institution to Alabama college, meeting of the board of trustees and the reception tonight to Governor and Mrs. Brandon featured the first day of commencement exercises at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

The reception tonight in honor of the chief executive and first lady of the state was in the college parlors. In the receiving line were Governor and Mrs. Brandon, President and Mrs. Palmer, Dean and Mrs. O. C. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Davis, of Fort Davis, member of the board of trustees; Mrs. E. B. Henry, Birmingham, president of the alumnae association and the 50 members of the graduating class.

The change of name of the institution was approved by the board of trustees in line with the prediction sometime ago of The Age-Herald's Montevallo correspondent. Action of the trustees must be submitted to the legislature but this is considered only a matter of formality.

FOUR YEAR COURSE APPROVED

The board of trustees convened at 11 o'clock with Governor Brandon, Dr. T. F. Abernethy, state superintendent of education, and Dr. Palmer attending. Considerable time was taken up over changing the course of study as a result of action last year in making the college an "A" grade institution, which means a four-year course instead of a three-year one. A. B. degrees will be conferred henceforth.

President Palmer in his annual report to the trustees made a number of recommendations which were approved. The board unanimously adopted a resolution asking the legislature to appropriate funds to rebuild the residence of Dr. Palmer which was destroyed by fire in 1921.

Dean O. C. Carmichael, who was formerly principal of the Woodlawn High school, Birmingham, was granted a nine months leave of absence to continue his studies at Harvard and Princeton. This will enable him to receive a Ph. D. degree. Resolutions expressing regret at the death of Lloyd Hooper of Selma were adopted. He was a member of the board of trustees before his death recently.

The reception given in honor of Governor Brandon and the graduating class was held in the college parlors Friday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. In the receiving line were Governor Brandon, President and Mrs. Palmer, Dean and Mrs. O. C. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert T. Davis, of Fort Davis, members of the board of trustees, and their wives. Mrs. E. B. Henry, Birmingham, president of the Alumnae association, and the 50 members of the graduating class.

Three members of this class will this year receive a degree of bachelor of science. The others will receive three-year and two-year college diplomas. There are already enrolled for next session about 50 candidates for the bachelor degree.

The members of the faculty assisted in welcoming guests and serving refreshments at the reception tonight. Fully 100 people called during the evening to pay their respects to Governor Brandon and the members of the graduating class.

ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION MEETS

The meeting of the Alumnae association will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. The question of admitting others than graduates to membership will be discussed.

At 10:30 Saturday morning the home economics students of the training school will parade the town and college campus, advertising the indoor pageant given by the home economics department in the afternoon.

Class day exercises will be held at 11:30 a. m.

In the afternoon the exhibit by the art department will be shown to hundreds of callers, and a little later the indoor pageant by the home economics department.

ALUMNAE BANQUET AT MONTEVALLO IS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Birmingham Woman Presides. Brandon Urges School Tax. Sermon Today

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. E. B. Henry of Birmingham presided over the brilliant banquet of the Montevallo Alumnae association here tonight. Differing from former years the banquet was held at night in the college dining room, where several hundred alumnae assembled. One of the decisions reached at the reunion was to establish alumnae associations in every county in the state. A meeting of the alumnae association was previously held at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Following the banquet the Dramatic club of the college presented a charming play, "Charley's Aunt." Those who had parts in the performance were Lillie Burns, Belle Ellen; Lena Yarbrough, Evergreen; Alice Mahler, Loxley; Lida Allen, Cromwell; Lula Hawkins, Birmingham; Gladys Huey, Birmingham; Margaret Butler, Montgomery; Annie Mae Skinner, Montgomery; Kathleen Coates, Jackson, and Annie Lurie Clay of Fulton.

Numerous class day exercises made a busy day Saturday at Montevallo. A number of parents and visitors are here for commencement.

URGES THREE-MILL TAX

Governor Brandon, who attended the meeting of the board of trustees Friday, was urgent in his appeal for support of a three-mill tax for education, which will be put up to the legislature this summer. He appealed to each young woman of the college to go home and work for the three-mill tax measure. He stated that if the measure is adopted one and one-half mills will go to public school and the remainder to the University of Alabama, Auburn and Montevallo.

DR. OGDEN TO PREACH

Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Government Street church of Mobile, will deliver the baccalaureate address at the exercises tomorrow. A number of instrumental and vocal selections make up the Sunday program.

On Monday the address before the graduating class will be delivered by Congressman W. B. Oliver of Tuscaloosa. Diplomas will be awarded to the graduates by President T. W. Palmer.

DIPLOMAS WILL BE AWARDED TODAY TO GIRL GRADUATES

Congressman W. B. Oliver Will Deliver Address Before Graduating Class

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 13.—(Special.)—Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian church of Mobile, preached the commencement sermon here today before the graduating class, students and visitors at the Alabama Institute and College for Women. The added feature of Mother's Day made the occasion one long to be remembered by those present.

Members of the graduating class in cap and gown occupied front seats in the chapel and remarks of Dr. Ogden were directed especially to them. His message was full of inspiration and devotion and his hearers gave him rapt attention.

Dr. Ogden spoke again at the Y. W. C. A. services in the afternoon conducted by the graduating class. Both the morning and evening sessions were interspersed with vocal and instrumental selections, one of special note being a vocal quartet by Miss Abbote McKinnon of Talladega Springs, Miss Dorothy Richey of Satsuma, Fla., Miss Lillian Crawford of Bessemer and Miss Ethel Thompson of Bessemer. The college orchestra had a prominent place on the program.

Visitors here have been impressed with the growth of Montevallo and are pleased that it is to bloom out into a full four-year institution which will award both A. B. and B. S. degrees. They are also generally in accord with the board of trustees, which has asked the legislature for an appropriation of $80,000 annually or $20,000 more than is granted now.

Credit goes to the C. C. Holcombe Music company of Birmingham for awarding victrolas each to Miss Janice Fuqua and Miss Cora Whaley of Opp for their work in music. They tied for music honors at Montevallo and then carried off first and second place in the state federation contest at Montgomery.

Announcement that Dean O. C. Carmichael had decided not to take leave of absence of nine months to do Ph. D. degree work at Harvard and Princeton meets with general approval among the student body. Dean Carmichael has been connected with the school during the past session, having resigned the principalship of the Woodlawn High school to come here.

Monday will be a big day at the college. Congressman W. B. Oliver of Tuscaloosa will deliver the commencement address and diplomas will be presented to the unusually large class by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president. The day will be chock full of events which will bring the commencement program to a close, front, a large, overdressed woman.

The following students at Montevallo will be awarded diplomas today by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president:

Bachelor of Science in Vocational Home Economics—Shirley Mason, Narramore Prattville; Annie Laura Stone, Hartselle; Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer.

Three-Year College Course.
Mary Elizabeth Acker, Lincoln; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Carrie Ola Burtram, Springville; Celeste Conner, Andalusia; Bessie Heath, Enterprise; Marion Wesley Hinton, Autauga; Mary Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Willie Lee McCarn, Winfield; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Edith Moss Montgomery, Warrior; Mary Virginia Morton, Midway; Virginia Sue Moseley, Hazel Green; Florence Anzoinetta Orr, Hartselle; Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Mary Addison Scarborough, Mount Willing; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Irdine Shirey, Winfield; Dorothy Rosalind Speir, Greenville; Christine Steele, Clinton; Cora Whaley, Opp.

Two-Year College Course.
Lida Allen, Cromwell; Agnes Auxford, Quinton; Olga Mae Barnard, Union Grove; Emma Jean Collins, Birmingham; Sallie Mae Dalton, Opp; Sara Ekwurzel, Pell City; Sara Louise Grady, LaFayette;

Miriam Heiter, Mobile; Orlena Liddell, Bankhead; Marie Louise Moody, Russellville; Eugenia Moore, Harrell; Mildred Moore, Selma; Annie Ena Nabors, Goodwater; Lucy Carolyn Ozley, Siluria; Sue Jeanette Page, Opp; Elizabeth Palmer, Carson; Emmie Lucile Sealy, Thomaston; Carrie Lou Webb, LaFayette.

MAN DIES

EXERCISES AT MONTEVALLO MOST BRILLIANT OF 27

Congressman Oliver, Speaker Of Day — Graduating Classes Presented

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 14.—(Special.)—The twenty-seventh annual commencement day exercises were the most brilliant in the history of Montevallo college. On the right of the stage sat President Palmer, Congressman W. B. Oliver and Dean Carmichael, the class occupying the remainder of the platform. President Palmer, introducing Mr. Oliver, paid a high tribute to his work and services to the country. Mr. Oliver was at his best in speaking and held the closest attention of the large audience assembled to hear him. He closed by stating that the catalog of worthwhile achievements and high

TO CONFIRM JEWISH CLASS NEXT MONDAY
The Age-Herald maintains its registration offices at 818 Nineteenth street. The telephone is Enslay 626.
In Solemn Ceremony
Ten Boys And Girls Will Participate
The Age-Herald maintains its registration offices at 818 Nineteenth street. The telephone is Enslay 626.
The Age-Herald maintains its registration offices at 818 Nineteenth street. The telephone is Enslay 626.
The Age-Herald maintains its registration offices at 818 Nineteenth street. The telephone is Enslay 626.

McCarn, Winfield; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Edith Montgomery, Warrior; Mary Morton, Midway; Virginia Moseley, Hazelgreen; Florence Orr, Hartselle; Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Addie Scarborough, Mt. Willing; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Irene Shirey, Winfield; Dorothy Speir, Greenville; Chestine Steele, Clinton; Cora Whaley, Opp. Then the graduates of the two-year college course were presented. Lida Allen, Cromwell; Agnes Auxford, Quinton; Olga Barnard, Union Grove; Jean Collins, Birmingham; Sallie Mae Dalton, Opp; Sara Ekwurzel, Pell City; Sara Grady, LaFayette; Miriam Heiter, Mobile; Orlena Liddell, Bankhead; Marie Moody, Russellville; Eugenia Moore, Harrell; Mildred Moore, Selma; Annie Nabors, Goodwater; Lucy Ozley, Siluria; Sue Page, Opp; Elizabeth Palmer, Carson; Lucile Sealy, Thomaston; Carrie Lou Webb, LaFayette.

After awarding of the diplomas, Dean Carmichael announced the following as candidates for graduation at the close of the summer school: Edna Shelton, Guinn, bachelor of science; Catherine Shepard, Mt. Vernon, three-year college course; Toy Beason, Heflin; Elcie Kennedy, Crosby; Mary Lindsey, Butler; Gladys Menefee, Mobile; Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville; Ruth Warren, Birmingham two-year college course.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GIVEN PALMER BY SCHOOL TRUSTEES

President Of Montevallo Gets Vacation After 16 Years Without One.

DEAN CARMICHAEL IS NAMED TO TAKE PLACE

Former Birmingham Man Expected To Guide School Next Year.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo, has been granted leave of absence by the board of trustees, it was learned by The News Tuesday. He is expected to take the leave after school opens in September, leaving Prof. O. C. Carmichael, dean, in charge as acting president.

Reports as to the length of the leave varied, one report stating that the board granted him six months, while another said only three months.

Dr. Palmer has what is declared to be an almost unequalled record in his educational career in the state. He has been president of Montevallo for 16 years, during which time he has not had a vacation. Prior to that time he was dean of mathematics at the University of Alabama for about 12 years. He is held to be one of the leading educators in the state, and his work at Montevallo stands out as a monument to his efforts.

Dean Carmichael was associated with the Birmingham schools for a number of years, having been principal of several schools and resigning as principal of Woodlawn High to accept his present post. He is a graduate of Oxford University, having been a Rhodes scholar. He has traveled extensively and spent some time in India in the service of the British army.

As dean at Montevallo during the past year he has introduced a number of innovations, which have attracted statewide attention. Among the features was a state tournament of basketball teams from girls' schools, which lasted almost a week and was most successful. He has organized the school, the congressional districts and a number of things are undertaken through these organizations.

Plan Summer School.
One of the most interesting features of the Summer school will be a 10-day school for mothers when courses in home management will be given to mothers who desire to attend. He has made himself popular with teachers and pupils alike.

During Dr. Palmer's absence the trustees hope to begin work on the new president's home to replace the one that was burned in May, 1921. Plans are to be drawn up at once by Warren, Knight and Davis, architects, and the legislature will be asked to appropriate $25,000 for the rebuilding.

The new site for the home will be near Block Hall and about an eighth of a mile from the main college building, on a knoll.

This appropriation is the only one that will be asked at this session, although an auditorium, more class rooms, a gymnasium and more dormitory space is badly needed. The trustees will ask for an increase in the budget for maintenance which is absolutely necessary to carry on the work of the college, since it has been made an "A" grade college, granting A. B., B. S., and bachelor of music degrees. It will be necessary to enlarge the faculty, it is stated.

The raising of the standard of the school and the additional changes are expected to attract many additional students to the college next Fall. Montevallo is the only state college where co-educational is not in practice and sentiment is said to be strong throughout the state for such an institution, many parents objecting to co-education for women.

If the three-mill state tax is ratified, as purposed by Governor Brandon, Montevallo will receive additional funds and the building program can be begun at once, it is pointed out. In the event the tax is not adopted an extra session of the legislature will very likely be called for additional appropriations.

FLORIDA BARS LASH

MANY APPLYING TO ENTER MONTEVALLO

Summer School Will Open June 5 With Large Attendance; Record Year Expected.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 4.—Special.—The Summer school of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will open June 5 with a large enrollment. Applications are coming in daily, and the indications are that this will be the banner year in Summer school work.

An unusually strong faculty has been employed, as follows:

A. W. Calhoun, Ph.D., of Clark University, assistant director and professor of history. Dr. Calhoun is a teacher and lecturer of wide experience and a writer of considerable ability.

C. B. Gamble, superintendent of schools at Demopolis, and W. W. Benson, of Decatur, will be engaged in the department of mathematics. This is Mr. Gamble's second year in the Summer school.

J. J. Farris, principal of the high school at Greenville, who made a great success in the teaching of history in 1922, will return to his old position.

J. S. Ward, now professor of German at the University of Alabama, arrived June 2 to teach modern languages in the Summer school and also in the regular session.

Miss Annie Shapard, of Talladega, who was one of the most popular teachers in the college some years ago, but resigned to pursue further studies at Columbia University, will be connected with the school of education.

Mrs. Mattie Turner, who has made a great record as a primary teacher at Opelika and elsewhere, will have will be an assistant in English.

Miss Lulu Palmer, a graduate of Alabama College at Montevallo and of the University of Alabama, will assist in geometry and gymnasium.

L. O. Kyzar, of Brewton, comes to Montevallo for the first time to assist in the department of education.

Regular Faculty Members.

Among the regular members of the college faculty there will be associated with the Summer school Dean O. C. Carmichael, as director; J. L. Appleton, assistant in mathematics; Miss Myrtle Brooke, head of the department of education; J. H. Carmichael, Bible study; Director F. E. Marsh, Jr., and Mrs. Clara B. Evans in charge of the music work; Miss Rebecca Funk, physical education; Miss Mary Johnson, home economics; W. J. Kennerly, chemistry; Miss Mary Lewis, English; C. G. Shary, biology and agriculture.

Miss Vivian Monk, who withdrew a year ago to pursue graduate studies at the University of North Carolina, will return to take up her work in English again.

Miss Corinne Neeley, itinerant teacher-trainer, will have charge of the vocational students in home economics.

Miss Sarah Ordway, of the Woodlawn High School, will be in the English department.

M. L. Orr, superintendent of city schools, Montevallo, will assist in the department of education.

Miss Mary Peters will have charge of the training school.

Miss Dorothy Richey, graduate of the Curry School of Expression, will give special lessons in expression.

Mrs. C. G. Sharp will assist in physical education and will give instruction in swimming.

Miss Alberta Ross will remain for the summer school to assist in vocational home economics.

Masons In Favor Of Montevallo School

Individuals, publishers and others are receiving the following communication: Masonic Temple, jurisdiction of the grand lodge A. F. & A. M. of Alabama, George A. Beauchamp, grand Secretary, Montgomery, Ala.

Dear Sir:

We desire to call your attention to the following extract from the address of the Grand Master, Brother Julian F. Spearman, at the last annual communication of the grand lodge held on December 6 and 7, 1922, which was approved by the grand lodge:

"Masonry is always ready to lend its aid to any movement that will advance the cause of education, and is more especially concerned in the success and upbuilding of those institutions in our state, which are engaged in fitting our own boys and girls for the duties of life. A movement is now on foot to induce the coming legislature to take such measures as will enable those in charge of it to put the Alabama Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo among the grade 'A' schools. I recommend that this grand lodge pass appropriate resolutions endorsing this movement and urging the legislature of Alabama to enact such laws as will secure this purpose."

The following resolutions were also adopted by the grand lodge:

To the M. W. grand lodge A. F. & A. M., of Alabama:

Whereas, we as Masons, are interested in education and especially in our state educational institutions, and

IT UNDOUBTEDLY LOOKS LIKE THE KEY TO THE MIST

Birmingham Herald June 17

Alumnae Of Montevallo Plan Membership Drive

Spirit, interest, accomplishment; these are the three things the Montevallo alumnae adopted at the May meeting as characteristics of the coming year's work of the alumnae association.

With these watchwords, the sleeping enthusiasm of loyal students cannot but be aroused, and the membership drive, which is soon to be put on, should result in an association that will be among the leading ones of the state.

This drive will mark the first organized work of the association since the May meeting. It is also hoped that many local chapters may be organized during the next six months. Montgomery recently held its first meeting.

An interesting work ahead of the association now is the compilation of a directory of all former graduates, which will be sold at a minimum price. It will contain both an alphabetical and geographical division, giving the present occupation of each one, and the address, both business and residence.

In July the second volume of a news bulletin will be published and sent out free. In this will be the minutes of the May meeting, a copy of the proposed constitution, which will be voted on at the next annual meeting, an interesting history of Em Peebles Morrow, and other news items that will be of interest to those who still love their alma mater.

The association has gladly opened its doors to undergraduates. Any former student who has been at Montevallo nine months, and whose class has graduated, is eligible for membership.

At the annual meeting of the Montevallo Alumnae association, which was held in May in the college chapel, the following were elected as officers for 1923-24: Miss Minnie Sellers, Ramer, Ala., president; Mrs. Hill Beach Garrett, Decatur, Ala., first vice president; Miss Ethel York, Bessemer, Ala., second vice president; Mrs. R. W. Quinn, Birmingham, secretary; Miss Gladys Jones, Williams, Montevallo, treasurer; Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville, Ala., historian.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1923

COURSE OFFERED GIRL SCOUT HEADS

Montevallo To Give Two Weeks Training In Work.

Prospective leaders of girl scouts in Alabama will have an opportunity to receive a regular course in the requirements of this work if they attend an intensive two weeks term at the Alabama Technical School and College for Women at Montevallo, according to announcement Wednesday of Miss Elisa G. Becker, graduate of Columbia, and member of the national education staff in New York City, who is making a tour of Alabama universities to introduce the course.

Miss Becker has just returned from the University of Alabama, where, with the assistance of Dr. James J. Doster, superintendent of the Summer School, she has given the two weeks course to a large class. In this course Miss Becker also received the encouragement of Miss Rosa Strickland, a member of the Girl Scout Council in Birmingham. Practically 100 took the course at the University of Alabama, most of these persons being teachers, according to Miss Becker. A hope is entertained by Miss Becker that those who have completed the course will return to their communities and immediately introduce the methods of leadership advocated by the national staff in New York.

Need of leaders is great, according to Miss Becker. Beginning Thursday, she will commence the course at Montevallo where a large enrollment is expected.

Nearly 100 colleges in the country have received the course, Miss Becker stated.

Birmingham Herald

DIPLOMAS WILL BE AWARDED TODAY TO GIRL GRADUATES

Congressman W. B. Oliver Will Deliver Address Before Graduating Class

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 13.—(Special.)—Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, pastor of the Government Street Presbyterian church of Mobile, preached the commencement sermon here today before the graduating class, students and visitors at the Alabama Institute and College for Women. The added feature of Mother's Day made the occasion one long to be remembered by those present.

Members of the graduating class in cap and gown occupied front seats in the chapel and remarks of Dr. Ogden were directed especially to them. His message was full of inspiration and devotion and his hearers gave him rapt attention.

Dr. Ogden spoke again at the Y. W. C. A. services in the afternoon conducted by the graduating class. Both the morning and evening sessions were interspersed with vocal and instrumental selections, one of special note being a vocal quartet by Miss Abbote McKinnon of Talladega Springs, Miss Dorothy Richey of Satsuma, Fla., Miss Lillian Crawford of Bessemer and Miss Ethel Thompson of Bessemer. The college orchestra had a prominent place on the program.

Visitors here have been impressed with the growth of Montevallo and are pleased that it is to bloom out into a full four-year institution which will award both A. B. and B. S. degrees. They are also generally in accord with the board of trustees, which has asked the legislature for an appropriation of $80,000 annually or $20,000 more than is granted now.

Credit goes to the C. C. Holcombe Music company of Birmingham for awarding victrolas each to Miss Janice Fuqua and Miss Cora Whaley of Opp for their work in music. They tied for music honors at Montevallo and then carried off first and second place in the state federation contest at Montgomery.

Announcement that Dean O. C. Carmichael had decided not to take leave of absence of nine months to do Ph. D. degree work at Harvard and Princeton meets with general approval among the student body. Dean Carmichael has been connected with the school during the past session, having resigned the principalship of the Woodlawn High school to come here.

Monday will be a big day at the college. Congressman W. B. Oliver of Tuscaloosa will deliver the commencement address and diplomas will be presented to the unusually large class by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president. The day will be chock full of events which will bring the commencement program to a close, front, a large, overdressed woman.

The following students at Montevallo will be awarded diplomas today by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president:

Bachelor of Science in Vocational Home Economics—Shirley Mason Narramore Prattville; Annie Laura Stone, Hartselle; Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer.

Three-Year College Course.

Mary Elizabeth Acker, Lincoln; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Carrie Ola Burtram, Springville; Celeste Conner, Andalusia; Bessie Heath, Enterprise; Marion Wesley Hinton, Autaugaville; Mary Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Willie Lee McCarn, Winfield; Berta Martin, Enterprise; Edith Moss Montgomery, Warrior; Mary Virginia Morton, Midway; Virginia Sue Moseley, Hazel Green; Florence Anzoinetta Orr, Hartselle; Jewell Pardue, Saginaw; Mary Addison Scarborough, Mount Willing; Marguerite Scroggin, Center; Irdine Shirey, Winfield; Dorothy Rosalind Speir, Greenville; Christina Steele, Clinton; Cora Whaley, Opp.

Two-Year College Course.

Lida Allen, Cromwell; Agnes Auxford, Quinton; Olga Mae Barnard, Union Grove; Emma Jean Collins, Birmingham; Sallie Mae Dalton, Opp; Sara Ekwurzel, Pell City; Sara Louise Grady, LaFayette.

Miriam Heltter, Mobile; Orlena Liddell, Bankhead; Marie Louise Moody, Russellville; Eugenia Moore, Harrell; Mildred Moore, Selma; Annie Ena Nabors, Goodwater; Lucy Carolyn Ozley, Siluria; Sue Jeanette Page, Opp; Elizabeth Palmer, Carson; Emmie Lucile Sealy, Thomaston; Carrie Lou Webb, LaFayette.

MEMORABLE MAN DIES

EXERCISES AT MONTEVALLO MOST BRILLIANT OF 27

Congressman Oliver, Speaker Of Day — Graduating Classes Presented

MONTEVALLO, Ala., May 14.—(Special.)—The twenty-seventh annual commencement day exercises were the most brilliant in the history of Montevallo college. On the right of the stage sat President Palmer, Congressman W. B. Oliver and Dean Carmichael, the class occupying the remainder of the platform. President Palmer, introducing Mr. Oliver, paid a high tribute to his work and services to the country. Mr. Oliver was at his best in speaking and held the closest attention of the large audience assembled to hear him. He closed by stating that the catalog of worthwhile achievements and high service to country by the sons and daughters of Alabama is a long and glorious one and a study of its pages "will make your hearts expand with generous emotions, beckoning you on to yet higher and nobler service, and firing you with a purer love for country."

"In every life in every age where opportunity and intellect truly blossom into flower, there are a few persons and a few events that stand out like fixed stars, and I wish in concluding to pay an humble tribute to one of these, an immortal Alabamian whom I was privileged to know. There was something so sublime in her arduous zeal in the consecration of her talents, her energies, yea her all to two great causes, to improving the educational opportunities for the youth of the state and prison reform, that in my search of the annals of time I fail to find her parallel in this noble field of endeavor. The loftiest conceptions of orator, poet, historian, all combined, would fail to pay just tribute to the active, helpful, uplifting, eventful life of Julia Strudwich Tutwiler. She should be given one of the first places allotted this state in the hall of fame."

Graduates Are Presented.

After singing of the class song, Dean Carmichael presented to President Palmer the members of the graduating class in groups. First came the bachelors of science, Shirley Narramore, Prattville; Annie Stone, Hartselle, and Lillie Mae Vines, Bessemer. Awarding of their diplomas and the placing upon them the bachelor's hood was a very impressive ceremony. Next came the presentation of the graduates of the three-year college course, Elizabeth Acker, Lincoln; Beatrice Brunson, Elba; Lillou Burns, Belle Ellen; Carrie Butram, Springville; Celeste Conner, Andalusia; Bessie Heath, Enterprise; Marion Hinton, Autaugaville; Josephine Kilgore, Cordova; Willie Lee Webb, LaFayette.

After awarding of the diplomas, Dean Carmichael announced the following as candidates for graduation at the close of the summer school: Edna Shelton, Guinn, bachelor of science; Catherine Shepard, Mt. Vernon, three-year college course; Toy Beason, Heflin; Elcie Kennedy, Crosby; Mary Lindsey, Butler; Gladys Meneff, Mobile; Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville; Ruth Warren, Birmingham two-year college course.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GIVEN PALMER BY SCHOOL TRUSTEES

President Of Montevallo Gets Vacation After 16 Years Without One.

DEAN CARMICHAEL IS NAMED TO TAKE PLACE

Former Birmingham Man Expected To Guide School Next Year.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo, has been granted leave of absence by the board of trustees, it was learned by The News Tuesday. He is expected to take the leave after school opens in September, leaving Prof. O. C. Carmichael, dean, in charge as acting president.

Reports as to the length of the leave varied, one report stating that the board granted him six months, while another said only three months.

Dr. Palmer has what is declared to be an almost unequalled record in his educational career in the state. He has been president of Montevallo for 16 years, during which time he has not had a vacation. Prior to that time he was dean of mathematics at the University of Alabama for about 12 years. He is held to be one of the leading educators in the state, and his work at Montevallo stands out as a monument to his efforts.

Dean Carmichael was associated with the Birmingham schools for a number of years, having been principal of several schools and resigning as principal of Woodlawn High to accept his present post. He is a graduate of Oxford University, having been a Rhodes scholar. He has traveled extensively and spent some time in India in the service of the British army.

As dean at Montevallo during the past year he has introduced a number of innovations, which have attracted statewide attention. Among the features was a state tournament of basketball teams from girls' schools, which lasted almost a week and was most successful. He has organized the school, the congressional districts and a number of things are undertaken through these organizations.

Plan Summer School.

One of the most interesting features of the Summer school will be a 10-day school for mothers when courses in home management will be given to mothers who desire to attend. He has made himself popular with teachers and pupils alike.

During Dr. Palmer's absence the trustees hope to begin work on the new president's home to replace the one that was burned in May, 1921. Plans are to be drawn up at once by Warren, Knight and Davis, architects, and the legislature will be asked to appropriate $25,000 for the rebuilding.

The new site for the home will be near Block Hall and about an eighth of a mile from the main college building, on a knoll.

This appropriation is the only one that will be asked at this session, although an auditorium, more classrooms, a gymnasium and more dormitory space is badly needed. The trustees will ask for an increase in the budget for maintenance which is absolutely necessary to carry on the work of the college, since it has been made an "A" grade college, granting A. B., B. S., and bachelor of music degrees. It will be necessary to enlarge the faculty, it is stated.

The raising of the standard of the school and the additional changes are expected to attract many additional students to the college next Fall. Montevallo is the only state college where co-educational is not in practice and sentiment is said to be strong throughout the state for such an institution, many parents objecting to co-education for women.

If the three-mill state tax is ratified, as purposed by Governor Brandon, Montevallo will receive additional funds and the building program can be begun at once, it is pointed out. In the event the tax is not adopted an extra session of the legislature will very likely be called for additional appropriations.

FLORIDA BARS LASH

MANY APPLYING TO ENTER MONTEVALLO

Summer School Will Open June 5 With Large Attendance; Record Year Expected.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 4.—Special.—The Summer school of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will open June 5 with a large enrollment. Applications are coming in daily, and the indications are that this will be the banner year in Summer school work.

An unusually strong faculty has been employed, as follows:

A. W. Calhoun, Ph.D., of Clark University, assistant director and professor of history. Dr. Calhoun is a teacher and lecturer of wide experience and a writer of considerable ability.

C. B. Gamble, superintendent of schools at Demopolis, and W. W. Benson, of Decatur, will be engaged in the department of mathematics. This is Mr. Gamble's second year in the Summer school.

J. J. Farris, principal of the high school at Greenville, who made a great success in the teaching of history in 1922, will return to his old position.

J. S. Ward, now professor of German at the University of Alabama, arrived June 2 to teach modern languages in the Summer school and also in the regular session.

Miss Annie Shapard, of Talladega, who was one of the most popular teachers in the college some years ago, but resigned to pursue further studies at Columbia University, will be connected with the school of education.

Mrs. Mattie Turner, who has made a great record as a primary teacher at Opelika and elsewhere, will have

will be an assistant in English.

Miss Lulu Palmer, a graduate of Alabama College at Montevallo and of the University of Alabama, will assist in geometry and gymnasium.

L. O. Kyzar, of Brewton, comes to Montevallo for the first time to assist in the department of education.

Regular Faculty Members.

Among the regular members of the college faculty there will be associated with the Summer school Dean O. C. Carmichael, as director; J. L. Appleton, assistant in mathematics; Miss Myrtle Brooke, head of the department of education; J. H. Carmichael, Bible study; Director F. E. Marsh, Jr., and Mrs. Clara B. Evans in charge of the music work; Miss Rebecca Funk, physical education; Miss Mary Johnson, home economics; W. J. Kennerly, chemistry; Miss Mary Lewis, English; C. G. Shary, biology and agriculture.

Miss Vivian Monk, who withdrew a year ago to pursue graduate studies at the University of North Carolina, will return to take up her work in English again.

Miss Corinne Neeley, itinerant teacher-trainer, will have charge of the vocational students in home economics.

Miss Sarah Ordway, of the Woodlawn High School, will be in the English department.

M. L. Orr, superintendent of city schools, Montevallo, will assist in the department of education.

Miss Mary Peters will have charge of the training school.

Miss Dorothy Richey, graduate of the Curry School of Expression, will give special lessons in expression.

Mrs. C. G. Sharp will assist in physical education and will give instruction in swimming.

Miss Alkerta Ross will remain for the summer school to assist in vocational home economics.

Masons In Favor Of Montevallo School

Individuals, publishers and others are receiving the following communication: Masonic Temple, jurisdiction of the grand lodge A. F. & A. M. of Alabama, George A. Beauchamp, grand Secretary, Montgomery, Ala.

Dear Sir:

We desire to call your attention to the following extract from the address of the Grand Master, Brother Julian F. Spearman, at the last annual communication of the grand lodge held on December 6 and 7, 1922, which was approved by the grand lodge:

"Masonry is always ready to lend its aid to any movement that will advance the cause of education, and is more especially concerned in the success and upbuilding of those institutions in our state, which are engaged in fitting our own boys and girls for the duties of life. A movement is now on foot to induce the coming legislature to take such measures as will enable those in charge of it to put the Alabama Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo among the grade 'A' schools. I recommend that this grand lodge pass appropriate resolutions endorsing this movement and urging the legislature of Alabama to enact such laws as will secure this purpose."

The following resolutions were also adopted by the grand lodge:

To the M. W. grand lodge A. F. & A. M., of Alabama:

Whereas, we as Masons, are interested in education and especially in our state educational institutions, and

Whereas, our Girls' Technical Institute at Montevallo is not a class "A" school and unable to confer degrees; therefore,

Be it resolved, that this grand lodge go on record as endorsing the elevation of this institution to a class "A" standard, and

Be it further resolved, that we, as Masons, use all our influence to have our legislature pass such laws as are necessary to raise said institution to a class "A" standard.

Your influence toward achieving the above will be appreciated by the 50,000 Masons of Alabama.

Yours very truly,

GEO. A. BEAUCHAMP,
Grand Secretary.

A course for electric meter men has been added by the University of Wisconsin to its extension department.

Alumnae Of Montevallo Plan Membership Drive

Spirit, interest, accomplishment; these are the three things the Montevallo alumnae adopted at the May meeting as characteristics of the coming year's work of the alumnae association.

With these watchwords, the sleeping enthusiasm of loyal students cannot but be aroused, and the membership drive, which is soon to be put on, should result in an association that will be among the leading ones of the state.

This drive will mark the first organized work of the association since the May meeting. It is also hoped that many local chapters may be organized during the next six months. Montgomery recently held its first meeting.

An interesting work ahead of the association now is the compilation of a directory of all former graduates, which will be sold at a minimum price. It will contain both an alphabetical and geographical division, giving the present occupation of each one, and the address, both business and residence.

In July the second volume of a news bulletin will be published and sent out free. In this will be the minutes of the May meeting, a copy of the proposed constitution, which will be voted on at the next annual meeting, an interesting history of Em Peebles Morrow, and other news items that will be of interest to those who still love their alma mater.

The association has gladly opened its doors to undergraduates. Any former student who has been at Montevallo nine months, and whose class has graduated, is eligible for membership.

At the annual meeting of the Montevallo Alumnae association, which was held in May in the college chapel, the following were elected as officers for 1923-24: Miss Minnie Sellers, Ramer, Ala., president; Mrs. Hill Beach Garrett, Decatur, Ala., first vice president; Miss Ethel York, Bessemer, Ala., second vice president; Mrs. R. W. Quinn, Birmingham, secretary; Miss Gladys Jones, Williams, Montevallo, treasurer; Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville, Ala., historian.

AY, JUNE 27, 1923

COURSE OFFERED GIRL SCOUT HEADS

Montevallo To Give Two Weeks Training In Work.

Prospective leaders of girl scouts in Alabama will have an opportunity to receive a regular course in the requirements of this work if they attend an intensive two weeks term at the Alabama Technical School and College for Women at Montevallo, according to announcement Wednesday of Miss Elisa G. Becker, graduate of Columbia, and member of the national education staff in New York City, who is making a tour of Alabama universities to introduce the course.

Miss Becker has just returned from the University of Alabama, where, with the assistance of Dr. James J. Doster, superintendent of the Summer School, she has given the two weeks course to a large class. In this course Miss Becker also received the encouragement of Miss Rosa Strickland, a member of the Girl Scout Council in Birmingham. Practically 100 took the course at the University of Alabama, most of these persons being teachers, according to Miss Becker. A hope is entertained by Miss Becker that those who have completed the course will return to their communities and immediately introduce the methods of leadership advocated by the national staff in New York.

Need of leaders is great, according to Miss Becker. Beginning Thursday, she will commence the course at Montevallo where a large enrollment is expected.

Nearly 100 colleges in the country have received the course, Miss Becker stated.

MUSIC IS MAJOR AT MONTEVALLO

Course Now Provides For Degree Of Bachelor
Of Music.

MONTEVALLO, June 2.—Special—Music is now one of the five major special subjects at Montevallo. For the session of 1923-24, the "school of music" will be inaugurated, succeeding the department of music, through which splendid work has been done for twenty-six years.

The department first attracted statewide attention under the directorship of the late Charles R. Calkins who served for eight years.

During the past session, under the leadership of Director Frank E. Marsh, Jr., the course of study has been advanced to a full college standard, and the degree of Bachelor of Music will be awarded.

Associated with Director Marsh are six eminent musicians and teachers: Elizabeth Frances Young, Clara DeVane, and Clara Browning Evans, pianists; Kathryn Alva Ross, voice teacher, Mildred Vause, violinist, and May Andrus, theoretical and public school music.

Mr. Marsh, a finished artist in music, is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and has studied under many of the leading piano teachers in America. He has had a wide experience as a teacher and director in leading colleges in Texas, New York, and Canada. Through his intensive study and wide experience, he has been enabled to carry on most successfully the great work begun by the lamented Prof. Calkins, and to put into practice principles necessary for the launching of a regular school of music. Kathryn Alva Ross, in charge of the voice work, has one of the most beautiful contralto voices to be found on the concert platform of today. After receiving the artist's diploma from the Combes Conservatory of Music, Philadelphia, under Nelson Chestnut and Signora DeSocio in voice, and coloratura work at the University of Pennsylvania under Dr. Hugh A. Clark, she continued her studies for two years under the late David Bispham, who was very enthusiastic about her voice and her ability. After Mr. Bispham's death she studied with Ross David, the noted tenor and voice teacher of New York City, with whom she is at present studying. Miss Ross has had several years' experience as a teacher and concert artist, having been, at one time, head of the voice department at Coker College, S. C. For the past two years she has been teaching privately in New York and Wilmington, Del., when her concert tours have not kept her away from her studio. It was on her Southern tour last Winter that Mr. Marsh heard her and engaged her for Montevallo.

Another newcomer, though not new to Alabama, is Miss Mildred Vause, former director of the violin department of Judson College. Miss Vause received the Artist's Diploma with honors from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, under P. A. Tirindelli, the famous Italian violinist, conductor and teacher. Miss Vause is attending the master classes that are being held at the Chicago Musical College by L. Auer and Leon Semintini this Summer.

It is with pardonable pride that the announcement is made of the acquisition of Miss May Andrus as head of the theoretical and public school music work. Miss Andrus is a graduate and post-graduate of the department of music of Yale University, under such famous musicians as Dr. Horatio Parker, David Stanley Smith, William E. Haesch and H. Stanley Knight. She has studied voice with A. D. Woodcock, of New York City, and public school music at the Institute of Music Pedagogy, Northampton, Mass., and under Ralph L. Baldwin, Hartford, Conn. For the past eight years she has been director of school music in the city schools of Camden, Conn., and accompanist for the Yale Choral Club. She is a composer and lecturer of note, having given lectures on music subjects before nearly every music club in the New England states. She is a very active member of the Eastern and National Supervisors' Conferences. Miss Andrus will study this Summer at West Chester, Pa., under the state director of public school music, Dr. Hollis Dann.

Among the new features to be introduced are the granting of the bachelor of music degree in piano, violin, voice and composition; and the organization of a pianoforte normal department, under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Frances Young, where students receiving the bachelor of music degree in piano, will get two years of actual teaching experience. Miss Young is well qualified to do the work, being a graduate of the normal department of the New England Conservatory of Music and taking postgraduate study this Summer under F. Addison Porter in Boston.

The offering of a two-year course in public school music for the supervisor's diploma is another big feature, and this is the only school in the State of Alabama to give such a course. The school is efficiently prepared to do this work, through the addition of Miss May Andrus, and through the means of its well organized training school where students gain the necessary experience in teaching and supervising music in the grades and high school.

STANDARD RAISED
BY NEW DIRECTOR

FRANK E. MARSH, JR.

Another interesting feature of the coming season is the inauguration of a festival chorus of 100 voices which will study two oratorios, one to be presented at a mid-Winter concert, and the other at a three-day music festival in the early Spring, when concerts will be given by the college glee club, college orchestra, visiting artists, members of the faculty, seniors in music, and the festival chorus under the direction of Mr. Marsh.

Each year the college offers a series of artists' concerts, given by visiting artists and members of the faculty. The schedule of concerts for 1923-24 will be as follows: October 6, Kathryn Alva Ross, contralto and Frank E. Marsh, Jr., pianist; Oct. 20, Vera Poppe, the noted English 'cellist, and Edna Swanson Ver Haar, Swedish contralto; Nov. 10, lecture recital on Indian music by Harold Loring, pianist, assisted by full-blooded Sioux Indian; Nov. 24, Mildred Vause, violinist, and Elizabeth Frances Young, pianist; Dec. 8, piano recital by Jan Chiapusso, famous Dutch pianist; Jan. 26, Emil Telmányi, greatest Hungarian violinist; Feb. 16, Gladys Swarthout, lyric soprano and Margaret O'Connor, harpist; March 22, Clara DeVane and Clara Browning Evans, pianists, assisted by a reader; April 19, Irene Pavlowa, mezzo-soprano, Chicago Civic Opera Company, and Louis Kreidler, famous baritone of the Chicago and Metropolitan Opera companies, who will present the opera, "The Secret of Suzanne," in costume.

Full College Basis Calls For Enlargement of All Departments.

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 9.—Special to The Advertiser.—The placing of the college at Montevallo on the full college basis calls for the enlargement of the courses in all departments. The announcement is made of the election of Miss Leah Brownfield to the head of the commercial department. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has wide experience in stenographic and secretarial work at the University of Illinois and with the Emergency Fleet Corporation in Washington and Philadelphia during the war.

At Montevallo, young women will be trained not only for stenographic and bookkeeping work but to serve as executive secretaries for colleges and schools and large commercial establishments.

ALL ALABAMA SCHOOLS SMASH RECORDS FOR SUMMER ATTENDANCE

University Leads In Number Of Students At Vacation Term

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 23.—(By Associated Press.)—All records for summer school attendance has apparently been smashed for the present term, according to approximate figures being announced from heads of various institutions.

Practically every school in the state reported an increase, some greater than others, but all showing substantial growth.

The University of Alabama, with approximately 1,300 students, led the field in numbers, with the Florence Normal school second, with slightly over 1,000 enrolled, according to figures of officials of the institutions.

Birmingham-Southern college and the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women are believed to have shown the greatest increase in percentage, each of the institutions approximately doubling their enrollment of last year. Last summer was the first time that Birmingham-Southern held a summer school.

Figures, while not yet complete, show the approximate enrollment of the various summer schools over the state for the first summer term to be as follows: University of Alabama, 1,300; Florence Normal school, 1,003; Troy Normal school, 738; Howard college, 585; Alabama Polytechnic institute, 700; Birmingham-Southern, 400; Jacksonville Normal school, 850; Livingston Normal school, 450; Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, 300.

This enrollment compares with the first summer term of last year as follows: Troy Normal, 715; University of Alabama, 1,200; Montevallo, 143; Howard college, 540; Birmingham-Southern, 200.

While summer schools have not yet been established at Woman's college of Montgomery, Athens College for Women, nor Judson college, those in charge of the schools say they are planning summer schools in the course of the next few years.

Students Told Of Alabama Progress

MONTEVALLO, Ala., June 23.—"Alabama has made marvelous progress in education in the last 25 years," said Dr. John W. Abercrombie in the closing address in the welfare course on Friday before the Summer school.

A splendid audience greeted the speaker and paid the closest attention as he compared the conditions of today with those of a quarter of a century ago. The percentage of illiteracy has been reduced and Alabama now stands seventh from the bottom instead of second, as it was a few years ago.

In 20 years the number of standard high schools has increased from a half dozen to 210, with 59 about ready to be qualified. While his whole address was optimistic in tone, he closed by saying that much more was yet to be accomplished, especially when we compare Alabama with some other states in

EXCURSIONS PLANNED

Summer School Students To Pay Visits To Nearby Communities

MONTEVALLO, July 1.—(Special.) The summer school students, under the direction of Miss Edna Irvin, have planned many excursions to neighboring communities at each week-end. Monday 50 students and six teachers visited the cotton mills at Siluria, and were shown many courtesies by the officers of the company. These trips constitute a part of the course of study in community welfare.

INTEREST INCREASES

Interest in the Girl Scout work, under Miss Elsa G. Becker increases day by day. Saturday evening 80 members of the class went on a hike to the Ray place, six miles from town, and camped over Saturday night and Sunday. A Sunday school meeting was held Sunday morning.

PALMER ON VACATION

President Palmer is taking a vacation of a few weeks, the first he has had in 27 years. He has decided to spend this time in the Birmingham district, studying many of the interesting features in that territory.

TO CONDUCT REVIVAL

Rev. J. Renfro Curry, pastor of the Baptist church, announces that he will begin a revival meeting at the Montevallo church Sunday, July 8. Two services will be held each day. The preaching will be done by Rev. Jesse A. Cook, pastor of the West End Baptist church of Birmingham.

DR. CALHOUN PREACHES

At the Baptist church Sunday evening, services were conducted by Dr. A. W. Calhoun of the summer school faculty. Dr. Calhoun is one of the most scholarly men in the state, and a most pleasing as well as instructive lecturer.

MONTEVALLO PLANS GREAT CELEBRATION

Athletic Contests And Pageant Scheduled For July 4

MONTEVALLO, Ala., July 3.—(Special.)—The Fourth of July will be celebrated at the college with an attractive program extending from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. Prof. J. J. Farris is in general charge of all exercises. A tennis tournament will begin at 8 o'clock with three teams from the faculty and three from the students. The faculty teams are: 1. Dean Carmichael and Miss Becker vs. Patrick Carmichael and Miss Funk; 2. W. J. Kennerly and Miss Lewis vs. L. O. Kyzar and C. B. Gamble; 3. J. S. Ward and Dr. A. W. Calhoun vs. M. L. Orr and Miss Lulu Palmer.

The student team are: 1. Edith Thomas and Elizabeth Ward vs. Oralee Raley and Katie Roan; 2. Sadie Long and Kathleen Allen vs. Annie Laurie Larkin and Otis White; 3. Lucille Miller and Grady Garner vs. Bessie Williams and Aubrey White.

The winning team of the faculty will play in the afternoon the winning team of the students for the school championship.

A general swimming contest between 25 of the best swimmers among the students will take place at 11 a. m. and again at 4 p. m. At 8 p. m. a general pageant will be given by the students under the direction of Miss Vivian Monk. In the prologue Miss Dorothy Richey will take the part of Columbia and sing a number of patriotic songs and will have responsive readings with the audience. Miss Evelyn Scott will appear as Liberty. Miss Ruth Cunningham will represent History and will give a series of short readings connecting the general story of the nation between the various tableaux.

ALDRICH GIVES BOOKS

Interest of Birmingham Man Shown In Montevallo College.

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Aug. 10.—Special to The Advertiser.—W. F. Aldrich, of Birmingham, has presented to the library of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women 109 volumes and 50 unbound numbers of periodicals. These books and periodicals were in his private library at Rajah Lodge, Aldrich, Ala.

Mr. Aldrich has taken a very deep interest in the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women since its first establishment at Montevallo, and has frequently made donations of rare flowers and plants to the floral department of the college. Before he moved to Birmingham he also delivered some very interesting illustrated lectures on the Pyramids of Egypt. His interest in the college is highly appreciated by trustees, faculty, and students.

(Copyright, 1923 by John Samelo Sand.)

(Continued tomorrow.)

Montevallo Dramatic Club Entertains—

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 9.—Special to The Advertiser.—The Dramatic club of the summer school of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women under the direction of Miss Dorothy Richey entertained the faculty, students, and citizens on Saturday evening with three one act plays. The first was "The Wonder Hat" by Ben Hocht. Those taking the leading parts were Miss Gussie Collins, Atmore; Miss Annie Laurie Dunn, Mobile; Miss Madge Jacobs, Goodwater; Miss Emma Splawn, Centerville; Miss Allison Frazee, Grand Bay.

The second play was "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil" by Stuart Walker. The characters were represented by Miss Willie Lee Reaves, Montevallo; Miss Charlotte Jones, Troy; Miss Elizabeth Ward, Eutaw; Miss Clarence Long, Gainesville; Miss Carolyn Pollard, Sheffield; Miss Evelyn Scott, Verbena; and Miss Bess Williams, Montgomery.

"Suppressed Desires" by George Crane Cook and Susan Glaspell was the third act and served as a fitting close to a very enjoyable evening. Misses Mildred Allbritton Warrior, Annie Laura Robertson, Clayton; and Rosa Dunklin held the audience at the closest attention thruout the two scenes of this play.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS VISIT COAL MINES

President Palmer Spends First Vacation in Twenty-Seven Years in Mineral District

MONTEVALLO, July 1.—Special to The Advertiser.—The summer school students under the direction of Miss Edna Irvin have planned many excursions to neighboring communities at each week-end. On Monday fifty students and six teachers visited the cotton mills at Siluria, and were shown many courtesies by the officers of the company. These trips constitute a part of the course of study in community welfare. The class feels specially indebted to Mrs. T. C. Thompson for the reception given them at her private residence and at the community house.

Another group of students went through the ice factory on Saturday, and the process of ice making was fully explained by the manager, J. A. Brown.

Another large group, dressed in overalls, made a tour through the coal mines. It is not often that women enter a coal mine, but these, being earnest students of sociological questions, were readily granted this privilege.

Arrangements are being made for a large class to visit the Ensley steel plant on Monday, July 9. President Palmer will accompany these students on this trip. The class will also visit the Bell Telephone Company and the new postoffice building.

Girl Scouts Hike

Interest in the Girl Scout work, under Miss Elsa G. Becker, increases day by day. On Saturday evening eighty members of the class went on a hike to the Ray place six miles from town, and camped over Saturday night and Sunday. A deeply spiritual Sunday school meeting was held on Sunday morning.

President Palmer is taking a vacation of a few weeks—the first that he has had in twenty-seven years. He has decided to spend this time in the Birmingham district, studying many of the interesting features in that territory.

Alabama Writers In Conclave At Montevallo During The Month Of August.

AN important event of state-wide interest will be the conclave of Alabama writers, which is to be held at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women, in Montevallo, from Aug. 20 to 24, inclusive.

This occasion will bring together many of Alabama's most distinguished and talented women.

Writers of Alabama feel greatly indebted to Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of this institution for his interest in the movement.

He has been most generous in giving of his energy, time and encouragement and assisting in the details for this gathering, as well as in his offering of the hospitalities of the school.

Anyone interested in literature and writing, in any form, is invited to attend any or all of the sessions of this meeting. A number of men are expected to attend the meeting. However, Dr. Palmer or the chairman of publicity must be notified in advance of their desire to attend, in order that reservations may be made for them.

Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore is the talented and competent general chairman. She is making excellent arrangements for the comfort and entertainment of those who will attend. Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, is chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Chapman is one of Alabama's best known writers and is in close touch with those who can make up a program which will appeal to literary circles and book lovers. Her work is well-known, as her writings have been accepted by many of the best publishers.

The reception committee will include Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, Dr. O. C. Carmichael, dean of the college; Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid. With this charming group of men and women as hosts, the atmosphere will partake of the days of the old South.

The first meeting is to be held on Monday, Aug. 20, beginning at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and during the following days there are to be three daily sessions. The morning sessions will be devoted to lectures and discussions; afternoons to round table discussions and the evenings featured by literary, musical and social affairs.

The day's program will be presided over by Mrs. Chappell Cory, assisted by Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid and Mrs. Agnes Ware Bishop, of Selma. With stories and scenario writing as features of the day Tuesday, Mrs. J. N. Cornelius presiding, assisted by Mrs. Scottie McKenzie Frazier. The day will be devoted to poetry, sonnets and song writing.

Wednesday, Mrs. Kate Downing Ghent presiding, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Penney and Mrs. C. J. Sharp. Short stories and stories for children will be topics of discussion.

Thursday Mrs. Septimus Hudson and Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman will preside. The novelette will be discussed.

Friday Miss Frances Nimmo Green, Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen and Mrs. Frank Durham are to occupy the chair.

A unique feature, which will be in charge of Mrs. Martha Lyman Schillitto, will be the book section, where books, poems and songs, by Alabama writers, may be purchased. Among the charming numbers on the program will be a group of songs by Mrs. Wales Wallace and Miss Annie Lou Burns, of Selma. Mrs. Caroline P. Engstfeldt, of the Birmingham Library Association, will speak on "Bibliography and Its Use To Writers."

Mrs. Val Taylor, of Uniontown, president of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs, will make an address.

Miss Winnifred Kimball, of Florida, who won the ten thousand dollar photo play contest, and who claims Alabama as her home, will be present and will make a talk on "How I Broke Into Scenario Writing."

Among other distinguished visitors will be Miss Martha Young and Mrs. Ida Moore (Betsy Hamilton).

Mrs. Josephine Nixon Henley, assisted by Mrs. H. Scudder Ryall, will be in charge of the publicity for conclave. Those desiring further information may address 5914 First Avenue, or call Woodlawn 64-J or 1129.

Alabama College Short Name Given by Luck Measure

There is no longer any such place as the Alabama Technical Institute and college for Women. The state school for young women at Montevallo, which formerly bore that name will hereafter be known as Alabama College. Provision for the change in the name of the school, is contained in House bill 334, by Representative Paul Luck, which was approved and signed by Governor W. W. Brandon, Monday.

First steps toward shortening the title of the Montevallo school as then authorized, were taken at a meeting of the board of trustees of the institution held at the capitol last fall. At that time, a resolution was adopted recommending that the name be changed to Alabama College. Representative Luck's bill has carried out that recommendation.

GRADUATION HELD

Four Complete Work At End Of Montevallo Summer Term.

MONTVALLO, Ala., July 16.—Special.—The regular graduating exercises were held in the auditorium of the college Saturday. President Palmer came home from his vacation in order to be present and to award the diplomas to the graduates.

There was a large attendance at the assembly hour. The president, dean, three ministers of the gospel, and four graduates were seated upon the platform. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Jess A. Cook, pastor of West End Baptist Church, Birmingham, and the songs were led by Marvin Pharr, of Atlanta, Ga.

President Palmer made a statement concerning the future work of the college, and explained the quarter system, showing that hereafter pupils will be graduated regularly at the end of every quarter, and in the Summer time there may be some to receive diplomas at the end of the first term of the Summer quarter, as is the case this year.

Dean O. C. Carmichael presented, upon the recommendation of the faculty, Miss Edna Shelton, Guin, for the degree of bachelor of science. Her diploma was presented to her by the president. Dean Carmichael then presented Misses Gladys Menfee, Mobile; Mary Louise Lindsey, Butler, and Elcie Kennedy, Crosby, and their diplomas were accordingly awarded.

"MONTEVALLO SONGS" IS ISSUED BY COLLEGE

New Book Illustrated With Many Scenes Of College

MONTVALLO, Ala., July 16.—(Special).—"Montevallo Songs" is the title of a new publication that has just been issued by the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women. It was prepared for publication by Mrs. Lula Hawkins Nabors and Miss Beulah Putnam.

The book contains many illustrations of college scenes and the following songs: "Alabama," by Julia Strundwick Tutwiler, music by former director Calkins; the college song, "Purple and Gold," with words adapted from other songs and music by Calkins; "Senior Souvenir," words by Lillian Kendrick, class of 1920, and music by Minnie McGowin, 1920; "Alumnae Song," words by Ruth Wilkes, 1916, and music by Thelma Davis; "Ninety-six," words by Mary Goode Stallworth and music by Lula Hawkins Nabors; "A. G. I. S.," words by Elizabeth Haley Moore, music, "America." The Purple and Gold song that are so popular on college night appear in print for the first time. The words for this song were composed by the lamented Calkins. "Dear Old College" was composed by Montevallo students. "Purple Round" is another song by Calkins. "We Will Sing For Montevallo" contains the words prepared by many students. "Guardian Mother" is a copy of a song by Annie Lou Jones, 1922, and Ernestine Tatum, 1923.

There are many other songs and college yells that will be of much interest to all former Montevallo students.

EXAMINATIONS UNDER WAY

State examinations for teachers are being held at the college this week. The number of applicants is not large, as practically all of the summer school students are now engaged in credit work for a degree, or to extend certificates without examination.

CHAIRMAN WRITERS' CONCLAVE

Birmingham News - July 15, 1923.

—Photo J. F. Knox.

MRS. MARY STATEN GILMORE

Named general chairman for the Conclave of Alabama Writers which is to be held in Montevallo, Aug. 20-24. Mrs. Gilmore is making arrangements for the entertainment of guests. She is a member of the Birmingham Writers' Club, a successful author and will prove a most capable chairman for the big event in Alabama literary circles.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS AT PEABODY FORM CLUB

Montevallo girls at Peabody for the summer session have organized themselves into a Montevallo-Peabody club and are having regular meetings. They recently sent a letter of greetings to Dr. Palmer and the summer school at Montevallo, and a report that each had pledged herself to influence one girl to go to Montevallo this coming session.

The following members are enrolled in the club: Ellen Austin, Kitty Clyde Austin, Tommy Austin, Ada Causey, Maggie Lee Causey, Mrs. F. H. Chappelle, Ethel Hauser, Bertie Mae Joiner, Vera Law, Addie Lee, Mae McWilliams, Placidia Miller, Winnie Davis Neely, Christine Neely, Mrs. C. W. Phillips, Ralph Spink, Emogene Thompson, Annie Mae Waller, Zella Williams, Lillian Allen, Ruby Crawford, Lonesa Keys, Beulah Putman, Ann Smith, Katherine Vickery, F. H. Chappelle and C. W. Phillips were made honorary members.

KAPPA LAMBDA

July 31, 1923.

Page - Herald

Writers To Meet Soon For Conclave At Montevallo

Alabama Writers will soon be gathering at Montevallo for their annual conclave. As originally planned, the date will be August 20-25, inclusive.

By holding the conclave at this time, the writers will have the additional pleasure of enjoying the recreational features of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

This event will bring together many of Alabama's most prominent and brilliant women. All who are interested in literature and writing of any form are invited to attend any or all of the sessions.

Many men have expressed a desire to meet with these women writers. It is requested that they notify Dr. Palmer, chairman of publicity, beforehand that special reservations may be made for them.

Everything for the comfort of those in attendance will be looked after by Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, general chairman.

Dr. T. W. Palmer has extended the hospitality of the school to all who come.

The program committee is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman of Selma.

Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Palmer, Dr. O. C. Carmichael and Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid constitute the reception committee.

The first meeting will be held Monday, August 20, and during the week there will be daily sessions.

Many distinguished guests will be in attendance and occupy places on the program.

The first day's program will be presided over by Mrs. Chappell Cory, assisted by Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid and Mrs. Agnes Ware Bishop of Selma. The subjects for the day will be feature stories and scenario writing.

Tuesday will be devoted to poetry, sonnets and song writing. Mrs. J. N. Cornelius will preside and will be assisted by Mrs. Scottie McKenzie Frazier.

The subjects for Wednesday will be short stories and juvenile stories. Mrs. Kate Downing Ghent, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Penny and Mrs. C. J. Sharp, will have charge.

Thursday, Mrs. Septimus Hudson, Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman and Mrs. Katherine L. Robbins will preside, the subject to be "The Novelette."

On Friday Miss Frances Nimmo Green, Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen and Mrs. Frances Durham will have charge of the program.

A unique feature, presided over by Mrs. Martha Lyman Schillitto, will be the book section. Here books, poems and songs by Alabama writers may be secured.

Among the delightful numbers on the week's program will be the group of songs by Mrs. Wales Wallace and Miss Minnie Lou Burns of Selma.

Mrs. Caroline P. Engstfeldt of the Birmingham Library association will talk on "Bibliography and Its Use to Writers."

Mrs. Val Taylor of Uniontown, president of the Alabama Federation of Women's clubs, will make an address.

Miss Winnifred Kimball, now of Florida, who won the $10,000 photoplay contest, and claims Alabama as her home, will attend the conclave and on Monday her subject will be "How I Broke Into Scenario Writing."

Feminine Literary Folk In Smart Clothes Will Attend The 1923 Writers' Conclave.

FEMININITY, at least that portion of it which aspires to literary success was keenly disappointed at the announcement made recently that the conclave of Alabama writers to be held Aug. 20-24 in Montevallo had been postponed, perhaps to some later date.

These aspirants and those already "arrived" (and there are quite a number of successful authors, story writers, poets and scenario writers) were preparing their addresses for the important event and many of them had purchased the smartest new frocks which were to be worn during the afternoon and evening sessions of the conclave. There was really cause for disappointment, for what woman likes to postpone the wearing of beautiful gowns especially when the silhouette is exact and the colors of the latest shades.

It is all over now and their disappointment has been changed into joy for the powers that be finally decided that no better time could be selected for the gathering than that at first announced. Now every woman is reviewing her address or like the orator who delivers his speech until he is letter perfect, it is suspected the poets who are on the program are reading their poems until the most perfect intonation is acquired.

Anyway, postponement or not, the literary folk are to have a great time in Montevallo upon the dates mentioned. The meetings are to be held in the buildings of the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women at the invitation of Dr. Thomas W. Palmer, president of the institution. Dr. Palmer is greatly interested in the progress of literature throughout the state and it was he who offered the hospitalities of the college for the conclave.

Each afternoon at 5 o'clock, during the convention the recreational features of the school, including the swimming pool, the tennis courts and the gymnasium are to be opened for the use of the visitors. Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, the recently appointed chairman of the Writers' section of the Alabama State Federation of Women's Clubs is the efficient general chairman for the conclave.

Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, one of Alabama's brilliant and well known writers, as chairman of the program committee, has prepared the following fine program for the conclave. Such prominent women as Miss May Teressa Holder, Mrs. Lee Moody, Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid, Mrs. J. N. Cornelius, Mrs. Sumter Bethea, Mrs. J. E. Penny, Mrs. Mant Hood, Mrs. Arlie Barber, Mrs. C. J. Sharp, Mrs. W. F. Shillito, Mrs. J. P. Reid, Mrs. Caroline Engstfeld, are among those Birmingham women representatives of the Birmingham Writers' Club and the Quill Club who are on the program.

From all over the state successful writers are planning something good for the literary feast of the occasion as disclosed by the program.

Monday, Aug. 20.

10:30 A. M.—Mrs. Chappel Cory, presiding. Feature Writing: "Technique," Mrs. P. L. Matthews; short talks, Miss May Teressa Holder, Mrs. J. B. Reid, Mrs. Baine, Miss Nettle Chandler, Mrs. Lee Moody, Mrs. Alice Clapp Barrington; general discussion, Mrs. H. Scudder Ryall, leader.

1:30 P. M.—Mrs. Agnes Wade Bishop presiding. Scenario Writing: "Technique," Miss Winifred Kimball; "How to Market Film Rights of Published Fiction," Miss Nimmo Green; "Experiences in This Line," all.

8 P. M.—Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid presiding. Music, Mrs. O. C. Carmichael. Address of welcome, Dr. T. W. Palmer; response, Mrs. Cola Barr Craig; address, Mrs. Val Taylor, president A. F. W. C.; music, Miss Margaret Thomas; poem for the occasion, Mrs. Maud Harris Hudson.

Tuesday, Aug. 21.

10:30 A. M.—Poetry, Mrs. Scottie McKenzie Frazier presiding. "Technique," Mrs. J. N. Cornelius; short talks, Mrs. McCollum and Mrs. C. P. Beddow; poem, Mrs. Sumter Bethea.

1:30 P. M.—Mrs. J. N. Cornelius presiding. "How to Write Sonnets," Mrs. Frances Ruffin Durham; short talks, Maud Harris Hudson, Mrs. John Lusk; "Dialect Writing," Miss Martha Young; poem, Mrs. C. P. Beddow; poem, Mrs. Kate Downing Ghent; poem, Miss Alma Rittenberry.

8 P. M.—Mrs. J. N. Cornelius, presiding. Music, Mrs. H. W. Striplin; "Famous Poets I Have Met," Scottie McKenzie Frazier; "Ode to the Dishpan," "Wood Fires," "Roses," Miss Jane Nelson; "Cycle of Poems," Mrs. Thad Watts; poem, Francis Ruffin Durham; poem, Mrs. Burnett; poem, Mrs. McCollum; poem, Mrs. J. N. Cornelius; poem, Miss Martha Young.

Wednesday, Aug. 22.

10:30 A. M.—The Short Story. Mrs. W. H. Lewis presiding. Short talks, Anne Arrington Tyson, Mrs. W. F. Shillito, Mrs. Ward. General discussion.

1:30 P. M.—Mrs. J. E. Penney presiding. "Teen Age Fiction," Alice Alison Lide; "Foreign Atmosphere and Settings," Margaret Alison Johansen; "Children's Stories," Mrs. Mant Hood; "Why I Chose Writing as a Profession," Gwen Bristow.

8 P. M.—Mrs. C. J. Sharp presiding. Music. "Author's Reading," Mrs. Alexander Garber; "Plans for Writers Clubs for 1923-24," Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, chairman Writers' Department, A. F. W. C.; "Author's Reading," Mary Tarver Carroll; music, "Story Telling," Miss Maud Lindsay.

Thursday, Aug. 23.

10:30 A. M.—The Novelette. Mrs. C. S. Shawhan presiding. "Technique," Katherine Lieser Robbins; markets; general discussion.

1:30 P. M.—Katherine Lieser Robbins presiding. "The Vogue of the Novelette," "My First Novelette," "My Latest Novelette," general discussion.

8 P. M.—Mrs. Arlie Barber presiding. Music; "Author Reading," Katherine Lieser Robbins; "Humorous Reading," Aunt Betsy Hamilton; poems, Mrs. W. A. Saffold.

Friday, Aug. 24.

10:30 A. M.—The Novel. Mrs. J. A. Olin, presiding. "Technique," Miss Frances Nimmo Green; short talks, Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid, Mrs. M. E. Henry Ruffin, Mrs. J. E. Penney.

1:30 P. M.—Miss Frances Nimmo Green presiding. "Writing Points in Alabama History," Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen; short talks, Mrs. P. L. Matthews, Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore; symposium, "Shall We Call Another Conclave."

8 P. M.—Mrs. W. A. Saffold presiding. Music, original composition, Miss Margaret Thomas; "Bibliography and Its Use to Writers," Mrs. Caroline P.

Engstfeld; "Song Writing," Mrs. Wales Wallace; group of original songs, Mrs. Wales Wallace; original violin solo, Miss Annelu Burns; report of courtesy committee.

Mrs. Josephine Nixon Henley and Mrs. H. Scudder Ryall are in charge of the publicity for the conclave. Those desiring further information may address 5914 First Avenue, or phone Woodlawn 64-J or 1129.

Birmingham Age-Herald - Aug. 5, 1923

MRS. O. C. CARMICHAEL.

For the conclave of Alabama Writers to be held in Montevallo Aug. 20-24, Mrs. Carmichael has been named a member of the reception committee and is also scheduled to take part in the programs contributing some musical numbers, she being both a pianist and vocalist of much reputation.

WILL READ ORIGINAL POEM—Mrs. Maud Harris Hudson of Selma will read an original poem, written for the occasion, on the first evening of the Writers' conclave in Montevallo. Mrs. Hudson has won the three prizes offered by the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs for the best poem, essay and short story by a young writer. —Photo by Stephenson.

Aug. 5, 1923

ing Favorable.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—By the Associated Press.—The most welcome reaction yet received in London, as a result of the British reparation note sent to France and Belgium Saturday is contained in the press reports to the morning newspapers that the Coolidge administration will make a ready response to any appeal to America for assistance in settling the prolonged reparations struggle.

This news, as reported here in the press dispatches, is almost too good for officials to believe. The report contained no qualification that the appeal to America must be from the unified Allies. Judged from this apparent departure from the original suggestion made by Secretary of State Hughes there was considered to be a possibility of American participation in the commission of experts which might be called together through independent British action after the Baldwin government becomes convinced of the impossibility of obtaining Franco-Belgian cooperation in estimating Germany's capacity to pay.

On the whole the comment on Great Britain's latest move to obtain a final and definite settlement with Germany has been satisfactory, according to foreign office officials.

The Italian reaction is distinctly favorable and the neutral countries are desirous of supporting any scheme which appears likely to restore normal economic conditions on the continent.

Even from France, according to the French government's spokesmen, there is influential opinion that the British proposals seem to offer a basis for a discussion and not to call for summary rejection.

According to the British viewpoint, the French hysteria of anger and disappointment upon receipt of the British note was based on the belief of several years standing that nothing good in the way of a reparation settlement could possibly come out of England.

A close study by some writers who are considered in close touch with authoritative quarters in Paris is held to disclose that there is a possibility of an agreement with Great Britain. It was indicated in Downing Street this morning that everything possible would be done to strengthen this favorable trend in Paris opinion.

HEADS OF COLLEGES FINISH DIFFICULT TASK OF SELECTION

Continued From Page 1
had than ever before in selecting the winners.

With these scholarship holders entering school next month, there will be 16 Birmingham News scholarship holders in Alabama colleges, three each at Auburn, the University, Montevallo, Howard and Birmingham-Southern and Athens College. There will be 10 Alabama Power scholarship holders, with four each at the University and Auburn and two at Montevallo.

Each scholarship pays tuition and fees, board and laundry, books and supplies, up to a maximum of $500 per year for four years.

Letter From Dr. Snavely.

"Our faculty committee is now ready to announce the choice of the winner of The Birmingham News Scholarship for this year. With so many applications from so many deserving and ambitious candidates, it has been a very difficult task for the committee to reach a decision. In fact, the claims of some of the more worthy ones were so nearly on a par that the committee had the three highest candidates come to the college last Saturday for an intelligence test. Finally, they decided to make the award to Daniel Mabry Marshall, of Flat Rock, Ala. For second choice they named Miss Hazel Wooley, of Birmingham. Truman Pierce, of Equality, Ala., was named third on the list and Oliver Edwards, of Pine Hill, Ala., was fourth.

"The case of Dan Marshall is especially appealing. His father and mother died before he was two years of age, leaving him practically a waif in the big city of Birmingham. He has made his living as a street newsboy, office boy for Loveman, Joseph & Loeb, shop worker, and for the last two years as farmer and all-around helper at the Flat Rock High School. Part of his education was obtained in the Birmingham Central High School, where he maintained an "A" record. Though not more than 20 years of age, he has done some preaching in the rural Sand Mountain district. On one occasion he had to cross a swollen stream in order to meet his preaching engagement. In the absence of a bridge at the crossing, he took off his clothes, rolled them up, threw them to the other bank and swam across, thus being able to meet his engagement on time. This incident indicates the ambition he has shown in the face of much adversity in his life.

"Miss Wooley also lost her parents at a tender age and has made a remarkable record in high school. The past year she graduated from Central High School with an average of "A," coming from a three-year rural high school.

"I sincerely trust we will find some other loyal friend of education like The Birmingham News who will at least help by loaning some of the more deserving disappointed candidates. Congratulating again Dr. Hanson and The News for the great place of constructive state-manship accomplished by the award of the five scholarships annually, I am,

JUDGE WILLIAM S. BENNET

"The U. S. has a right to prevent smuggling of liquor within the twelve-mile zone and will enforce the law with more and more efficiency," says Judge William S. Bennet of Evanston, Ill. The judge goes to the seventeenth biennial International Congress Against Alcoholism in Copenhagen late this month to present, at President Coolidge's request, a paper setting forth the rights of the U. S. in dealing with the smugglers.

difficult to be sure that one has made just the right selection in view of the many factors to be considered and the greater number of those who seem to have such strong claims for favorable consideration. The decision in every case has been checked and rechecked, however, and we are confident that the right decision has been made.

In the case of James David Matthews, who is awarded first place, you will be interested to know that his father and mother both died in 1915, leaving a dependent family of seven children, the oldest being a daughter of 18 years who shouldered the responsibilities of the family. Under her leadership three of the children have secured a high school education while one is constantly in a sanatorium for treatment. The evidence is indisputable that the young man, who has also done his part in helping his older sister care for the family, is a boy of excellent habits and character, a good student and a willing worker. The unanimous verdict of the county board of education, of the superintendent of education, of the high school principal, and of many leading citizens of the county was to the effect that no more worthy or needy case could in their opinion be discovered in the state. There was the most convincing evidence that the whole county was deeply interested in the claims of this young man for the scholarship.

"Fletcher Cornelius, of Berry, Ala., who is rated second, comes from a family of 13 children. His parents are very poor and the statement is made that no one in the county where he lives is able to explain just how he has made bread for his family on the little place where he lives. He is the only child who has ever gone beyond the seventh grade. His record in high school has been most remarkable. He finished at the head of his class and made his way by sweeping and cleaning the building and by doing any other manual labor that would help him pay his own way and the incidental fees of his younger brothers and sisters. The people of the little town in which he lives, the school officials of the county and the general public were unanimous in their belief that has character, his ability and his need were all most extraordinary and that it would be practically impossible to find a high school graduate in Alabama more deserving of the award.

"The person to whom the third award is made is Redus Collier, of Decatur, Ala. His mother died when he was two years old and he lived with friends until he was ready for high school. By most diligent effort, first as a newsboy himself and then as supervisor of the sale and delivery of the The Birmingham News he has made his way through high school. His record in the high school has been most exemplary and he has the unqualified endorsement of a great many of our best people of Decatur, all of whom are a unit in the belief that it would be exceedingly difficult to find a more needy and worthy young man.

"You will also note that we have selected three alternates whose qualities and deserts are exceedingly meritorious. I desire for the college and as a friend of the remaining seventy-six who are not provided for, that in each and every case, practically without exception, there is a human interest story that makes the strongest sort of appeal for help. If the public spirited men and women of Alabama who have means could only understand the privations and hardships which most of these students have undergone to get through high school, their unquestionable character and their genuine ambition to attend college, I am sure means would be forthcoming to make it possible for each and every worthy case to secure help.

"In view of the increased number asking help and the constantly improving quality of the applicants, I am more and more impressed with the magnitude of the movement which The Birmingham News has inaugurated, and prominent citizens of their respective communities.

"While the committee is confident that no mistake has been made in the awards recommended, it is likewise sure that of those who suffer disappointment many are equally worthy. We sincerely believe that fully seventy out of the seventy-five applicants are very deserving cases and the committee hopes that there are public spirited citizens who may become interested to the extent of providing additional scholarships so that more of these worthy cases may have an opportunity to secure college training.

In reaching this decision those cases which did not meet the requirements governing the contest were first eliminated. The remaining applications were studied by the members of the committee and each candidate graded. When the number was reduced to twelve those were again carefully reviewed by the members of the committee individually and the average of the individual ratings was taken, resulting in the following decisions:

- Awards recommended:
- (1) Jim Matthews, Scottsboro, Jackson County.
 - (2) Fletcher Cornelius, Berry, Fayette County.
 - (3) Redus Collier, Decatur, Morgan County.
 - Alternates:
 - (4) John MacFeghtin, Pine Apple, Wilcox County.
 - (5) Handy Fant, Eden, St. Clair County.
 - (6) Jack Nelms, Birmingham, Jefferson County.

Yours truly,
ROY DIMMITT,
HUGH G. GRANT,
MRS. J. E. WIATT
Committee.

Letter From Dr. Denny.

"I shall dispense with the usual preliminaries in announcing the decision of the University committee in the contest for The News scholarship, and for the Alabama Power Company scholarships. I take it for granted that each applicant is ready to believe that we should be delighted to honor the entire group of 80 worthy, high-minded and capable boys and girls whose applications have been turned over to us and carefully considered by us.

"Yet, under the restrictions imposed, only three applicants can win, and of these three, two must be engineering students, thus limiting still farther the chances of the rank and file of those whose credentials have been submitted to us.

"Briefly put: we have awarded The News scholarship to Miss Katie Nell Holmes, of Dothan, Ala., and the two Power Company scholarships to Sewell St. John, 126 North Fifty-Seventh Street, Birmingham, and Donald H. McQuaig, 4428 Seventh Avenue, South Birmingham.

Honorable mention is made of the following: Misses Adams, Alfred, Beale, Black, Brown, Callan, Campbell, Card, Clemens, Dunlap, Freeman, Gay, Lewis, Malloy, Maynor, Meyers, McElrath, McRight, McWilliams, Sawyer, Schanagel, Siegel, Small, Strain, Thomas, Alexander, Batts, Cagle, Camara, Castleberry, Cowden, Curtis, Dickson, Durham, Elliott, Fancher, Ford, Freeman, Glascock, Grout, Grubbs, Halpen, Harvey, Hearn, Hembee, Henderson, Ivy, Key, Lackey, Lockridge, Murphy, McLeod, McLure, O'Brien, Oliver, Orr, Pepperman, Pepperman, Powell, Porter, Richard, Foster, Sandlin, Seaberry, Shelmit, Shelton, Smart, Stallings, Thomas, Whittington, Wilson, Wright and Young.

"I desire to express again our high appreciation of the outstanding philanthropy of The Birmingham News and of the Alabama Power Company. May this philanthropy inspire others to help in the great task of serving society and advancing civilization in the inspiring task of training young manhood and womanhood!

"Let us hope that all the applicants may find in their local communities among their friends and relatives who believe in them, those who will not refuse them a helping hand in setting and a unanimous vote upon number four. "They then submitted the report and all of the papers to me. I read very carefully the papers of the first four selected, and, while I could see that there was room for the differences of opinion in the order in which one or two might have been placed, yet after giving the matter thorough consideration from every standpoint, it occurred to me that the committee's report was the proper one. I also read other papers that were mentioned by them, and I could not see any reason, from the evidence that we had before us, for changing their report.

"I wish to say to you that this committee had the most difficult and embarrassing task to perform that any one has ever had. Every applicant was indeed a worthy one, and our great regret is that we have not a scholarship for each.

"These young women are deserving of the highest commendation. I sincerely hope that friends in the state will hear the appeals that are made for them, and that other scholarships will be provided. There are, perhaps, few people who can give $500, but there are many who can give $25, $50, $100, $150, etc., towards helping one of these applicants to attend college.

"There is such a great demand for well-trained young women in home economics, for instance, that it is unfortunate that any should be deprived of the privilege of taking such a course of study as is offered here at Montevallo.

"The four highest are: "First, Miss Dorothy Williams, Uniontown. "Second, Miss Lucy Holt, Butler. "Third, Miss Lucy Bell Weaver, Alexandria. "Fourth, Miss Mary Ellen Spinks, Thomasville.

Letter From Dr. Dawson.

"I am writing to inform you that after due consideration we have decided that Miss Frankie Mae Schloss, of Birmingham, is entitled to The News scholarship for Howard College. Miss Schloss has shown herself to be a most satisfactory student, of good ability and is recommended as being a young woman of splendid Christian character. She is an active worker in the Southside Baptist Church and has impressed herself upon those who know her as having unusual possibilities for development. Her mother is a widow and would be entirely unable to send her daughter to college without assistance.

"Our second choice is Hollis O. Black, of Ashland, Ala. His recommendations are splendid and he has the enthusiastic endorsement of his friends, one of whom says as follows: "Mr. Black is 20 years old, a wiry, blue-eyed, red-headed boy with plenty of energy and pep. He is a member of a large family, having two brothers and six sisters. He is a member of the Baptist Church and has always taken an active part in it. The only means of him getting a college education is by means of outside aid."

"We also wish to make mention of Miss Katie McEachern, of Louisville, Ala.; Levi S. Vanderford, of Double Springs, Ala.; Miss Patti Nelle Wolfe, of Roanoke, Ala., and Charles H. Starkey, of Bridgeport.

"All of these would make splendid college students and would no doubt develop into young men and women of leadership. As a matter of fact the 50 or more applications are unusually good and I wish that it were possible to offer all of them sufficient help to enable them to come to college.

"Again congratulating The News on its splendid work for education, and with best wishes, am

"JOHN C. DAWNSON,"
"President."

o'clock Wednesday morning the mercury registered 74, but shortly thereafter it began its skyward climb.

Despite the high temperature, a slightly cloudy sky and cooling breezes afforded some relief to the folks of heat-stricken Jones Valley. However, considerable comfort may be had from the forecast of Weather Observer Horton, who predicts probable showers Thursday, although continued warm weather is also predicted.

The official forecast for Birmingham and vicinity is fair tonight; Thursday probably showers; continued warm.

Be Restricted Now After Wednesday

Admission to the reception hall will be limited to contestants and judges only. The limited guest list will be necessary in order that the judges may meet and talk with each contestant and not be hampered by the confusion of a crowd in the difficult task of selecting "the most beautiful girl in Greater Birmingham."

Miss Birmingham-1923, who will represent the Magic City at the National Beauty Tournament at Atlantic City, will be chosen at the reception Friday afternoon, but her name will not be made public until Sunday. In Sunday's edition of The News she will be formally introduced to the public.

Members of the board of judges are: Mrs. Angus Taylor, Mrs. Charles J. Sharpe, Erskine Ramsay, George B. Ward, John W. Byrum, Charles Hatcher, W. A. Leighton and James G. Davis.

ELECTION FIGHT STAGED.

DUBLIN, Aug. 15.—By the Associated Press.—During a Free State election meeting Wednesday at Kinvarra, on the Clare-Galway border, a free-for-all fight is reported to have occurred in which revolvers were used and eight persons were wounded and taken to hospitals.

"East, West, Home's Best"

There's pride in owning your home; there's comfort and independence in it—and there's profit in it.

Because of a growing demand for homes and home sites the reliable Birmingham dealers in these properties are putting on the market now their most desirable home offerings.

They are giving home seekers splendid opportunities to choose at reasonable prices real estate which will prove profitable through increasing value.

Read these opportunities over in the "Real Estate" columns of The Birmingham News and begin a serious investigation of values and localities with a view to home ownership.

Economy, comfort and greater enjoyment for you and your family will result.

The Birmingham News

Alabama's Want Ad Directory
Read for Profit—Use for Results

posite end of the street car, coming around the rear and crossing over the other track. Whether Hollums or Connors was to blame was expected to be decided Wednesday by Coroner Ransom. Sergeant Hollums, who had been made a police sergeant but a few hours before his death, was in uniform at the time of the accident, his cap and flashlight, badly damaged, being held by police Wednesday. His first duties as a sergeant of police would have been performed Wednesday. His father, Z. F. Hollums, who died about eight months ago, was a desk sergeant on the police force, while his brother, Luther Hollums, is now a member of the force.

The officer is survived by his wife and two children and another brother, Ellis Hollums, formerly city editor of The Birmingham Ledger. The body has been turned over to the Bell Undertaking Company, of Pickney City.

"The accident was a terrible thing, and I regret it more than I can possibly say," Mr. Connors said in a statement Wednesday. "It all happened so suddenly that there was no way to avoid striking Mr. Hollums. I was coming toward town in the line of traffic, with a number of automobiles ahead of me, and was close in behind one of these automobiles headed in the same direction. This car suddenly, and without warning, slowed down and swerved to the right, and to avoid him I slowed down and turned to my left. Just as I did so Mr. Hollums, evidently to avoid the other car, jumped backwards directly in front of me, and so close to me that it was impossible to stop or turn aside before striking him, although I made every effort to do so.

"I wouldn't have had it happen for anything in the world. I am all broken up over it, and feel the profoundest sympathy for his family."

MONTEVALLO IS READY FOR OPENING SESSION

Number Of Girls Will Be Given
Chance To Make Way

MONTEVALLO, Ala. Sept 8.—(Special.)—Great preparations are being made for the record-breaking opening of Alabama college. The citizens of Montevallo have raised about $3,000 in cash to build a temporary, but very comfortable, annex on the campus to care for 60 girls. A large force of carpenters, plumbers and other workmen are hard at work pushing the building to completion.

Alabama college was the first in the state to employ students for much of the domestic service, as waiting on tables and sweeping halls. About 50 girls are employed for this work for the present session. These students will arrive on Saturday, September 8, to assist in getting things in order. Fifty other students holding responsible positions in the Student Government association, Y. W. C. A., and athletic activities will come at the same time. Committees will be formed to meet all trains and extend a welcome to each student as she arrives.

MONTEVALLO AIDS COLLEGE PROBLEM

Citizens Raise $2,500 To Help Solve Dormitory Question At Institute.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Aug. 27.—Special.—The enrollment at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is practically 100 per cent larger than a year ago at this time. This unusual increase has presented the college authorities with a very difficult problem. The town, together with the dormitory, could not accommodate the number in prospect.

In response to this need the citizens of Montevallo in a mass meeting last Friday night raised about $2,500 within an hour to be donated as a gift to the college for the purpose of building temporary quarters. They will build comfortable quarters and hope, to provide, through the fund already raised and the funds still being raised, to take care of 60 or 75 pupils.

The college architects, Warren, Davis and Knight, are donating their services in drawing up plans for the buildings.

Uniontown Girl Is Winner Of News' Scholarship To Montevallo School

MISS DOROTHY WILLIAMS

UNANIMOUSLY selected by members of a faculty committee, Miss Dorothy Williams, of Uniontown, winner of the 1923 scholarship offered by The Birmingham News at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo, holds a unique distinction. In addition she is guaranteed four years of college life with all expenses paid, not exceeding $500 each year, by The News.

"I cannot tell you how much I appreciate the gift," Miss Williams has written Victor H. Hanson, father of the scholarship idea and publisher of The Birmingham News; "because I know I do not realize now what a college education will mean to me. However, I can realize it enough to be deeply grateful to you and The Birmingham News."

Joys of a full four-year course at Montevallo, with no financial worries, and without the realization that dear ones are making sacrifices for her education, are almost unimaginable to one who has not begun the first year of college, as Miss Williams herself has declared. In four years, especially at the age of the college student, the conscientious girl can advance with wondrous strides in culture, personality and general fitness for a useful and happy life. All these things are being anticipated by Miss Williams, she writes, but only as they seem to the high school graduate.

Miss Williams was announced by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the Montevallo institution, as the unanimous choice for first place, entitling her to four years of work at The News' expense, in a competition eagerly entered into by more than 50 promising young Alabama women with The News and The Alabama Power Company's scholarships as the prizes. Although the judges had difficulty in naming other winners at this time, they all agreed without dissension or argument that Miss Williams stood first.

The method used by the state school for women at Montevallo in naming The News scholarship winner was by committee work. Dr. Palmer first named members of the faculty on this committee and then each committeeman read through all papers submitted by the various scholarship applicants, rating the most deserving as first, second, third and fourth, after the committeemen came together and compared their respective winners. All had named Miss Williams as their first choice, and the matter of The News scholarship winner for 1923 was closed, as Dr. Palmer in reading through all application papers had approved the committee's choice.

Miss Williams will begin her four years of college effort in September and her days, as the first of the fortunate month approaches, are filled with preparations for the Winter's study. She will enter Montevallo with a reputation rarely given any new student and her progress there will be closely watched by faculty members and friends back in Uniontown.

At Writers' Conclave, Quill Club Plans Book Shower.

THROUGHOUT the state interest is daily becoming greater in the plans which are being arranged for the conclave of Alabama writers. This convention will be held at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, in Montevallo, from Aug. 20-25.

All writers of the state besides all who are interested in literature, in any of its forms, are invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, recently appointed chairman of the writers department of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs, is the general chairman and has perfected arrangements to make of this conclave one of the most delightful gatherings ever held by the women of this state.

Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, the well known writer, has arranged a splendid program, in which many of the brilliant women of Alabama will appear.

Dr. T. W. Palmer and Mrs. Palmer and Dean O. C. Carmichael, and Mrs. Carmichael have made plans for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors during their stay. Among the special features of the college which they are offering for the enjoyment of the guests are the swimming pool, which will be open at all hours of the day and night and three tennis courts, which may be used by those who desire. An excursion has been planned to the stockade at Aldrich, where the state prisoners are kept and there will be an inspection of all the buildings of the college, including the academic, home economics, and music buildings and the dairy, laundry and power house. It is quite probable that there will be a picnic supper served at a big spring, about a mile from the college, on one or two evenings. There will besides be other features worked out before the conclave convenes.

The evenings during the convention will be devoted to interesting social entertainments, among which will be a book shower to be given under the auspices of the Quill Club of Birmingham, at which each visitor may contribute a book for the new college library.

Books by Alabama writers will be displayed for the benefit of those who wish to examine or purchase them. This book shelf will be in charge of Mrs. Martha L. Shillito, of the Quill Club. The appointment of Mrs. Shillito is particularly appropriate as her grandfather, Dr. W. H. Meredith, was for 26 years president of the original Montevallo school, when it was known as the Female College.

Mrs. Josephine Nixon Henley and Mrs. H. Scudder Ryall, who are in charge of the publicity for the conclave will be glad to furnish any further information, and may be reached at 5914 First Avenue, Birmingham, or by calling Woodlawn 64-J or 1129.

COLLEGE ENDS TERM

Three Receive Diplomas At Montevallo And Two Degrees.

MONTVALLO, Ala., Aug. 20.—Special.—At the second graduation exercises of the Summer school held in the college auditorium, two-year college diplomas were awarded to three students, Miss Ruth Warren, Birmingham; Miss Florrie Knight, Selma, and Miss Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville.

Announcement was made that two students were entitled to receive degrees, Miss Jessie Byrd Fuller, Perryville, bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford, Hartford, bachelor of science in home economics. It has been decided to award diplomas for degrees only at the annual commencement in May of every year. Miss Fuller is the first student to receive the degree of bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford is the sixth to receive bachelor of science degree.

Uniontown Girl Is Winner Of News' Scholarship To Montevallo School

MISS DOROTHY WILLIAMS

Mrs. Barber Makes Gift Address At Conclave.

THE age-old saying that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country was ably refuted at the recent session of the Alabama Writers' Conclave held at Montevallo College, Aug. 20-25. At this time volumes written by Alabama authors occupied a conspicuous place in the rotunda of the main building of the college, and Alabama is justly proud of the display made by her versatile penwomen.

Among the books by Birmingham authors were noted "Woman's Problem," a novel by Mrs. J. E. Penney; "Flowers From the Foothills," by Mrs. J. N. Cornelius, and two attractive volumes, "Princess Pocahontas" and "Meadow Folk Tales," by Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid. A book of songs for children by Mrs. J. W. Wood also elicited favorable comment.

A Bibliography of Alabama Authors, compiled by Mrs. Carolyn P. Engstfeld, of the Birmingham Public Library, fills a long-felt need in furnishing information regarding those who have contributed to state literature. Inquiries from several study clubs over the state have made known the fact that Alabamians are eager to become familiar with state literature. This publication is recommended to those desiring such information.

Much interest was manifested in the Book Shower given to the college library under the auspices of the Birmingham Quill Club last Wednesday afternoon. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Arlie Barber, president of the Quill Club, and in response Miss Kate Talor, college librarian, pointing out the need of books for the library, urging that every cause—as duplicate copies contributed to this work some one aptly expressed it, "thus fighting stills with books."

Punch was served from a prettily appointed table by Misses Ada Cornelius and Louise Caillot. In response to many requests, "Aunt Betsy" Hamilton, honor guest of the conclave, gave several dialect readings. A number of autographed volumes were added to the shelves of the college library as a memento of the delightful courtesies extended by the institution to the Alabama Writers' Conclave.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, emphasized the wonderful opportunities afforded the writers of Alabama in glorifying the commonplace things and proclaiming the natural beauty and unlimited resources of the state. It is expected that within the next few months many versatile pens will be wielded to broadcast the glory of Alabama in song and story.

* * *

At Writers' Conclave, Quill Club Plans Book Shower.

THROUGHOUT the state interest is daily becoming greater in the plans which are being arranged for the conclave of Alabama writers. This convention will be held at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, in Montevallo, from Aug. 20-25.

All writers of the state besides all who are interested in literature, in any of its forms, are invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, recently appointed chairman of the writers department of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs, is the general chairman and has perfected arrangements to make of this conclave one of the most delightful gatherings ever held by the women of this state.

Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, the well known writer, has arranged a splendid program, in which many of the brilliant women of Alabama will appear.

Dr. T. W. Palmer and Mrs. Palmer and Dean O. C. Carmichael, and Mrs. Carmichael have made plans for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors during their stay. Among the special features of the college which they are offering for the enjoyment of the guests are the swimming pool, which will be open at all hours of the day and night and three tennis courts, which may be used by those who desire. An excursion has been planned to the stockade at Aldrich, where the state prisoners are kept and there will be an inspection of all the buildings of the college, including the academic, home economics, and music buildings and the dairy, laundry and power house. It is quite probable that there will be a picnic supper served at a big spring, about a mile from the college, on one or two evenings. There will besides be other features worked out before the conclave convenes.

The evenings during the convention will be devoted to interesting social entertainments, among which will be a book shower to be given under the auspices of the Quill Club of Birmingham, at which each visitor may contribute a book for the new college library.

Books by Alabama writers will be displayed for the benefit of those who wish to examine or purchase them. This book shelf will be in charge of Mrs. Martha L. Shillito, of the Quill Club. The appointment of Mrs. Shillito is particularly appropriate as her grandfather, Dr. W. H. Meredith, was for 25 years president of the original Montevallo school, when it was known as the Female College.

Mrs. Josephine Nixon Henley and Mrs. H. Scudder Ryall, who are in charge of the publicity for the conclave will be glad to furnish any further information, and may be reached at 5914 First Avenue, Birmingham, or by calling Woodlawn 64-J or 1129.

COLLEGE ENDS TERM

Three Receive Diplomas At Montevallo And Two Degrees.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Aug. 20.—Special.—At the second graduation exercises of the Summer school held in the college auditorium, two-year college diplomas were awarded to three students, Miss Ruth Warren, Birmingham; Miss Florrie Knight, Selma, and Miss Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville.

Announcement was made that two students were entitled to receive degrees, Miss Jessie Byrd Fuller, Perryville, bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford, Hartford, bachelor of science in home economics. It has been decided to award diplomas for degrees only at the annual commencement in May of every year. Miss Fuller is the first student to receive the degree of bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford is the sixth to receive bachelor of science degree.

Many Seek To Enter Montevallo College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Aug. 8.—Special. At the last meeting of the Exchange Club interesting talks were made by B. M. Angel, commerce counselor, and Mr. Paul Angel, assistant cashier, First National Bank, Birmingham. They expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the progressive spirit of the Montevallo Exchange Club and the work that is being done in this town.

President Palmer announced to the club that practically every room in the dormitory had been engaged for next season, and that the authorities were now busy arranging for other rooms on the campus for the accommodation of other students who may apply. The opening for the coming year promises to be the largest the college has ever had. The faculty has been so greatly strengthened that there is now no doubt about admission to the Southern Association of Colleges.

Montevallo Holds Memorial Services

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Aug. 10.—Special.—On Friday afternoon memorial services for President Harding will be held at the Baptist Church. Rev. Renfro Curry, pastor of this church, will have charge of the program, and Rev. W. M. Treadaway, of the Methodist Church, will deliver an address on the life and work of President Harding. The postoffice and all of the business houses of the town will be closed during that time. The faculty and students of the college will attend the exercises.

COLLEGE GETS GIFT

Many Volumes Of Book Presented Montevallo Library

MONTEVALLO, Ala., August 9.—(Special.)—W. F. Aldrich of Birmingham has presented to the library of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women 109 volumes and unbound numbers of periodicals. These books and periodicals were in his private library at Rajah Lodge, Aldrich, Ala.

Mr. Aldrich has taken a very deep interest in the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women since its first establishment at Montevallo, and has frequently made donations of rare flowers and plants to the florad department of the college.

MISS IRVIN ENTERTAINS

Miss Edna Irvin, social director of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening in the college dining room in honor of Mrs. Grace Tatler and Miss Naomi McKibben, who are chaperoning a delegation of girls from Sylacauga. Other guests invited were President and Mrs. Palmer, Miss Brooke, Miss Taber, Miss McGhee, Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Kennerly. Aug. 9, 1923

WRITER PRESIDES AT CONCLAVE

MRS. MITTIE OWEN McDAVID.

Mrs. McDavid is a charter member of the Birmingham Writers' Club, was the first treasurer of the organization and served as president during the third year. Since that time she has successfully filled other offices. She is the author of several books, many short and feature stories and also a talented musician. Birmingham is sending its quota of talented literary folk to the Writers' Conclave, which meets in Montevallo Aug. 20-25. Mrs. McDavid will preside during the first evening of the convention, which will be held at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women.

COLLEGE CHANGES NAME

State Institution At Montevallo Is Now Officially Alabama College.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 10.—Special.—There is no longer any such thing as the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo. The institution there which formerly bore this name will in the future be known as The Alabama College. The bill, introduced by Representative Luck, changing the name of the Montevallo school, was formally approved and signed by Gov. Brandon Monday.

The first suggestion for shortening the name of the college for women at Montevallo came from the board of trustees of the school at a meeting here last Fall. The board at that time adopted a resolution recommending that the institution be designated simply as The Alabama College. Representative Luck's bill carries out this recommendation. Sept. 10, 1923

NAME IS CHANGED

Girls' School At Montevallo Now Becomes "Alabama College."

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 8.—Special.—President Palmer has received notice that the bill introduced by Representative Luck to change the name of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women to "Alabama College" has passed the senate and by this time has, no doubt, received the approval of the governor. Thus the longest name for any college in this state has been changed to the shortest possible. This will be welcome news to the faculty, students and all friends of the institution.

*Birmingham News
Sept. 8, 1923*

PRESIDES AT WRITERS' CONCLAVE

MRS. CHAPPELL CORY.

—Photo by J. F. Knox.

Mrs. Cory, who is president of the Birmingham Writers' Club, will preside at the opening meeting of the Conclave of Alabama writers. The convention will be held at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, in Montevallo, from Aug. 20 to 25.

WRITERS GATHERING

MONTEVALLO, Ala., August 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Katharine Hopkins Chapman of Selma and Mrs. Mary G. Gilmore of Sicard have arrived to arrange for the conclave of Alabama writers which convenes here Monday.

About 75 writers have indicated that they are coming. Dr. Guy E. Shavely, president of Birmingham-Southern college, and Prof. Carl L. Carmer of the University of Alabama will address the conclave.

DIPLOMAS AWARDED

At the second graduation exercises of the summer school held in the college auditorium this morning, two-year college diplomas were awarded to three students, Miss Ruth Warren, Birmingham; Miss Florrie Knight, Selma, and Miss Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville. Announcement was made that two students were entitled to receive degrees. Miss Jessie Byrd Fuller, Perryville, bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford, Hartford, bachelor of science in home economics. It has been decided to award diplomas for degrees only at the annual commencement in May of every year.

Miss Fuller is the first student to receive the degree of bachelor of arts and Miss Jean Ford is the sixth to receive bachelor of science degree.

Everything Set For Writers' Conclave At Montevallo

Everything is now set for the annual conclave of Alabama writers, which will begin Monday morning at Montevallo at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women. All the best clothes of the writers have been to the cleaners, some new ones have been bought, the shoes have had an extra shine put on them, and the suitcases are all but packed.

Monday morning will find a perfect beehive of writers at the terminal, waiting for the train, rivalling in their enthusiasm the Shriners who recently went to Washington for their national convention.

And about noon they will take Montevallo by storm.

One of the most interesting and delightful events in the history of literature in this state will be this conclave of Alabama writers, which will convene on Monday at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women in Montevallo. This meeting will continue through the week, closing on Friday evening, and among those assembling in convention will be many of Alabama's most charming and talented women.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the institution, has kindly offered the hospitalities of the college and he and Dean O. C. Carmichael have manifested great interest in the coming convention and have done much to insure the comfort and pleasure of those who will attend.

The visitors will be received by Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Mittle Owen McDavid.

Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, chairman of the writers' section of the Alabama State Federation of Women's Clubs, who is the general chairman for the conclave, has given most liberally of her time and ability to make of the gathering a splendid success.

A committee chosen from the Birmingham Writers' club to co-operate with Mrs. Gilmore includes Miss Alma Rittenberry, Mrs. C. P. Beddow and Mrs. Mant Hood.

Mrs. Chappell Cory, president of the Birmingham Writers' club, will preside Monday morning at the opening session of the conclave.

Besides the fine program which has been prepared by Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman of Selma, there will be many enjoyable social features including a book shower to be given under the auspices of the Quill club, a reading by Mrs. Frank Bell, a talented Birmingham artist, and several receptions.

There will be excursions to nearby places, swimming, tennis and an inspection of the college, the dairy and the power house.

Following are the members of the writers' clubs of the Birmingham district, many of whom will attend the conclave: Birmingham Writers' club, Mrs. Chappell Cory, Mrs. H. W. Bostick, Miss May Teresa Holder, Mrs. Augusta Reid, Mrs. J. N. Cornelius, Mrs. Ned McDavid, Miss Alma Rittenberry, Mrs. J. E. Penney, Mrs. Jesse Wright, Mrs. J. A. Rountree, Mrs. C. P. Beddow, Mrs. Alexander Garber, Miss Mary Foster, Mrs. A. J. Gilmore, Mrs. J. N. Henley, Mrs. W. D. Tynes, Mrs. Lee Moody, Mrs. Mabel Ford Leake, Mrs. Flora Buell Hickman, Mrs. A. J. Dickinson, Mrs. Roberta Harris Winn, Mrs. Hugh L. Allison, Mrs. Mant Hood, Mrs. Bessie Webb Janes, Mrs. John D. Head, Mrs. H. S. Ryall, Mrs. Sumter Bethea, Mrs. John D. Elliott.

Quill club: Mrs. Arlie Barber, Mrs. Mant Hood, Miss L. P. Campbell, Mrs. M. L. Shillito, Mrs. J. L. Burnett, Mrs. Herbert J. Ward, Miss Annie L. Williams, Mrs. H. H. Howell, Mrs. R. B. Tarpley, Mrs. C. B. Stamps, Mrs. E. J. Miller, Mrs. Frank M. Jones, Mrs. W. M. Woodall and Mrs. B. T. Beard.

Bessemer Writers' club: Mrs. W. H. Lewis, Mrs. L. M. Barnett, Mrs. L. P. McCollum, Mrs. T. M. Owens, Mrs. W. C. Price, Mrs. Ben C. Harris and Mrs. H. L. Bains.

Among others who will attend are: Mrs. R. D. Thompson, Mrs. C. B. Yandle, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. J. H. Long and many whose names have been sent directly to Dr. Palmer.

Any further desired information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Josephine Nixon Henley or Mrs. H. Scudder Ryall, publicity chairman, Woodlawn 64-J or 1129.

Many Seek To Enter Montevallo College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Aug. 8.—Special. At the last meeting of the Exchange Club interesting talks were made by B. M. Angel, commerce counselor, and Mr. Paul Angel, assistant cashier, First National Bank, Birmingham. They expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the progressive spirit of the Montevallo Exchange Club and the work that is being done in this town.

President Palmer announced to the club that practically every room in the dormitory had been engaged for next season, and that the authorities were now busy arranging for other rooms on the campus for the accommodation of other students who may apply. The opening for the coming year promises to be the largest the college has ever had. The faculty has been so greatly strengthened that there is now no doubt about admission to the Southern Association of Colleges.

Montevallo Holds Memorial Services

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Aug. 10.—Special.—On Friday afternoon memorial services for President Harding will be held at the Baptist Church. Rev. Renfro Curry, pastor of this church, will have charge of the program, and Rev. W. M. Treadaway, of the Methodist Church, will deliver an address on the life and work of President Harding. The postoffice and all of the business houses of the town will be closed during that time. The faculty and students of the college will attend the exercises.

COLLEGE GETS GIFT

Many Volumes Of Book Presented Montevallo Library

MONTEVALLO, Ala., August 9.—(Special.)—W. F. Aldrich of Birmingham has presented to the library of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women 109 volumes and unbound numbers of periodicals. These books and periodicals were in his private library at Rajah Lodge, Aldrich, Ala.

Mr. Aldrich has taken a very deep interest in the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women since its first establishment at Montevallo, and has frequently made donations of rare flowers and plants to the florad department of the college.

MISS IRVIN ENTERTAINS

Miss Edna Irvin, social director of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening in the college dining room in honor of Mrs. Grace Tatler and Miss Naomi McKibbin, who are chaperoning a delegation of girls from Sylacauga. Other guests invited were President and Mrs. Palmer, Miss Brooke, Miss Taber, Miss McGhee, Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Kennerly. Aug. 9, 1923

WRITER PRESIDES AT CONCLAVE

MRS. MITTIE OWEN McDAVID.

Mrs. McDavid is a charter member of the Birmingham Writers' Club, was the first treasurer of the organization and served as president during the third year. Since that time she has successfully filled other offices. She is the author of several books, many short and feature stories and also a talented musician. Birmingham is sending its quota of talented literary folk to the Writers' Conclave, which meets in Montevallo Aug. 20-25. Mrs. McDavid will preside during the first evening of the convention, which will be held at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women.

COLLEGE CHANGES NAME

State Institution At Montevallo Is Now Officially Alabama College.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 10.—Special.—There is no longer any such thing as the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo. The institution there which formerly bore this name will in the future be known as The Alabama College. The bill, introduced by Representative Luck, changing the name of the Montevallo school, was formally approved and signed by Gov. Brandon Monday.

The first suggestion for shortening the name of the college for women at Montevallo came from the board of trustees of the school at a meeting here last Fall. The board at that time adopted a resolution recommending that the institution be designated simply as The Alabama College. Representative Luck's bill carries out this recommendation. Sept. 10, 1923

NAME IS CHANGED

Girls' School At Montevallo Now Becomes "Alabama College."

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 8.—Special.—President Palmer has received notice that the bill introduced by Representative Luck to change the name of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women to "Alabama College" has passed the senate and by this time has, no doubt, received the approval of the governor. Thus the longest name for any college in this state has been changed to the shortest possible. This will be welcome news to the faculty, students and all friends of the institution.

Alabama College
Sept. 8, 1923

PRESIDES AT WRITERS' CONCLAVE

—Photo by J. F. Knox.

MRS. CHAPPELL CORY.

Mrs. Cory, who is president of the Birmingham Writers' Club, will preside at the opening meeting of the Conclave of Alabama writers. The convention will be held at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, in Montevallo, from Aug. 20 to 25.

Aug. 19, 23

Everything Set For Writers' Conclave At Montevallo

Everything is now set for the annual conclave of Alabama writers, which will begin Monday morning at Montevallo at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women. All the best clothes of the writers have been to the cleaners, some new ones have been bought, the shoes have had an extra shine put on them, and the suitcases are all but packed.

Monday morning will find a perfect beehive of writers at the terminal, waiting for the train, rivalling in their enthusiasm the Shriners who recently went to Washington for their national convention.

And about noon they will take Montevallo by storm.

One of the most interesting and delightful events in the history of literature in this state will be this conclave of Alabama writers, which will convene on Monday at the Alabama Girls' Technical Institute and College for Women in Montevallo. This meeting will continue through the week, closing on Friday evening, and among those assembling in convention will be many of Alabama's most charming and talented women.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the institution, has kindly offered the hospitalities of the college and he and Dean O. C. Carmichael have manifested great interest in the coming convention and have done much to insure the comfort and pleasure of those who will attend.

Birmingham Woman Presides At First Session Of Conclave

WRITERS GATHERING

MONTEVALLO, Ala., August 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Katharine Hopkins Chapman of Selma and Mrs. Mary G. Gilmore of Sicard have arrived to arrange for the conclave of Alabama writers which convenes here Monday.

About 75 writers have indicated that they are coming. Dr. Guy E. Snively, president of Birmingham-Southern college, and Prof. Carl L. Carmer of the University of Alabama will address the conclave.

DIPLOMAS AWARDED

At the second graduation exercises of the summer school held in the college auditorium this morning, two-year college diplomas were awarded to three students, Miss Ruth Warren, Birmingham; Miss Florrie Knight, Selma, and Miss Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville. Announcement was made that two students were entitled to receive degrees. Miss Jessie Byrd Fuller, Perryville, bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford, Hartford, bachelor of science in home economics. It has been decided to award diplomas for degrees only at the annual commencement in May of every year.

Miss Fuller is the first student to receive the degree of bachelor of arts and Miss Jean Ford is the sixth to receive bachelor of science degree.

The chattering of fifty Alabama women writers at Montevallo came to a sudden stop Monday morning at 10:30 when Mrs. A. J. Gilmore of Birmingham, general chairman of the Writers' conclave, rapped on the desk with a gavel made from an old bed post owned by Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, a member of the Scribblers' club in Selma, the oldest writers' club in the state.

The session was opened with prayer by Dr. Murphrey. Mrs. Chapman, who is chairman of the program committee, made a brief talk, saying that this was the opening of a wonderful period of development, and was the "self-starter" of a dream of years.

Mrs. Chappell Cory, president of the Birmingham Writers' club, who presided over the discussion of "Feature Writing," the subject chosen for the first meeting, said: "I deem it a distinct honor to be invited to open and preside over the first meeting of the Women Writers' conclave, though, of course, I realize that the compliment is meant for the Writers' club of Birmingham and that, its president, the kind fates dropped it at my feet." Mrs. Cory's address was a review, brief and to the point, of the founding and growth of the Birmingham Writers' club.

The principal paper was read by another Birmingham woman, Miss Mae Teresa Holder, whose subject was "Feature Story Writing." Miss Holder, who has made a success as a feature story writer for nationally known magazines, discussed her subject from the standpoint of technique, material for stories, the value of illustrations, marketing the manuscript, and when to write. Miss Holder stated that today, the simple story, applicable to our homes, those things which appeal to our well-being, stories of people who are doing things—these are the things that the editor wants and the ones that will be read with interest.

Other talks on feature writing and special newspaper work were made by Mrs. A. A. Curloc of Eufaula, Mrs. Josephine Hendley of Birmingham, Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid of Birmingham, Mrs. Mattie Thomas Thompson of Eufaula, Mrs. J. N. Cornelius of Birmingham, Mrs. Foster of Birmingham and Miss Perryman of Heflin.

At the afternoon session, Mrs. Agnes Ware Bishop of Camden presided. Mrs. Cola Barr Craig of Selma read a communication from Miss Winnifred Kimball of Apalachicola, Fla., telling her experiences as a scenario writer.

Mrs. Chapman told how Miss Kimball, who was unexpectedly prevented from coming to the conclave, won the $10,000 scenario prize.

Mrs. Bishop read her own story on "When the Movies Came to Knuckle-town."

Mrs. Katherine Leiser Robbins of Selma, Mrs. Mittie Owen McDavid of Birmingham, Mrs. Mattie Thomas Thompson of Eufaula, Mrs. B. H. Craig of Selma and others told of their experiences in selling scenarios.

Mrs. M. H. Hudson is acting as recording secretary of the conclave.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the writers gathered at the college were shown through the buildings.

A DISTINGUISHED ALABAMA AUTHOR, who will have a prominent part on the program at the Writers' Conclave at Montevallo, August 20-24, is Mrs. Katherine Leiser Robbins of Selma. Mrs. Robbins, who has had short stories and novelettes in the best known magazines, will preside at the afternoon session on August 23, when "The Vogue of the Novelette" will be the topic for discussion.

MRS. SCOTTIE M'KENZIE FRASIER, well known Ala. poet, who will preside Tuesday morning at the discussion of poetry at the Writers' Conclave in Montevallo.

Montevallo Prepares for Writers' Conclave

MONTEVALLO, ALA., August 19.—Special to The Advertiser—Mrs. Katharine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, and Mrs. Mary G. Gilmore, of Sicard, have arrived to get everything in readiness for the Conclave of Alabama Writers which is to assemble here on August 20th.

About seventy-five writers have indicated that they are coming. Dr. Guy E. Snavelly, President of Birmingham-Southern College and Professor Carl L. Carner, of the University of Alabama, will deliver addresses before the conclave.

The citizens of Montevallo are taking much interest in this assembly. Some of the pupils of the college will remain over for next week in order to attend the meeting. Judge W. H. Tayloe, of Uniontown, trustee from the state at large will visit the college on Monday and probably make an address before the assembly of authors and incidentally will give a thorough inspection of the new library, in which building he is probably more interested than any other building belonging to the college. He will be accompanied by several visitors from Uniontown.

TRYOUTS ARE HELD

Ten Students Of Alabama College Make Dramatic Organization.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 16.—Special.—An audience of 600 people greeted the students of Alabama College Saturday evening for the annual try-out for membership in the dramatic organization. A number of plays will be presented at the college this year by students. Those who have the right to take part in these plays must secure the honor through a try-out before the whole institution. Twenty-nine girls appeared to enter the first contest. Ten were successful. Their names are as follows:

Robbie Allen, Wetumpka; Lucile Bell, Ashland; Hazel Black, Ashland; Joy Cawthon, Florala; Lucile Clay, Fulton; Grace Evans, Mobile; Hilda Harris, Albany; Irma Reaves, Camp Hill; Permelia Snell, Dothan, and Mariana Thomas, Patton.

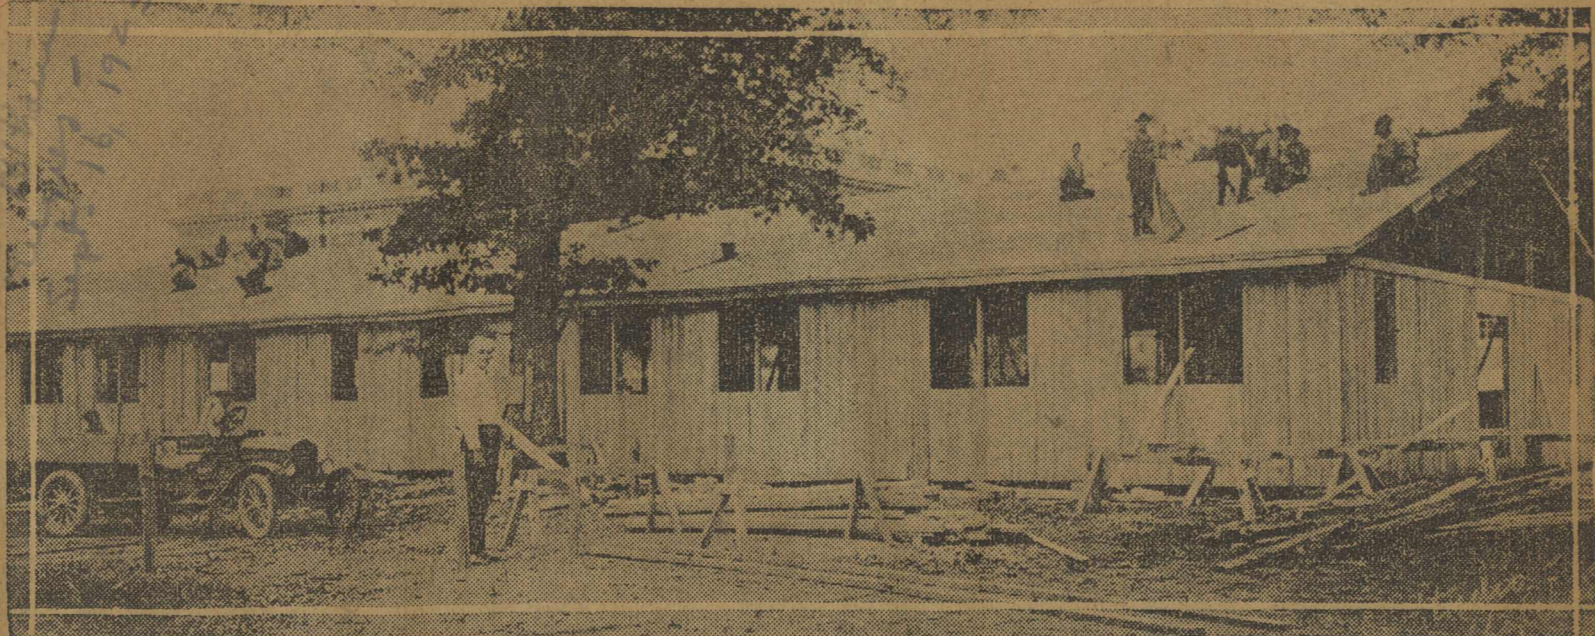

MONTEVALLO THRONGED

450 Students Enroll First Day At Alabama College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—This has been an unusually busy day at Alabama college. About 450 students have enrolled the first day and there are many more to enroll tomorrow. It is estimated that there are over 600 students on the grounds, and a large number have been declined because rooms could not be secured for them.

The grammar training school opened this morning with an enrollment of about 300. Addresses were made by Rev. J. R. Curry of the Montevallo Baptist church, Supt. H. L. Orr and President T. W. Palmer.

OVERFLOW AT MONTEVALLO WOMEN'S COLLEGE MAKES AN ADDITIONAL BUILDING NECESSARY

ALABAMA'S rapidly and constantly growing need for provision for higher education is graphically illustrated by the accompanying picture of temporary quarters recently erected on the campus of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo to accommodate the overflow of students. The building occupied Saturday was donated by the citizens of Montevallo, and will cost approximately $4,000, and is a monument to the generosity of the 500 white citizens in the town. In the foreground stands Charlton Smith, president of the Montevallo Exchange Club, the organization which made possible the building. The enrollment at Montevallo, which was approximately 350 last year, has reached 600 this year. All the rooms in the dormitory are taxed to capacity with two and three girls in every room. The teachers have moved out into the town or have taken roommates. Even the matron, Mrs. Heatfield, has a roommate. In order to keep from turning away some, those who applied for admission, the citizens of Montevallo rallied to the need and donated money for the erection of the temporary annex to care for 60 pupils. Enthusiasm ran high in Montevallo and the surrounding communities. Even a trusty convict, Harry Newton, from Aldrich, who is well known and very popular in Montevallo, asked the privilege of contributing $5. The building is a neat structure of 22 rooms.

SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSES SATURDAY

Second Term at Montevallo Will Begin Monday; Five to Graduate

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 8.—Special to The Advertiser.—The first term of the summer school of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women will close on Saturday, July 14, and the second term will begin July 16. The attendance for the first term is about double that of the whole summer school for 1922, and new students are enrolling every day for the second term. Some new courses of study will be added to the curriculum.

There will be five students to be graduated this week and three more are candidates for graduation in August. Those graduating on July 14 are: Miss Edna Earle Shelton, Guin, bachelor of science in home economics.

Miss Elcie Kennedy, Crosby, two-year normal course.

Miss Mary Louise Lindsey, Butler, two-year normal course.

Miss Gladys Menefee, Mobile, two-year normal course.

Miss Ruth Warren, Birmingham, two-year normal course.

new quarters. A large number of other students have tried to exchange rooms with them, but they hold their places at a premium and will not exchange. Miss Annie E. Sale, head of the home economics department, occupies one room and will serve as chaperon for these students. Misses Lula Bronson Hawkins, of Birmingham, and Mildred Martin, of Bessemer, representatives of the executive board of the student government, will have one room and will be in charge of the student government.

Applications for admission are coming in every day, but none can be accommodated except as a vacancy occurs. About six students have withdrawn on account of homesickness and insufficient preparation. These places were promptly filled. There may be a few other withdrawals in the next week or 10 days, and each place will likewise be promptly taken up by some of the applicants.

All students have their final schedules approved and are attending classes regularly. Four or five departments are so overcrowded that assistant teachers are to be employed to help in the work. So far, the college authorities have declined to commit classes to student assistants.

MONTEVALLO CITIZENS GO TO AID OF COLLEGE

Overflow Enrollment Leads To Difficult Housing Problem

MONTEVALLO, Ala., August 26.—(Special.)—The enrollment at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is practically 100 per cent larger than a year ago at this time. This unusual increase has presented college authorities with a very difficult problem. What can be done to take care of many young women from over the state who desire to go to college?

The town, together with the dormitory, could not accommodate the number in prospect. In response to this need, citizens of Montevallo in a mass meeting Friday night raised about $2,500 within an hour to be donated as a gift to the college for the purpose of building temporary quarters. They will build comfortable quarters and hope to provide through the fund already raised and the funds still being raised for taking care of 60 or 75 pupils.

STUDENTS OCCUPY NEW DORMITORY

Building Erected By Montevallo Citizens For Emergency Quickly Filled.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 22.—Special.—The new dormitory, erected by the citizens of Montevallo, was practically completed Friday afternoon. Since then the students who are to room in that building have been busy moving their trunks and other belongings.

MONTEVALLO HAS 100 PER CENT MORE

Citizens Contribute to Building of Temporary Quarters for Increased Enrollment

MONTEVALLO, ALA., August 26.—Special to The Advertiser.—The enrollment at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women is practically 100 per cent larger than a year ago at this time. This unusual increase has presented the college authorities with a very difficult problem. What can be done to take care of many young women from over the state who desire to go to college?

The town, together with the dormitory could not accommodate the number in prospect. In response to this need, the citizens of Montevallo in a mass meeting raised about $2,500 within an hour to be donated as a gift to the college for the purpose of building temporary quarters. They will build comfortable quarters and hope to provide, thru the fund already raised, and the funds still being raised, to take care of sixty or seventy-five pupils.

The college architects—Warren, Knight and Davis, are donating their services in drawing up plans for the buildings.

The following is a partial list of the contributors. Many have not yet been approached;

C. G. Smith, C. L. Meroney, C. C. Givhan, Bob Reid, Reid Motor Company, E. S. Lyman, P. C. Wilson, Dr. Acker, Mr. Kroell, J. A. Brown, F. W. Hogan, Dr. Reid, C. H. Mahaffey, C. L. Horn, Milton Woolley, C. E. Hoskins, J. L. Appleton.

Mr. Shiver, Mr. Simmons, Mr. W. M. Robinson, Mr. Skinner, Mr. R. T. McKibbin, Mr. Dawson, Mr. E. P. Mulkey, Mr. Wilson Lewis, Dr. T. W. Palmer, Burr Nabors, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Jeter, Mr. F. Nabors, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Jeter, Mr. F. F. Crowe, W. P. McConaughy, F. H. Hardy, O. C. Carmichael.

Bob Hendricks, Max Kanter, Lathan Mercantile Company, J. R. Johnson, W. M. Shaw, A. E. Baumgartner, H. O. Woolley, W. A. Woolley, K. E. Woolley, George McConatha, Tom Donaldson Johnson Auto and Tire Co., Montgomery.

INZER BILL ASKS MORE MONEY FOR STATE COLLEGES

University, Auburn And Montevallo Would Benefit Materially

STATE CAPITAL BUREAU
THE AGE-HERALD
Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 24

Senator J. C. Inzer, Etowah, introduced a bill in the senate Friday calling for the expenditure of the portion of mileage tax allocated to higher institutions if it becomes an amendment to the constitution, and under the bill the University of Alabama and Alabama Polytechnic institute will receive an increased appropriation. By the measure, Auburn and Alabama will divide equally the mileage tax after certain appropriations to other schools have been made. The bill provides that Auburn shall receive $162,000 annually for extension and home economics work; $75,000 annually for agricultural substitution, and a similar amount for agricultural research work. Alabama will receive $50,000 for extension work, $25,000 for the graduate school of medicine at Birmingham, $80,000 for undergraduate school of medicine at Tuscaloosa, and $50,000 for research work.

The Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women at Montevallo will receive $50,000 annually. After these appropriations have been made, the remainder of the mileage tax will be apportioned equally between the two large schools of the state.

Want Girls' Reform School.

A companion measure provides for the schools of the state to receive the same appropriations until that time. A bill introduced by Senator Teasley provides for the establishment of a school to be known as the Reform School for Juvenile Law Breakers. An appropriation of $8,000 to cover the purchase of lands and the construction of buildings is asked. It calls for a board of trustees of nine members, including the governor and the superintendent of education. Other members are to be appointed by the governor. Two and one-half dollars for each inmate is asked.

Seeks Chiropractic Board.

Senator Martin introduced a bill providing for the appointment of a board of chiropractor examiners to be composed of three members and to serve upon a $15 per diem basis. The bill defines chiropractic as a "science of palpating and adjusting articulations of the human body by hand." Chiropractors will be required to have attended a chiropractic school at least three years, and will not be able to practice their profession unless they obtain a license.

A bill to create a state board of chiropractic examiners was introduced into the house today by L. K. Bowen of Jefferson by request. Mr. Bowen also introduced a bill to repeal the workmen's compensation act of 1919.

A bill introduced by Mr. Smith of Lee seeks to enlarge the authority of the public service commission to provide that the commission shall have the same power over utilities engaged in interstate commerce, and which are not regulated under acts of Congress of the United States as the commission possesses over public utilities engaged in intrastate commerce.

Representative Frank Embry of St. Clair introduced a bill providing for the appointment of circuit court clerks as registers in chancery, division of the circuit courts in counties of 35,000 population or less, thus consolidating the offices of clerk and register.

Representative Powel of Walker introduced a bill proposing a constitutional amendment to be voted on November, 1924, to allow Walker county to levy a special road tax not to exceed 50 cents on each $100 or taxable property.

Want State Insured.

Representative Verner of Tuscaloosa introduced a bill to provide a fund to be known as the state insurance fund to be carried by the state treasurer for the purpose of insurance against loss by fire or tornado of all state owned buildings, or buildings in which the state has appropriated money for their construction or equipment.

A bill introduced by Fred Eite, would change the name of the Warrior river from its source to junction with the Tombigbee, the Tombigbee from that point to the Mobile river, and the Mobile river to Mobile bay, to the "Bankhead river," in honor of the late Senator John H. Bankhead, who made the successful fight for the construction of locks and dams, which have opened the river for navigation.

Welfare Boards Asked.

The first bill introduced Friday was by Senator Inzer, providing for the establishment of a county board of child welfare in counties where wanted. A county superintendent at a salary to be fixed by the county will be in charge of the board.

Senator Hildreth introduced a measure which provides that judges who hold court in circuits where the judge is paid a larger salary shall receive this increase in salary while holding courts in such circuits.

Senator Foster introduced a bill to provide for a fund to be known as the state insurance fund to protect the state insurance fund to protect or tornado.

The first bill to be taken off the adverse calendar this session was one Friday morning by Senator Harry Martaj, Houston. The Gaines bill permitting purchaser, mortgagee or lien holder to pay proportionate amount of taxes on real estate sold to him subject to his mortgage or lien in such cases, without paying entire taxes which are a lien on the property was taken off by a vote of 25 to 6. The bill as it stands, is not satisfactory to the majority of the senators, but amendments will be offered.

Senator Garth's "dog" bill was indefinitely postponed by vote of 21 to 12. The bill provides for the licensing of dogs. Another bill passed was that of Mr. Goodwyn to pay J. P. Hanks $432 for services rendered as clerk of the public service commission.

WRITERS' CONCLAVE WILL BECOME ANNUAL AFFAIR

The women writers of Alabama have voted to make the writers' conclave an annual affair.

From this past week, beginning August 20, 1923, will date a new impetus in Alabama's literary history. The first conclave of Alabama writers was called together at the State College for Women at Montevallo. This conclave was the culmination of an idea, evolved by Dr. T. W. Palmer, president of the college, and Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, of a state organization of writers, which was successfully worked out to its fulfillment by Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, of Sicard, first general chairman of the meeting. The address of welcome at the opening session was delivered by Dean O. C. Carmichael, of the college at Montevallo.

The programs, arranged by Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, chairman of program committee, consisted entirely of original matter, talks on technique and various phases of the writer's art and entertaining readings, writing, poetry, short stories, feature stories, scenarios, drama, the novel and novellette, song writing and the composition of music, both for the piano, violin and voice, all had part in the discussions and all were presented by their original creators on the various programs.

That the State University and several colleges awakened early to the value of this movement and recognized the significance of this initial conclave of writers to Alabama was emphasized by the messages sent to Montevallo. Dr. John C. Dawson, of Howard College, declared this conclave, in his opinion, to be the best thing that has come to Alabama. Mr. Carl Carmer, of the University of Alabama, and Dr. Allen Loehr, of Birmingham Southern, presented the courses offered in creative writing by their departments. Mrs. Val Taylor, of Uniontown, president of the Alabama Federated Women's Clubs, at the invitation of the conclave, was present, and delivered a message of congratulation and encouragement. Judge W. H. Tayloe, of Uniontown, was a notable attendant and contributor to the success of the conclave.

There are writers in Alabama, as Miss Maud Lindsay, of Sheffield, who are more widely read and known in the north than in their native state. This was one of the significant facts that transpired by the bringing of these people together. The table of Alabama books, bibliography and music, presided over by the Quill Club of Birmingham, offered many samples of what has been and is done in the way of making Alabama literature. In connection with this table the Quill Club conceived the idea that those attending this conclave might like to give a book "shower" to the beautiful new library of the college.

The co-operation of the public libraries in having Alabama bookshelves and bibliographies was brought out as a factor in making Alabama authors prophets with honor and fame in their own state.

Mrs. Caroline P. Engsfelt, of the Birmingham Public Library, who has shown a deep and practical interest in this subject by compiling a comprehensive bibliography of Alabama writers which has been published in the Howard College Bulletin, made a most interesting talk on this work to the conclave.

The consensus of opinion of the conclave was that this has been so successful that it must become an annual affair. The college at Montevallo has repeated its invitation, asking the conclave to regard Montevallo as its headquarters. Recorded in the minutes of its proceedings, is that it is open to all Alabama people interested in creative art—to all who have written, are writing, or wish to write. When the conclave meets again in the summer of 1924 every writer, or would-be writer, man or woman, in Alabama is invited and expected to attend.

During the week's sessions there was only one short business meeting. At this business session it was decided that officers should serve one year only and the following were elected for the coming year:

General chairman—Mrs. C. J. Sharp, of Birmingham.

Vice-chairman—Mrs. Ruby Lloyd Apsey, of Greensboro.

Treasurer—Mrs. Thad Watts, of Montgomery.

Chairman of program committee—Mrs. Katherine Liesser Robbins, of Selma.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Martha Lyman Shillito, of Birmingham.

Recording secretary—Mrs. John D. Elliott, of Montgomery.

Advisory board—Dr. T. W. Palmer of Montevallo; Dean O. C. Carmichael, of Montevallo College; Mrs. Mary Staten Gilmore, of Sicard; Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, president of the Selma Scribblers' Club; Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen, of Montgomery; Mrs. C. S. Shawan, of Mobile, the Alabama vice-president of the League of American Pen-Women.

Aunt Betsy Outstanding

Among the interesting personalities of the conclave, the outstanding

MONTEVALLO BUSINESS COURSE MADE PRACTICAL

Commercial Department Leader Studying Birmingham Office Work

MONTEVALLO, ALA., October 22.—Special to The Advertiser.—Miss Lelah Brownfield, head of the commercial department of Alabama College, has gone to Birmingham to spend two or three days interviewing representatives of leading business organizations as to the special Alabama needs for the preparation of young women for office work.

In her work at Alabama College, Miss Brownfield wishes first to thoroughly acquaint herself with local demands that she may prepare girls not only to be good stenographers, typists, and bookkeepers, but to be able to render efficient help in any kind of office work. Many of the students are taking these courses.

MONTEVALLO READY TO OBSERVE FOURTH

Faculty and Students to Play Tennis and Pageant of "Liberty" to be Staged

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 2.—Special to The Advertiser.—The Fourth of July will be celebrated at the college with an attractive program extending from eight a. m., to ten p. m. Professor J. J. Farris is in general charge of all teams from the faculty and three from the students. The faculty teams are 1. Dean Carmichael and Miss Becker vs. Patrick Carmichael and Miss Funk. 2. W. J. Kennerly and Miss Lewis vs. L. O. Kyzar and C. B. Gamble. 3. J. S. Ward and Dr. A. W. Calhoun vs. M. L. Orr and Miss Lulu Palmer.

The student teams are 1. Edith Thomas and Elizabeth Ward vs. Oralee Raley and Katie Roan. 2. Sadie Long and Kathleen Allen vs. Annie Laurie Larkin and Otis White. 3. Lucille Miller and Grady Garner vs. Bessie Williams and Aubrey White.

The winning team of the faculty will play in the afternoon the winning team of the students for the school championship.

A general swimming contest between twenty-five of the best swimmers among the students will take place at 11 a. m., and again at 4 p. m. As interest in swimming at the summer school has been very intense, this feature will attract a very large crowd. At 8 p. m., a general pageant will be given by the students under the direction of Miss Vivian Monk. In the prologue, Miss Dorothy Richey will take the part of Columbia and sing a number of patriotic songs and will have responsive readings with the audience. Miss Evelyn Scott will appear as Liberty. Miss Ruth Cunningham will represent History and will give a series of short readings connecting the general story of the Nation between the various tableaux.

Liberty is the general title to be portrayed. In the first tableaux, Mildred Allbritton will represent Columbus crossing the ocean. This will be followed by William Penn signing a treaty with the Indians. Next will come Betsy Ross and the Flag. The Spirit of '76 will be portrayed by a large number of students. This will be followed by the minuet giving a glimpse of the social life of 1830. The Westward movement of 1849 will show those sturdy pioneers as they crossed the Rockies in the quest of gold. The War between the States will depict the heroism of the men and the women of that eventful period.

Education, Capital and Labor will be presented with a united front, producing the most marvelous development of the ages.

The World War will be a most spectacular affair and the evening's program will be closed by the great nations of the world bowing down to Columbia and Universal Peace will prevail throughout the World.

Many visitors are expected from all parts of Alabama. Miss Anna Irvin, Supervisor of Foods, will serve a special fourth of July dinner.

NORMAL SCHOOLS GET CONCESSION

Allowed To Make Same Fee Regulations As Alabama,
Auburn And Montevallo

STATE CAPITAL BUREAU
THE AGE-HERALD
Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 8

The three class A state normal schools at Jacksonville, Florence and Troy were authorized by the state board of education today to apply the same regulations concerning fees for summer school students as applied at the University of Alabama, Auburn and Montevallo. This action was taken after President C. W. Daughette of Jacksonville, President J. Willingham of Florence and President E. W. Shackelford of Troy had appeared before the board and explained the lack of funds to carry on the summer school work.

Dr. John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent, reported the reorganization of the Normal school at Daphne. The consensus of opinion was that the school should continue in its present status the rest of this year, with an acting president in charge.

Miss Mary Skinner, assistant director of the division of exceptional education, was elected to the position of director of the division to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of Miss Sarah Luther. Dr. Abercrombie announced the reappointment of Miss Mary D. Pierce as a member of the teacher training division.

Dr. Dan T. McCall of Mobile was elected a member of the state council of education to succeed Mrs. T. G. Bush, resigned.

Progress was reported in the establishment of state secondary agricultural schools at Cuba, Sumter county, and Corner, Jefferson county. Action on text book adoption was deferred until a meeting to be held March 5.

Dr. Abercrombie was authorized to bring to the attention of senators and representatives from Alabama the results accomplished in industrial rehabilitation under the Smith-Bankhead law. The appropriation for this work from the federal government expires June 30. The board of education will continue its sessions Wednesday.

Montevallo Gives Poet Welcome to Literary Circles

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Oct. 1.—Special to The Advertiser.—A distinguished woman has recently moved from Charleston, to Montevallo in the person of Mrs. Josephine Rhett Bacot, whose son, Dr. Daniel Huger Bacot, was last summer elected professor of history in Alabama College. Mrs. Bacot, though a South Carolinian, was born in Alabama and spent her girlhood days in Huntsville. She is a daughter of the lamented R. Barnwell Rhett and a sister of Harry Moore Rhett, the leading banker of that city. She has for a number of years taken a prominent part in all social, religious and civic affairs, and club life in Charleston. She is an active member of the Writers' Club, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Daughters of the American Revolution, Colonial Dames, and historical societies of South Carolina. The press of her state has been enriched by many poems as well as prose compositions from her pen.

A hearty welcome is extended to her by the Alabama College circle, by Montevallo, and by the club women of Alabama. On her first passage over "Shoal Creek," a beautiful stream, fed by many gushing bubbling springs, flowing through the town of Montevallo, she was inspired to write this poem:

TO SHOAL CREEK.

(By Josephine Rhett Bacot)
"The jealous trees bend o'er to hide
Your youthful, gay, fast rippling streams,
Whose laughter sounds on every ear,
Thus telling where you now abide;
Age need not try to hold the gleam
Of life that's seen night everywhere
At time, your waters rise to prove Your power to bless, or wreck the land;
As many an one whose potency None dreams, content, they backward move,
And lightly laugh. Thus shown, the hand
In all youth's fine sincerity.

HOME ECONOMICS AT MONTEVALLO POPULAR

Another Teacher Is Added To Department Of Physical Education

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The home economics department of Alabama college is more crowded with students this year than it has ever been before. This is the first year in which it has had a regular senior class completing the full four-year course for the degree of bachelor of science. These girls in addition to their regular home economics course are required to do practice teaching work in vocational home economics at Columbiana, Ala., under the supervision of Miss Laura Winters, vocational teacher, and Miss Louise J. Keys, director of teacher training.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

The department of physical education at Alabama college is so over-run with students that it is found necessary to employ another assistant teacher. There are 600 pupils enrolled in the various classes. It is the policy of the institution that everyone attending the college shall be given individual physical instruction. Miss Elizabeth Cogswell of Pell City has been employed to instruct some classes for the remainder of the session.

STRODE GIVES READING

Captivates Montevallo Audience With His Selections From Barrie

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 7.—(Special.)—Hudson Strode, professor of modern literature at the University of Alabama, captivated his audience of Montevallo people and students of Alabama college last evening with his interpretation of Barrie's "The Will" and Shaw's "How He Lied To Her Husband."

Mr. Strode has a particularly pleasing personality and a voice of singular richness and expression which, combined with his wide knowledge of the drama, make him a reader of unquestioned ability. In his opening remarks, Mrs. Strode paid tributes to Dr. Palmer, Dean Carmichael and Miss Vivian Monk of the English department.

ALABAMA COLLEGE HAS FOUNDERS' DAY

President Palmer Reviews
History Of School At Special Exercises.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 13.—Special.—October 12 is known as Founder's Day at Alabama College. Founder's Day exercises are held each year under the control of the senior class. This year they had invited R. B. Evins to speak on the Constitution of the United States, but he was prevented from attending. He will deliver this address before the college at some future time.

President Palmer was requested to give a brief history of the college from its beginning. In his remarks he referred to the fact that there were only eight other states that had institutions like this and they were all in the South. Such institutions in other parts of the country are under private control.

Sol D. Bloch, from Wilcox County, introduced a bill to establish the Girls' Industrial School in 1891. This bill was defeated, but the author, not discouraged, presented the bill again in '93 and it was passed. After a long contest between many towns in the state, Montevallo secured the prize. The original name of the school was never popular and it has been changed several times, until four weeks ago the shortest and probably the most appropriate name was selected—Alabama College.

President Palmer told many interesting and some amusing incidents that occurred in its early history. He paid a high tribute to the efficient work done by the trustees, presidents and faculty in the early days of the college.

Honor Students At Montevallo Named

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 3.—Special.—The full reports of the students for the first quarter, Alabama College, Montevallo, have been completed. Two honor rolls are made public—first, the list of those who have attained grade A in all subjects, and second, those who have made all A's and B's.

The following students' names appear upon the first honor roll: Josephine Kilgore, Birmingham; Fay Turner, Vinegar Bend; Virginia Kockritz, Birmingham, and Elsie Mahaffey, Montevallo.

The following are on the second honor roll: Robbie Andrews, Florida; Kathleen Arnold, Goodwater; Lucile Bell, Ashland; Ernestine Bonner, Camden; Era Boyd, Gadsden; Ola Mae Breedlove, Gantt's Quarry; Ethel Brown, Cromwell; Lillie Burleson, Guin; Annie Carmichael, Hollins; Winifred Castleman, Greensboro; Joy Cawthorn, Florida; Lola Alice Croll, Linden; Frances Crump, Steele; Ethel Drake, Butler; Mamie Eakens, Selma; Janice Fuquay, Alexander City; Helen George, Mobile; Mildred Gilchrist, Brantley; Imogene Gilder, Mt. Meigs; Ellen Hagood, Selma; Mary Hill, Benton; Elizabeth Horsley, Columbiana; Mary Hungerford, Selma; Sara Jeter, Montevallo; Helen Johnson, Bessemer; Dionetta Kroell, Montevallo; Mayme Kroell, Montevallo; Mamie Love, Greensboro; Gladys Lumpkin, Albertville; Abbotte McKinnon, Talladega Springs; Ruth Parker, Birmingham; Alice Quarles, Mobile; Margaret Randle, Birmingham; Callie Roan, Thomasville; Frances Rosenblum, Gadsden; Joanne LaRue Sharpe, Montevallo; Helen Townsend, Russellville; Mildred Walker, Newbern; Eleanor Wallace, Baker Hill, and Dorothy Williams, Uniontown.

"ART DAY" HELD AT ALABAMA COLLEGE

Miss Margaret McAdory, Of Birmingham, Gives Lecture At Montevallo.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 10.—Special.—"Art Day" was held at Alabama College. At the morning assembly an interesting program was presented by Miss Ida Richards, of Opp; Miss Catharine Shepard, of Vernon, and Miss Lida Allen, of Cromwell, concerning the Art Club, which was organized during last session. They explained in detail the work of the club and urged students to join. One hundred and twenty-four have already united and 200 more have put in their names with a view to joining later.

After the talk of the committee, short one-act plays were presented by two pupils, illustrating "Cupids" and "Futurist" art. Miss Mary Trammell, of Five Points, represented the flapper in presenting the art of cupid. Miss Mildred Martin, of Bessemer, portrayed the temperamental futurist painter.

At 7:30 in the evening a large audience assembled in the auditorium to hear the illustrative lecture by Miss Margaret McAdory, of Birmingham, on "French Paintings in the Louvre." This was the first of the series of lectures and other public exercises to be presented during this session.

After seeing a picture of the exterior of the Louvre and hearing a short outline of its history from the first buildings—a hunting lodge—to its existence as a great palace containing galleries of antiquities, of scientific collections, of sculpture and painting of many nations, the audience was delighted with slides, in beautiful color, of the great pictures of the gallery of French painting. The photographic work for the slides was done by Miss McAdory while in Paris in the Summer of 1922.

Miss McAdory's reputation as a lecturer extends beyond the confines of Alabama. She has been invited to give a series of lectures at the University of Missouri and at Columbia University, New York.

Greenwood cemetery.

Montevallo Confers Degrees Upon Graduates

MONTEVALLO, Aug. 19.—At the second graduation exercises of the summer school held in the college auditorium Saturday, two-year college diplomas were awarded to three students, Miss Ruth Warren, Birmingham; Miss Florrie Knight, Selma; and Miss Evelyn Lacy, Plantersville. Announcement was made that two students were entitled to receive degrees. Miss Jessie Byrd Fuller, Perryville, bachelor of arts, and Miss Jean Ford, Hartford, bachelor of science in home economics. It has been decided to award diplomas for degrees only at the annual commencement in May of every year.

Miss Fuller is the first student to receive the degree of bachelor of arts and Miss Jean Ford is the sixth to receive bachelor of science degree.

50 OR 60 GIRLS NEED HELP AT MONTEVALLO

Among Them Are Two Blind Girls.
Many Do Work At College.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—There are probably 50 or 60 girls attending Alabama college at Montevallo who are needing help to continue their work here. No special appeal has been made, because the authorities have been striving in every way to get employment for these girls to assist them in helping themselves. This was the first institution in Alabama to introduce the system of self-help. Girls will be found about the institution engaged in almost anything that a girl can do, and in this way many of them are enabled to defray a considerable portion of their expenses.

There are, however, two blind girls in school who are in need of help, and there is very little, if anything, which they can do while in college to assist in their expenses here. The state department of education employs a header to help them, and also pays their traveling expenses. They are almost wholly dependent upon the kindness of friends to assist them.

LIBRARY COURSE OFFERED

A new course in library work has this week been added to the college curriculum. One room has been set apart in the new college library building to house a separate collection of books for the use of the people and schools of Shelby county. The course is maintained under the direction of the education department. Students preparing to teach in rural schools are given instruction in the management of a rural school library.

PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Bailey To Speak At Alabama College
Armistice Day.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 8.—Special.—An interesting program has been arranged by Alabama College for the celebration of Armistice Day, Sunday, Nov. 11. A religious-patriotic program will be given in the chapel for the student body, the citizens of Montevallo and especially all ex-service men in this section. George Lewis Bailes, a former post commander of the American Legion in Birmingham, will be the chief speaker on this occasion.

The Montevallo Exchange Club, a large number of whom are ex-service men, voted to go in a body and to take it upon themselves to get together all the ex-service men in this vicinity. A large audience is expected.

MINNEAPOLIS

Montevallo To Hear Scientist-Lecturer

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 4.—Special.—Burnell R. Ford will give a scientific lecture-demonstration in the college auditorium on the evening of Jan. 7. He will have quite a number of amazing experiments with electricity. He carries with him a complete laboratory equipment for his experiments. This constitutes the first of the lyceum course that is offered at Alabama College for the year 1924.

Constitute Every Woman A Good Cook, Says Miss Palmer, And Save The Country.

"Do you lack enthusias as you go about your work these Autumn days? If so, you can in all probability trace your failure to generate pep to faulty food habits. Your lack of vitality is due to a deficiency of vitamins, which is a very serious thing, but which fortunately for you, is one that you may correct at will."

So says Miss Stella Palmer, vitamin expert at the University of Arkansas and co-author with Prof. J. W. Read of the booklet, "Vitamins, Health and the Daily Diet," of which more than 60,000 copies have been distributed and which has attracted favorable comment from all parts of the country.

Lessie Stringfellow Read, in The Arkansas Democrat, writes: Miss Palmer herself, who has just closed her most successful Summer term of teaching, is pep personified, and is reaching with her pet theories a very large number of persons. As state supervisor of home economics in Arkansas, she has contracted countless numbers of young couples in this state who are depending upon her menus to make of them new men and women. As councilor in the American Home Economic Association, planning the program of that national body in New Orleans in December, she will have much to do with controlling the health of the nation, by making it concentrate upon the importance of vitamins in the daily diet.

The future of a race depends upon its health, says Miss Palmer. The health of a race depends upon its vitamins. Its vitamins depend upon its victuals, and its victuals depend upon its cooks. Therefore, the future of the country depends upon its cooks, and she is counting upon every cook to learn the dietary properties of certain classes and types of food, that they may the better feed the great American family.

On intimate terms with Vitamin A, Vitamin B, Vitamin C, Miss Palmer teaches that there still is another vitamin of which less is known and that lack of this is what causes rickets and pellagra, and she cites facts and figures to prove this contention.

She considers the most important question before America today not, "Shall we join the world court?" but "What shall we have for lunch?" Poor lunches during their early lifetime, she says, were largely responsible for the failure of the big percentage of American men to rank as fit to fight. Overweight and malnutrition, bad teeth, which cause half the ills that flesh is heir to, are all mere matters of faulty menus, according to Miss Palmer, and faulty menus today, in her eyes, constitute the menace to the great American home.

"If you would save the country," she says, "constitute every woman in it a good cook."

To be a good cook, according to "Vitamins, Health and the Daily Diet," means becoming something of a chemist. It means making much of some minerals, and less of others. It means protecting oneself from some proteins and knowing how to properly prepare food for infants. It means looking each day for leafy vegetables and picking out in right proportion the vitaminous foods. It means a study of milk and

PROMINENT ALABAMIAN

MISS STELLA PALMER.

An Alabamian, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Palmer, of Alabama College, who has been associated with the University of Arkansas for some years as director of home economics, Miss Palmer has established a wide reputation in her profession. It is said that she considers the most important question before America today, not "Shall We Join the World Courts," but "What Shall We Have for Luncheon."

meat and proper management in making these a balanced part of daily meals. It means knowing the analysis of cheese, sugar, fat, nuts, fruit, water, coffee, tea and yeast, and applying these according to whether the desired result is more or less weight, more or less red blood, more or less bone, maybe, even, more brawn or brain.

"Tell me what you eat, and I'll tell you what you are," declares the vitamin expert, and then if she finds you are what you ought not to be she tips you off to the right vitamin, tells you whether you need more or less iron, phosphorus and calcium, orders you to run along, follow the rules and come back later. And nine times out of ten, if you follow instructions, you come back filled with as much pep and enthusiasm as she is.

To make Arkansas and as many more states in the Union realize these things is part of Miss Palmer's purpose in life.

Miss Palmer, daughter of Dr. W. T. Palmer, president of Alabama College, and Mrs. Palmer, was born in Tuscaloosa, Ala. She graduated from the University of Alabama, the youngest member of her class. In 1910 she received her master's degree from Columbia University, New York, and until 1917 was at the University of Wisconsin. She returned later to Columbia University, where she studied during the Summer of 1922. Since 1918 she has been state supervisor of home economics in Arkansas and head of the department of home economics at the University of Arkansas, which she is trying to make equal to that of any similar department in the United States.

A main work of hers in the state has been to get elementary and high school economics on a higher basis by standardizing the work, and the state high school course, in a study of home economics, was outlined by her.

Offices held by Miss Palmer at present include:

President of the State Home Economic Association, councilor in the American Home Economics Association, chairman of home economics in the Fort Smith district of the Arkansas Federation of Women's Clubs, member of the program committee for the national home economics convention to be held in New Orleans.

She is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, oldest and best known honor fraternity, and a member of Omicron Nu, national home economics honor society.

Montevallo Class Visits Kilby Prison

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 22.—Special.—Twenty-four young women composing the sophomore class in sociology at the Alabama College, Montevallo, in charge of Miss Alice Boyd, instructor, made an inspection of the new penitentiary at Kilby, accompanied by prison and state officials. They were met at the train by officials of the state board of administration, and were joined a short time later by several young women from Montgomery who formerly attended the school at Montevallo.

They were taken by automobile to the new prison, where they were conducted through all departments, including the big cotton mill. When dinner time arrived they were served with the same menu provided for the inmates of the prison for the midday meal, consisting of fresh boiled meat, cornbread, lima beans, colards, turnips, sweet potatoes and syrup.

During the dinner hour, Roy L. Nolen, associate member, complied with repeated requests for a speech. He stated it was a real pleasure to have the opportunity of conducting the young women on a tour of inspection of the institution. He extended a standing invitation for them to return and make a similar inspection whenever they so desire. In her response, Miss Boyd gracefully extended the thanks of herself and the other visitors for the courtesies shown them.

MRS. RUCKS HONORED BY MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE.

The members of the Birmingham Chapter of the Montevallo Alumnae and Student Association were hostesses recently at a beautiful luncheon, Mrs. D. F. Rucks presiding. The real Montevallo enthusiasm was shown and an unusually large attendance was noted. This luncheon was followed by the annual election of officers. Mrs. D. F. Rucks, "1912 class," who has served as the president for the past year, and was former vice president of the state association, was unanimously reelected president. Other officers elected were Mrs. H. H. King, vice president; Mrs. F. H. Chappelle, secretary; Mrs. W. C. Spidle, treasurer.

ALUMNAE SECRETARY

MISS NELL BROWDER, daughter of Mr. J. W. Browder of Center, Ala., was recently chosen as resident secretary of the Montevallo Alumnae association. Now Miss Browder looks after the duties of her office and pursues her college studies at the same time, having registered at Alabama college for the coming year.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE NAMES HONORARY OFFICERS.

At the recent monthly luncheon of the Birmingham Chapter Montevallo Alumnae and Students' Association, the honorary members were named as follows: Dr. T. W. Palmer, president; Mr. O. C. Carmichael, dean; Misses Brooke, Stallworth, Putnam and Funk, faculty members; Miss Minnie Sellers, state president alumnae association; Mrs. Nat Nabors, Messrs. M. V. Joseph and L. Sevier, of Birmingham.

The luncheon was well attended, there being a number of new members present.

The chapter was divided into circles, Mrs. D. F. Rucks, as follows: Young Matrons' Circle (Housewives) Mrs. Eugene Henry, leader; Mrs. Gregory Spinks, assistant; Business Women's Circle, Miss Irene Savage, leader, Miss Rebecca Krentzman, assistant; Teachers Circle, Miss Beatrice Norris, leader, Miss Mildred Collins, assistant. The circles will compete in a membership campaign.

The chapter will give a Valentine tea Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16, from 3:30 to 5:30, at the Blue Triangle club rooms, to which friends of the chapter are invited. Tickets may be obtained from members or from Miss Estelle Patton, of the Business and Professional Women's clubrooms. The next monthly luncheon will be held Saturday, Feb. 9, at 1 o'clock, at the Business and Professional Women's clubrooms.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE HAS MONTHLY LUNCHEON.

The regular monthly luncheon of the Birmingham Chapter Montevallo Alumnae and Students' Association, will take place Saturday at 1 o'clock, in the private dining room of the Business and Professional Women's Club rooms. All Montevallo graduates and students who attended Montevallo for a period of nine months or more are extended a cordial invitation. A full attendance is expected. Plans will be made Valentine Day.

MRS. RUCKS HEADS MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE

One of the most interesting affairs given this year by the Birmingham chapter of the Montevallo Alumnae and Students' association was the recent luncheon given in the private dining room of the Business and Professional Women's club rooms. A large number of Montevallo graduates and former students were present. Following the luncheon the annual election of officers took place. Mrs. D. F. Rucks, who has been president of the association for the past year, and was formerly vice president of the state association, was unanimously re-elected president. The other officers elected were Mrs. H. H. King, vice president; Mrs. F. H. Chappelle, secretary; Mrs. W. C. Spidle, treasurer.

Montevallo Alumnae Board Outlines Plans—

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 9.—Special to The Advertiser.—The executive board of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women held a meeting at the college on Saturday evening and outlined a plan of work for the year 1923-1924.

Those present were Miss Minnie Sellers, Ramer, president, Mrs. Hill Beech Garren, Decatur, vice-president; Mrs. Ralph W. Quinn, Birmingham, secretary; Mrs. C. N. Parnell, Maplesville,

ALUMNAE CHAPTER AT MONTEVALLO

Students and Faculty Celebrate Christmas Ahead of Holiday Vacation

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 19.—Special to The Advertiser.—The alumnae of Alabama College at Montevallo are taking an active interest in organizing chapters in every county in the state. Their purpose is to promote a general interest in the development of their Alma Mater. On December 15, there was organized a club with the following officers: Elizabeth McMillan, president; Allene Bell, vice-president; Lida Allen, secretary-treasurer.

This college chapter has for its special purpose that of keeping in touch with all members of the Montevallo alumnae association through weekly news letters and to serve as an "at home" committee to any visiting alumnae. There have been more alumnae visiting the college this year than in any previous season.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the exercises will formally close at 4 o'clock for the Christmas holidays. Extra coaches have been supplied by the Southern railway and by Friday morning all pupils will either be at their homes or on their way. Very few, if any, students are going off before the formal close, because of the extra penalty that is assigned to one who misses the last recitations. The same penalty will be assigned for those who may be late in returning.

Miss Irwin, food supervisor of the college, served the entire student body and faculty a regular Christmas dinner on Tuesday evening. On Wednesday evening, a Christmas tree was given in the dining room, and Santa Claus remembered everyone connected with the college.

ALUMNAE SECRETARY

MRS. R. W. QUINN. Among the graduates of the Alabama College, at Montevallo, is Mrs. Quinn, who, as Miss Callie Poole, was graduated in the 1917 class. Mrs. Quinn is now serving the alumnae association as secretary.

Montevallo Alumnae Board Organizes College Chapter—

Miss Minnie Sellers, president of the Montevallo Alumnae Association, spent the week-end at her Alma Mater chiefly in interest of the alumnae association. On Saturday Mrs. C. N. Parnell (historian) Miss Gladys Jones-Williams (treasurer), and Miss Nell Browder (executive secretary) met and worked on plans for the association.

Twice during Saturday they met with the former graduates of the college who are back either for further work or who are connected officially with the college. Together they organized a college chapter with these officers: President, Miss Elizabeth McMillan; vice-president, Miss Allene Bell; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lida Allen. This chapter promises to do much toward strengthening the alumnae association throughout the state.

Mrs. Parnell brought her two very attractive little girls, Lucy and Ruth Judson, who some day expect to be alumnae of Alabama College.

TO TOUR SCHOOLS

Home Economics Instructors Will Inspect High School Work.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 27.—Special.—Miss Annie E. Sale, head of the home economics department, is preparing to visit several of the vocational schools in different parts of the state in connection with Miss Corinne Neely, itinerant teacher-trainer in home economics vocational work. Their purpose is to visit the various vocational teachers, ascertain their troubles, and offer such suggestions as will be helpful in the presentation of this subject. These high school vocational home economics teachers carry the principles of home economics to the various homes in their respective communities.

ALABAMA COLLEGE ALUMNAE OFFICER

Mrs. R. W. Guinn, of Birmingham, was before her marriage Callie Poole. Mrs. Guinn graduated from Montevallo in 1917 and has been a most loyal alumnae. She is now secretary of the Montevallo Alumnae association.

College Students Prepare Big Dinner

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 21.—Special.—An institutional course in home economics is a part of the regular program at Alabama College this year, the first course of the kind ever offered in the state. The class is composed of advanced students in foods, and one feature of the course is to teach pupils to prepare meals for large groups of people. On Monday evening the girls gave a demonstration in this work by taking full charge of the large college kitchen and dining room, preparing the dinner and serving 625 plates. No outside help was called in, but everything was prepared and cooked by the students.

MONTEVALLO ALUMNAE MONTHLY LUNCHEON

The Birmingham chapter of the Montevallo Alumnae and Students' association, will entertain at their monthly luncheon Saturday at 1 o'clock at the Business and Professional Women's club room. Mrs. D. F. Rucks, president, urges all circles to be represented as the membership campaign will be launched at this luncheon. The circles competing in this campaign are, namely: Young Matrons' circle, leader, Mrs. Eugene Henry; assistant, Mrs. Farrell; Teachers' circle, leader, Miss Beatrice Norris; assistant, Miss Mildred Collins, and Business Women's circle, leader, Miss Irene Savage; assistant, Miss Rebecca Krentzman. The general chairman of this membership campaign is Mrs. Gregory Spinks. Her special assistants are: Mrs. J. O. Stapp (Young Matrons' circle), Mrs. Arline Fitzgerald Simmons (Business Women's circle), and Miss Orlean Randle (Teachers' circle). These various chairmen and assistants are co-operating in this membership drive.

All Montevallo graduates, or women who have attended this college, are invited to this luncheon, and are eligible to membership, if interested in Montevallo alumnae work.

MONTEVALLO GIRLS SERVE BIG MEAL

Institutional Course in Home Economics Given Advanced
Students in Foods

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 21.—Special to The Advertiser.—An institutional course in home economics is a part of the regular program at Alabama College this year, the first course of the kind ever offered in the state. The class is composed of advanced students in foods, and one feature of the course is to teach pupils to prepare meals for large groups of people. On Monday evening, the girls gave a demonstration of their abilities in this work by taking full charge of the large college kitchen and dining-room, preparing the dinner and serving six hundred and twenty-five plates. No outside help was called in, but everything was prepared and cooked by the students.

The menu was as follows: Meat loaf, Duchess potatoes, cold slaw, bread, butter, prune whip, milk, tea, coffee.

It may be interesting to note the quantity of food used. For the meat loaf, one-half of a beef, eight dozen eggs, 3 1-2 quarts oil, one pound salt, 10 large onions, one-half cup black pepper, and 10 pounds bread crumbs.

For the cold slaw—60 pounds cabbage, six cans pimentos, three quarts pickles, three gallons boiled dressing.

For Duchess potatoes—three bushels potatoes, six dozen eggs, six pounds butter, one pound salt, four gallons milk.

For the prune whip—60 pounds prunes, 24 boxes gelatin, five dozen lemons, 30 oranges, 12 pounds sugar.

For bread, butter and milk—50 pounds corn meal, five dozen eggs, eight gallons milk, 20 pounds of butter and 25 gallons milk were required.

Every article of food was well cooked and beautifully served, and there was a general request for the class to do so again. The girls were divided into four groups, each group having charge of a part of the menu. The following composed the various groups:

Miss Irwin, general director, and Miss Apperson, assistant director.

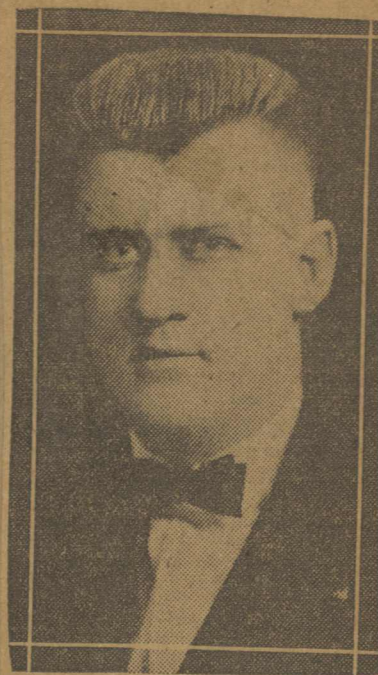

First group in charge of meat loaf—Mildred Walker, Newbern; Elizabeth Horsley, Columbiana; Lorene Hughes, Birmingham; Lucile Bell, Ashland.

Second group in charge of potatoes—Glacys Lumpkin, Albertville; Grace Williams, Columbia; Mary Patterson, Rogersville; Lula Hawkins, Birmingham.

Third group in charge of prune whip—Jessie Slone, Hartselle; Jessie Beddingfield, Rogersville; Mildred Albritton, Warrior; Ethel Brown, Cromwell; Lena Harris, Montgomery.

Fourth group in charge of cold slaw—Grace Waters, Birmingham; Ethel Hackleburg; Leacy Newell, Wilcox; Thompson, Bessemer; Vernelle Ray, county; Hettie Hinson, Abbeville.

MONTEVALLO PROFESSOR IS ORIGINATOR OF NEW "RADIO BIBLE COURSE"

DR. W. H. JAMES.

Director of the extension division of Alabama College at Montevallo, Ala., is the originator and organizer of a new course of Bible lectures by radio, for which credits will be given by the college. Dr. James did graduate work with the University of Iowa, and heads the department of education at Alabama College.

SELMA EXCHANGE CLUB AT MONTEVALLO FOR MEETING

State President Craig Makes Forceful
Address on Club Work.

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 28.—Special to The Advertiser.—Monday was Selma day in Montevallo for the Exchange club had extended an invitation to the Selma Exchangeites and their wives to come to Montevallo and have a joint meeting. On account of the very inclement weather, only fifteen Exchangeites and none of the Selma ladies came. They were met at the station by a committee and conducted to Bloch Hall, the home economics building at Alabama College. Soon after their arrival, lunch was announced.

In the absence of President Smith, Dr. Palmer presided. After the singing of America, introductions were called for, each one present introducing himself. Miss Ethel Harrington, of the voice department of the college, sang a beautiful solo. The college orchestra added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by rendering a num-

Montevallo Students Plan Government

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 27.—Special.—The students of Alabama College, on account of the very large increase in the number of new students, have decided to hold a series of meetings for the study and discussion of student government. At the first meeting Tuesday evening, after the singing of several college songs, the president, Miss Edith Montgomery, presented Dean O. C. Carmichael, who spoke on "Student Government and What It Implies."

"Student Government," said Dean Carmichael "is democracy in student life. It gives privileges, opportunity for self-development, and freedom of choice. It demands the exercise of individual responsibility, personal initiative, and a collective feeling of responsibility. The lack of any one of these three means failure."

FOUR LEADERS AT ALABAMA WRITERS' FIRST CONCLAVE

1. Mary Staten Gilmore, general chairman, first Alabama Writer's Conclave at Montevallo. 2. Mrs. Katharine Hopkins Chapman, author, who made the week's program. 3. Mrs. Cola Barr Craig, first chairman of Writer's Department A. F. W. C. 4. Miss Maude Lindsay, writer of Children's Stories.

Commoner's Daughter To Speak At College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 23.—Special.—The second lecture of the season for Alabama College will be given on Monday, Dec. 3, by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan. She has inherited the oratorical talent of her father, in fact many who have heard her say that she is even a better speaker. She has spent much time in Egypt and Palestine and has traveled around the world. "Modern Arabian Knights" is the title of her lecture to be given before the faculty and students. She will inject into her talk much of her personal experience as a volunteer nurse in the British army. Her husband, Maj. Reginald Owen, served under Gen. Allenby, who succeeded in overcoming and capturing the Turkish army. This is Mrs. Owens' first visit as a lecturer to Alabama and she will no doubt be greeted by a large audience.

Armistice Day Kept At Alabama College

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 13.—Special.—Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a large and enthusiastic audience met in the chapel of Alabama College for the celebration of Armistice Day.

The audience consisted of the faculty and students of the college, the local Exchange Club, which marched over in a body; the exservice men in and around Montevallo who hatched with them, and the Montevallo U. D. C.

The program included an invocation, by Rev. J. R. Curry, of the Baptist Church; a reading, "Our Flag," Hettie Henson, of Abbeville, Ala.; address, George Lewis Bailes, Birmingham; the Marseillaise, Ethel Harrington, of the voice department; benediction, Rev. W. M. Treadaway, of the Methodist Church.

REST ROOM FURNISHED

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 26.—Special.—The old library room in the dormitory of Alabama College has been set apart as a rest room for the students. Loveman, Joseph & Loeb, Birmingham, gave to the girls handsome furnishings for this room. The donations included three large settees, two small settees, three floor lamps, seven rockers, eight straight chairs and one long table. The furniture has not yet arrived, but is expected in a few days. In the meantime the pupils are awaiting with interest the use of this long desired and much needed rest room.

Mr. M. V. Joseph, head member of this firm, has been a trustee of Alabama College for nine years and always takes an active interest in its welfare.

HOME ECONOMICS TEACHERS NEEDED

Miss Spafford Stresses This Modern Branch in Monte-vallo Address 23

MONTEVALLO, ALA., June 21.—Special to The Advertiser.—Miss Ivol Spafford, supervisor of home economics of the state department of education, has been one of the visiting lecturers at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women this week. She has made addresses before the home economics faculty and students and the mothers' course, and has held conferences with President Palmer, Dean Carmichael and others.

The complete budget for the vocational home economics teacher training course was agreed upon Thursday and will be sent to the vocational board at Washington for final adoption.

"The opportunities for college young women specializing in home economics," said Miss Spafford, "are brighter than in any other field of endeavor. Higher salaries are paid such teachers than are given for any other subjects."

Every high school in the state is now calling for a specially trained teacher in home economics, making it impossible to supply the demand.

Montevallo Engages Physical Instructor

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 20.—Special.—The department of physical education at Alabama College is so overrun with students that it is found necessary to employ another assistant teacher. There are 600 pupils enrolled in the various classes. It is the policy of the institution that everyone attending the college shall be given individual physical instruction.

Miss Elizabeth Cogswell, of Pell City, has been employed to instruct some classes for the remainder of the session. She is a graduate of the high school at Pell City; spent one year at Columbia Institute, Columbia, Tenn., one year at Battle Creek Normal School of Physical Education and afterwards was graduated at the Chicago Normal School of Physical Education. She will give part time to teaching and will pursue studies with a view to graduating at Alabama College.

COMPLETE FIRST PERIOD

Second Quarter Of Alabama College
To Begin December 5

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 27.—(Special).—The second quarter of Alabama college begins December 5. The schedule for the quarter will be more crowded than it was for the first quarter. In the English department Miss Monk will give much of her time to extension work, and three extra classes will be added to the course in addition to the work of Miss Monk. Miss Lulu Palmer of the class of 1921 and an A. B. graduate of the University of Alabama has been employed to assist in English. She was an assistant in the summer school of 1923, and since then has been traveling extensively and visiting other educational centers in New York, Massachusetts, Indiana and Chicago.

"Have you been able to secure all the teachers you need?" President Palmer was asked. "No; another assistant is badly needed in chemistry, but so far no one for this subject has been found, though requests have been made of many colleges and teachers' agencies."

MISS MARY ANDRUS AT MONTEVALLO

Accomplished Musician Joins Faculty of College for Women for Coming Season

MONTEVALLO, ALA., July 7.—Special to The Advertiser.—The school of music at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo is most fortunate in securing the services of Miss May Andrus for next session. Miss Andrus comes to Montevallo from Hamden, Conn., where she has been director of public school music in the city schools for eight years. She has been accompanist for the New Haven Woman's club chorus for eight years under Professor Haesche, of Yale University.

Miss Andrus is a graduate of the music department of Yale University, and has spent one year in post-graduate study at that institution, specializing in composition with Dr. Horatio Parker. At graduation her composition was played by the New Haven symphony orchestra.

She has composed many songs, several of them being for children's voices. These are now being published. Her public school music training was received at Hartford, Conn., under the great music authority, Ralph L. Baldwin and at the Institute of Music Pedagogy, Northampton, Mass.

She is at present attending Pennsylvania summer session for supervisors of music, under Dr. Holliss Dann at West Chester, Pa.

Miss Andrus will have complete charge of the public school music and theoretical departments of the school of music, and will offer next year a supervisors' course in public school music.

* * *

DR. CARMICHAEL WILL SPEAK ON THE ORIENT

Noted Traveler To Lecture At Temple Emanu-El Open Forum

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, dean of Alabama college at Montevallo, will speak on "A Lesson From the Orient" at the open forum meeting at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning at Temple Emanu-El.

Dr. Carmichael is said to be a forcible speaker and is a scholar of high rank. He was one of the first to get the Rhodes scholarship and spent several years at Oxford university. As a traveler and scholar he has spent a number of years in the orient, especially India. He will lecture on his observations during his sojourn in the eastern countries. The public is invited to attend.

Montevallo To Honor Southern Generals

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 14.—Special.—The General Josiah Gorgas Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in connection with Alabama College, will celebrate the birthdays of Generals Lee and Jackson on the evening of Jan. 18, having one exercise for both generals. The program includes special music, prayer by Rev. J. R. Curry, reading by Miss Hettie Hinson, Abbeville; introduction of speaker, President T. W. Palmer; address, Mrs. Joseph E. Aderhold, U. D. C. state historian, Aniston.

FACULTY MEMBER FOR MONTEVALLO

Miss Annie E. Sale, the new director of home economics at the Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women, Montevallo. She is an A. M. graduate of Columbia University and has served several years as professor of home economics in the Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus.

RABBI NEWFIELD'S ADDRESS IMPRESSIVE AT MONTEVALLO

New Level for Religious Thought Set
By Birmingham Minister.

MONTEVALLO, June 20.—Special to The Advertiser.—"The wrong done by injustice cannot be righted by charity," declared Rabbi Morris Newfield, Birmingham, in his lecture in the Public Welfare course at Alabama Technical Institute and College for Women.

Earnest attention and spirited applause greeted Dr. Newfield's plea for a social application of religion. He contended that the application of the Golden Rule in industry would abolish not only the twelve hour day, but even poverty, and he made it clear to his hearers that the life of religion and of the church itself depends on the application of the principle of human brotherhood to the whole range of social life.

The address set a new level for religious thought and effort here.

UNIONTOWN TO COMPLETE

MONTEVALLO PLAYS WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Alabama Girl's Cage Team
Meets Crack Montgomery
Quint Jan. 16.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Jan. 12.—Basketballers at Alabama College have been put through the hard grind of practice play all during the past week to prepare them for the coming cage tilt with their heretery foe, Women's College of Montgomery. The first game of the coming series will be played at Montevallo, Jan. 19.

In days gone by the Montevallo team have lost three games to the Methodists girls and won but once. This year they are planning to revenge themselves on their vaunted rivals and make a clean sweep of the series.

Already this year, the Montevallo Five have defeated Athens College by the huge score of 59 to 9. And from all present indications they will have one of the best basketball teams in their history.

A large number of candidates reported for a varsity tryout and from this number one varsity player must be selected as well as a large number of substitutes. The coaching staff of the school has been working hard with the material that has reported and is promising a successful basket season for the Alabama College girls.

Woman's College Arranges Basket Program For '24

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 22.—Special.—A tasty basketball menu for 1924 has been arranged by the athletic authorities of Woman's College. The program of games includes contests with some of the outstanding women's basketball combinations of the Southland.

While some of the dates arranged are but tentative the schedule as given out Saturday was as follows:

Jan. 12—Birmingham-Southern co-eds, at Montgomery.

Jan. 16—Alabama College, at Montevallo.

Feb. 1—Peabody, at Montgomery.

Feb. 14—University of Alabama co-eds, at Tuscaloosa.

Feb. 22—University of Alabama at Montgomery.

March 7—Peabody at Nashville.

Teams For Tourney

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Feb. 6.—Entries in the second annual high school girls' basketball tournament, to be held here in late February, are expected to be named within the next few days, with the teams now playing off the district finals throughout the state.

Woman's College Plays

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 2.—Woman's college basketball team will meet the Montevallo and University of Alabama girls early in February, according to Coach Earle Williams. Both games will be played on the locals' court. Montevallo a few weeks ago defeated the Methodist sextet at Montevallo.

Girls' Cage Meet Will Be Staged At Alabama College

THE second annual basketball tournament for girls will be held at Montevallo, according to announcement of officials of the Alabama High School Girls Basketball Association, recently. Twenty teams will be entered in the tourney, two representing each congressional district.

Each district will hold a tournament to decide which of the schools are best fitted to represent it in the Montevallo title contests. The districts will be divided into two sections and each sectional champ will be allowed to enter.

Even more interest than was shown last year is being manifested by the high schools this year. Last year 27 teams entered with Selma being declared the state champions.

The story of the organization and progress of the Alabama High School Girls Basketball Association is an unusual one. For many years, certain high school officials had tried to form some body to promote girls' athletics in the prep institutions, but all attempts had been unsuccessful. Then, the Alabama College, at Montevallo, staged their girls' basketball tournament last year and the present organization resulted.

Last year the tournament was held by the Alabama College with the high schools themselves in a seemingly totally unorganized condition. However, farsighted officials saw the great possibilities of some organization to foster girls' athletics in Alabama and after considerable effort the Alabama High School Girls Basketball Association was formed. Starting with a small number of schools as members a year ago, the association has rapidly developed into one of the largest associations of its kind in the South.

NAME MONTEVALLO FIELD FOR LATE H. S. D. MALLORY

Former Trustee Honored on Suggestion of Athletic Committee.

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 3.—Special to The Advertiser.—On account of the increased number of students, it was found necessary to plan for a larger athletic field. A tract of land north of the practice home lot has been assigned to the athletic association for this purpose. President Palmer has received the following request from the athletic association.

"We the athletic board of Alabama College, respectfully request you to allow us to name the athletic field 'Mallory Field' in memory of the Hon. H. S. D. Mallory, a former trustee of the institution. Mr. Mallory was interested in all phases of development, especially the physical side.

Signed,

Lillie Burleson, president
Gladys Martin, class director
Irma Reeves, secretary."

To this request, president Palmer has replied giving the association the privilege of naming the field as suggested, and in doing so paid a tribute to the excellent service rendered this institution by the Hon. H. S. D. Mallory, who was for many years trustee from the state at-large.

Woman's College Will Clash With Montevallo Today

Woman's College basketball team will leave early Wednesday morning for Montevallo where the highly rated Montevallo college team will be played this afternoon. Final practice was held Tuesday afternoon by the locals, when Coach Earl Williams sent the players through a long signal practice on an open court at the college. The game today will be played on an outdoor court and for the past few days, Woman's College players have been practicing on a similar court.

The two teams meet twice annually. Last season each sextette won a game Montevallo winning by a close score on their own court, while the locals won easily here. Coach Williams is carrying nine players on the trip today.

Coach Williams will probably start the game this afternoon with Colvin and Jones, forwards; Branscomb (C) and Burford, centers; Watson and Pullen, guards. Taylor and Watlington will be held in for reserve duty at the guard or center positions, while Dannelly will take care of one of the forward positions, should Colvin and Jones be unable to play the entire game.

Montevallo this season has practically a veteran line-up, and the team promises to be one of the best ever representing this institution. Recently Montevallo defeated Athens College girls by a large score.

Approximately thirty-five students will accompany the Woman's College players on the initial road trip of the season, while reports have been received that alumni of the college will be at Montevallo in time for the contest.

Montevallo Girls Name Honorary Members

At the recent monthly luncheon of the Birmingham chapter, Montevallo alumnae and Students' association, the honorary members were named, which are as follows: Dr. T. W. Palmer and O. C. Carmichael, president and dean, respectively, of Alabama College for Women at Montevallo; Misses Brooke, Stallworth, Putman, and Funk, faculty members of Alabama College for Women; Miss Minnie Sellers, state president Alumnae association; Messrs. M. V. Joseph and L. Sevier of Birmingham, and Mrs. Nat Nabors, Birmingham.

The luncheon was well attended, there being present a number of new members.

The chapter was divided by the president, Mrs. D. F. Rueks, into three circles, namely: Young matrons, Mrs. Eugene Henry, leader; Mrs. Gregory Spinks, assistant. Teachers' circle, Miss Beatrice Norris, leader; Miss Mildred Collins, assistant. Business Women's circle, Miss Irene Savage, leader; Miss Rebecca Krentzman, assistant. These circles will compete in a membership campaign.

The chapter will give a Valentine tea Saturday, February 16, at the Blue Triangle club rooms from 3:30 to 5:30, to which friends of the chapter are invited. Tickets may be obtained from members, or from Miss Estelle Patton of the Business and Professional Women's club rooms. The next monthly luncheon will take place Saturday, February 9, at 1 o'clock, at Business and Professional Women's club room.

ALABAMA COLLEGE TO HOLD FOUR CONTESTS

Basketball Tourney For Girls High School
Teams To Be Held Feb. 21-23.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Dec. 1.—Special.—Four contests of state-wide scope will take place here at Alabama College Feb. 21-23, 1924, according to announcement made Saturday by Dr. Thomas W. Palmer, president. The contests are:

- (1) The second annual tournament of the Alabama Girls Basketball Association.
- (2) The Alabama high school art exhibit.
- (3) The Alabama high school expression contest.
- (4) The Alabama high school home economics exhibit.

Great interest is being manifested in the second annual tournament of the Basketball Association, in which several hundred girls from high schools in all sections of the state are expected to take part.

Already, according to Miss Minnie Sellers, president, more than 70 high school teams have enrolled in the association with a view of entering the preliminary contests for privileges of taking part in the tournament.

However, Miss Sellers stated, the date of the tournament is some time off, and it is expected that by the early part of February more than 100 teams will have enrolled in the association, as equally that many teams participated in the tournament of 1923, the larger number enrolling after Christmas. Although the first tournament was pronounced as being one of the greatest events in the history of the college, according to Miss Sellers, a better time is in store for all girls who attend the 1924 event, as in addition to the numbers of basketball games, a number of contests, which will be of special interest to the girls have been arranged, valuable prizes being offered for the winner of each.

Trophy To Winner.

Attendants to the tournament will no doubt enjoy themselves the entire time, Miss Sellers stated, but the climax of the occasion will come on Feb. 23, when after two teams have been selected from each congressional district, the championship game will be staged, a beautiful trophy being awarded to the victorious team.

Among the special contests arranged for the occasion will be the Alabama High School Home Economics Exhibit. All exhibits must be submitted to the Alabama College, Montevallo, Ala., on or before Feb. 15, so as to allow the time for arranging exhibits and selecting prize winners.

All work for the art exhibit must be mounted on a cardboard 22 by 28, the color of the board being that of the uniform worn by the school by which it is exhibited. The following features are included in the exhibit: No. 1, clay modeling, or designs for tiles, book-ends, etc. No. 2, posters, cards, book-lets, books or designs for book-pages and book covers. No. 3, stenciling, block printing, batik, tied and dyed work of designs, in color, for these processes: applying color. No. 4, object drawing: this work may be submitted in any medium pencil, water color, charcoal. No. 5, landscape composition, done in medium color. No. 6, representation, fruits, flowers, trees, animals. No. 7, illustration of stories. No. 8, designs in color for interior and furniture. No. 9, picture study note books, written or printed, having margins spaced correctly, with prints of pictures studied. No. 10, basketry, woven or sewed, native or imported material. No. 11, wooden toys, houses or furniture, or the designs for these objects.

The girl submitting the best entry in the home economics contest will be awarded an individual trophy, while an additional trophy will be awarded to the school sending the best all-round exhibit. To compete for the general prize, schools must have not less than five entries. Regulations governing the home economics contest are as follows:

- No. 1, night dresses and darn on woolen material (a three-cornered tear, and a diagonal tear); No. 2, combination or teddie and a stocking darn (darn to be on stocking that has been worn); No. 3, slip and six button holes; No. 4, gingham, line nor ratine dress and a patch on material to match dress; No. 5, bedroom set (the set to consist of a bureau scarf, curtains and draperies for one window; No. 6, child's dress or rompers (age 2 to 4 years); No. 7, Spring hat, made and trimmed by students, of any suitable material; No. 8, made-over dress, made out of old garment, or old material combined with new.

It has been so arranged that each high school will be allowed to send two girls to take part in the expression contest, one who shall give an original test, and the other a reading of reading. The readings must not exceed 10 or be less than five minutes in length. Trophies will be awarded to winners of each reading.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN GIVES LECTURE AT MONTEVALLO

Daughter of Commoner Captivates Audience With Travel Description.

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Dec. 5.—Special to The Advertiser.—A very fine lecture was given at Alabama College Monday evening by Ruth Bryan Owen, the daughter of William Jennings Bryan. Mrs. Owen is a woman of unusual personal charm and is a magnetic speaker. Her subject, "Modern Arabian Nights," was based on her experience as a war nurse in Palestine, and during the lecture she dwelt upon the question of war versus arbitration, which is of vital importance at this time.

Mrs. Owen has excellent delivery, and in her descriptions of the scenes in Palestine made her audience feel the reality of all that she had experienced. Her graphic descriptions reached the point of the dramatic and throughout the evening she maintained a splendid poise which held attention to the end.

NEW ALUMNAE BULLETIN

Montevallo Puts Out Another Creditable Publication

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The third issue of the Montevallo Bulletin is being mailed this week to the association members. This little magazine is very attractive and interesting, more so than the previous numbers. It is eight pages, the first consisting of a group picture of the children of 1905. The articles are of all kinds—reports from local chapters, newsy letters from Zelmas Farris Alford and Lola Merriwether, and really good articles by Janney Bridges King, Willie Jenkins Rainey, Una Gilbert Reeves, Willie Grace Stewart, Clara Yow Pearce, Elizabeth Farris Braswell, Nellie McGhee Bruce Lillou Burns, Vernon Gamble Crew. The bulletin contains the old school song called "A. G. I. S. Hymn," school and alumnae news that all Montevallo girls will enjoy.

ANNOUNCEMENT CLOSES

ALABAMA IN LEAD IN SCHOOL MUSIC

Montevallo Supervisors Learn of High Place of State at Louisville Meeting

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Nov. 27.—Special to The Advertiser.—Director Frank E. Marsh, Jr., and Miss Mae Andrus, teacher of the supervisors course at Alabama College have returned from the meeting of the Southern Supervisors music course at Louisville, Ky.

There were present representatives from every southern state except two and many from the northern and western states. Miss Andrus made one address on "Supervisors Work," and held three demonstrations with children from the public schools of the city. Mr. Marsh spoke on the last day giving a summary of the work of the conference and outlined the work that has been done in Alabama and the plans for future development.

The reports from the various states showed that Alabama is fully abreast with any of the states in the union in furthering the cause of public school music and it has taken the lead of all states in certifying teachers for the piano. This is due to the progressive action taken by the Alabama State Department of Education under the leadership of the lamented Charles R. Calkins of Montevallo, Mrs. Hagan of Mobile, Miss Kitts and Mrs. Nabors of Birmingham.

There are now fifteen music supervisors in Alabama. Among the cities having these are Birmingham, Bessemer, Selma, Montgomery, Montevallo, Mobile, Brewton, Tuscaloosa, Huntsville, Decatur, Gadsden, Anniston and others.

STUDENT RULE STRESSED

Dean Carmichael Explains Privileges And Responsibilities

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 27.—

(Special.)—The students of Alabama college, on account of the very large increase in the number of new students, have decided to hold a series of meetings for the study and discussion of student government. At the first meeting Tuesday evening, after the singing of several college songs, the president, Miss Edith Montgomery, presented Dean O. C. Carmichael, who spoke on "Student Government and What It Implies." "Student Government," said Dean Carmichael, "is democracy in student life. It gives privileges, opportunity for self-development, and freedom of choice. It demands the exercise of individual responsibility, personal initiative, and a collective feeling of responsibility. The lack of any one of these three means failure."

Montevallo Cage Team Has Big Camping Trip

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The members of last year's basketball team who have returned for this session had a delightful camping party the last week-end out at the Ray place, some five miles from Montevallo, on the banks of Shoal creek.

On the first day they went permissum and nut hunting and Saturday night had an old-fashioned 'possum hunt, but did not succeed in getting one.

Those in the party were: Misses Funk and Cogswell, chaperons; Mildred Allbritton, Warrior; Bill Smith, Opp; Mildred Keahy, Plantsville; Helen Townsend; Russellville; Gladys Martin, Enterprise; Odelle Carmichael, Guin. Mr. Ray has kindly offered a cabin on the place as a permanent camping house for students of Alabama college.

MONTEVALLO HILLS SUBJECT OF POEM

Connecticut Woman Impressed With Natural Surroundings of Alabama College

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Oct. 29.—Special to The Advertiser.—The scenery about Montevallo is commented upon by every visitor to the town and college. In no other part of the state are there as pretty views as are to be seen here. Especially are visitors from other states wonderfully impressed with the location around Alabama college.

Montevallo has recently gained a distinguished citizen in the person of Mrs. Nettie H. Owen, mother of Miss May Andrus, head of the teacher training work for teachers and supervisors of public school music in the school of music of Alabama college. Mrs. Owen formerly lived in New Haven, Conn. She is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and was at one time a member of many patriotic, social and literary clubs in that state. She herself is an able musician and had for some years a popular studio in Waterbury, Conn. She was a regular contributor for Country Life and leading publications, and every year was a contributor to leading publishing houses for "reading card verses."

She has written the following poem and explanation concerning the hills about Montevallo:

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills." In making the journey from Birmingham to Montevallo, the beauty of the hills impressed me deeply; and as the train moved along over high trestles that spanned deep gorges, revealing new beauties at each curve of the line, the words of the Psalmist recurred to me over and over again: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help."

The following lines were written in appreciation of the beauties that surround the little village of Montevallo: In the peaceful hills, where the long-leaf pine

Grows in tall splendor, and the sturdy oak

Stands high within the forest's deep confine,

Here, where nature's beauties oft invoke

The thoughts of reverential awe, that make

Us wonder how, and why, and what we are

That we should have these glories, which awake

Such deep emotions—Here will I dwell, afar

From all the care, and strife, and din of noisy streets,

And do the work that I have set my hand to do;

For, if some cheering word of mine now greets

A heart oppressed, or flagging courage word of mine renew,

Then shall I have gained a rich reward.

—Nettie H. Owen.

CHIAPUSSO, DUTCH PIANIST, IS BOOKED

Will Appear In Concert At Alabama College Artists' Course.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 3.—Special.—The second concert of the Alabama College Artists' course will be given Saturday evening, Dec. 8, by Jan Chiapusso, eminent Dutch pianist. Born in Java, of Dutch and Italian parentage, Jan Chiapusso comes to the United States with European successes of significant importance.

He first studied in Cologne, at the famous conservatory; later he went to Paris, where his talent was discovered by Raoul Pugno, who at once invited him to become one of his pupils and mentions him as "a true artist, really more than interesting."

Chiapusso then completed his studies with Frederic Lamond, the great interpreter of Beethoven's divine compositions.

He then scored a number of great successes in the principal cities of Europe. In Paris he was awarded the much coveted "musical prize" in a contest in which 60 pianists participated, several of whom are recognized artists today.

At Brussels, critics acclaim him as an accomplished musician and admirable technician. They call him "the pianist with the velvet fingers." The "Hofstad," the foremost paper at The Hague, prints: "He who makes it his task to give a recital of Bach only, and knows how to win his audience by it until the very end—in which Mr. Chiapusso succeeds perfectly—is a powerful artist."

Chiapusso then came to America, where he has made several successful concert tours and has given several extraordinarily successful recitals in New York and Chicago.

He will give the following program at Montevallo:

I—Waltzes (Brahms); Impromptu Op 36 (Chopin); Sonata Op 35 (Chopin); (Poem of Death) Grave, Doppio, Movimento, Scherzo, Funeral March; finale (The Wind over the Graves).

II—Minuet (Bizet-Rachmaninoff); The Shepherds (Couperin-Chiapusso); The Fickle Country Maid (Couperin-Chiapusso); Etude in F Sharp (Arensky); Triana (Albeniz); Valse-Bluette (Drigo-Chiapusso).

III—Etude Caprice (MacFadyen); Etide in F Minor (Liszt); Etude Caprice (Paganini-Liszt); Tannhauser Overture (Wagner-Liszt).

L. SEVIER SPEAKS

Inspects Educational Facilities At Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—L. Sevier of Birmingham, chairman of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Alabama college, delivered a helpful and inspiring address to the student body on yesterday. He dwelt strongly upon business methods to be employed by young women.

He was the guest of the college at luncheon in the college dining hall, after which he inspected the kitchen department and also the new dormitory, with both of which he was much pleased.

ALABAMA COLLEGE ENROLLS OVER 600

Montevallo School for Women
Now Upon Full College Basis,
it is Announced

MONTEVALLO, ALA., September 14.—Special to The Advertiser.—On the second day of the new season for Alabama College, the enrollment has reached five hundred eighty-one. There are yet about twenty-five girls who have engaged rooms but for various causes are detained at home for a few days. This will carry the number above six hundred. Quite a number had to be turned away for the lack of rooms.

At the first opening exercises the following program was rendered: Song by the school; Reading of Scripture and prayer by Reverend W. M. Treadaway, of the Methodist church; Vocal solo by Miss Kathryn Alva Rose, the new voice teacher of the Music Department. She graciously responded to a very rigorous encore.

President Palmer, after making some announcements concerning the changed name of this college and the plans on which the institution is working this year, extended a cordial welcome to the new members of the faculty and to the student body. He stated that the institution is now upon a full college basis, but to keep it on that basis efficient work must be done by the students, and he appealed to them to put forth their best efforts and make a record of which they will be proud.

Miss Mildred Vause, teacher of Violin, then rendered a beautiful and pleasing violin solo. She was warmly encored by the great audience.

Dean O. C. Carmichael was then presented, and, after making some announcements concerning the classes, extended another welcome to the student body. He warmly commended the beautiful spirit that has been shown by all students while they are waiting for the new dormitory to be completed. This will be ready for use on Saturday, in the meantime the girls for that dormitory are being cared for by other members of the student body in their rooms and in various halls.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MONTEVALLO CELEBRATES

Armistice Day Program Of Music And Addresses Carried Out

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a large and enthusiastic audience met in the chapel of Alabama college for the celebration of Armistice Day.

The audience consisted of the faculty and students of the college, the local Exchange club, which marched over in a body; the ex-service men in and around Montevallo marched with them, and the Montevallo U. U. D.

The address of G. L. Balles of Birmingham was most enthusiastically received. His review of the causes of the war, of the part America played in bringing it to a successful close, and the debt we owe to those who paid the supreme sacrifice were most inspiring. He concluded with a most effective peroration on our country's lag, concluding with the following sentence.

"May the God of nations, who has rested the ark of his covenant with America, continue to crown our flag with honor, protect it from treason, and grant us to send it down to our children's children with all the blessings of justice, freedom, democracy, education and religion."

Montevallo To Have a New Athletic Field

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—On account of the increased number of students, it was found necessary to plan for a larger athletic field. A tract of land north of the practice home lot has been assigned to the Athletic association for this purpose. President Palmer has received the following request from the Athletic association:

"We, the athletic board of Alabama college, respectfully request you to allow us to name the athletic field 'Mallory Field,' in memory of the Hon. H. S. D. Mallory, a former trustee of the institution. Mr. Mallory was interested in all phases of development, especially the physical side." Signed, Lillie Burleson, president; Gladys Martin, class director; Irma Reeves, secretary.

To this request President Palmer has replied, giving the association the privilege of naming the field as suggested, and in doing so paid a tribute to the excellent service rendered this institution by the Hon. H. S. D. Mallory, who was for many years trustee from the state at large.

Montevallo To Stage Basketball Tourney

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Alabama college has sent an invitation to the various high schools of the state for their basketball teams to enter a contest in the basketball tournament which will be held on the college campus the latter part of February or first of March, as was done last year. At the same time, an invitation is extended to all those who may be interested to enter a contest in art, home economics and expression. Handsome trophies will be offered in each contest.

Later in the year, about May 1, a music contest for the high school glee clubs will be held.

Free entertainment is offered to the representatives of high schools who may attend all of these contests. There will be a good time for all.

Will Broadcast Bible Lectures

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Beginning Nov. 19, the extension department of Alabama College at Montevallo will give a radio extension course in Bible study. These lectures will be broadcast on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week for several months. Several daily papers in the state will print them on the morning following the broadcasting. It will be helpful to listen at these lectures over the radio and then study them more carefully the next day in the daily newspaper, authorities here feel.

There has never been anything like this attempted before in Alabama or in any other state. The college authorities believe that the lectures will develop much interest in Bible study. The series is prepared by Rev. P. H. Carmichael, who has been teaching Bible at the college for three years. His students are very enthusiastic about the study and highly appreciate his method of presentation. The opportunity is now extended to a larger number of people throughout this and other states to get this comprehensive course in the study of the life of Christ.

The Birmingham News will begin the publication of the lectures Tuesday, Nov. 20, and will follow up three times per week the successive chapters as they are broadcast.

ALABAMA COLLEGE FOUNDS LIBRARIES

Shelby County Schools Are Aided Also By Montevallo Exchange Club.

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The librarian at the college in Montevallo is trying to form a separate collection of books for the use of the people of Shelby County. Mrs. Mary B. Owen, head of the department of archives and history in Montgomery, has lent the county 100 books. Through the generosity of the Exchange Club $150 worth of children's books have been purchased under the provisions of the rural school library law.

This law provides that any rural school which raises $10 may, with the approval of the county superintendent of education, receive $10 from the board of revenue, and a third $10 from the state department of education, thus enabling the school to purchase a $30 library. The state annually appropriates $100 for each county, to be used by the department of education in this way.

Only five schools of Shelby County asked for the money to buy books under the law, so the unused $50 of the state's appropriation would have been returned to the state on the first of October, the end of the school year. When the Montevallo Exchange Club heard of this, it gave the $50 for the people of Shelby County, the board of revenue added its $50, and these amounts reached the state department just in time for our people to secure Shelby's unused $50 from the state fund.

The students of Alabama College whose homes are in Shelby County have formed a club to see that these books reach the school children. They may be borrowed for a few months, and when they have been returned, others may be borrowed in turn. In this way, schools will have the use of many more books than if each school owned its own separate collection.

BOOKS PROVIDED FOR PEOPLE IN COUNTRY

Montevallo College Librarian Forming Collection For Shelby

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—That people everywhere in the most remote places may have the use of books both for pleasure and profit, is the reason for the establishment of county libraries in many states. Cities and colleges have long had libraries, but the people in the country, who often would enjoy them most, have not had the advantage of a large collection of books.

The librarian at the college in Montevallo is trying to form a separate collection of books for the use of the people of Shelby county. Mrs. Owen, head of the department of archives and history in Montgomery, has lent the county 100 books. Through the generosity of the Exchange club, $150 worth of children's books have been purchased under the provisions of the rural school library law. This law provides that any rural school which raises $10 may, with the approval of the county superintendent of education, receive $10 from the board of revenue and a third $10 from the state department of education, thus enabling the school to purchase a $30 library. The state annually appropriates $100 for each county, to be used by the department of education in this way. Only five schools of Shelby county asked for the money to buy books under the law, so the unused $50 of the state's appropriation would have been returned to the state on October 1, the end of the school year. When the Montevallo Exchange club heard of this, it gave them $50 for the people of Shelby county, the board of revenue added its $50, and these amounts reached the state department just in time for our people to secure Shelby's unused $50 from the state fund.

The students of Alabama college whose homes are in Shelby county have formed a club to see that these books reach the school children. They may be borrowed for a few months, and when they have been returned others may have the use of many more books than if each school owned its own separate collection.

Music Scholarship Given To Montevallo

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Miss Mae Andrus, director of the teacher training work for teachers and supervisors of public school music in the school of music of Alabama College, returned Saturday evening from the meeting of the fourth district of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs at Aliceville. She made an address before that meeting on the "Teaching and Supervision of Public School Music in Alabama."

The federation of clubs raised the money, $250 annually, for the establishment of a music scholarship to be awarded in 1924 to a pupil prepared to begin a supervisor's course. The scholarship was given to Alabama College on account of the excellent work that is being done at this institution.

The annual meeting for the state at large will be held at Montevallo in April. The town and Alabama College will jointly entertain the convention.

wonder that the captain enjoys a clean, healthy business.

MOVES TO MONTEVALLO

Mrs. Bacot Is Noted Writer And Club Worker

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A distinguished woman has recently moved from Charleston, S. C., to Montevallo in the person of Mrs. Josephine Rhett Bacot, whose son, Dr. Daniel Huger Bacot, was last summer elected professor of history in Alabama college. Mrs. Bacot was born in Alabama and spent her girlhood days in Huntsville. She is a daughter of the late R. Barnwell Rhett and a sister of Harry Moore Rhett, banker of that city.

She is an active member of the Writers' club the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Daughters of the American Revolution, Colonial Dames and Historical Societies of South Carolina.

ENROLLMENT TO PASS 600 AT MONTEVALLO

Students Welcomed By President Palmer And Dean Carmichael

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Sept. 14.—(Special.)—On the second day of the new session for Alabama college, the enrollment has reached 581. There are yet about 25 girls who have engaged rooms but for various causes are detained at home. This will carry the number above 600. Quite a number had to be turned away for the lack of rooms.

At the first opening exercises this morning, the following program was rendered: Song by the school; reading of scripture and prayer by Rev. W. M. Treadaway, of the Methodist church; vocal solo, by Miss Kathryn Alva Ross, the new voice teacher of the music department.

President Palmer, after making some announcements concerning the changed name of this college and the new plans on which the institution is working this year, extended a cordial welcome to the new members of the faculty and to the student body. Miss Mildred Vause, teacher of violin, then rendered a beautiful and pleasing violin solo.

Dean O. C. Carmichael was then presented, and after making some announcements concerning the classes, extended another welcome to the student body.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT MEETING AT MONTEVALLO

Loyalty, Obedience and Service Stressed as Main Requirements

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Sept. 30.—Special to The Advertiser.—The second meeting of the student body to discuss student government in Alabama College was held Friday evening. The first speaker was E. H. Wills, professor of history, who compared the government of the college to that of the United States. Both had their powers delegated to them. The United States had all of its rights given to it by the states. These powers were enlarged from time to time and could be curtailed by the states if they so desired.

The state of Alabama established this college and provided for a board of trustees as the governing body. The trustees elect a president and invested him with the power of controlling the institution. The president in turn deems it wise to entrust the students with certain powers. The idea was stressed that every student owed to student government three things, loyalty, obedience and service.

Miss Mary Bradshaw, of Beatrice, gave an interesting account of the history of student government in general and especially in Alabama college. Her strong appeal for thorough loyalty was enthusiastically applauded by the great audience.

Montevallo Juniors Give Entertainment

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 9.—Special.—A series of entertainments are being given at Alabama College by the different classes and other organizations. On Saturday evening, the junior class held a county fair on the campus. Various forms of amusement were provided for the entertainment of the great throng of visitors who crowded the campus on this occasion. Two of the guests, Clyde Nelson and Coburn Hendricks, of Birmingham, contributed several vocal numbers with guitar accompaniment, and were recalled again and again.

Among the out-of-town guests were Judge W. H. Tayloe, of Uniontown; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fowlkes and two daughters, of Birmingham; R. H. Witherspoon, of Atlanta, Ga.; Misses Myrtle Thompson and Ethel York, of Bessemer; Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Hardy, of Newala.

Miss Agnes Hardy, Newala, president of the junior class; Miss Marion Grant, Comer; Miss Martha Twitty, Columbia; Misses Winifred Castleman and Frances Selden, Greensboro, were in charge of the fair.

Clothing Contest Planned In State

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 9.—Miss Josephine Eddy, clothing specialist from Auburn, spent Saturday and Sunday at Alabama College. She was a guest at the practice home. The purpose of her visit was to be present at a conference called by Miss Corinne Neely, Montevallo, chairman of the standardization committee of the Alabama Home Economics Association. Plans were made at this conference for launching the state clothing contest, which will be held in Montgomery some time in the Spring.

NOTED PIANO TEACHER GOING TO MONTEVALLO

Mrs. Guy L. Chamberlain Trained Under European Masters

MONTEVALLO, Ala., September 25. (Special.)—The school of music of Alabama college has so far overrun the capacities of its regular teaching force that it was found necessary to employ another piano teacher, Mrs. Guy L. Chamberlain, who recently came with her husband from Providence, R. I. to Montevallo. Mrs. Chamberlain, as Miss Bess Blair of Gadsden is well known to the music-loving people of Alabama. When a girl she attended Shorter college, and was graduated at Centenary college in Tennessee. Afterwards she pursued a full music course at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, graduating with high honors in 1909, after doing much of her work under the noted pianist, Hans Verd of Paris.

During 1908, she taught private classes in Panama, and returning to the Cincinnati Conservatory she was elected a full member of the faculty, serving in that capacity for one year, going then back to Panama for private classes among the families of engineers and army officers.

In September, 1909, she was elected a member of the music faculty at Montevallo. In 1910 she went abroad to study again under her former famous instructors in Switzerland and Paris. She came back to Montevallo and was married in 1912 to Mr. Chamberlain. They traveled abroad for several months. For five years they resided at Maylene, where she continued to instruct private classes.

In 1921 she entered Peabody conservatory at Baltimore, where she studied for several months under George S. Boyles, the great Australian composer-pianist. Afterward she taught private classes and directed a chorus of 24 voices at Edgewood Arsenal, Md.

Selma Writer Is College Speaker

MONTEVALLO, Ala., Oct. 17.—Special.—Mrs. Katherine Hopkins Chapman, of Selma, came to Montevallo this week for the second course of lectures to the students. On Monday afternoon, she delivered her first lecture, her subject being "The By-Products of Writing." She first gave a general introductory talk on story writing and then read her own story that has recently appeared in print entitled, "Brown Girls or Green," a Christmas Topsy-Turkey story.

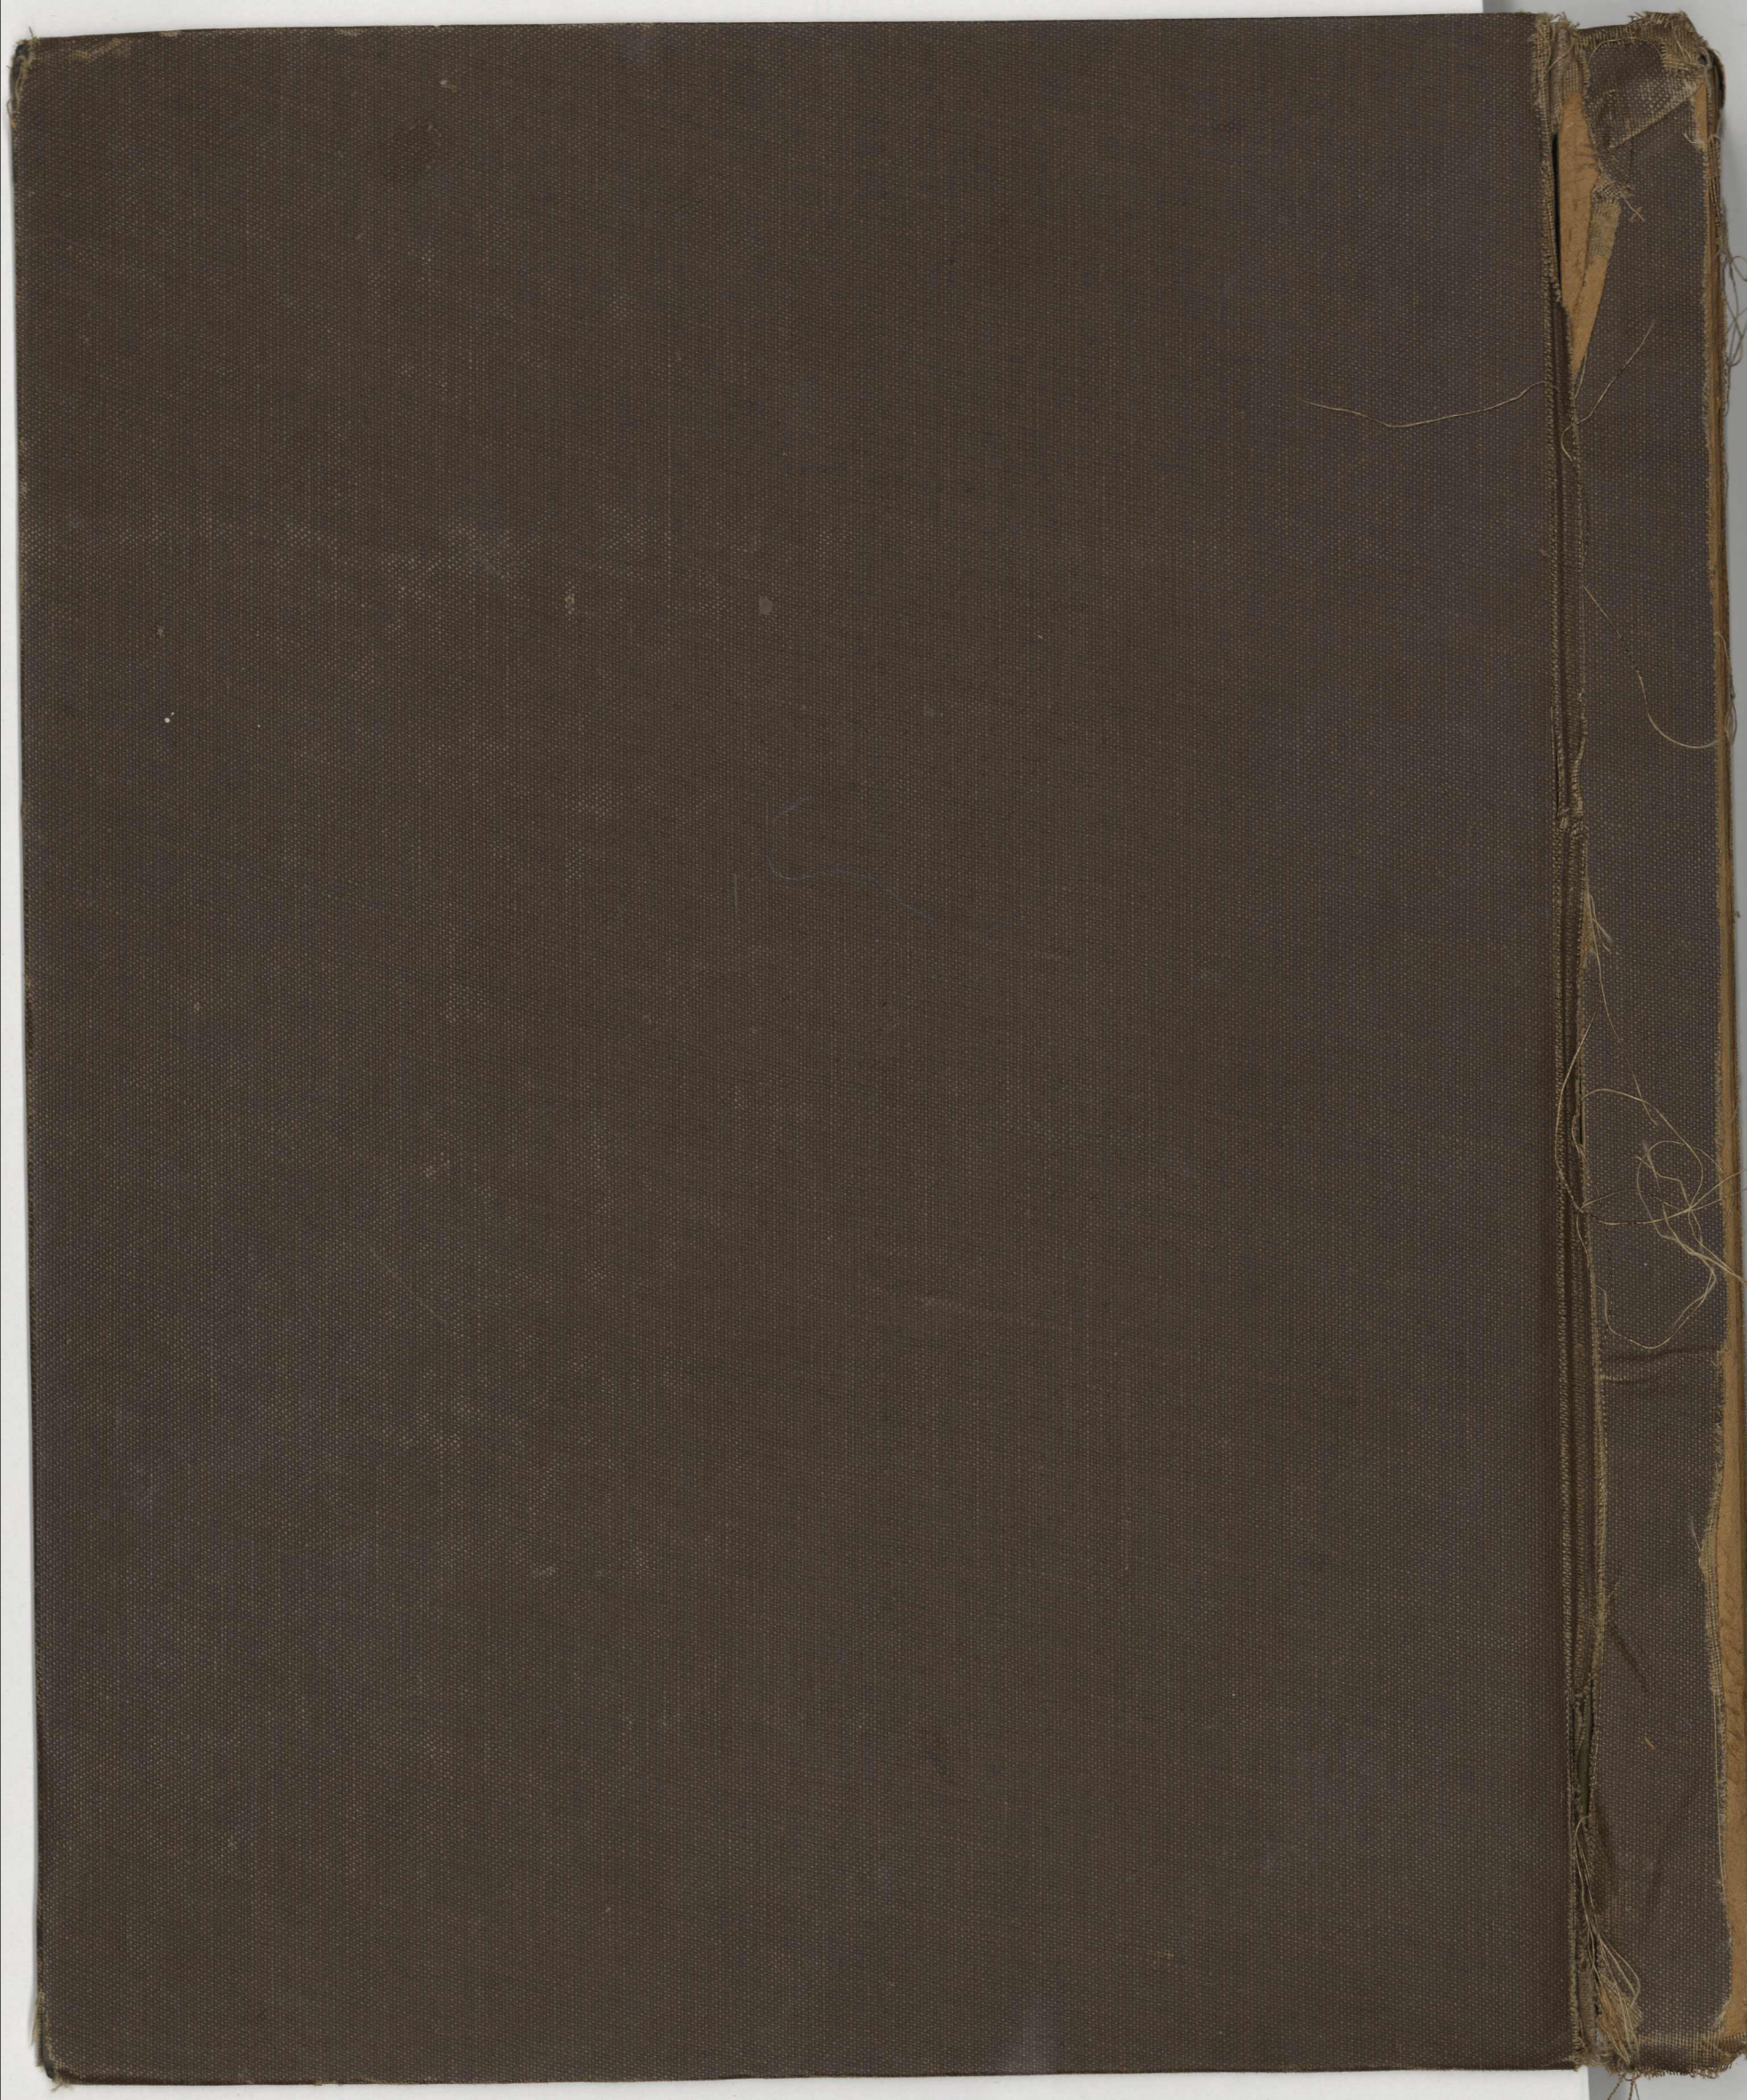

At the evening lecture, Mrs. Chapman gave an interesting account of her meeting with several distinguished authors. Notably among these was her interviews with J. L. M. Curry and Booth Tarkington.

At the lecture on Tuesday morning her subject was "The Conclave," recently held at Alabama College and its meaning for the state of Alabama. She gave an interesting account of the program that was carried out at that meeting and explained that this organization is indeed a part of the Women's Federation of Clubs and it is not intended in anyway to withdraw from that excellent organization. Its purpose is to strengthen the writers' section of Federation of Clubs. There is no other conclave or meeting in the United States that corresponds exactly to the one here in Alabama.

Next year another similar meeting will be held at Montevallo. In fact, it is proposed that the college at Montevallo be considered a training school for the young women writers of Alabama. Many of the pupils of the institution are taking a deep interest in this meeting. Next year the men writers will be invited and a large number of women writers have already signified their intention of attending. The conclave is now a permanent feature among the Alabama authors.

Mrs. Chapman left Montevallo to visit in Birmingham and from there will go to the Fourth District Federation of Clubs which assemblies in Aliceville Oct. 18 and 19.

Senior Class, 64
Schlorships, 78, 79, 97
Shelby County Books, 97
Sociology Dept. 55, 89
*Spafford, Ivol, 36 *songs. see Montevilla songs
Strode, Hudson, 85
Student Government, 87, 91, 95
Studiosis, 24, 43, 59
Summer School, 63, 71, 72, 73, 74
79, 83
Swimming, 7
Technala, 2
Thanksgiving, 29, 30
Thomson, Mrs. M. J. 32
Tolstoy, Count Ibyia, 56, 57
Treadaway, Rev. W. M. 54
Trustees, 4, 5, 8, 27, 50, 96
W. M. U. (Shelby County) 3
Writers Conclave, 74, 75, 76, 77, 79, 80, 81, 82, 84, 92
Young, Martha, 26
Y. W. C. A. 6, 14, 25, 33, 43, 44, 45, 46, 57, 60

1915-1923